Howard Wins Smashing Re-Election

4 Elected To School Board

Whetstone, Woods Face 2nd Primary

By FRANK NOONAN
Staff Writer

Four candidates won Monroe City School Board posts without a runoff in yesterday's Democratic primary election, and two gained spots in the runoff for the remaining post.

In complete, but unofficial returns from 23 precincts of Wards Three and 10, J. H. Scogin Jr., Grayson Guthrie, W. S. Gannaway and Frank Breese Jr. gained majorities to clinch posts in the first round against a field of 14 candidates. Guthrie and Gannaway are incumbents.

RUNOFF

W. E. Whetstone and Wayne Woods will be paired in a runoff for one board post.

Some 7,000 persons cast ballots in the election, considerably short of the total of 11,692 voters registered in the city.

Guthrie was top vote getter, with 4,233. Scogin came next with 3,997. Then came Gannaway with 3,768, and Breese with 3,719.

Whetstone was high vote getter of the two runoff candidates. He received 3,245, and Woods 3,096.

Scott, who is president of the school board, fell short of a runoff berth, tallying 2,867.

Banker Ben Marshall ran only four votes behind Woods, in a near photo finish.

Since first vote returns were unofficial, the official promulgation of balloting sometime this week may show some changes in various race totals.

Cool, sunny weather favored voting, and the first precinct to report all its tabulations was precinct one of Ward Three, which is located in the parish court house.

Other vote totals were:

21 Children Taken To Jail In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Police carted off to jail 21 white and black children who were demonstrating at city hall Saturday against the imprisonment of their parents under South Africa's emergency laws.

The children, who ranged from toddlers to 17-year-olds, were questioned at Marshall Square jail and then told to go home.

MAYOR

Mayor Alec Gorshel said he was astonished at the police action and had asked for an explanation from the police chief.

The children lined up on the steps of city hall, holding placards saying, "We want our parents" and "Why are you keeping my mother and father?"

Justice Minister Erasmus declared secret underground organizations were working to overthrow the government "with all the tested revolutionary methods of communism."

He spoke shortly after two defense department officials proposed arming the white population.

Cloudy Skies On Tap Here

Today's Twin City forecasts call for partly cloudy skies and mild temperatures. No rain is in prospect.

Yesterday's high at Selman Field was 78 degrees, the low was 51, reports the Federal Aviation Agency.

Across Louisiana, skies will be clear to partly cloudy today. Temperatures will be generally mild, with a slight threat of scattered showers tonight.

Arkansas faces a gray day. Skies will be partly cloudy to cloudy, temperatures will be generally mild. Shower warnings are out for the extreme northern portion.

TROUBLE LOOMS

Legislature Due To Resume Work

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis may give Louisiana legislators an idea of his program Monday night in the governor's first address before a joint session.

At the same time, Davis is expected to run into trouble with dissenting legislators angry over the governor's efforts to clean out the "Blue Ribbon" boards.

The governor's keynote address is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the House.

"FEW THINGS"

Davis, silent to the point of frustration so far, said last week he would mention a "few things" about his legislative program.

In addition, various sources have said the governor will speak out on the state's integration problem. This part of his address was brought about by a threatened investigation of East Carroll Parish voter registration and a federal order in New Orleans to integrate the schools.

The Legislature opened its 1960 regular session in quiet fashion last Monday, but went home a day early for the expected fireworks.

Because, last Thursday, various board members began receiving requests from Davis to quit their posts. All board members were asked to resign.

With several refusing to do so,

Indignant Solons See Harmony End

BATON ROUGE, (UPI) — A bloc of indignant legislators yesterday predicted the Monday noon deadline Gov. Jimmie Davis has set for resignations to cross his desk will also mark the end of "peace and harmony" in the Davis administration.

Davis has succeeded in keeping all but a small group of his supporters as much in the dark about his plans as those from opposing camps of former Gov. Earl K. Long and New Orleans mayor deLesseps Morrison.

Outgoing state comptroller Bill Dodd, who opposed Davis in the first gubernatorial primary in December, offered this two - edged observation of Davis' recent demands that members of the "blue-ribbon" boards come across with their resignations:

PLATFORM

"I see that Davis already has completed the first part of his platform—the peace and harmony. I wish him the same success with the remainder of his plans."

Dodd, although speaking with tongue-in-cheek, appeared confident Davis was headed for his first bitter fight in the legislature

Home Site

Philip Bernhardt was observed Saturday morning standing on the site of what was once his family home site. The three story house was one of the finest and most expensive in Monroe but the family ultimately decided that they would raze the house so that the site would be such as to help out in the parking problems of downtown Monroe.

Philip explained what some still do not know. It is the information that the Bernhardt family donates use of this site sufficient to accommodate parking of as many as 300 automobiles.

The family does not charge a cent for parking on this lot if the person is one who is renting an office in the downtown Bernhardt Building.

Part Of Law Backs U.S. In Spy Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was described by experts Saturday as having at least part of international law on its side in the case of the U2 spy plane downed in the Soviet Union on May 1.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter have outlined the over-all American view basically as follows.

The Soviet Union has made a fetish of secrecy and has often threatened others with mass destruction. The free world in this atomic missile era therefore must be on guard against surprise attack.

EASE DANGER

The United States wants to ease the danger of war by allowing mutual inspection, including reciprocal flights over each other's territory. In the absence of Soviet agreement to this, the United States in self defense has had to send reconnaissance flights over Soviet territory.

The U2 case is now more of a political than a legal dispute between Moscow and Washington. The legal aspects may take on more importance if—as Premier Nikita Khrushchev has promised—the Soviets take the matter to the United Nations.

Eisenhower Takes Off For Summit

To See Khrush With Tensions At High Pitch

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower took off Saturday night for the Paris summit conference and a face-to-face meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev under tensions heightened by the U. S. spy plane affair.

Eisenhower smiled broadly and waved a cheery farewell as he stepped aboard the military jetliner carrying him on the nine-hour trip to Paris.

The orange-and-silver presidential craft took off from Andrews Air Force Base near Washington, D. C. The craft was due to arrive in Paris Sunday morning after a refueling stop at Goose Bay, Labrador.

PILOT

Eisenhower's pilot, Col. William Draper, advanced the scheduled departure time by 35 minutes and shifted the planned refueling point from Newfoundland to Labrador because of weather conditions.

The weather was chilly and the skies were gray—there was a smattering of rain—as the chief executive left for the historic Paris conference between East-West heads of state slated to get under way Monday.

The President remained publicly silent right up until departure time instead of issuing the usual farewell statement. He canceled a previously planned farewell message and bypassed microphones waiting at the air force base.

The President flew to the base from the White House by helicopter.

There was an absolute minimum of ceremony at the departure and only a few officials were at the airfield only a few onlookers attended although earlier thousands had been at the sprawling base to watch Armed Forces Day demonstration.

Committeemen Elected With No Opposition

The six - member city Democratic Executive Committee and five - member city Republican Executive Committee were voted in Saturday in Monroe's election, with no opposition for the posts.

Re-elected for the Demos were five incumbents and an additional member, Tony Anzalone, 700 S. 2nd St. The committee was increased from five to six members.

Incumbents re-elected were Austin Miller Sr., 311 Lakeside, Dr. Harry Strong, 504 N. 5th; Diehlmann Bernhardt, 1308 Spencer Blvd.; James R. Williams, 601 Filhiol Ave.; and Simon Johnson, 617 St. John St.

Republicans chosen to serve were Lawrence H. Fox, Edward B. Ellison, Mrs. A. C. Pappas, James L. Ewing III and Elmer C. Slagle. Mrs. Mary Faulk Flournoy, incumbent, did not seek re-election.

Veteran Police Chief Unfolds Filmland Story

CHAPTER ONE.

The unluckiest crook I ever met was a burglar who fell asleep under a bed in Beverly Hills. He was the kind of criminal who has made police work unique in this exclusive community. Hiding in a master bedroom, with nothing to do but wait for his victims to retire for the night, he yielded to the thick luxury of the wall-to-wall carpeting. He was snoring peacefully on the floor when we arrived to arrest him.

I remember the sleepy burglar because he found his brief encounter with life among the millionaires too rich for his blood. For I've been handling millionaires and movie stars and other gold - plated types for more than 30 years as a Beverly Hills policeman.

Not everybody here is a millionaire, of course, but we have enough of them to make ours the wealthiest community of its size in the United States, and possibly the world.

Fringing the canyons and hilltops of the city are the homes of some 200 of the biggest stars in motion pictures and television, plus dozens of famous producers, directors and writers, composers, musicians, song-writers, oil and industrial millionaires who commute to offices in New York.

Back in 1919, when the movie stars had begun building show place homes in the foothills west of Hollywood, Douglas Fairbanks, Senior, suggested putting a wall around our little six-square-mile city to keep it exclusive. The wall never materialized, but an invisible economic wall set Beverly Hills apart. Mary Pickford, Gloria Swanson, Charlie Chaplin, Will Rogers, Harold Lloyd, Tom Mix, Marion Davies, John Barrymore, Carl Laemmle, Louis B. Mayer and other movie "greats" were early settlers.

Their homes and others built during the years have made Beverly Hills a tourist attraction. Sidewalk vendors along Sunset Boulevard do a steady business selling guide maps to movie-star homes to the 3,000,000 sightseers who come to Beverly Hills every year. Even if many of our famous homes are screened by high

U.S. Makes Protest In Cuba Firing

Says Submarine Attack Without Provocation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States formally protested to Cuba Saturday against a Cuban patrol boat firing "without provocation" on a U.S. submarine more than five miles off Cuba May 6.

The State Department called in Cuban Charge De' Affaires Enrique Patterson to demand an explanation from the Cuban government.

The department acted after the Navy said the submarine Sea Poacher had been fired upon by a Cuban patrol boat well beyond the three-mile limit of Cuba's territorial waters.

The Navy denied charges by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro that the American vessel had violated Cuban waters.

REJECTED

The State Department also "vigorously rejected" Castro's charge that the United States was involved in plans for "aggression" against Cuba.

The statement "expressed regret" that Castro "should seek this course in view of the U.S. government's oft repeated desire to achieve a fair understanding between our two governments

Youth Held As Sniper In Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—An 18-year-old youth who said he "always had an urge to kill" was arrested Saturday night as Nashville's midnight sniper.

Police identified the suspect as Howard Ray Cristell. They said he had confessed to nine sniper shootings, all that police officially have listed on their books. There have been unconfirmed reports of at least six other attacks.

Police said Cristell, a slight built youth was arrested while standing in the darkness behind his South Nashville home. Police would not immediately say what charges will be filed against the boy.

RIFLE

County patrol officer George Currey said Cristell did not have his rifle with him when captured, although one was found in his home.

The weapon, which police had speculated was precision target gun with telescopic sights, turned out to be a single shot, bolt action .22.

Patrol captain James Hester said the youth, when asked for explanation of the shootings, replied: "I've just always had an urge to kill."

The arrest of Cristell followed by about an hour a report of another sniping in South Nashville.

Officers said they received a report that a man was nicked in the ear by a bullet as he stood in a telephone booth. The man was not immediately identified.

Nashville's capitol city has been gripped in fear since the sniper first struck April 24.

A hunt that took on the aspects of a military campaign was set in motion. Special charts showing the sniper's known area of operation were drawn and veteran officers worked around the clock to figure out a way of stopping him.

Persons who worked in the South Side railroad district where he operated were warned against lingering in lighted areas at night.

Residents became jumpy to the point that police had a full time job just running down false leads.

Connole Ties With FPC Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is dropping William R. Connole from the Federal Power Commission, he indicated in a letter made public Saturday, because Connole has become "identified with one particular point of view."

The President's letter was to Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn), who has described Connole as the principal protector of the consumer on the commission.

MISSISSIPPI MURDER

Mattox Draws Life Sentence

COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP) — Judge John D. Greene Jr. sentenced young Jon Mattox Saturday to life in prison at hard labor.

The sentencing of the 20-year old Mississippi State University physics student came minutes after an all-male jury reported it had found Mattox guilty of the black scarf-coat hanger slaying of his pretty next-door neighbor, Mrs. Gene Cain Tate.

The jury recommended life in prison. The state had sought the death penalty.

Mattox showed little emotion when the verdict was read. Standing with his hands in his pocket, the tall, muscular youth merely shook his head slowly. The face of his father, James L. Mattox, was lined with grief. Mrs. Mattox wept. Both had testified for their son.

SMALL CROWD

In comparison to previous days when there wasn't even standing room in the court, the crowd was small. Some girls among the spectators showed disappointment. Several appeared on the verge of crying.

Defense attorney Luther Sims immediately asked for a new trial. Judge Greene turned him down. Sims said he would get a trial transcript and appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Mrs. Tate, 31, a former high school beauty queen, socialite and mother of four children, was strangled on a Sunday morning, Jan. 31. One of her sons found the body in the garage when he returned from church with his father, Irwin Tate.

The jury, which was sworn in last Monday, received the case at 2:28 p.m. Friday. After the jurors failed to agree on a verdict by 5 p.m., Judge Greene sent them to a hotel room to continue deliberations. They said they reached their decision at 10:15 p.m. It was announced at 8:57 a.m.

The state's star witness was Sarah Grayson, a 19- year - old sophomore at MSU who had dated Mattox. The closing arguments of both defense and prosecution lawyers centered on her testimony.

Miss Grayson testified Mattox told her he had an affair for two years with a married woman who lived near him. She didn't identify the woman but said she had four children. She quoted Mattox as saying he was planning to kill the woman because she loved her husband and children more than she did him.

Miss Grayson said Mattox also told her he had figured out the perfect crime by using a coat

Professional Touch Noted In Rioting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Police Chief Thomas Cahill went to barricaded City Hall Saturday and told a House subcommittee on Un-American Activities that Friday's riot by 250 demonstrators was the work of professional agitators.

"The group of students here had been infiltrated by some older individual agitators who whipped the group into mob frenzy," said Cahill in explanation of disorders which injured 12 and brought 66 arrests.

One of Cahill's inspectors, Michael J. Maguire, told the committee that two of these agitators were Merrill Brodsky, an unemployed tile setter, and Archie Brown, a longshoreman.

DRAGGED

Brown was dragged, red-faced and shouting, from the hearing room Saturday when he balked at questions about Communist affiliation and tried to read a statement. This was his third ejection. Brodsky twice was ejected as a hostile witness Thursday.

Some 200 placard-carrying demonstrators marched outside the city hall Saturday. They were kept at a distance by 130 uniformed and plain-clothes police and by barricades set up at the foot of the steps. Three got unruly and were arrested.

Every one of the 200 who filled the hearing room Saturday had to show a police or subcommittee pass before being allowed inside the city hall.

Friday's riot began inside. A policeman closed the hearing-room door on the mezzanine floor and said there was no more room. The officer was knocked down and struck with his own police club.

Today's Chuckle

Too many meetings are held each month for no better reason than that it has been a month since the last one.

SCHOOLS, INTEGRATION

Solon Tells Georgia Decision Is Reality

By United Press International

Rep. Erwin Mitchell (D-Ga.) told fellow Georgians Saturday that "whether we like it or not" the Supreme Court's May 17, 1954, school segregation decision "is a reality" and enforceable in the state of Georgia.

Addressing an "open schools" conference in Atlanta, Mitchell said "the time for final decision is close at hand" for Georgia and that the question is whether the public educational system is of sufficient importance "that we will continue its operation though it be under terms and conditions that we do not like."

Mitchell urged action to "avoid the disaster of closed schools in Georgia" and said the threat of closing public schools to prevent integration presents a paradox.

"We are the one section in our nation who best understands, and is genuinely interested in helping solve, the problems of the Negro. Yet we stand today on the threshold of taking dramatic and drastic action that will result in great harm to all citizens of Georgia regardless of color and to the entire nation as well."

His address was based on the Georgia school crisis in which a federal judge has ordered desegregation of Atlanta public schools by May, 1961, regardless of whether the legislature acts to change rigid state laws closing schools which are integrated.

More than 20 flaming crosses of the Ku Klux Klan burned in Birmingham, Ala., Friday night, apparently in warning against rumors of demonstrations by Negroes on the sixth anniversary of the Supreme Court decision next week.

Rodriguez Returned To Commission

By JIMMY HATTEN
Staff Writer

Monroe Mayor W. L. "Jack" Howard Saturday won a smashing first primary victory over three opponents in his bid for re - election, complete unofficial returns showed last night.

Howard carried 20 of 23 precincts in the city while grinding to a 5,852-2,337 vote edge over his nearest competitor, Moise L. Peters.

Trailing badly in third and fourth places respectively were Rufus A. Ponsell with 79 and Turner A. Davis with 44.

RODRIGUEZ

Street commissioner W. D. H. Rodriguez easily outdistanced his three opposing candidates with a total of 4,496 ballots. Rodriguez captured every precinct in the city. He promptly stated this would probably be his last campaign for any public office.

Trailing in second place was David Wallace Chennault with 1,616; third Lawrence B. Pettit, 1,237 and fourth Joseph A. Battaglia, 830.

A total of 8,312 voters cast ballots in the election for mayor, a good turnout for a city election.

Howard raced to a 3,392 - vote majority over all three other hopefuls totals combined. He had 3,515 more votes than the second - place man, Peters.

The incumbent mayor had more than twice as many votes as the three combined.

In Ward 3, Howard had 2,323; Peters, 1,215, Ponsell, 42 and Davis, 24.

He compiled 3,529 ballots in Ward 10 compared to: Peters, 1,122; Ponsell, 27 and Davis, 20.

Rodriguez piled up 1,841 votes in Ward 3, followed by Pettit, 624; Chennault, 570; and Battaglia, 480. In Ward 10, Rodriguez got 2,655; Chennault, 1,046; Pettit, 613 and Battaglia, 350.

Rodriguez' majority over the field of three whom he was running against was 813. His opponents received 3,683 votes to 4,496 for the incumbent street commissioner.

The final precincts were reported last night at about 9:30

Registrar Panel Set For County In Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Negro dominated Macon County is expected to have a functioning board of registrars next week for the first time since December, 1958.

Charles Donald Scott, a Tuskegee truck-stop supervisor, said Saturday he would accept the governor's appointment to the Macon board.

Scott told United Press International he would qualify himself for public office with Probate Judge William Garner "by the middle of next week."

BOARD

He said, "We need a board of registrars in Macon County. I think there will be less trouble in the county if we have a board than if we continue to go along without one. I have definitely made up my mind to qualify."

Gov. John Patterson appointed Scott to the board earlier this week after Wayne Raney of Hardaway refused an appointment because he feared federal persecution.

Raney wrote the governor a terse letter in which he said, "I am too old to be brow-beaten by the various government agencies as well as private pressure groups."

Patterson immediately appointed Scott and the truck stop personnel manager said he decided to accept the appointment after "deliberating for three days."

Mattox Draws Life Sentence

COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP) — Judge John D. Greene Jr. sentenced young Jon Mattox Saturday to life in prison at hard labor.

The sentencing of the 20-year old Mississippi State University physics student came minutes after an all-male jury reported it had found Mattox guilty of the black scarf-coat hanger slaying of his pretty next-door neighbor, Mrs. Gene Cain Tate.

The jury recommended life in prison. The state had sought the death penalty.

Mattox showed little emotion when the verdict was read. Standing with his hands in his pocket, the tall, muscular youth merely shook his head slowly. The face of his father, James L. Mattox, was lined with grief. Mrs. Mattox wept. Both had testified for their son.

SMALL CROWD

In comparison to previous days when there wasn't even standing room in the court, the crowd was small. Some girls among the spectators showed disappointment. Several appeared on the verge of crying.

Defense attorney Luther Sims immediately asked for a new trial. Judge Greene turned him down. Sims said he would get a trial transcript and appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Mrs. Tate, 31, a former high school beauty queen, socialite and mother of four children, was strangled on a Sunday morning, Jan. 31. One of her sons found the body in the garage when he returned from church with his father, Irwin Tate.

The jury, which was sworn in last Monday, received the case at 2:28 p.m. Friday. After the jurors failed to agree on a verdict by 5 p.m., Judge Greene sent them to a hotel room to continue deliberations. They said they reached their decision at 10:15 p.m. It was announced at 8:57 a.m.

The state's star witness was Sarah Grayson, a 19- year - old sophomore at MSU who had dated Mattox. The closing arguments of both defense and prosecution lawyers centered on her testimony.

Miss Grayson testified Mattox told her he had an affair for two years with a married woman who lived near him. She didn't identify the woman but said she had four children. She quoted Mattox as saying he was planning to kill the woman because she loved her husband and children more than she did him.

Miss Grayson said Mattox also told her he had figured out the perfect crime by using a coat

Professional Touch Noted In Rioting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Police Chief Thomas Cahill went to barricaded City Hall Saturday and told a House subcommittee on Un-American Activities that Friday's riot by 250 demonstrators was the work of professional agitators.

"The group of students here had been infiltrated by some older individual agitators who whipped the group into mob frenzy," said Cahill in explanation of disorders which injured 12 and brought 66 arrests.

One of Cahill's inspectors, Michael J. Maguire, told the committee that two of these agitators were Merrill Brodsky, an unemployed tile setter, and Archie Brown, a longshoreman.

DRAGGED

Brown was dragged, red-faced and shouting, from the hearing room Saturday when he balked at questions about Communist affiliation and tried to read a statement. This was his third ejection. Brodsky twice was ejected as a hostile witness Thursday.

Some 200 placard-carrying demonstrators marched outside the city hall Saturday. They were kept at a distance by 130 uniformed and plain-clothes police and by barricades set up at the foot of the steps. Three got unruly and were arrested.

Every one of the 200 who filled the hearing room Saturday had to show a police or subcommittee pass before being allowed inside the city hall.

Friday's riot began inside. A policeman closed the hearing-room door on the mezzanine floor and said there was no more room. The officer was knocked down and struck with his own police club.

Today's Chuckle

Too many meetings are held each month for no better reason than that it has been a month since the last one.

Youth Held As Sniper In Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn (UPI)—An 18-year-old youth who said he "always had an urge to kill" was arrested Saturday night as Nashville's midnight sniper.

Police identified the suspect as Howard Ray Cristell. They said he had confessed to nine sniper shootings, all that police officially have listed on their books. There have been unconfirmed reports of at least six other attacks.

Police said Cristell, a slight built youth was arrested while standing in the darkness behind his South Nashville home. Police would not immediately say what charges will be filed against the boy.

RIFLE

County patrol officer George Currey said Cristell did not have his rifle with him when captured, although one was found in his home.

The weapon, which police had speculated was precision target gun with telescopic sights, turned out to be a single shot, bolt action .22.

Patrol captain James Hester said the youth, when asked for explanation of the shootings, replied: "I've just always had an urge to kill.

The arrest of Cristell followed by about an hour a report of another sniping in South Nashville.

Officers said they received a report that a man was nicked in the ear by a bullet as he stood in a telephone booth. The man was not immediately identified.

Nashville's capitol city has been gripped in fear since the sniper first struck April 24.

A hunt that took on the aspects of a military campaign was set in motion. Special charts showing the sniper's known area of operation were drawn and veteran officers worked around the clock to figure out a way of stopping him.

Persons who worked in the South Side railroad district where he operated were warned against lingering in lighted areas at night.

Residents became jumpy to the point that police had a full time job just running down false leads.

Part Of Law Backs U.S. In Spy Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was described by experts Saturday as having at least part of international law on its side in the case of the U2 spy plane downed in the Soviet Union on May 1.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter have outlined the over-all American view basically as follows:

The Soviet Union has made a fetish of secrecy and has often threatened others with mass destruction. The free world in this atomic missile era therefore must be on guard against surprise attack.

EASE DANGER

The United States wants to ease the danger of war by allowing mutual inspection, including reciprocal flights over each other's territory. In the absence of Soviet agreement to this, the United States in self defense has had to send reconnaissance flights over Soviet territory.

The U2 case is now more of a political than a legal dispute between Moscow and Washington. The legal aspects may take on more importance if—as Premier Nikita Khrushchev has promised—the Soviets take the matter to the United Nations.

Committeemen Elected With No Opposition

The six - member city Democratic Executive Committee and five - member city Republican Executive Committee were voted in Saturday in Monroe's election, with no opposition for the posts.

Re-elected for the Demos were five incumbents and an additional member, Tony Anzalone, 700 S. 2nd St. The committee was increased from five to six members.

Incumbents re-elected were Austin Miller Sr., 311 Lakeside, Dr. Harry Strong, 504 N. 5th; Diehlmann Bernhardt, 1308 Spencer Blvd.; James R. Williams, 601 Filhiol Ave.; and Simon Johnson, 617 St. John St.

Republicans chosen to serve were Lawrence H. Fox, Edward B. Ellison, Mrs. A. C. Pappas, James L. Ewing III and Elmer C. Slagle. Mrs. Mary Faulk Flournoy, incumbent, did not seek re-election.

21 Children Taken To Jail In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Police carted off to jail 21 white and black children who were demonstrating at city hall Saturday against the imprisonment of their parents under South Africa's emergency laws.

The children, who ranged from toddlers to 17-year-olds, were questioned at Marshall Square jail and then told to go home.

MAYOR

Mayor Alec Gorshel said he was astonished at the police action and had asked for an explanation from the police chief.

The children lined up on the steps of city hall, holding placards saying, "We want our parents" and "Why are you keeping my mother and father?"

Justice Minister Erasmus declared secret underground organizations were working to overthrow the government "with all the tested revolutionary methods of communism."

He spoke shortly after two defense department officials proposed arming the white population.

JES' Ramblin'

Home Site

Phillip Bernhardt was observed Saturday morning standing on the site of what was once his family home site. The three story house was one of the finest and most expensive in Monroe but the family ultimately decided that they would raze the house so that the site would be such as to help out in the parking problems of downtown Monroe.

Philip explained what some still do not know. It is the information that the Bernhardt family donates use of this site sufficient to accommodate parking of as many as 300 automobiles.

The family does not charge a cent for parking on this lot if the person is one who is renting an office in the downtown Bernhardt Building.

Registrar Panel Set For County In Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Negro dominated Macon County is expected to have a functioning board of registrars next week for the first time since December, 1958.

Charles Donald Scott, a Tuskegee truck-stop supervisor, said Saturday he would accept the governor's appointment to the Macon board.

Scott told United Press International he would qualify himself for public office with Probate Judge William Garner "by the middle of next week."

BOARD

He said, "We need a board of registrars in Macon County. I think there will be less trouble in the county if we have a board than if we continue to go along without one. I have definitely made up my mind to qualify."

Gov. John Patterson appointed Scott to the board earlier this week after Wayne Raney of Hardaway refused an appointment because he feared federal persecution.

Raney wrote the governor a terse letter in which he said, "I am too old to be brow-beaten by the various government agencies as well as private pressure groups."

Patterson immediately appointed Scott and the truck stop personnel manager said he decided to accept the appointment after "deliberating for three days."

Cloudy Skies On Tap Here

Today's Twin City forecasts calls for partly cloudy skies and mild temperatures. No rain is in prospect.

Yesterday's high at Selman Field was 78 degrees, the low was 51, reports the Federal Aviation Agency.

Across Louisiana, skies will be clear to partly cloudy today. Temperatures will be generally mild, with a slight threat of scattered showers tonight.

Arkansas faces a gray day. Skies will be partly cloudy to cloudy, temperatures will be generally mild. Shower warnings are out for the extreme northern portion.

'BEVERLY HILLS IS MY BEAT'

Veteran Police Chief Unfolds Filmland Story

CHAPTER ONE.

The unluckiest crook I ever met was a burglar who fell asleep under a bed in Beverly Hills. He was the kind of criminal who has made police work unique in this exclusive community. Hiding in a master bedroom, with nothing to do but wait for his victims to retire for the night, he yielded to the thick luxury of the wall-to-wall carpeting. He was snoring peacefully on the floor when we arrived to arrest him.

I remember the sleepy burglar because he found his brief encounter with life among the millionaires too rich for his blood. For I've been handling millionaires and movie stars and other gold-plated types for more than 30 years as a Beverly Hills policeman.

Not everybody here is a millionaire, of course, but we have enough of them to make ours the wealthiest community of its size in the United States, and possibly the world.

Fringing the canyons and hilltops of the city are the homes of some 200 of the biggest stars in motion pictures and television, plus dozens of famous producers, directors and writers, composers, musicians, song-writers, oil and industrial millionaires who commute to offices in New York.

Back in 1919, when the movie stars had begun building showplace homes in the foothills west of Hollywood, Douglas Fairbanks, Senior, suggested putting a wall around our little six-square-mile city to keep it exclusive. The wall never materialized, but an invisible economic wall set Beverly Hills apart. Mary Pickford, Gloria Swanson, Charlie Chaplin, Will Rogers, Harold Lloyd, Tom Mix, Marion Davies, John Barrymore, Carl Laemmle, Louis B. Mayer and other movie "greats" were early settlers.

Their homes and others built during the years have made Beverly Hills a tourist attraction. Sidewalk vendors along Sunset Boulevard do a steady business selling guide maps to movie-star homes to the 3,000,000 sightseers who come to Beverly Hills every year. Even if many of our famous homes are screened by high

Connole Ties With FPC Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is dropping William R. Connole from the Federal Power Commission, he indicated in a letter made public Saturday, because Connole has become "identified with one particular point of view."

The President's letter was to Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn), who has described Connole as the principal protector of the consumer on the commission.

SCHOOLS, INTEGRATION

Solon Tells Georgia Decision Is Reality

By United Press International

Rep. Erwin Mitchell (D-Ga.) told fellow Georgians Saturday that "whether we like it or not" the Supreme Court's May 17, 1954, school segregation decision "is a reality" and enforceable in the state of Georgia.

Addressing an "open schools" conference in Atlanta, Mitchell said "the time for final decision is close at hand" for Georgia and that the question is whether the public educational system is of sufficient importance "that we will continue its operation though it be under terms and conditions that we do not like."

Mitchell urged action to "avoid the disaster of closed schools in Georgia" and said the threat of closing public schools to prevent integration presents a paradox.

"We are the one section in our nation who best understands, and is genuinely interested in helping solve, the problems of the Negro. Yet we stand today on the threshold of taking dramatic and drastic action that will result in great harm to all citizens of Georgia regardless of color and to the entire nation as well."

His address was based on the Georgia school crisis in which a federal judge has ordered desegregation of Atlanta public schools by May, 1961, regardless of whether the legislature acts to change rigid state laws closing schools which are integrated.

More than 20 flaming crosses of the Ku Klux Klan burned in Birmingham, Ala., Friday night, apparently in warning against rumors of demonstrations by Negroes on the sixth anniversary of the Supreme Court decision next week.

Woods, 1004 Speed Drive, is vice president of the Crescent Drilling Company, Crescent Production Company and Harway Producer, Inc. He also owns and operates a horse and cattle ranch, and is president of the Twin Cities YMCA.

In Ward 3, voters cast ballots in precincts one through 10, and in Ward 10, in precincts one through 12, plus precinct 15. Two precincts in each ward are located outside of the city limits, so were not included in the balloting.

In victory statements yesterday ranking candidates expressed appreciation for favors shown by voters.

Said Scogins, "I am pleased to have been elected to the Monroe City School Board. I will work for the best interests of the city school system with an end to continue the splendid record it now holds."

Gannaway said, "I'm very pleased to be re-elected, and appreciate the honor that has been accorded to me. I will do my best to be an effective board member.

From Breese came this statement: "I want to thank the many people of Monroe who voted for me in the school board race. I shall endeavor to merit this confidence given me."

Woods, who gained a runoff spot, said, "I appreciate the vote given me in the City School Board election Saturday.

"As a graduate of the Monroe City Schools, I would be honored to represent the people of Monroe on the board.

"I solicit the vote and support of all citizens in the second primary."

The other runoff candidate, Whetstone, said, "I want to thank the people who supported me in this race.

"I went into this race to win and I am still in there to win. I ask for the continued support and vote in the second primary."

Late last night, Guthrie was in New Orleans, and could not be contacted for a statement.

School board terms are for four years. Present members of the board went into office without opposition in the previous election.

Incumbents who did not seek re - election in yesterday's primary are Mrs. Anna Gray Noe, and E. F. Jones.

Scott, of Point Drive, is president of the school board, and head of Scott Truck and Tractor Co. of Monroe and several area towns.

Great Star Of Opera Is Dead At 72

NEW YORK (AP) — Lucrezia Bori, one of the great names of opera, died Saturday of a brain hemorrhage. She was 72.

Miss Bori, who made her formal debut with the Metropolitan Opera Assn. singing opposite Enrico Caruso in 1912, suffered the hemorrhage May 3 and had been unconscious since.

A soprano, she was born in Valencia, Spain, in 1887 and made her operatic debut in Rome in 1908. She retired in 1936 after singing 28 leading roles, including Manon, Juliette, Melisande, Violetta, Mimi and Louise.

During the Depression, she was chairman of a citizen's committee credited with saving the Met from financial disaster.

Her real name was Lucrecia Borja Gonzales de Riancho and because of rigid social conventions she had to overcome family opposition before starting her career.

She never married. Surviving are a brother, Vincente Borja Gonzales, in Valencia, and a cousin, Lucrecia Borja Vincens, in Havana.

Arizona has two pioneer villages named Rok (in Yavapai County) and Roll (in Yuma County.

Variety Show Set Thursday At Northeast

Claiming priority this week in the entertainment field at Northeast State College will be Thursday night's production of "Redskins," variety show, sponsored annually by the Student Council.

Curtain time will be 8 p.m. in Brown Auditorium, William J. Haddad, director of the current edition, announced yesterday.

The production, one of Northeast's oldest traditions, will mark the twenty - first performance since "Redskins" originated in 1938. During this period the revue failed to be presented one year because circumstances of World War II made it impractical to stage the show, the Council explained.

"Get Happy," theme of this season's program, will carry out a medley of songs, dances, comedy acts and piano numbers, varied enough to appeal to any audience, Haddad said. The acts are being presented by several campus organizations and individuals.

Groups which will be represented include Alpha Omicron Pi, national social sorority; Sigma Tau Gamma, national social fraternity; Circle K Club, leadership organization; Women's Recreation Association; Speech Club; Kappa Alpha Fraternity, national social fraternity, and others.

The Constellations, band directed by Phares Corder, student of Monroe, will carry a big share of the program, and the Northeast Jazz Ensemble, conducted by John F. Sawyer of the music faculty, will be featured.

George Phillips, senior education major from Monroe, will be master of ceremonies. The set is being designed by Mary Ann Clouatre, West Monroe freshman, and the choreography is in the hands of an experienced student in that field, Curtis Rape, West Monroe sophomore in education. Adding to their practical experience in make up will be George C. Brian's drama class which is studying that aspect of productions.

Faculty advisers to the production are John J. Barnes and Dr. Jack Harrington, both of the college education faculty.

Thespians At Northeast Get Awards

Two Monroe students have been named the best actor and best actress at Northeast State College in the annual presentation of dramaic awards.

Palmer Jarrell was named best actor for his performance as the king in the Division of Fine Art's production of "The King and I," the successful Broadway musical by Rodgers and Hammerstein. Charlene Correro was selected best actress for her leading role in "Antigone."

Two other Monroyans won awards as the best supporting actor and actress.

W. J. Haddad was named best supporting actor for his role of the blind prophet in "Antigone" while Clarice Brown was selected as best supporting actress for her role as Lady Thiang in "The King and I."

The annual dramatic awards are made on the basis of performance and williness to work, George C. Brian, associate professor of speech, said. Students are eligible for the awards who have been in any play staged by the Speech Department. Two major productions —"Antigone" and "The King and I" — and six one-act plays have been presented this year.

Selections are made by the faculty of the Speech Department.

Oscar Wilde made his summation of life in this way: "In this world there are only two tragedies. One is not getting what one wants, and the other is getting it."

Quota Club's 'Open Door' Set May 21

Some of Monroe's finest homes will open their doors Saturday, May 21st, for the Open Door Tour, sponsored by the Monroe Quota Club.

Monroe is proud of its many beautiful and outstanding homes, and annually the Monroe Quota Club presents certain homes on parade, selected because of unusual and individual characteristics.

Homes chosen for the tour this spring are those of Mr. and Mrs. Conway Crossland, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woods, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Tony Cascio, Mr. and Mrs. John Crump, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe David Cascio.

Proceeds from the tour are used by the Quota Club to maintain nursing scholarships and educational aid at Northeast La. State College.

Tickets are available at all six locations of the Central Savings Bank and Trust Company, at Betty's Yarn Shop, 2000 North 3rd St., and at Kern's Kiddie Land, 510 North 4th, or from any Quotarian.

Door prizes to be awarded will be on display at one of the homes.

Frank Sinatra, John Wayne In Verbal Fight

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Frank Sinatra exchanged verbal punches with John Wayne early Saturday in an unrehearsed scene before a gathering of filmland's biggest stars at the Moulin Rouge night club.

Contrary to some reports, Sinatra and Wayne did no shoving and did not even touch each other according to a United Press International newsman who was the only reporter on the scene.

Sinatra was involved in another tiff outside the Sunset Boulevard Spa immediately after his argument with Wayne, and this time fists flew instead of hot words.

Parking lot attendant Edward E. Moran, 21, told police a man with Sinatra hit him several times after the singer had shoved him and torn the shirt off of another attendant.

The occasion for the wispy Sinatra's escapades was a celebrity-packed $100-a-plate charity dinner and show attended by motion picture stars including Tony Curtis, Janet Leigh, Gary Cooper, Debbie Reynolds and Danny Kaye.

Sinatra arrived at the affair in Sammy Davis Jr's Rolls Royce accompanied by Dean Martin and Milton Berle. Sinatra was dressed like an Indian squaw, and Davis came as a Confederate soldier. They later changed to tuxedoes.

After the show, in which Western-garbed Wayne sang "Red River Valley" and Sinatra crooned "The Lady Is A Tramp," the two came face to face.

Witnesses said Wayne gave a friendly "hello" but Sinatra immediately began berating him for publicly opposing the hiring of Albert Maltz, one of the so-called "Hollywood Ten," to write a screenplay for "The Execution Of Private Slovic."

"You seem to disagree with me," Sinatra said in answer to Wayne's greeting and started to argue.

"We can discuss this somewhere else," Wayne said, but despite the rugged actor's attempts to halt the bickering, witnesses said Sinatra kept it up until friends had to step between the two.

Miss Grayson Glad Mattox Not To Die

BAY SPRINGS, Miss. (UPI)—Sarah Grayson, 19-year-old classmate of college student Jon Mattox said Saturday she was glad his conviction for the murder of Mrs. Gene Tate of Columbus brought only life imprisonment.

Miss Grayson, the state's star witness in the conviction of Mattox, testified he told her before the killing he intended to slay his married lover with a coat hanger.

When told of his sentence in the home of her parents here, Miss Grayson said:

"My whole purpose was to help Jon and I am glad that the verdict was for life imprisonment rather then the gas chamber.

"I know that Jon Mattox has a mental problem and that he will now get the chance to receive the treatment he so desperately needs.

"I did the thing I thought was right and it was what I had to do, not only for moral and civic duty, but also for my own safety."

Her testimony came as a surprise bombshell last weekend.

Miss Grayson said she was not interested in the approximately $5,000 reward money for helping convict Mrs. Tate's killer at the time she agreed to help the prosecution.

CRITICS ELIGIBLE FOR AID

NEW YORK (AP) — Possibly they don't know it, but drama critics are also eligible for aid from the Actors' Fund.

For 78 years the Actors' Fund has provided assistance to the aged, the ailing and the indigent of the acting profession.

Club Women To Survey Stands For Obscenity

News stands will be surveyed for display of obscene and pornographic materials this summer by the clubwomen of the Fifth District Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs, according to their district president.

Mrs. Thomas Jett, district president, said that the clubwomen do not intend to censor, as "censorship has never been a satisfactory anwer." She added that sometimes censorship "is a dangerous weapon that frequently becomes more dealy than the evil it is supposed to eliminate."

The General Federation of Women's Clubs promoted a program in the early fall of last year to cooperate with the Post Office Department and Congressional Committees devoting much time to clean up our news stands by individual clubwomen's participation, Mrs. Jett said.

SILENT GRAND-DAUGHTER

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (UPI)—Abraham Lincoln's great-grand-daughter hardly said a word Saturday as she christened the Navy's newest atomic submarine.

Mrs. Mary Lincoln Beckwith of Manchester, Vermont, cracked a bottle of champagne on the bow of the new "Abraham Lincoln"—named for her Civil War president ancestor.

She hit the bow the first try, and then smacked the hull again with the bottle remnants as champagne splattered over her new Navy blue dress.

Her only words were "Thank you" as she was introduced.

Rodriguez Returned To Commission

p.m. in a fast moving tabulation at the parish courthouse.

Shortly after, Howard, preparing to serve as mayor for another four years, issued this statement:

"I want to express my deep and sincere appreciation for what I consider to be a vote of confidence on behalf of the citizens of Monroe.

"I am humbly grateful for the opportunity of serving again as mayor of our city, and believe that this vote indicates the desire of the citizens of Monroe to continue the forward march of progress.

"I will do my best to administer the office of mayor in an honest forthright and progressive manner.

"With the continued cooperation and the wonderful spirit of pride that has existed among our citizens, Monroe can certainly look forward to bigger and greater achievements and a finer city in which to live."

Here is Rodriguez's victory statement:

I am highly gratified and I pledge myself to justify the confidence that the voters have expressed. I shall probably not run again for any office. I believe that in the next four years, I can bring the street program to a point where it will be easier for a successor to carry on.

"With respect to the pollution of the Ouachita River, I shall, of course, continue my efforts to get rid of not only the salt brine pollution but all other types of artifical pollution which might be injurious and I wish to thank in all humility, the many many friends who made my victory in today's balloting possible."

I shall cooperate to the fullest degree with all public officials, state and local. In any endeavor that promises good for the city of Monroe and its trade area.

"I shall keep an open mind and an independent position at all times. In closing, I humbly thank the voters of Monroe for their confidence."

Voters balloted in balmy weather, choosing between a field of four candidates for mayor and four hopefuls for commissioner of streets.

The race for mayor centered principally between incumbent Howard and state parole officer Peters, former Monroe police chief.

Howard, seeking his second term as mayor, urged his re-election to "keep the progress going," maintaining he had modernized city hall and transformed it into a business-like operation.

Peters charged that the administration was making "false claims of progress" and that "our growth has been stifled by your present mayor."

Davis, an evangelist preacher and Ponsell, a disabled World War II veteran did most of their fishing for votes on a person-to-person basis, seeking support by informal individual meetings with citizens.

Both Howard and Peters used newspaper and television advertising extensively in addition to the handshaking method, to get their message across to the voters.

Rodriguez said he wanted another term as street commissioner to "continue a good street program." He maintained that over 110 street projects had been completed in the past four years.

Battaglia, a plumbing contractor and former city policeman, pledged "better streets for all sections of Monroe" and said he would work to lower utility rates and repeal the garbage tax.

Chennault, a realtor, unsuccessful in his bid during the gubernatorial campaign for the custodian of voting machines post, said he would be "your full-time street commissioner."

He is the son of the late famed "Flying Tiger" Claire Chennault.

Pettit said if elected, he would work for expanded recreation program, aid in an all-out drive for industry and work for the master plan. He asked for "a sound business-like administration.

A businessman, Pettit is also a police juror from Ward 3.

The third post in Monroe City government's "Big Three", that of commissioner of finance and utilities, drew no opposition candidates and the present occupant of the position, H. W. McSherry readied himself for another four-year term.

A total of 11,692 voters were registered in the 23 precincts composing the two wards encomposed by Monroe.

Howard, in his drive for another term as mayor, told voters he would strive to continue his program started in his first four years, defended the $2 garbage tax as necessary to provide added benefits and pledged to complete the three-year street improvements plan.

He said he was ready to build underpasses at South 2nd Street and Plum Street and to continue his search for industry.

He listed his past achievements as: a reduction in taxes, included gas rates and garbage fee and organization of the planning commission.

Peters asserted that Howard's attempt to bring in industry was a failure, saying no new industry had located in the city since Howard took over in 1956 "despite full-paid trips of your mayor to Washington, St. Louis, Chicago, New York and Detroit."

He lashed what he called an increasing city debt and campaigned against the garbage fee as unnessary "profit-making."

The city's present debt is higher than at any time in its history — higher than any other city in the United States of comparable size", Peters charged. He said Howard was resorting to "deception" in his claims of progress.

Voters had their usual 14-hour period in which to cast their ballots. Polls opened at 6 a.m. and closed at 8 p.m.

It was the third time in 1960 that citizens of the city trooped to the ballot boxes, with a second primary and general election already behind them on a statewide basis.

They will get several other opportunities this year to pull the lever with congressional and presidential voting in the offing later in 1960. This is excluding any local elections that may be held.

2,000 Expected At Scout Exposition

Over 2,000 members of cub, explorer and scout groups from 22 units, throughout 15 parishes are expected to participate in the 1960 Boy Scout Exposition to be held Saturday, May 21, from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Ouachita Valley Fair Grounds.

The exposition, an exhibit of booths made by the scout groups, will give the respective cubs, troops and explorer units an action program that will explain scouting to the public. There will be displays of merit badge requirements by each troop.

The scout groups will set up their own projects at the Fair Grounds in West Monroe Friday and Saturday and the booths will be judged by a committee, with prizes going to the outstanding exhibits. There will be a concession stand and plenty of hot dogs for spectators.

Exhibits already turned in by scout units include first aid, wildlife, home repairs, pioneering, fingerprinting, forestry, wood carving and reptile exhibits.

Some of the exhiits expected to be presented by cub scouts are Robin Hood, Robinson Crusoe, Tom Sawyer, Snow White, Columbus and Rip Van Winkle.

Tickets to the exposition are now on sale by members of the various scout units throughout the 15 parishes at a charge of 50 cents per ticket for both children and adults. A commission plan for the units and awards for the scouts have been established by the Ouachita Valley Council.

The three main prizes being offered to the scouts are: First prize, for selling $50 worth of tickets, a week at camp and a pair of camp moccasins; Second prize, to the boy who sells $25 worth of tickets, a camera and flash outfit; and Third prize, to the member who sells $12.50 worth of tickets, a camp "T" shirt. A neckerchief slide will be awarded for $5 in ticket sales.

All proceeds from ticket sales will go to the financing of the exposition and the awarding of individual prizes.

Oak Street Closing Is Announced

Monroe police Chief J. C. Kelly said yesterday that a section of Oak Street will be closed most of next week.

Kelly said that the Oak street railroad crossing would be closed approximately four days putting most of the streets off limits to through traffic.

Detour signs will be posted at 7th and Oak Streets and at DeSiard and Manasas Streets.

He asked that through traffic use the 6th and DeSiard Street crossing.

Poetry Contest

Two Monroe students and one from Reserve placed first in the three divisions of a poetry contest conducted by the Louisiana State Court, Catholic Daughters of America.

The contest was under direction of Mrs. Mayme Hodges of Monroe, state CDA education chairman, who said that the first, second and third place winners in each division will be entered in nationwide competition. The state winners were selected from among winners in contests sponsored by CDA courts in various communities.

Two Men Burn To Death In Automobile Fire

OCEAN SPRINGS, Miss. (UPI) - Firemen called to put out a fire in an automobile before dawn Saturday, extinguished the blaze, then discovered the vehicle contained the bodies of two men.

The victims, burned beyond recognition, were Fred Browning, 31-year-old father of two from Ocean Springs and Curtis E. Martin, 38, of Gautier.

Police Chief Bernard Beaugez said a motorist saw the car parked and in flames and he called the fire department. The firemen put out the blaze, unaware anyone was in the car. When they opened a door they found one body in the back seat and the other in the front.

Rodriguez Returned To Commission

p.m. in a fast moving tabulation at the parish courthouse.

Shortly after, Howard, preparing to serve as mayor for another four years, issued this statement:

"I want to express my deep and sincere appreciation for what I consider to be a vote of confidence on behalf of the citizens of Monroe.

"I am humbly grateful for the opportunity of serving again as mayor of our city, and believe that this vote indicates the desire of the citizens of Monroe to continue the forward march of progress.

"I will do my best to administer the office of mayor in an honest forthright and progressive manner.

"With the continued cooperation and the wonderful spirit of pride that has existed among our citizens, Monroe can certainly look forward to bigger and greater achievements and a finer city in which to live."

Here is Rodriguez's victory statement:

I am highly gratified and I pledge myself to justify the confidence that the voters have expressed. I shall probably not run again for any office. I believe that in the next four years, I can bring the street program to a point where it will be easier for a successor to carry on.

Veteran Police Chief Unfolds Filmland Story

walls and trees, and the guide maps often out-of-date, the city's other residences make the trip worthwhile.

Within the city's estates are artificial waterfalls, indoor fountains, private trout pools, mosaic floors transported from European castles, swimming pools ranging up to $100,000 in price, gold-plated bathroom fixtures. One hillside home is surrounded by life-sized marble statues. Another mansion and its grounds cost the owner $3,000,000.

As the hub of an area of 25 square miles of fine homes, Beverly Hills has a luxury shopping district. Juel Park has lace negligees at $1,500 each; Mr. Rex sells cerulean mink hats for $550, and you can pick up a 24-carat emerald - cut diamond from Ruser for just $200,000. Children's toys? Uncle Bernie's Toy Menagerie has fancy stuffed tigers at $400 each. At Christmas, corner drugstores do a department-store business in $200 gold cigarette lighters and $185-a-bottle perfumes.

Blessed with the sixth highest per - capita income in the United States, Beverly Hills has more branch offices of New York Stock Exchange members than any other city its size, and approximately $400,000,000 on deposit in its banks.

Lawyers and doctors naturally love us. We have almost a thousand attorneys here, although our only courts are small municipal ones. We have 650 medical men, including many expensive psychiatrists.

People joke about the absence of pedestrians on our fine residential streets, but since the average family here has two automobiles and two telephones there is little need to walk except for exercise. Our patrolmen admittedly are inquisitive about strangers walking in certain districts, yet we don't discourage pedestrians we know, like the lone woman who walks the streets every morning between 2 and 4 o'clock rain or shine, always in the gutters, avoiding the sidewalks. We also have a friendly word for the wealthy woman who lives in a large house surrounded by an electrically - wired fence, with the grounds illuminated all night long. We know she was badly frightened by a criminal in her youth.

We take our celebrities in stride. Gary Cooper entering his office at Wilshire Boulevard and Beverly Drive, Jimmy Stewart taking his twins to Sunday school, or Lucille Ball window-shopping, hardly get a second look; anywhere else they would draw crowds. Although our movie residents are internationally famous they are not as influential in Beverly Hills' society as other citizens whose names are seldom seen because they dislike publicity.

Through the years our mayors and city councilmen have been citizens of means and reputation, millionaires and retired generals among them, who served the city without pay.

Nobody can fix a traffic ticket in Beverly Hills. There are so many influential people here that the police department cannot afford to play favorites. Years ago the judges and the police worked out an escape - proof traffic ticket plan. Our policy is so well known now that everybody pays, or goes to court.

I have found that millionaires will resort to all kinds of dodges in an attempt to save a few dollars in coping with our traffic laws. One wealthy stock broker got away with overtime parking on a residential street near the business district by a plan which must have kept him rather occupied. He would park his car, then watch it from his office window through binoculars. When he saw a traffic officer mark his tire he would wait two hours and then move the car just before the officer was due to check tires again. He got free parking for considerable periods of time before he was caught.

Handling millionaires is sometimes a headache for the police. Two prominent citizens quarreling over a barking dog can be more troublesome that a couple of longshoremen slugging each other. We have had some famous feuds in Beverly Hills, most of them rather silly. It takes remarkably little to start a neighborhood fuss, noisy children or dogs will do it, and we have had some Homeric battles over the ownership of hedges. Local surveyors have picked up small fortunes resurveying property lines.

Our hottest feud lasted almost two years and resulted in some 80 complaints being filed with the police department by a British star of the silent screen and his next-door neighbor, a wealthy restaurateur. The businessman alleged that the actor disturbed the peace by quarreling with his wife. The actor, in turn, complained that his neighbor arrived home noisily every morning at 2 o'clock driven by a chauffeur who raced the engine.

In answer to complaints of various neighbors, the actor strung a rope from his back porch to a telephone pole, hung tin cans on it filled with rocks, and yanked it vigorously at intervals, setting up a clamor which could be heard for blocks. He made a dramatic offer to buy all the pianolas in the vicinity and burn them at a designated spot if his neighbors would sign a pledge to buy no more noise - producing instruments. Later, another actor moved in next-door and the belligerent Briton got into a fuss with him too. Eventually the British actor moved away and peace settled on Beverly Hills.

However, the truth is that during my years as a Beverly Hills policeman we have had very little trouble with members of the movie colony. Motion picture people who are successful are no problem. They are too busy to get into mischief. Those who do are usually newcomers unwisely trying to live it up, or former celebrities trying to cling to their fast-fading fame.

Most movie stars of today have business agents who put them on a budget and supervise their investments, even limiting their pocket money. The business agents, in turn, have lawyers, accountants and investment advisers, so that a movie or television star's money is more likely to stay with him for a longer period of time. Some stars are among the biggest property-owners in Beverly Hills today. A handsome new office building on Wilshire Boulevard belongs to Alan Ladd: Red Skelton and Fred MacMurray own apartment houses; Joan Crawford, Irene Dunne, Frank Borzage, Jeanette MacDonald and a dozen other celebrities are business property landlords in Beverly Hills.

Behind the glamor and glitter of Beverly Hills there is another city which a policeman sees in line of duty, a city of heartbreak for many people. I have known millionaires who died of alcoholism in their mansions; surrounded by servants and luxury; and movie stars who ended up as derelicts. I have known financial men who tried to use their banks and institutions for social advancement, making unsound loans which wrecked their careers and in one case resulted in a prison sentence. I have known too many middle - aged wealthy widows who have been picked off by glib and handsome confidence men, and elderly widowers deceived by unscrupulous women interested only in money. As I write this there is a pretty divorcee with two children who cannot call her fortune her own. She received a huge settlement from her multi-millionaire husband, enough to be independent for life, but she is being kept under wraps by an ex-convict who has taken over as manager of her large home.

We once had a bank robbery staged by a daughter of a millionaire and her playboy husband, who had run out of money. The wife came from a wealthy plantation family in Hawaii, but her husband disdained honest work. They concocted a novel hold-up. They rented a car and cruised around Beverly Hills until they saw a mother with a 2-year-old son on the street. They stopped to admire the baby and the girl played on the mother's sympathies with a sob story. She had lost her own baby boy, she said, while her husband was away in the service, and it would make them so happy if they could take this beautiful child to the corner drugstore and buy him an ice-cream soda. The mother consented and the couple drove away with the child.

Instead of stopping at the drugstore they went to the nearest bank, where the wife waited in the car while the husband carried the boy inside. With the boy in his arms the husband walked up to a teller's window, handed a surprised teller two stick-up notes and flourished a gun. He walked out of the bank with his tiny hostage and $1,200 of the bank's money.

When the couple returned the child to his mother she jotted down the license number of their car, suspicious because they had been gone longer than she had anticipated. After they departed she tried to find out from the boy what had happened, but he was just learning to talk and could say only "Man played cowboy," which meant nothing to her.

Next day, when newspaper headlines reported a bank hold-up in which a small boy had been used as a shield she telephoned police headquarters to give us the license number. We soon traced the car to a swank Los Angeles hotel where the couple were registered. They had gone to the racetrack and lost $200 of the bank's money. However, we recovered the rest of the money, jailed the robbers, and wrote off the case as solved in 24 hours.

In a later instalment, I will get to the jewel thieves and burglars, some of them internationally known, who have "hit" Beverly Hills during the years. We've also had some amateurs whose ingenious methods have kept them fresh in my memory. One burglar, a caretaker on a yacht, carried a small acetylene torch on his shoulder like a knapsack and a coil of rope attached to a steel hook. When he visited Beverly Hills he stood in an alley behind a store building, tossed the hook to the roof where it caught and held, then climbed the rope hand over hand and pulled it up after him, leaving no evidence for a passing patrolman that a burglar was at work. He cut a hole in the roof, but failed to notice several small wires which he touched. These set off a silent burglar alarm and he soon found himself surrounded by police.

I remember a crooked jewelry salesman who took jewels on consignment from individuals who advertised them for sale, and later claimed he had lost them. His stories were dramatic. Once, he said, he was kidnapped and robbed. Another time he reported he had lost a large diamond down a toilet in a Los Angeles hotel, and on a third occasion he claimed he had been held-up in Hollywood. We disproved all his stories and had him in jail, awaiting trial, when we got another "break" in the case. He had secretly dispatched a woman social worker from the jail to dig up a can which he had buried in his father-in-law's yard without the latter's knowledge. When the father-in-law saw a strange woman digging surreptitiously in his yard he called the police, and we recovered the can of "lost" jewelry and assured the culprit's extended stay in prison.

Another odd "customer" we handled was the son of a wealthy family who had dissipated his fortune but had managed to make a small name for himself as a writer of motion - picture and television scripts. He was able to write bad checks for thousands of dollars in various cities throughout California, victimizing the friends who had known him when he had money. He was married several times, and we caught up with him just after he had bought his latest wife some expensive gifts, with worthless checks.

The glamorous surroundings of Beverly Hills do not make police work any less dangerous here than it is anywhere else. We have lost several fine officers who gave their lives in line of duty.

Veteran Police Chief Unfolds Filmland Story

walls and trees, and the guide maps often out-of-date, the city's other residences make the trip worthwhile.

Within the city's estates are artificial waterfalls, indoor fountains, private trout pools, mosaic floors transported from European castles, swimming pools ranging up to $100,000 in price, gold-plated bathroom fixtures. One hillside home is surrounded by life-sized marble statues. Another mansion and its grounds cost the owner $3,000,000.

As the hub of an area of 25 square miles of fine homes, Beverly Hills has a luxury shopping district. Juel Park has lace negligees at $1,500 each; Mr. Rex sells cerulean mink hats for $550, and you can pick up a 24-carat emerald - cut diamond from Rusber for just $200,000. Children's toys? Uncle Bernie's Toy Menagerie has fancy stuffed tigers at $400 each. At Christmas, corner drugstores do a department-store business in $200 gold cigarette lighters and $185-a-bottle perfumes.

Blessed with the sixth highest per - capita income in the United States, Beverly Hills has more branch offices of New York Stock Exchange members than any other city its size, and approximately $400,000,000 on deposit in its banks.

Lawyers and doctors naturally love us. We have almost a thousand attorneys here, although our only courts are small municipal ones. We have 650 medical men, including many expensive psychiatrists.

People joke about the absence of pedestrians on our fine residential streets, but since the average family here has two automobiles and two telephones there is little need to walk except for exercise. Our patrolmen admittedly are inquisitive about strangers walking in certain districts, yet we don't discourage pedestrians we know, like the lone woman who walks the streets every morning between 2 and 4 o'clock rain or shine, always in the gutters, avoiding the sidewalks. We also have a friendly word for the wealthy woman who lives in a large house surrounded by an electrically - wired fence, with the grounds illuminated all night long. We know she was badly frightened by a criminal in her youth.

We take our celebrities in stride. Gary Cooper entering his office at Wilshire Boulevard and Beverly Drive, Jimmy Stewart taking his twins to Sunday school, or Lucille Ball window-shopping, hardly get a second look; anywhere else they would draw crowds. Although our movie residents are internationally famous they are not as influential in Beverly Hills' society as other citizens whose names are seldom seen because they dislike publicity.

Through the years our mayors and city councilmen have been citizens of means and reputation, millionaires and retired generals among them, who served the city without pay.

Nobody can fix a traffic ticket in Beverly Hills. There are so many influential people here that the police department cannot afford to play favorites. Years ago the judges and the police worked out an escape - proof traffic ticket plan. Our policy is so well known now that everybody pays, or goes to court.

I have found that millionaires will resort to all kinds of dodges in an attempt to save a few dollars in coping with our traffic laws. One wealthy stock broker got away with overtime parking on a residential street near the business district by a plan which must have kept him rather occupied. He would park his car, then watch it from his office window through binoculars. When he saw a traffic officer mark his tire he would wait two hours and then move the car just before the officer was due to check tires again. He got free parking for considerable periods of time before he was caught.

Handling millionaires is sometimes a headache for the police. Two prominent citizens quarreling over a barking dog can be more troublesome that a couple of longshoremen slugging each other. We have had some famous feuds in Beverly Hills, most of them rather silly. It takes remarkably little to start a neighborhood fuss, noisy children or dogs will do it, and we have had some Homeric battles over the ownership of hedges. Local surveyors have picked up small fortunes resurveying property lines.

Our hottest feud lasted almost two years and resulted in some 80 complaints being filed with the police department by a British star of the silent screen and his next-door neighbor, a wealthy restaurateur. The businessman alleged that the actor disturbed the peace by quarreling with his wife. The actor, in turn, complained that his neighbor arrived home noisily every morning at 2 o'clock driven by a chauffeur who raced the engine.

In answer to complaints of various neighbors, the actor strung a rope from his back porch to a telephone pole, hung tin cans on it filled with rocks, and yanked it vigorously at intervals, setting up a clamor which could be heard for blocks. He made a dramatic offer to buy all the pianolas in the vicinity and burn them at a designated spot if his neighbors would sign a pledge to buy no more noise - producing instruments. Later, another actor moved in next-door and the belligerent Briton got into a fuss with him too. Eventually the British actor moved away and peace settled on Beverly Hills.

However, the truth is that during my years as a Beverly Hills policeman we have had very little trouble with members of the movie colony. Motion picture people who are successful are no problem. They are too busy to get into mischief. Those who do are usually newcomers unwisely trying to live it up, or former celebrities trying to cling to their fast-fading fame.

Most movie stars of today have business agents who put them on a budget and supervise their investments, even limiting their pocket money. The business agents, in turn, have lawyers, accountants and investment advisers, so that a movie or television star's money is more likely to stay with him for a longer period of time. Some stars are among the biggest property-owners in Beverly Hills today. A handsome new office building on Wilshire Boulevard belongs to Alan Ladd; Red Skelton and Fred MacMurray own apartment houses; Joan Crawford, Irene Dunne, Frank Borzage, Jeanette MacDonald and a dozen other celebrities are business property landlords in Beverly Hills.

Behind the glamor and glitter of Beverly Hills there is another city which a policeman sees in line of duty, a city of heartbreak for many people. I have known millionaires who died of alcoholism in their mansions; surrounded by servants and luxury; and movie stars who ended up as derelicts. I have known financial men who tried to use their banks and institutions for social advancement, making unsound loans which wrecked their careers and in one case resulted in a prison sentence. I have known too many middle - aged wealthy widows who have been picked off by glib and handsome confidence men, and elderly widowers deceived by unscrupulous women interested only in money. As I write this there is a pretty divorcee with two children who cannot call her fortune her own. She received a huge settlement from her multimillionaire husband, enough to be independent for life, but she is being kept under wraps by an ex-convict who has taken over as manager of her large home.

We once had a bank robbery staged by a daughter of a millionaire and her playboy husband, who had run out of money. The wife came from a wealthy plantation family in Hawaii, but her husband disdained honest work. They concocted a novel hold-up. They rented a car and cruised around Beverly Hills until they saw a mother with a 2-year-old son on the street. They stopped to admire the baby and the girl played on the mother's sympathies with a sob story. She had lost her own baby boy, she said, while her husband was away in the service, and it would make them so happy if they could take this beautiful child to the corner drugstore and buy him an ice-cream soda. The mother consented and the couple drove away with the child.

Instead of stopping at the drugstore they went to the nearest bank, where the wife waited in the car while the husband carried the boy inside. With the boy in his arms the husband walked up to a teller's window, handed a surprised teller two stick-up notes and flourished a gun. He walked out of the bank with his tiny hostage and $1,200 of the bank's money.

When the couple returned the child to his mother she jotted down the license number of their car, suspicious because they had been gone longer than she had anticipated. After they departed she tried to find out from the boy what had happened, but he was just learning to talk and could say only "Man played cowboy," which meant nothing to her.

Next day, when newspaper headlines reported a bank hold-up in which a small boy had been used as a shield she telephoned police headquarters to give us the license number. We soon traced the car to a swank Los Angeles hotel where the couple were registered. They had gone to the racetrack and lost $200 of the bank's money. However, we recovered the rest of the money, jailed the robbers, and wrote off the case as solved in 24 hours.

Mattox Draws Life Sentence

hanger "because it is strong and leaves no fingerprints."

Another key state witness was the victim's husband.

Tate said his marriage was strained for several months by the attentions of the husky Mattox to Mrs. Tate.

"I spent a lot of time traveling," Tate testified, "and I couldn't come home without him being there."

Tate said Mattox' eyes constantly stayed on Mrs. Tate.

"He even fixed his eyes on my wife when I was with her," Tate said.

C. G. McWright of Washington, an FBI laboratory technician, testified seven cotton fibers found on Mrs. Tate's blouse matched fibers from a shirt identified as the one Mattox wore the day of the slaying.

Jesse Stennis, chief defense lawyer, built his case around the time of the death, contending Mattox was elsewhere when the crime was committed.

The time of death was fixed between 10:30 a.m. after Mrs. Tate's mother had visited her and 10:55 a.m. As for Miss Grayson's testimony, Stennis called it fantastic.

It sounded like a dime store novel, he said.

"She didn't tell anybody about this information until she found out about the $1,000 reward," Sims argued, "and it has now reached $5,325. I can see her now driving through here in one of those new sports cars."

Legislature Still Waits For Signal

led by the highway board. Davis now will have to go the course of the Legislature to address them out of office.

FIGHT POSSIBLE

And this is where the governor might run into his first fight in the Legislature.

Several legislators have spoken out against a mass removal of board members, but it is not certain whether a bloc, composed of Long and Morrison followers in the Legislature, will form in time to stop the governor's moves.

Davis has asked board members to quit by noon Monday, indicating he will offer a list of new appointments to the Legislature Monday night.

The House and Senate are scheduled to convene at 7 p.m. with Davis' address 30 minutes later.

After the Monday night session, the Legislature will get down to business, spending most of its time with the introduction of bills.

Legislators have 20 days to introduce bills.

Committees to hear the bills out haven't been appointed yet, but that too may come Monday night, if not Tuesday morning.

Also scheduled to come before the Legislature this week is the creation of a sovereignty commission to be headed by W. M. Rainach of Homer.

Rainach, former senator and gubernatorial candidate, said last week the introduction of legislation creating the commission was on tap for this week.

In line with the commission's job of fighting integration, the Louisiana District Attorneys Association will have a bundle of bills to preserve segregation.

Davis' two major problems are the race issue and finances, but he has said he would take care of the latter by heeding the advice of James S. Reily, re-appointed as commissioner of finance.

Only other appointment made by Davis last week was that of Murphy Roden as superintendent of State Police.

Indignant Solons See Harmony End

unless he softened the stern demands that members of the board of highways, institutions, welfare and hospitals quit by noon Monday.

Many of the lawmakers voicing objections to Davis' actions question the need for the boards at all, but fear Davis may ask them to address the board members out of office, as Long did when he began his last term in 1956.

The ensuing fight rattled the state political structure from top to bottom, and left a sour taste for such tactics in the mouths of many of the returning legislators.

Knowing this, Davis was expected to avoid such a showdown fight, with Long and Morrison supporters' opposition likely, but may continue his demands for the resignations.

The unyielding demands stem from a spoils system of political appointments that Gov. Robert Kennon first tried to change in 1952. Many of Kennon's proposals were defeated, but he succeeded in establishing the "blue ribbon" boards for highways, institutions, welfare and wild life and fisheries agencies.

U.S. Makes Protest In Cuba Firing

through normal diplomatic negotiation."

Castro, who claimed Friday night that American vessels violated Cuban waters 11 times, also asserted that posters prepared by the U.S. embassy to identify American property in Cuba implied U.S. knowledge of an impending American attack there.

The Cuban premier said the posters "would not have made sense if it were known an operation of aggression is planned against us." He demanded U.S. "assurance to the Cuban people . . . that they will never attack us or organize movements to invade us."

The U.S. statement expressed "astonishment" at Castro's report that a Cuban patrol boat fired on the Sea Poacher on the high seas and chased it for 30 miles.

The State Department said Mallory "requested that an explanation be provided as to the reasons why an armed vessel of the Cuban Navy fired, without provocation, on the U.S.S. Sea Poacher while the latter was pursuing a peaceful passage on the high seas."

The Navy said none of the tracer bullets shot from the Cuban vessel's 20-millimeter machine gun hit the submarine, which neither dived nor fired back.

Navy spokesmen disputed numerous points of the charges Castro made in a two-hour, 4 minute television speech Friday night during which he accused the United States of 11 violations of Cuban territorial waters.

The Navy denied Castro's report that a Cuban Coast Guard cutter chased an American submarine 30 miles last week, firing at it all the way with 20-MM machine guns.

And the Navy said the "C4T1" marking described by Castro would not have been on an American sub, which would be marked only with three numerals, such as the Sea Poacher's 406.

Castro, in describing the incident, said the cutter Oriente sighted a blacked out submarine five miles off Matanzas province coast. He said the sub did not identify itself and the cutter chased it 30 miles to the north, firing warning shots on the way.

Castro included this among the alleged violations of Cuban territorial waters even though he said the sighting was five miles offshore.

Cuba is listed in an official United Nations document dated February, 1960, as claiming a territorial sea limit of three miles for security, criminal and fishing jurisdiction. Cuba claims 12 miles only for customs jurisdiction and pollution precautions.

Castro's charges also included a claim that the U.S. destroyer Norfolk was within two and a half miles of a point of land on the Cuban coast. The Navy said the Norfolk's actual closest distance to shore was 11 miles.

LONDON (AP)—Britain has appointed an antisubmarine expert as Royal Navy commander for South America and the South Atlantic, where there have been repeated reports of mystery submarines. Vice Adm. Nicholas Alfred Copeman, 54, now in the Admiralty, takes over his new command in December.

Mattox Draws Life Sentence

Another key state witness was the victim's husband.

Tate said his marriage was strained for several months by the attentions of the husky Mattox to Mrs. Tate.

"I spent a lot of time traveling," Tate testified, "and I couldn't come home without him being there."

Tate said Mattox' eyes constantly stayed on Mrs. Tate.

"He even fixed his eyes on my wife when I was with her," Tate said.

C. G. McWright of Washington, an FBI laboratory technician, testified seven cotton fibers found on Mrs. Tate's blouse matched fibers from a shirt identified as the one Mattox wore the day of the slaying.

Jesse Stennis, chief defense lawyer, built his case around the time of the death, contending Mattox was elsewhere when the crime was committed.

The time of death was fixed between 10:30 a.m. after Mrs. Tate's mother had visited her and 10:55 a.m. As for Miss Grayson's testimony, Stennis called it fantastic.

It sounded like a dime store novel, he said.

"She didn't tell anybody about this information until she found out about the $1,000 reward," Sims argued, "and it has now reached $5,325. I can see her now driving through here in one of those new sports cars."

Legislature Still Waits For Signal

led by the highway board, Davis now will have to go the course of the Legislature to address them oat of office.

FIGHT POSSIBLE

And this is where the governor might run into his first fight in the Legislature.

Several legislators have spoken out against a mass removal of board members, but it is not certain whether a bloc, composed of Long and Morrison followers in the Legislature, will form in time to stop the governor's moves.

Davis has asked board members to quit by noon Monday, indicating he will offer a list of new appointments to the Legislature Monday night.

The House and Senate are scheduled to convene at 7 p.m. with Davis' address 30 minutes later.

After the Monday night session, the Legislature will get down to business, spending most of its time with the introduction of bills.

Legislators have 20 days to introduce bills.

Committees to hear the bills out haven't been appointed yet, but that too may come Monday night, if not Tuesday morning.

Also scheduled to come before the Legislature this week is the creation of a sovereigenty commission to be headed by W. M. Rainach of Homer.

Rainach, former senator and gubernatorial candidate, said last week the introduction of legislation creating the commission was on tap for this week.

In line with the commission's job of fighting integration, the Louisiana District Attorneys Association will have a bundle of bills to preserve segregation.

Davis' two major problems are the race issue and finances, but he has said he would take care of the latter by heeding the advise of James S. Reily, re-appointed as commissioner of finance.

Only other appointment made by Davis last week was that of Murphy Roden as superintendent of State Police.

Indignant Solons See Harmony End

unless he softened the stern demands that members of the board of highways, institutions, welfare and hospitals quit by noon Monday.

Many of the lawmakers voicing objections to Davis' actions question the need for the boards at all, but fear Davis may ask them to address the board members out of office, as Long did when he began his last term in 1946.

The ensuing fight rattled the state political structure from top to bottom, and left a sour taste for such tactics in the mouths of many of the returning legislators.

Knowing this, Davis was expected to avoid such a showdown fight, with Long and Morrison supporters' opposition likely, but may continue his demands for the resignations.

The unyielding demands stem from a spoils system of political appointments that Gov. Robert Kennon first tried to change in 1952. Many of Kennon's proposals were defeated, but he succeeded in establishing the "blue ribbon" boards for highways, institutions, welfare and wild life and fisheries agencies.

SUMMER ACTIVITIES

'Y' Day Camp To Open On June 13

The YMCA-YWCA Day Camp opens again on June 13, for Twin City youngsters who enjoy participating in summer activities.

Bob McKee YMCA youth secretary will direct activities.

Miss Bess Sharp, YWCA executive secretary, will be program director for girls, and YMCA general secretary, W. A. Robinson will direct aquatic sports.

Boys and girls aged six through 13 are elegible to attend any or all of the two - week day camp sessions, according to Dr. Doyle Hamilton, camp committee chairman.

REGISTRATION

Registration now is underway at the Y office, 217 Breard St. The camp will run for four periods of two - weeks each, and end on August 5.

First period is June 13-24; second is June 27 - July 8; third extends from July 11-22; final period is July 25- August 5.

Capacity is 125 boys and 100 girls for each session.

Tuition is $16 for each two weeks, plus one $3 registration fee from all who are not Y members. Campers will supply their own lunches and milk money, plus 20 cents daily for bus service.

Camping takes place Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Forsythe Park.

Youngsters will be picked up by bus at elementary schools in Monroe and West Monroe each day, and transported to the park.

Actitivies include swimming, boating, fishing, crafts, group games, riflery, archery, athletics, educational trips, nature lore, story telling, horseback riding, devotionals, camp - outs, singing and softball.

Friendly supervision will be given by YMCA laymen and well-trained, competent young men and women. Hamilton states.

The program is organized to meet needs of younger boys and girls for outdoor interests during hot summer weeks.

"Day camping affords an opportunity to grow bodily, spiritually and mentally while enjoying wholesome activities," says McKee.

He pointed out that health, safety and well - being of the campers are of primary importance. Each child will be provided with accident insurance.

Steel Leader Predicts End To Striking

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, predicted Friday that the precedent-setting contract signed with Kaiser Steel Corp. may ultimately end strikes in the entire steel industry.

The pact, signed by Edgar Kaiser, chairman of the steel corporation, broke the united front of major steel producers and drew attacks from some segments of steel management.

The contract included profit sharing and may other benefits for stockholders, workers and the public.

McDonald said a nine-man committee set up under the contract signed last year is pioneering ways to prevent further shutdowns in steel, the nation's basic industry. The committee made a progress report Friday.

Kaiser said he, like McDonald, was optimistic about the committee's progress.

State Aid School Program Causes Worry

BATON ROUGE (AP) — A state aid program for schools that potentially will cost more to the state and favors certain teachers the Public Affairs Research Council (PAR), said Saturday, is causing some concern to state and local officials.

PAR said it referred to the effects of Act 130 of the 1958 Legislature. The act provides state funds for summer salaries of vocational teachers, coaches, principals and other teachers on the payroll for more than nine months in the year.

The Louisiana School Boards Assn. has adopted a resolution calling for repeal of the act because it would "disrupt well established salary schedules for principals and other employes."

But PAR said since cost of the program is being absorbed by the state school board opposition is declining.

Before the state program was begun, PAR said, "Local school systems were responsible for financing the salaries of presonnel employed more than the normal school term, except that some state and federal funds were and are provided for vocational teachers."

PAR said the state allocated $1,100,000 for this type of state aid during the 1959-60 school year. Parishes shared in widely varying amounts, which did not correspond to the size of teaching force.

BOAT-O-CADE

Cruise Log Of Inaugural Group

By DON KURTZ
Commodore

Departed Monroe 6 a.m. May 7, weather cloudy, cool, wind from the north. Proceeding south on Ouachita River at 18 MPH.

Arrived Lock and Dam No. 4 at 6:15 a.m. Gates open ready for flotilla. The "Mary M", owned by Ed Ellison, was joined by two boats.

Left lock at 6:30 a.m. three boats, nine people.

8 a.m. Passed large picturesque limestone bluffs on west side of river. One cannot help but wonder why the river cut this particular passage so sharp and clean through this great mass of stone. Weather clearing to partly cloudy. Sun on the wake behind the boats glistens icily as it does in the winter time.

9:15 a.m. passed over dam no. 4 Riverton, La. Water at sufficient height to allow passage over the dam without going through the locks, personnel on shore waving to boats as they proceed south. All boats operating well. Used fifteen gallons of gas at this point. Averaging three miles per gallon.

9:30 a.m. passed under MO Pac bridge. Notice old piers in the river. Wonder when a highway or what railroad put these in and now no longer use them.

9:42 a.m. Passed under highway bridge at Columbia. Ben Hu[illegible]sel's boat stopped for gasoline.

11:[illegible] a.m. Passed duty ferry landing. Sun is out now. Varying shades of green from the water level upward indicate the various stages of the water. Foliage closest to the water is the fresher green.

12:15 p.m. passed under Harrisonburg bridge. Gasoline not to difficult to procure if needed.

1:15 p.m. arrived Jonesville, La. walked to Texaco station inside the levee. Operator brought a pickup truck to the river, carried gas cans to station, filled and returned them. Joined here by four boats from Farmerville. Some of these were talking about proceeding to Simmesport for the night. Main Monroe group stopped at Jonesville Saturday night and had a barbeque. Everyone spoke with great respect for the wonderful treatment afforded them by the Jonesville people.

2:35 p.m. departed Jonesville entered Black river. Depth finder shows water 70 and 75 feet deep here. Two small boats ahead of the Mary "M". We have two sleeping bags from one of them.

3:45 Port motor losing RPM's. Changed plugs. No help. Pulled ignition wires, motor came to life. Believe possibly they are loose at the magneto end.

4:05 Resumed trip. Two small boats now one hour ahead of us. Imperative that we find them as we still have the sleeping bags.

6:20 Passed Acme and turned into Red River. Still no sign of small boats.

6:30 Stopped at fishing camp at mouth of Atchafalaya. Current fast here. Residents say that two small boats passed here heading for Mississippi approx. 20 minutes ago.

6:40 headed for Miss.

7:30 p.m. entered Mississippi. Encountered considerable turbulence in the river at this point. Water seems to be boiling straight up from the bottom. Getting dark. Navigational aids on shore are blinking. Moon is out, plenty of light. Note to night travelers: Middle of river on darkest night is always bright enough to see to travel. Traveling down East side of river. Notice several tows on west side. Do not encounter any wake from these. Blinker lights invaluable. Stay between them and you are in the middle of the river. River clean, very little flotsam.

8:45 p.m. Arrived St. Francisville. No sign of two small boats. Watched constantly for flash light or camp fire. On arrival boy with flash light directed us to open place on bank. St. Francisville has drive stakes into shore for boats to tie to. Bank is gravel. (Correction: Bank is gravel for two inches. Then there is twelve inches of mud.)

Walked to St. Francisville for sandwich. Boy said town is just over the hill. It is plus another mile and one half. St. Francisville policeman gave me a ride to cafe. A school boy gave me a ride back to ferry landing. He says that tomorrow the St. Francisville Football team will be down selling sandwiches and cokes in order to raise money for badly needed new equipment. Also says the civic clubs will be handing out free coffee. Returned to boat at 10:30 and to bed.

Wool sleeping bag seemed too heavy this a.m. Feels good now. Moon is bright. Ferry slips quietly in and unloads, reloads and after a whistle blast slips quietly away for the west shore. Forty other boats tied up here. Party of two going down the bank.

6:00 AM Sunday May 8.

Daylight - This is the prettiest time of day on the river. Mist rises like smoke from the water into the air. Sounds are somewhat muffled. No traffic noise. Yawns from boat owners emerging into the morning. Sound of bacon frying, smell of coffee boiling.

8 a.m. Breakfast over, boat cleaned. Crew Shaved. New arrivals coming in every minute. Shore lined with boats. Gas truck arrives with long hose. Meter in truck. Two boys haul hose to the boats fill the cans in the boats. Trucker has a small chest of drawers from which he makes change. Riverside filling station. Cameraman everywhere.

10:[illegible] Big cruiser of [illegible] arrived with Southwest La. legislators aboard. Came up from Morgan City.

10:40 a.m. Started for Baton Rouge. Pete Elliot's boat crew arrived. Say there are 19 Monroe boats behind them. Port engine still not operating right. Skipper decides to reach Baton Rouge and pull the boat out of the parade.

11:50 a.m. meet Deputy Sheriff from East Baton Rouge Parish (assigned to convoy Monroe Flotilla. Port engine now functioning properly. Deputy says rendezvous will be in Devils swamp about five miles further on. Meet Sheriffs boat there who directs us to rendezvous point. Devils swamp about 1½ miles long. Very narrow. Gas station, pull out ramp and two larger cranes with slings in readiness to pull out boats when parade is finished. East and West Baton Rouge Sheriffs departments doing a superb job of controlling several hundred independent boat operators.

21:15 to 2:30. Threw out anchor visited with other skippers from Alexandria, Shreveport, Monroe, Farmerville etc. Bigger craft arriving now. One cruiser which is reminiscent of style of 1890's arrived. People aboard should be wearing top hats and tails.

Howard Griffins boat arrived with nine people aboard. Farmerville boat broke down. Griffin picked them up. Mayor Jack Howard and Senator Jamar Adcock on board.

2:30 Deputy picked out Monroe flotilla. Lead us single file up the river. Turned down river and proceeded to a point approx. ½ miles below bridge. Other group are jamming up there, our leader making easy for us by circling back up the river, staying out of the jam. Garland Shell making movies and stills from the Deputy's boat. Make final circle. Can see jam is clearing. Boats are lining out along West bank proceeding south. We turn to join end of parade. Parade now lined out approx. one mile down river. Boats that started first are now opposite us on the river proceeding back to starting point. We are entering parade route. Water very rought. Chop not waves. Chops from all angles. Small boats are staying closer to shore. Many larger boats including one tug with a tow full of people moving slowly up river. Pass reviewing stand. One boat founders when chop moves it from both sides. Occupants walk ashore. This is one way to see the Governor. Now pass the reviewing stand and boats disperse heading for various ramps and pull out points. Skipper heads for west end of bridge. Arrive there at 4:15 p.m. approx. 25 boats waiting at foot of 20 foot bank. One deisel operated crane on bank. Pull three boats signal us. Slingman swings down to box. Pull slings under boat. Crane swings us wide up over the other boats and lays us gently on the trailer. Looking down on the rest of the boats way down the water. Remove slings, pull over levee, tie down boat and head for Monroe at 5 p.m.

Distance covered approx. 275 miles.

Add to 10:30 a.m. Sun. Two small boats which were lost last night just arrived. They stopped at Acme as we all intended to do. They pulled their boats behind a barge and went to the store over the levee. We all believe that is where they were when we passed last night and therefore we did not see them and they did not see us. All safe and ready to finish trip. Note to water skiiers: John Lacy left Monroe on skis at 9:30 Saturday and skiied to Jonesville. Left Jonesville and skiied the rest of the way to Baton Rouge. When he wanted coffee, sandwiches or a cigarette, he swung wide behind his tow boat up along side of another craft and was handed the items that he wanted. This is not John's first long distance ski run having made the run from Cmden to Monroe two years ago. only incident was when he hit a trot line and broke his tow line and threw hime.

Solon Plans To Offer Bill On Tax Funds

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Rep. Eugene McGehee said Saturday he will offer legislation next week to do away with statutory dedication of state tax revenues that are not bonded.

The move by the East Baton Rouge Parish lawmaker would return some $165,000,000 to the general fund.

Under present policies, McGehee said, 93 per cent of all revenue is tied up by dedication to certain projects, programs or agencies. This leaves only 17 per cent for use in the general fund wherever it is needed.

McGehee said his proposal would not upset the current fiscal year's financial planning since it would not go into effect until the 1961-62 fiscal year starting July 1, 1961.

Of the 430 million collected in taxes during the past fiscal year, he said, 165 million was dedicated by statute, but not encumbered by bonded indebtedness.

He said this leaves some 191 million dedicated by constitutional authority and that sum cannot be changed except by vote of the people.

"In some departments where dedication results in excess revenues," he said, "there seems on occasions to be a concerted effort to spend all dedicated revenues."

Commander

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)— The commander of the U.S. Pacific Fleet, Adm. H. G. Hopwood, said Saturday about 100 Soviet submarines are operating in Pacific waters. The admiral, here for Coral Sea Week celebrations, said no contact had been made with the Soviet subs.

East and West Baton Rouge Sheriffs departments doing a superb job of controlling several hundred independent boat operators.

21:15 to 2:30. Threw out anchor visited with other skippers from Alexandria, Shreveport, Monroe, Farmerville etc. Bigger craft arriving now. One cruiser which is reminiscent of style of 1890's arrived. People aboard should be wearing top hats and tails.

Howard Griffins boat arrived with nine people aboard. Farmerville boat broke down. Griffin picked them up. Mayor Jack Howard and Senator Jamar Adcock on board.

2:30 Deputy picked out Monroe flotilla. Lead us single file up the river. Turned down river and proceeded to a point approx. ½ miles below bridge. Other group are jamming up there. our leader making easy for us by circling back up the river, staying out of the jam. Garland Shell making movies and stills from the Deputy's boat. Make final circle. Can see jam is clearing. Boats are lining out along West bank proceeding south. We turn to join end of parade. Parade now lined out approx. one mile down river. Boats that started first are now opposite us on the river proceeding back to starting point. We are entering parade route. Water very rought. Chop not waves. Chops from all angles. Small boats are staying closer to shore. Many larger boats including one tug with a tow full of people moving slowly up river. Pass reviewing stand. One boat founders when chop moves if from both sides. Occupants walk ashore. This is one way to see the Governor. Now pass the reviewing stand and boats disperse heading for various ramps and pull out points. Skipper heads for west end of bridge. Arrive there at 4:15 p.m. approx. 25 boats waiting at foot of 20 foot bank. One deisel operated crane on bank. Pull three boats signal us. Slingman swings down to box. Pull slings under boat. Crane swings us wide up over the other boats and lays us gently on the trailer. Looking down on the rest of the boats way down the water. Remove slings, pull over levee, tie down boat and head for Monroe at 5 p.m.

Distance covered approx. 275 miles.

Add to 10:30 a.m. Sun. Two small boats which were lost last night just arrived. They stopped at Acme as we all intended to do. They pulled their boats behind a barge and went to the store over the levee. We all believe that is where they were when we passed last night and therefore we did not see them and they did not see us. All safe and ready to finish trip. Note to water skiiers:

John Lacy left Monroe on skis at 9:30 Saturday and skiied to Jonesville. Left Jonesville and skiied the rest of the way to Baton Rouge. When he wanted coffee, sandwiches or a cigarette, he swung wide behind his tow boat up along side of another craft and was handed the items that he wanted. This is not John's first long distance ski run having made the run from Cmden to Monroe two years ago. only incident was when he hit a trot line and broke his tow line and threw hime.

Solon Plans To Offer Bill On Tax Funds

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Rep. Eugene McGehee said Saturday he will offer legislation next week to do away with statutory dedication of state tax revenues that are not bonded.

The move by the East Baton Rouge Parish lawmaker would return some $165,000,000 to the general fund.

Under present policies, McGehee said, 93 per cent of all revenue is tied up by dedication to certain projects, programs or agencies. This leaves only 17 per cent for use in the general fund wherever it is needed.

McGehee said his proposal would not upset the current fiscal year's financial planning since it would not go into effect until the 1961-62 fiscal year starting July 1, 1961.

Of the 430 million collected in taxes during the past fiscal year, he said, 165 million was dedicated by statute, but not encumbered by bonded indebtedness.

He said this leaves some 191 million dedicated by constitutional authority and that sum cannot be changed except by vote of the people.

"In some departments where dedication results in excess revenues," he said, "there seems on occasions to be a concerted effort to spend all dedicated revenues."

FOR SHRINE DANCE

Jan Garber Band To Perform Here

The Jan Garber Orchestra with its "smooth, flowing" style of music, will play for the Northeast Louisiana Shrine Club dance here Wednesday.

Proceeds from the dance will go for chairty, according to Leo M. Baer, member of the board of directors for the Club.

The dance, which will begin at 8 p.m. and last until midnight, will be held on the roof of the Frances Hotel. Tickets, at $6.60 per couple, are on sale now. "Tickets may be bought from any Shriner or from the managers of the J. C. Penny and Belk - Gallant stores downtown," Baer said.

In describing the club's good fortune in obtaining the services of the band, selected in a magazine poll as "the best dance band in America," Baer said that Garber is a big Shriner, and "knows we need the money."

Among those appearing with Garber will be his daughter, Janis, who recently was named "Number One Girl Band Singer in America," in a magazine poll.

Others on the program will be Marv Nielsen, described as a "sensational boy singer," the Garber Trio, Freddie Large and his saxophone, and the Piano Duo.

The smooth, flowing musical arrangements for the Garber organization are handled by Frank Battencourt and Frank McCauley.

Garber started as a band leader in North Carolina 44 years ago, when the Garber - Davis band was organized. In the years since he has headed his own group and consistently stayed on or near the top rung in popularity.

Garber, his wife and his daughter, Janis, call Shreveport home, but spend much of their time on the road filling engagements around the country.

Janis started singing with her father's band at the age of 19. She left the band about five years ago for a career in Hollywood, but later returned to the home fold.

National Science Foundation Cites Academy

The Louisiana Academy of Science was cited today by the National Science Foundation for its role in encouraging budding scientists in the state's high schools.

The Foundation also announced that the program will be continued for another year. It awarded a $27,750 grant for the program.

The Foundation said the Louisiana Academy's "Junior Academy of Science" was illustrative of the projects undertaken by similar groups in 36 states to stimulate scientific interest.

The Junior Academy, it said, was one "in which secondary school students did research projects and wrote papers describing their results for presentation at ten regional meetings. The best papers were presented and judged at a State meeting.

A total of 43 grants, amounting to $620,000, were awarded by the Foundation for the coming scholastic year.

Recital Planned At Northeast By Speech Class

A Northeast State College speech class in oral interpretation will present its annual recital at the college Monday night.

Each student in the class — Speech 120 — will give a reading of a serious or humorous work. The group will then give a choral presentation.

The recital is scheduled at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts recital hall.

George Brian, associate professor of speech, said the course is designed to aid students in reading prose and poetry with individuality.

Broadcast On Powers Is Released

LONDON (AP)—Radio Moscow broadcast Saturday extracts of what it called an interrogation of Francis G. Powers, American pilot of the U2 plane shot down May 1 over the Soviet Union.

The text as received in London by the British Broadcasting Corp:

Q. Is the accusation brought against you clear?

A. Yes it is.

Q. Do you plead guilty?

A. I plead guilty to the fact that I have flown over Soviet territory and over the points indicated on the chart, turned on and off the necessary controls of the special equipment mounted aboard my plane that I consider was being done with the aim of collecting intelligence information about the U.S.S.R.

Q. Tell us with more details what you plead guilty to.

A. In accordance with the contract which was signed by me with the CIA (Central Intelligence Agency) of the U.S.A., I am pilot of the special air detachment of the U.S.A., dealing with the collection of information about operational radio stations and radar on the territory of the U.S.S.R. and, as I suppose, about locations of rockets. Our air detachment is permanently located at the U.S. Turkish air base, Incirlik, near Adana City, Turkey. I have been serving in this detachment since August, 1956, and each year for several times flew in special high altitude plane U2 along the borders of the U.S.S.R. with Turkey, Iran and Afghanistan. Besides, in 1956-57 I performed three or four flights over the Black Sea without crossing the state borders of the U.S.S.R. It is difficult for me to recollect the numbers of such flights, but I flew repeatedly.

During these flights the special equipment mounted in my plane took bearings of the signals of Soviet radio stations and radar. In any case I was told so and given such assignments but I cannot say exactly whether the equipment of my plane took the bearings of the mentioned stations and installations, as I am not familiar with the equipment and I was never told about the results of my work. Before such flights we were instructed and told over which points during the flight we should turn on and off the controls of the corresponding equipment.

Q. At what altitude did you fly when your plane was shot down?

A. At the altitude of 68,000 feet.

Q. What reward were you supposed to receive for today's flight?

A. None. I receive a salary of about $2,400 per month for carrying those tasks which I have to fulfill. My today's task was to fly from Pakistan to Norway.

Q. Where do you serve?

A. From 1956 I served in the U.S. Air Force but at present I work at an American office.

Q. What is the name of the office.

A. This is a combination of civil aviation and Air Force service. All this is disguised and coeded under the name of "Unit 10-10."

Q. What are the taks of this unit?

A. The main task of this unit is to locate the radio stations in action and the rocket launching sites.

Q. What is Col. (Shelton)?

A. He is commander of this unit.

Q. What sort of a unit is it?

A. It deals with the collection of military information.

Father Gives Self Up After Bomb Scare

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—A 35-year-old father of four who touched off a citywide bomb scare with a 35-cent lunchbox surrendered to police Saturday.

Robert Q. Dutton, who had threatened to kill his estranged wife, her mother and a man, said the lunch box never contained a bomb. He was carrying an unloaded .22 revolver when arrested.

Dutton said an attorney, Bill Rogers, talked him into giving himself up. Police had sought Dutton since Friday night when he threatened to blow up the Tulsa Bus Terminal following a wild ride with a television newsman and two police detectives.

Norman Duncan of KOTV, one of the captives, said Dutton wanted to get his children, aged four to eight years, away from his wife, Billie.

Dutton told detectives after he surrendered he tried to talk his wife into a reconciliation Thursday night after visiting his daughter who was ill with pneumonia in a Tulsa hospital. He said he hoped they could move back to Albuquerque, N.M.

Police said the FBI had issued a warrant against Dutton at Albuquerque for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Dutton, a sheet metal worker, said he had done demolition work in the Army.

"The bomb thing came to me out of the clear blue sky," he told police. "It was a matter of survival.

"I'd have been a fool to have taken my life and all those others I had no feelings for at that time."

Elect Honor Society Head At Northeast

A Bastrop student has been elected as next year's president of the Honor Society at Northeast Louisiana State College.

The student is Linda Pickett, a junior in education. Last week she was tapped into the Server Board, which honors outstanding students for leadership, scholarship and service. She was also named winner of the Eloise Ethridge Slater Award to the member of the Honor Society who has contributed most to that organization. Both awards were presented at the annual Honors Day assembly.

Other officers elected by the Honor Society were Mrs. Coraine White, West Monroe, vice president; Camile Camp, West Monroe, secretary; Martha Parish, Sterlington, treasurer; and Leon Johnson of Monroe, historian.

Mrs. White had also won double awards at the Honors Day assembly. She won awards as the outstanding pledge and the pledge with the highest scholastic average in Phi Mu social sorority.

The Honor Society is designed to promote scholarship, fellowship and character among its members. Students need a 2.25 scholastic average to become members.

East German Reds Pushing Their Claim

BERLIN (AP)—On the eve of the summit conference, the East German Communists went all out Saturday to publicize their claim that West Berlin is a trouble spot and the Western Allies may have to deal with them about it instead of Moscow.

ANNOUNCED

[illegible] West Berlin. A U.S. spokesman promptly charged that the Communists themselves were responsible for the mounting number of incidents in recent weeks.

Reporters then were asked to a news conference at the office of Premier Otto Grotewohl. When they got there they found Deputy Foreign Minister Otto Winzer with a 208-page "white book" denouncing the West German government in the same old terms.

Winzer declared the Allies may have to negotiate with the East Germans on access to West Berlin if the summit conference fails to reach an agreement on Berlin, and the Soviet Union may sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. The West does not recognize the Communist regime here. West Berlin lies 11 miles inside East Germany.

Despite his threats, Winzer also voiced a conciliatory line similar to that outlined earlier last week by Grotewohl.

'MRS. ALEXANDRIA'

'Mrs. Louisiana' Named Saturday

The "Mrs. Louisiana" title was captured yesterday by the reigning "Mrs. Alexandria," Mrs. Albert Flynn.

She was crowned "Mrs. Louisiana" by Mack Baber, owner of George Baber, Inc., in ceremonies at the Twin Cities Shopping Center.

The blue-eyed brunette won her title over four other state finalists. They were Mrs. Frank A. Birdsong, New Orleans; Mrs. [illegible] Zeno Jr., Baton Rouge; Mrs. H. D. Allison, Sulphur; and Mrs. James Livingston, Monroe.

Mrs. Flynn, who is the mother of five children, will represent Louisiana at the "Mrs. America" contest in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. June 2-11.

The Alexandria brunette was judged on cooking, baking, hair styling, personality and homemaking ability. Each contestant had to cook an entire meal during the contest, and bake a cake. The homemaking ability phase was judged from a series of quizzes each contestant was required to take.

Mrs. Flynn's husband is in the steel fabrication business. She is serving as secretary of the Cerebral Palsy Association in Alexandria, and has also held the post of vice president. She is also a Board member of the Rehabilitation Center in Alexandria.

Along with the title, Mrs. Flynn won numerous prizes given by the national sponsors of the contest. Some of the gifts were an all-expense paid trip to the national contest for both her and her husband, a gas refrigerator, a year's supply of beauty products, enough floor tile to cover 225 square feet of floor, a set of bathroom accessories, and a water softener.

Judges for the annual event were from El Dorado, Ark. The Louisiana contest was sponsored by KTVE television in Monroe and El Dorado, Ark.

10,000 Turks Renew Discord Against Leader

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI)—More than 10,000 Turks screaming "Damn dictators" Saturday renewed street demonstrations against Premier Adnan Menderes. Troops called out under martial law dispersed them with tear gas.

It took a force of 1,000 police and troops 45 minutes to quell the disturbance.

Observers reported a number of casualties caused by the gas fumes. There were some arrests. Police and troops tried first to scatter the milling demonstrators, mostly students, by loudspeaker appeals for order from [illegible] loudspeakers.

The authorities tried to split the crowd into two groups. When this failed, soldiers fired tear gas.

People leaning from windows of apartment houses cheered on the demonstrators.

The demonstrators sang hymns of anti-government groups and chanted "Damn dictators...We want freedom!"

There also were shouts of "Long live the Turkish Army!" But the soldiers obeyed orders to use the tear gas on the mob.

[illegible] the slogan "We want freedom" filled the air over the downtown [illegible] area in downtown Ankara.

The outbreak began when an estimated 2,500 students assembled between [illegible] and Kizilay squares for an anti-government march.

Reds Report Launching Of Space Ship

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union yesterday launched a space ship into orbit around the earth with a "dummy spaceman" aboard, Tass reported.

The dramatic announcement, obviously timed for the eve of the summit conference opening in Paris on Monday, said:

"The launching was undertaken to perfect and check the space ship's system, ensuring its safe flight and controls, its return to the earth and the necessary conditions for the space crew."

The dummy was reported [illegible] in a pressurized cabin which contains "all the necessary equipment for a future manned flight and, moreover, various instrumentation."

SHIP

The "space ship" weighed more than 4 tons. It was put into a precalculated orbit 200 miles above the earth.

Tass said the space ship would be controlled from the earth but no attempt will be made to bring the "dummy spaceman" back to earth.

"When the necessary information is received from the satellite, a pressurized cabinet weighing some 2½ tons will be separated from it," the announcement said.

"In this case it is not planned to retrieve the pressurized cabinet."

After checking for reliability the space ship and cabin will "begin descending on command from the earth, and burn up in the denser layers of the atmosphere," Tass said.

The Soviets' last major space feat was Oct. 4, 1959, when they launched a cosmic rocket carrying into space an "automatic interplanetary station" with scientific and radio equipment.

The station was powered by solar batteries and chemical sources of electricity.

The October shot was made on the second anniversary of the launching of Sputnik I which stunned the world in 1957.

When Walt Whitman got a job as reporter on The New Orleans Daily Crescent, he took the 13-day trip from Brooklyn to New Orleans via stage coach.

Is The Catholic Church A MENACE TO DEMOCRACY?

Every now and then a false rumor about the Catholic Church gets into circulation and—for a time—fools a lot of people.

Usually such rumors die out when fair-minded people learn the truth. But some of them pop up again like "ghosts" out of the distant past, to deceive people who have not heard them before.

The one most prevalent today is that American freedom is in danger from "the anti-democratic program of the Roman hierarchy." This, to some people, will sound new and alarming. Actually, there is nothing new about it.

Catholics of a century ago heard the same "alarm". . . that the Church was hostile to our form of government—that she was anti-republican in spirit and influence—that she would disregard our free institutions and deprive us of self-government.

Even those who do not understand the teaching and practices of the Catholic Church will have to admit the falsity of this rumor... for the evidence of a hundred years contradicts it in every particular. The Catholic people always have stood shoulder-to-shoulder with their non-Catholic fellow-citizens in building and defending our liberty and free institutions.

The rumor of today...like the rumor of a hundred years ago... does not claim that the Catholic Church is harmful to men's souls. It does not claim that the Church endangers the salvation of mankind. Its entire objection is that the Church is hostile to our political and social institutions.

In this there is a remarkable resemblance to the "alarm" sounded against Jesus Christ Himself.

"If we let this man go," said the Savior's critics, "the Romans will come and take away our name and our nation."

Some think that Catholics should get their blood pressure up and reply angrily to these rumors. This is not necessary. We know that the American people of all faiths... with their traditional sense of justice...will boot this ugly ghost back into its closet without our help.

But if you would like to know the Catholic attitude toward democratic freedom, our form of self-government, and the rights of the State and the individual, write today for free pamphlet on the subject. It will come to you in a plain wrapper—and nobody will call on you. Just ask for Pamphlet KC-21.

Elect Honor Society Head At Northeast

The student is Linda Pickett, a junior in education. Last week she was tapped into the Senior Board, which honors outstanding students for leadership, scholarship and service. She was also named winner of the Eloise Ethridge Slater Award to the member of the Honor Society who has contributed most to that organization. Both awards were presented at the annual Honors Day assembly.

Other officers elected by the Honor Society were Mrs. Coralie White, West Monroe, vice president; Camile Camp, West Monroe, secretary; Martha Parish, Sterlington, treasurer; and Leon Johnson of Monroe, historian.

Mrs. White had also won double awards at the Honors Day assembly. She won awards as the outstanding pledge and the pledge with the highest scholastic average in Phi Mu social sorority.

The Honor Society is designed to promote scholarship, fellowship and character among its members. Students need a 2.25 scholastic average to become members.

East German Reds Pushing Their Claim

BERLIN (AP)—On the eve of the summit conference, the East German Communists went all out Saturday to publicize their claim that West Berlin is a trouble spot and the Western Allies may have to deal with them about it instead of Moscow.

This left Westerners here unimpressed. The East German Communist regime would like to be treated on an equal footing with the West German Federal Republic. So far the Reds have achieved this only in Moscow and at the Geneva Conference.

ANNOUNCED

They announced Saturday that they had fired off protest notes to the Western Allies about "provocations" on the elevated railway in West Berlin. A U.S. spokesman promptly charged that the Communists themselves were responsible for the mounting number of incidents in recent weeks.

Reporters then were asked to a news conference at the office of Premier Otto Grotewohl. When they got there they found Deputy Foreign Minister Otto Winzer with a 203-page "white book" denouncing the West German government in the same old terms.

Winzer declared the Allies may have to negotiate with the East Germans on access to West Berlin, if the summit conference fails to reach an agreement on Berlin, and the Soviet Union may sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. The West does not recognize the Communist regime here. West Berlin lies 11 miles inside East Germany.

Despite his threats, Winzer also voiced a conciliatory line similar to that outlined earlier last week by Grotewohl.

Zion National Park in southwestern Utah covers 94,201 acres.

'MRS. ALEXANDRIA'

'Mrs. Louisiana' Named Saturday

The "Mrs. Louisiana" title was captured yesterday by the reigning "Mrs. Alexandria," Mrs. Albert Flynn.

She was crowned "Mrs. Louisiana" by Mack Baber, owner of George Baber, Inc., in ceremonies at the Twin Cities Shopping Center.

The blue-eyed brunette won her title over four other state finalists. They were Mrs. Frank A. Birdsong, New Orleans; Mrs. Earl Zeno Jr., Baton Rouge; Mrs. H. D. Allison, Sulphur; and Mrs. James Livingston, Monroe.

Mrs. Flynn, who is the mother of five children, will represent Louisiana at the "Mrs. America" contest in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. June 2-14.

The Alexandria brunette was judged on cooking, baking, hair styling, personality and homemaking ability. Each contestant had to cook an entire meal during the contest, and bake a cake. The homemaking ability phase was judged from a series of quizzes each contestant was required to take.

Mrs. Flynn's husband is in the steel fabrication business. She is serving as secretary of the Cerebral Palsy Association in Alexandria, and has also held the post of vice president. She is also a Board member of the Rehabilitation Center in Alexandria.

Along with the title, Mrs. Flynn won numerous prizes given by the national sponsors of the contest. Food Clinic Is Scheduled In Alexandria

The Louisiana Dietetic Association is co-sponsoring a Food Service Supervisor's Institute in Alexandria May 25 and 26.

Slated to be held at the Veteran's Administration hospital, the association is giving it in cooperation with the Louisiana Hospital Association.

This is the fourth institute to be conducted in Louisiana for food service supervisors. Similar courses were held in Shreveport, Monroe and Lafayette in the last three years. The first institute received national recognition as a pioneer in adult education in the dietary field.

The two-day program will include sanitation, personnel selection, purchasing, menu planning, diet therapy, supervisory techniques and disaster planning. Certificates will be presented to all persons who complete the course. All instructors are registered members of the American Dietetic Association.

Registrants for the institute are expected from Baton Rouge, Alexandria, New Orleans, Shreveport, Natchitoches, Monroe, Greenwell Springs, Pineville and other cities.

Attendance is open to food service supervisors who are employed by hospitals, nursing homes, schools, restaurants or other places. Interested persons may attend by advance registration. To register, contact Mrs. Lois M. Jackson at the Confederate Memorial Medical Center, Shreveport.

Sniper Bullet Hits Teacher In Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A sniper's bullet grazed the eyebrow of a school teacher at a PTA carnival Friday night, another of the mysterious shootings occurring here with increasing frequency since April 24.

Thomas Hall, a high school teacher, said the bullet crashed through a basement window as he was attending the carnival at the elemantary school in East Nashville.

"No one knew much what happened," Hall said. He did not require medical attention.

It was the 15th incident of reported sniping in less than three weeks. Most of the other shootings have been in a South Nashville area, with the targets railroad trains, taxicabs and trucks.

Ouachita Goes Ahead With Education

By MARY ANNE CORPIN
Staff Writer

Ouachita Parish is doing something to keep the United States several steps ahead of the Soviet Union, or any other power which might threaten the free world.

It's as simple as laying a foundation for a building — and just as important.

The parish school system has eight classes for 209 gifted children, nine for 94 retarded youngsters.

"Why bother with classes for highly intelligent students. They can learn in ordinary classes," ask some.

The answer is "Why discriminate against the gifted, by holding them back to the level of the slowest learners"

EXPLAINS

W. W. Ward, parish superintendent of schools, explains, "In our program, Ouachita is trying to take care of all the children— the gifted, and mentally retarded, as well as the average child."

"We're not trying to isolate the gifted children," he points out. "They do what the other students do, plus additional activities."

"They participate in band, physical education athletics, choral and any elective courses. If they can do additional work, they ought to have the opportunity to do it," he notes.

Mrs. Ann Hayes, who teaches a class for the retarded at Crosley school in West Monroe, has this to say about her students:

"They didn't fit into other classes ... they were so far behind. Here, they are in a group of children of near - equal ability. Each one can have some success, and enjoy it."

These children recognize their limitations. They know about their limits before anyone else does. They've had so much failure in other classes," she sympathizes.

How do special classes for these "educable" students have any effect on the nation's progress?

PROPER HELP

"They learn slowly, but they do learn if given proper help. It's just a longer process in their learning," says Mrs. Hayes.

Once these pupils have a good foundation in the 3-R's and have learned to utilize their special skills, they can hold down many types of work, and do top - notch jobs.

Mrs. W. D. Clark, supervisor of guidance and special education for the parish, reveals the standards for selecting children to enter fifth grade gifted classes.

Students must have a high score on two intelligence tests, pass their subjects at grade level or better on standardized achievement tests, and be recoginzed by teachers and principals as "eager to learn."

Attitude is as important as ability.

High IQ is no magic wand. Students must have initiative, the desire to learn.

And parents must approve placing their children in the class for one full year.

"So far as any fuss being made over them, we don't do it," says Mrs. Clark.

In school, the class is not referred to as "gifted." Students participate in all school activities. But the important thing is that the classroom instruction is different, far - reaching.

RESEARCH

More research, long range assignments, field trips, frequent use of the library, guest speakers with personal knowledge of items the students study — that's part of the program.

Reading ability is stressed.

Teachers make a great effort to develop the students' reading speed and ability, to build up their vocabularies.

If students learn to read fast and well, they have the tool to make their work in high school and college much easier.

Fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade gifted classes are located in Ouachita Parish Junior High. Crosley has fifth and sixth gifted grades, West Monroe Junior High houses the seventh and eighth grades.

The same schools have classes for the retarded.

Gifted children study the same subjects as they would in other classes — but they are allowed to work at their own speed. They take conversational Spanish for three years, 30 minutes a day, and text book Spanish for one year.

By eighth grade, they usually are studying ninth grade English, Algebra, Spanish and basic science courses.

Gifted programs are moving ahead into the high schools. Once there, the students probably will be taking 10th year subjects in the ninth grade, and graduate with more than 20 units. (Seventeen units is normal.)

ENJOYED IT

Don Hilburn, Crosley school: "I have had to work a bit harder, but I can honestly say I enjoyed it ... I would like to continue in the Advanced Classes. The only way you can get me out is force me out."

Candace Lloyd, sixth grader: "Mrs. Hilton understands better than any teacher I have ever had. She knows when or when not to take me ahead. She knows how much work I am able to retain. These things help me understand more of what I am doing in my work."

Wesley Zeagler: "In this program, everyone is kept busy. Usually you don't have time to play around and get bored. I think that if anyone gets bored in this class, he is a genius."

Linda Wineges: "I like this class because it was like a game, and everybody knows that most games are a lot of fun. It was a game of challenge. I will stay in the program.

Margaret Seab: "I have enjoyed the special class tremendously this year. It is lots of fun to go at your own rate of speed. I also enjoy the many field - trips we make. We haven't had too much homework or not enough."

Gifted classes provided a greater challenge in course materials, and emphasize independent, creative work. They help children become proud of scholarship.

"Last year," recalls Mrs. Clark, "one child wanted to get out of the course. Her mother said 'Stay in.' The youngster 'found herself' this year, and is doing very well in the class. Good home motivation was the vital part here."

Then there is the intelligent youngster, whose parents think little of the class. She doesn't care about remaining in it, and will go back to her own school where she stands out from other students.

TEMPERAMENT

A youngster's temperament is an important factor. Teachers can't measure temperament, desire to learn, or home atmosphere. These things all contribute to success.

The gifted class provides competition for the students. It doesn't give them a superiority complex. Far from it. They're placed in with youngsters of equal or greater ability, and often marks drop at first, as they adjust. But none of them drop in achievement.

Standardized tests and conferences with satisfied parents show that the program is "bearing fruit" — and students are racing ahead in the classes.

"We aren't waiting to start the program on the high school level. Study habits already are formed by the time a student reaches high school. It's very important to identify these children early, and start counseling with them," school system officials believe.

Ninety - four youngsters in the retarded classes are learning subjects which will help them be self - sustaining later in life.

The 3-R's, human relationships, manners, basic science are vital subjects.

The students are capable and talented in many fields. One football star is in these classes. Many of the youngsters are artistic.

Teachers for retarded classes have taken special courses, attended workshops, put a lot of extra time in learning how they may help the children in the best possible way.

Mrs. Hayes points out that the youngsters are highly skilled in handwork and art.

"We have one boy who is wonderful with animals. He will be excellent if he works with a veterinanrian," she reveals.

Others have 'green thumbs' — their success with growing plants will equip them for work in greenhouses and plant nurseries.

Girls are learning to be helpers in restaurants, or beauty shops. Many students have a definite flair for painting.

"Repetition, recreation and routine is the basis for our success," says one teacher.

Being "one of the group" has a lot to do with it, too. The students don't fell "different."

"People used to knock them back into a corner. They try so hard to learn. They are learning," officials conclude.

AT LONG BEACH

World's First Space Age Hospital Built

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Sophisticated gear associated with weapons of destruction has been adapted to conserve lives in the construction of the world's first space age hospital.

The $10,900,000 Memorial Hospital to be opened here June 12 will use in its daily operations equipment ranging from transistors to rocket fuel.

Services of the regular staff will be augmented by a small army of unflagging automations performing such duties as monitoring heart beats, recalling messages and even guarding against pilferage.

"Every conceivable time - saving feature which would improve care while lowering costs has been provided in this 400-bed hospital," said Dr. Arthur C. Buell, chief of staff. "Much equipment is closely related to the devices used in today's guided missile systems."

An electronic memory machine, similar to those used in satellites for storing radio signals in outer space, will relate to doctors' messages which arrive during their absence. When a doctor enters the hospital the robot will make its report on a special code signal cue.

Key nurses will carry transistor radio receivers so nursing personnel may be contacted in an instant.

A patient will be able to call a nurse by means of an inter-communication system linking each bed to the central nursing station on every floor. The system will be activated by a bedrail control panel that also will enable the patient to select broadcasts or tune television in a reclining position.

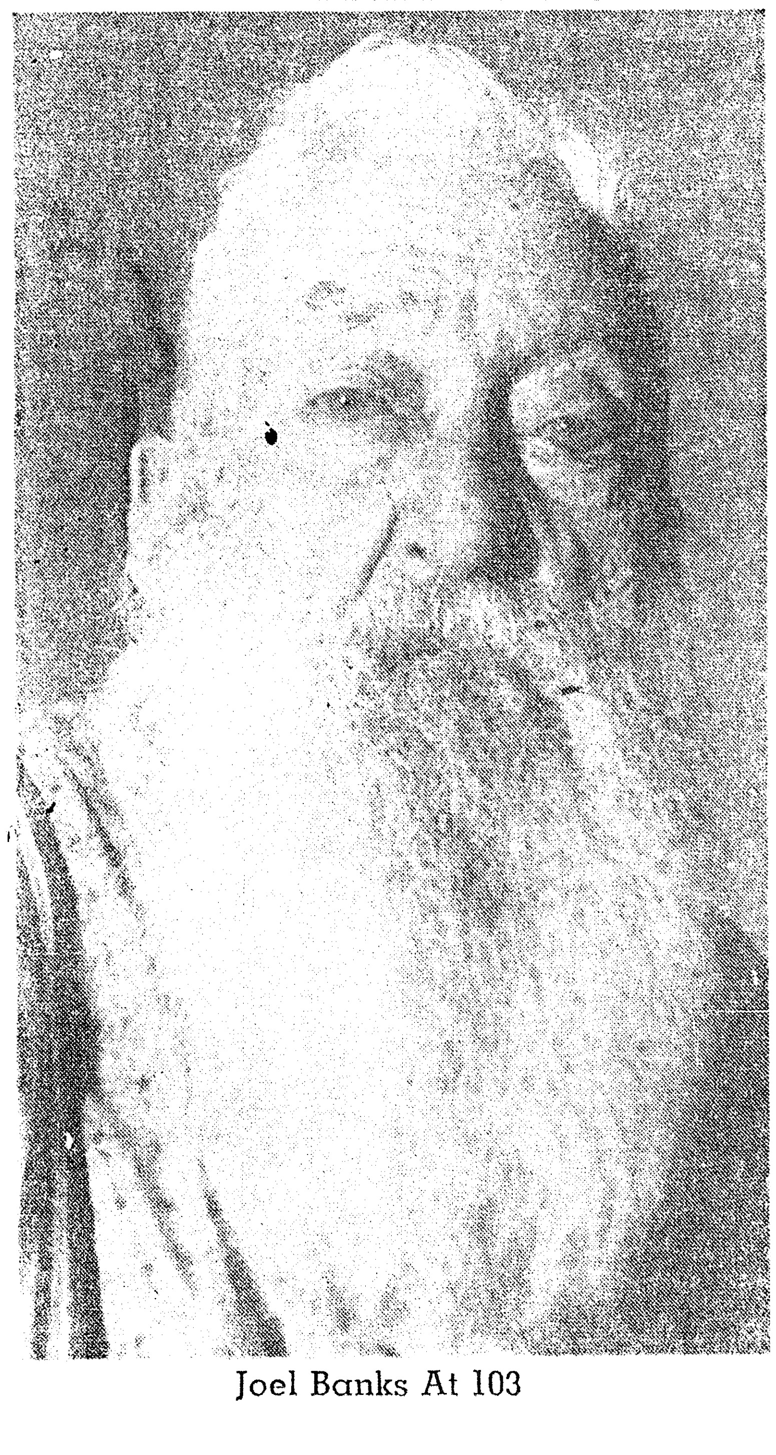
With the flick of a switch, a patient will be able to adjust his all - electric bed to any desired position.

The bulk of the hospital's records will be handled by electronic computers. Mechanical brains will keep track of such items as supplies, equipment [illegible] outgoing patient telephone ca[illegible].

An electronically controlled pneumatic tube system will speed messages and packages through the hospital. Closed circuit television at the entrances and exits will guard against pilferage.

Sensitive equipment will be protected from radioactive isotops used for cancer treatment by the same type of alloys that shield rocket instruments from cosmic rays.

'Uncle Joe' Recalls The Past



Joel Banks At 103

By JIMMIE KENTON
Special Correspondent

MANGHAM — "Anyone living during the Reconstruction Days can remember that, because it was the toughest time in the history of the United States. The North had everything in their hands and the South had no show at all," reminisced Joel Banks of Route One, Mangham, on his 103rd birthday recently.

"Uncle Joe" as his friends and neighbors call him, has been living on the same place in Richland parish since 1890. He was born in Alabama, May 3, 1857.

FARMED

"I raised cotton and corn most of my life," he said. "Now my children raise cotton on the same land."

His wife died 60 years ago. When one of his sons, J. J., married, he brought his bride home to live. The family is still living together. Mrs. Banks is soft - spoken, grey haired. Her manner toward her father - in-law shows a lot of affection.

For the past three years he has been confined to the house, with only occasional trips to town. Prior to that time he went to town for haircuts and to chat with friends. The barber now serves him in his home.

Banks gets about the house with the aid of a sort of walker, much the same as those used by babies.

For breakfast he eats two scrambled eggs, a link of sausage; a hot biscuit, coffee and a bowl of cereal. His lunch and supper are light meals, composed chiefly of fruit, juice and ice cream.

Open house is always held by Mrs. Banks on the Sunday preceding his birthday. Cake and coffee are served to the family members and friends who call. He has two brothers, William J. Banks, who is 81 years old; J. S. Banks, who is 88 years of age, and a sister, Mrs. Betty Gandy, 84. They reside near their brother in ward five.

CHILDREN

Banks has three sons and one daughter who live nearby. His daughter is Mrs. Mary Banks Barnett; his sons are C. H., Jesse, and J. J., with whom he lives.

Almost blind and partially deaf, Uncle Joe kept up a steady stream of conversation with callers on his recent birthday. A great grandson, Joe Banks, 10, questioned him about Jessie James.

"No, son," he said, "I never was acquainted with him personally."

However, he recalled many interesting events of the past.

"Yes, I remember the Civil War. I remember what happened way back better than I remember what happened yesterday. I remember when Papa went off to the Army. He was one of the lucky ones; he didn't get killed."

He recalled the hardshops of Reconstruction Days. "We were not even allowed to vote for awhile," he said. "Finally the Ku Klux Klan got together and the carpet baggers had the devil to pay."

"Our president Lincoln would have done pretty good if he hadn't been killed. He wanted to build a strong union."

BEARD

His long white beard has been trimmed a bit, but he still looks somewhat like a bearded prophet direct from the Old Testament.

"I'm nothing but an old farm boy," he said. "I've worked in the field all of my life, except for the seven years I ran a saloon in Mangham. I had electric lights in the saloon, and when I got home I couldn't see by coal oil lamps. Then electricity came through I was one of the first ones to get it."

His blue eyes twinkled as he recalled the time he cut an artery in his leg, and thought it was just a vein.

"I lackt to bled to death," he said, "before I called anybody to help out."

Uncle Joe is a long time member of the New Light Baptist Church. His pastor was leaving as we arrived for his recent birthday observance. We were served coffee and cake, and left the grand old man with his great grandson, Joe, telling him about his baseball team, and great granddaughter, Dot Banks, trying to get in a word edgewise.

"These are new highways expected to be constructed within the next 13 years. None of the other highways in the state will be affected in any way at all. There is no idea of putting outdoor advertising companies out of business, nor of stopping the use of outdoor signs by advertisers.

"The bill applies only to these 690 new miles, excluding those segments in commercial and industrial zones within incorporated municipalities. The regulation specified is that no advertising sign be erected within 660 feet of the edge of the right of way.

"These are limited access roads, with no business access except at points of interchange. This means that all roadside business will be prohibited. It will be impossible to enter any places of business, such as motels, service stations, restaurants and shops, directly from these interstate roads. To get to such facilities it will be necessary to turn off these roads at the points of interchange.

"These are to be high-speed roads. Advertising signs are meant to attract attention. Safety [illegible] the road you are looking for trouble. How many feet do you travel with your eyes off the road while reading a sign? Remember—at 60 miles an hour it takes 272 feet in which to stop your car.

"According to the federal highway act of 1958, any state passing (before 1961) legislation regulating advertising according to standards set by the secretary of commerce is promised a bonus of one-half of one per cent, which in the case of Louisiana would amount to half a million dollars annually in extra federal highway funds. This is an extra reason for passing the law now.

"Similar legislation has been passed by Wisconsin, Connecticut, North Dakota, Maryland and, most recently, by Virginia. Bills are also pending in other states.

"If you, the taxpayers of Louisiana, want to protect your investment in these new roads; if you want to attract tourists to our state (visitors are interested in the natural landscape and not in more and more signs) if you want one Louisiana highway system as safe and as beautiful as it is possible to make it—let your legislators know you want this bill passed.

"Now is the time to get the law 'there ought to be' passed!"

Unquestionably, now is the time to act on the question of determining what shall be done in the matter of eliminating roadside advertising. Also, there is no doubt that the people should let their wishes be known. The bonus offered by the federal government is surely a good inducement for prompt action.

There are always two sides to any question, but in this case the preponderance may well be so strong on the affirmative side that there will be no doubt in the minds of a large majority of the people.

[illegible] property. This applies to the rights of the owners of the property on which the signs would be placed, since signs on the right-of-way are already prohibited, and to those who would rent such property for the use of signs. In the commentary, it was pointed out that no businesses will have direct access to the interstate roads in the new system. This is true, but, so far as is known, any kind of business or industrial plant could be erected on property adjoining the right-of-way, so long as it made no attempt to egress or ingress to and from the super highway. The same right would be enjoyed in the matter of erecting signs unless it could be shown that doing so would be against the public interest.

In recent years, safety experts have advanced the theory that drivers with roving eyes, who look far ahead, are safer than those who keep their eyes glued to the highway, for the reason that they are less likely to suffer from road drowsiness.

These thoughts are injected for the purpose of giving a well-rounded picture, since every factor should be taken into consideration. Each person may do his own thinking.

Organizations supporting the new law have given it a great deal of serious thought. Great weight should be given to their views. In addition, there is the support of the federal government and the federal highway department.

Prohibiting signs near the highways may make for greater safety and assuredly it goes a long way toward preserving the natural beauty of the countryside. Precedent for such prohibition, which would seem further to confirm its legality, is found in the fact that some other states have already adopted such legislation.

We agree with the Louisiana Committee for Interstate Highway Regulation in saying:

"If you want the advantages the proposed new law will bring, let your legislators know you want the bill passed."

Population Growths

The cities of Monroe and West Monroe and the parish of Ouachita showing gratifying growths during the 10-year period from 1950 to 1960. Generally the feeling was that the census showed the population increases fully up to expectations, although there is always a tendency in every city to puff the population between censuses.

Monroe enjoyed the distinction of increasing its population by more than two and one-half times the West Monoe increase but West Monroe showed the biggest percentage gain. Monroe's percentage increase was almost 34 per cent, while that of West Monroe was nearly 47 per cent. Both of these were extremely good and it is difficult to determine which was better, considering total gains. It can be argued that, on the basis of percentage figures, West Monroe eventually would overtake Monroe but it would take a long time.

Residents of Monroe increased from 38,572 in 1950 to 51,782 in 1960, an increase of 13,210. West Monroe increased from 10,302 to 15,108, a gain of 4,806. Ouachita parish showed a population of more than 101,000.

The Twin Cities can still engage in friendly arguments over how much bigger they would have been if more new subdivisions just outside the city limits had been included.

Summit Conference Dims

Khrushchev Apparently Wants To Call Off This Meeting Or President Eisenhower's Visit

It is beginning to appear that Nikita Khrushchev wants to call off the summit conference or President Eisenhower's visit to Soviet Russia or both. The summit conference can now amount to nothing. Too much is occurring before the conference to make it more than a meeting of an estranged husband and wife in a lawyer's office. The bloom has withered.

The visit of President Eisenhower to Russia in June is something else. There can be no question but that President Eisenhower ordinarily would bring cheer and good-will to the Russian people. He has been blessed with a charming personality which quickly wins friends. Khrushchev is doing everything conceivable to break down the will of the Russian people to receive Eisenhower with enthusiasm. He may be afraid of the political consequences of such a reception. He may no longer see his purposes to serve a Summit. Khrushchev is now engaged in a vast enterprise to [illegible] Americanism in Latin America, the center of which is presently Cuba. He may not want this enterprise interrupted even by the externals of friendship.

Khrushchev has a particular hatred for Vice President Nixon who bowled him over in a free debate in public in Moscow. Khrushchev can give pretty insulting talk but he cannot take any backtalk. This was early learned by Malenkov, Molotov and Kaganovich. He chose the opening of the American Fair to give Nixon a bad time. With the skill of a trained debater Nixon turned the tables and to use an old phrase, made a monkey out of Khrushchev. For this reason, Khrushchev hates Nixon and has made his hatred plain for all to see.

But there have been no other indications that he also disliked Eisenhower or feared him. In fact, the spirit of Camp David was a Khrushchev slogan for a while. Khrushchev's present conduct is making it increasingly difficult for President Eisenhower to go to Russia and the efforts are so persistent and so irritating that they are becoming unmistakable and sharply antagonistic.

Khrushchev's game apparently is to get Eisenhower to decline to go. Then the Russian will enter upon a worldwide denunciation of Eisenhower and the United States. If President Eisenhower sits tight, moves according to schedule, Khrushchev may find himself in the embarrassing position of being forced to tell Eisenhower that he does not want him to come. Such a communication, after the reception that Khrushchev received in this country, would be an intolerable insult. It might result in breaking off relations. It would if there were any pride left in the State Department.

This much is clear: The honeymoon engineered by Cyrus Eaton, Robert Dowling, Eric Johnston and other businessmen is over. The United States has consistently appeased Khrushchev, not to gain time, but with the patriotic objective of avoiding war. It is not possible to cringe more or to crawl more or to take many more insults. The rejection of Eisenhower's visit could be the last straw.

What is not clear is what circumstances inside Soviet Russia are forcing Khrushchev to reorganize the political forces in his country. He has taken one of his ablest men out of the government and elevated him to the direction of the Communist party. This elevation of Frol Kozlov would indicate that there is more trouble in Russia than we know. If the party is strong, under the Soviet system, the government will take care of itself. Stalin trusted no one with power in the party. Khrushchev apparently finds that the load is too heavy to carry and has to have assistance of younger men whose blood pressure is not too high.

But what is the load that has become too heavy? Is it internal? Has a generation which never knew the Revolution been asking too many questions? No one who is under 43 years of age knew the Revolution. A man of 50 was seven years old when the Revolution occurred. Few men of the Revolution are alive. Finally old Voroshilov, the last of the heroes, has retired from the government. The new masters may be more efficient than the old ones but they do not have the aura of heroism; they have not been in exile or in Siberia. They are parvenus.

Is this the trouble that has given Khrushchev the jitters about Eisenhower's visit?

Johnson Ranch

Man At Home Far Different From Familiar Descriptions

L. B. J. RANCH, JOHNSON CITY, Texas — If you come here to visit the legend called Lyndon Baines Johnson, it's likely you will discover something else — the man. It was this way long ago in another Southwest setting, behind what a biographer called "the slivering logs of the Hermitage", which was the plantation home of Andrew Jackson. His callers, we are told, would come to meet the fierce duelist and hard-riding Border Captain, but then went away remembering the loving husband, the practical husbandman and friendly neighbor.

Lyndon Johnson's public character after 12 years each in the House and Senate is clear enough. It is the private image which is blurred. This is blamable, I think, not on malice — but on the "mangrove" which is formaldehyde for the clipping files. When Johnson was emerging from obscurity to fame, he attracted all the cliches concerning Texas — tall, drawlin', oil-rich, lavish-living, cowboy boots and $300 suits purchased ten at a time. All this lazy and erroneous reporting was fixed in print, clipped and filed, for dreary repetition by election-year biographers and chair-borne gazetteers.

But there are reasons why Johnson will be drawn more often from the living model, against native colors, as time goes on. One such reason was illustrated last weekend when, flying through Allegheny fog and rain, Johnson exercised both his good nature and his taste for can-do decision-making. He invited the planeload of reporters to spend Sunday in the 80-degree sunshine of his ranch. We were met at 3:30 a.m. at the caliche-surfaced landing strip by the Senator's lovely lady, our accomplished hostess, and were soon bedded down in the beautifully simple homestead. It is built around the small stone house which the Senator's grandfather built in 1850 on land that was deeded by President Sam Houston of the Lone Star Republic.

The Hermitage, I think, could not have been very different from the L.B.J., which is a fertile ranchland of less than 300 acres, managed with brilliant success by Lyndon and Lady Bird Johnson. The Senator's birthplace, which is a clapboard cabin, and the family burial ground beneath its brooding live oaks, represent permanence and tradition, while the kidney-shaped swimming pool and aircraft-at-the-door be-peck Johnson's well-documented disinclinaiton to live in the past.

From the Senator's front yard you see the seemingly un-Texan spire of a Lutheran Church. His neighbors in the valley of the little river called the Pedernales ("shiny rocks") are named Petsch, Dietel, Kowert and Schwarz — a German minority which sentimentally sided with Negro emancipation in the 1860's. Johnson owns a nearby ranch of nearly 200 acres, which is mostly brown granite and bunchgrass, called Scharnhorst — like the German battle-cruiser. He tried to change the name to something more picturesque, but his neighbors didn't cooperate, so he accepted the veto. Brown grantite, like caliche, makes good building material, but it is regarded by geologists as the sign of no oil under ground. Blanco and Gillespie Counties, where the ranches lie, are the only two of Texas's 254 counties that scientifically have no chance of ever sporting an oil derrick.

Sunshine and sleep are what Johnson has to have for his personal detente after the tensions of legislating and campaigning. He even loafs, as he does everything else, strenuously.

A Pause For Prayer

HOW sad to note the little time . . . We have for Him, our God . . . The passing second that we take . . . To give Him just a nod . . . How busy we are all the time . . . How often out of breath . . . From scrounging, roaming all around . . . And running half to death . . . And then again we sit about . . . In circles large and small . . . And all we seem to do is just . . . To gossip and recall . . . From day to night and night to day . . . We never find a silent pause . . . In search for foolish things . . . For vanity, applause . . . And so I think that all of us . . . Upon this seventh day . . . Might take a moment, maybe two . . . To kneel and bow and pray.

DISLIKES UNMARKED CARS

Oak Grove, La.

To the Editor:

For many years my husband and I have been ardent admirers of your editorial policy and have nearly always heartily agreed with your views, but we find that we cannot agree with you on a part of your May 11 editorial concerning speeding.

Radar and other mechanical devices, if they are accurate, are a proper means of enforcing the speed limit. Unmarked police cars are another thing entirely. What can happen when cars are unmarked is illustrated by the following incident:

A lady was going home from work over a road which runs for several miles through a swamp, and traffic was extremely light. She has been driving for 19 years without having an accident or receiving a traffic ticket.

This area woman was chased down by an unmarked state police car and arrested for speeding. She was driving alone; she was unaware that the automobile was a police car until she actually saw the troopers alighting from the vehicle. State police emblems were emblazoned on the doors of the car. No siren or red light was visible; they're under the hood. The troopers wore no headgear.

In the woman's own words, it was frightening. It happened that in the daytime, but just a few months ago, two youths were apprehended for chasing and attempting to force off the highw[ay] automobiles driven by unacco[m]panied women, in daylight hou[rs]. One of the victims of this p[air] was a neighbor of the woman [ar]rested by the troopers.

Quite naturally, this woma[n's] husband was quite upset; she w[as] upset. Both pointed out that [she] had no way of knowing whet[her] police or hoodlums occupied [the] car.

It is the considered opinion [of] much wiser heads than mine, [and] perhaps yours, that reckless d[riv]ing and driving while drink[ing] alcoholic beverages, rather th[an] simply exceeding the speed li[mit] are the major cause of acciden[ts].

Since, in the past, you have [en]deavored to show all sides of [a] given situation, I am sure [you] will want to point out this side [of] this situation in any future [edi]torial on speeding.

Agreement Just Made With India Really Stupendous Deal

The [illegible] agreement made with India is such a stupendous deal that various persons and agencies have made some comparisons to illustrate its magnitude.

The agreement involves 16,000,000 tons of wheat and 1,000,000 tons of rice to be delivered to India over the next four years and, including shipping costs, a total market value of $1,276,000,000 is involved.

Approximately [illegible] the United States [illegible] of the neutralist countries.

India will pay to the United States the total value of the two commodities, but in rupees. But immediately this country will return to India $1,076,000,000 for economic development projects, half as a straight grant and the other half as a loan.

The remaining $200,000,000 will be used to pay United States expenses abroad and to finance other American programs, including development of foreign markets for agricultural products.

The $538,000,000 gift and the similar amount in loan will be used by India for such projects as electric power plants, education, health and credit needs for Indian businessmen.

To elucidate the magnitude of wheat and rice involved the State Department said a shipload of grain would go to India every day for four years.

Senator Andrew F. Schoeppel of Kansas, putting it in bushels instead of tons, said there was a total of 587,000,000 bushels of wheat involved, which would make a solid train stretching virtually all the way across the country from New York to Los Angeles. It is equal to approximately half of an annual American wheat crop.

The 22 million hundredweight of rice which will be shipped, Schoeppel said, is over half of [the] average United States [crop]. It is more rice than [the] American people consume in a year.

Senator Milton R. Young [of] North Dakota said that [the] amount of wheat represented [in] the Indian transaction is equ[al to] nearly four years of wheat [pro]duction in North Dakota, [the] second largest wheat produ[cing] state in the United States.

The immense loan and gi[ft] item will not show on the r[ecords as] foreign aid. It was made [un]der the Extension of Agric[ultural] Trade Development and [As]sistance Act, commonly ref[erred to] as Public Law 480. Origi[nally] passed in 1954, 480 has been extended until 1961.

At the time the law was p[assed] the surpluses accumulated b[y the] Government had become s[o] [illegible] and the sheer [cost of] storing so staggering tha[t the] Government was desper[ately] hunting for ways to get r[id of] them. But our surpluses are [illegible] larger now than they [were] when the law was passed.

In our disposal program a[broad] [illegible] we barter an[d] give it away at home and a[broad]. The procedure generally had [been] that followed in India, when [we] sell overseas. We get foreig[n cur]rencies for it, and we spen[d the] money in the country wher[e it is] sold [illegible] for our own pur[poses] or grants and loans to the country.

In our domestic disposal [illegible] American school childr[en] [illegible] lunches in this co[untry] and 5,000,000 needy Ame[ricans] get allotments of the [surplus] foods. Something like sixty [mil]lion persons in 92 foreign [coun]tries have come to depend [on] this free food.

Prior to the India transactio[n the] biggest deals have been wi[th Po]land, a Russian satellite [coun]try to whom we are pre[sently] sending 200,000 tons of fod[der to] help her overcome her [illegible] meat shortage under an [agree]ment made this year. W[e had] three other large surplus di[sposal] deals with Poland, one in [illegible], one in 1958, and one in 19[illegible] gave her credit and took [her] currency.

The transaction with In[dia is] the first 480 law agreement [made] by this country to span a [four-year] period, and the first to p[rovide] for such a large stockpil[e of] American food. It was ma[de as] a result of President Eis[enhow]er's recent visit to India.

It was explained that th[e agree]ment will mean improved [diets for] India's 425,000,000 people. [Sena]tor Schoeppel called atten[tion to] the fact that India's popul[ation is] increasing at the rate of [about] 2 per cent a year and [by the] time the agreement runs o[ut will] be about 460,000,000.

Going out at the rate of [a ship]load per day the Indian [trans]action will make only a [small] dent in our Government-he[ld sur]plus. The government stil[l has] more than $9,500,000,000 [in sur]plus crops and the storag[e costs] alone are running around [illegible]000 per day.

Youth Faces Murder Charge In Wisconsin

OSHKOSH, Wis. (AP)—An 18-year-old youth faced a first degree murder charge Saturday in the love triangle shooting of his sweethearts' 37-year-old husband.

Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber said that the youth, Francis Clayton, admitted in a signed statement that he took a .22 caliber rifle owned by the victim and shot Marlin Fritz, in the right temple as he slept Friday night.

Fritz's heavy set, blonde wife, Victoria, 30, mother of six children, the oldest about nine, is being held in connection with the slaying. The district attorney said he had not decided what charge he would place against her.

Clayton will be arraigned Monday in municipal court.

Police inspector Elmer Ludwig said Clayton, in a signed statement, admitted he told Mrs. Fritz that he was going to shoot her husband. She confirmed Clayton's story and was in another room when Fritz was killed, Ludwig said, but claimed she had warned her husband.

The inspector said Clayton told him that he and Mrs. Fritz had been having an illicit romance over a period of three months and that the affair continued for a week after he moved into the Fritz apartment as a roomer. Ludwig said Fritz had ordered Clayton to leave at the end of the week.

The six Fritz children are being cared for by the Winnebago County welfare department. Fritz was the father of five of the children. The sixth was Mrs. Fritz' by a previous marriage.

New Road-Sign Law

Various safety, conservation, tourist and civic groups and individuals, spearheaded by the Louisiana Garden Club Federation and the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs, have formed the Louisiana Committee for Interstate Highway Regulation to sponsor and work for the passage of legislation to regulate advertising signs on the 690 miles of the new interstate and defense highway system in Louisiana.

Commenting on the campaign to win approval of the new law, the Louisiana committee said in part:

"'There ought to be a law!' Have you ever heard that said when you saw something happening that you believed to be all wrong—in abuse of public sufferance, a betrayal of the taxpayer's best interest?

"Don't you say it when you see how our highways are cluttered with advertising signs of all shapes and sizes as fast as they are completed?

"If so, you will be interested in a proposal to be submitted to the Louisiana legislature at its May session.

"These are new highways expected to be constructed within the next 13 years. None of the other highways in the state will be affected in any way at all. There is no idea of putting outdoor advertising companies out of business, nor of stopping the use of outdoor signs by advertisers.

"The bill applies only to these 690 new miles, excluding those segments in commercial and industrial zones within incorporated municipalities. The regulation specified is that no advertising sign be erected within 660 feet of the edge of the right of way.

"These are limited access roads, with no business access except at points of interchange. This means that all roadside business will be prohibited. It will be impossible to enter any places of business, such as motels, service stations, restaurants and shops, directly from these interstate roads. To get to such facilities it will be necessary to turn off these roads at the points of interchange.

"These are to be high-speed roads. Advertising signs are meant to attract attention. Safety people warn, 'Every time your eyes leave the road you are looking for trouble. How many feet do you travel with your eyes off the road while reading a sign? Remember—at 60 miles an hour it takes 272 feet in which to stop your car.

"According to the federal highway act of 1958, any state passing (before 1961) legislation regulating advertising according to standards set by the secretary of commerce is promised a bonus of one-half of one per cent, which in the case of Louisiana would amount to half a million dollars annually in extra federal highway funds. "Now is the time to get the law 'there ought to be' passed!"

Unquestionably, now is the time to act on the question of determining what shall be done in the matter of eliminating roadside advertising. Also, there is no doubt that the people should let their wishes be known. The bonus offered by the federal government is surely a good inducement for prompt action.

There are always two sides to any question, but in this case the preponderance may well be so strong on the affirmative side that there will be no doubt in the minds of a huge majority of the people.

Some who are legal-minded have questioned the inherent right to limit the use of privately-owned property. This applies to the rights of the owners of the property on which the signs would be placed, since signs on the right-of-way are already prohibited, and to those who would rent such property for the use of signs. In the commentary, it was pointed out that no businesses will have direct access to the interstate roads in the new system. This is true, but, so far as is known, any kind of business or industrial plant could be erected on property adjoining the right-of-way, so long as it made no attempt to egress or ingress to and from the super highway. The same right would be enjoyed in the matter of erecting signs unless it could be shown that doing so would be against the pubilc interest.

It is not possible to cringe more or to crawl more or to take many more insults. The rejection of Eisenhower's visit could be the last straw.

What is not clear is what circumstances inside Soviet Russia are forcing Khrushchev to reorganize the political forces in his country. He has taken one of his ablest men out of the government and elevated him to the direction of the Communist party. This elevation of Frol Kozlov would indicate that there is more trouble in Russia than we know. If the party is strong, under the Soviet system, the government will take care of itself. Stalin trusted no one with power in the party. Khrushchev apparently finds that the load is too heavy to carry and has to have assistance of younger men whose blood pressure is not too high.

But what is the load that has become too heavy? Is it internal? Has a generation which never knew the Revolution been asking too many questions? No one who is under 43 years of age knew the Revolution. A man of 50 was seven years old when the Revolution occurred. Few men of the Revolution are alive. Finally old Voroshilov, the last of the heroes, has retired from the government. The new masters may be more efficient than the old ones but they do not have the aura of heroism; they have not been in exile or in Siberia. They are parvenus.

Is this the trouble that has given Khrushchev the jitters about Eisenhower's visit?

HOLMES ALEXANDER

Johnson Ranch

L. B. J. RANCH, JOHNSON CITY, Texas — If you come here to visit the legend called Lyndon Baines Johnson, it's likely you will discover something else — the man. It was this way long ago, in another Southwest setting, behind what a biographer called "the silvering logs of the Hermitage", which was the plantation home of Andrew Jackson. His callers, we are told, would come to meet the fierce duelist and hard-riding Border Captain, but they went away remembering the loving husband, the practical husbandman and friendly neighbor.

Lyndon Johnson's public character after 12 years each in the House and Senate is clear enough. It is the private image which is blurred. This is blamable, I think, not on malice — but on the "morgue", which is journalese for the clipping files. When Johnson was emerging from obscurity to fame, he attracted all the cliches concerning Texas — tall, drawlin', oil-rich, lavish-living, cowboy boots and $500 suits purchased ten at a time. All this lazy and erroneous reporting was fixed in print, clipped and filed, for dreary repetition by election-year biographers and chair-borne gazeteers.

But there are reasons why Johnson will be drawn more often from the living model, against native colors, as time moved on. One such reason was illustrated last weekend when, flying through Allegheny fog and rain, Johnson exercised both his good nature and his forte for can-do decision-making. He invited the planeload of reporters to spend Sunday in the 80-degree sunshine of his ranch. We were met at 3:40 a.m. at the caliche-surfaced landing strip by the Senator's lovely lady, our accomplished hostess, and were soon bedded down in the beautifully simple homestead. It is built around the small stone house which the Senator's grandfather built in 1850 on land that was deeded by President Sam Houston of the Lone Star Republic.

The Hermitage, I think, could not have been very different from the L.B.J, which is a fertile ranchland of less than 300 acres, managed with brilliant success by Lyndon and Lady Bird Johnson. The Senator's birthplace, which is a clapboard cabin, and the family burial ground, beneath its brooding live oaks, represent permanence and tradition, while the kidney-shaped swimming pool and aircraft-at-the-door bespeck Johnson's well-documented disinclinaiton to live in the past.

From the Senator's front yard you see the seemingly un-Texan spire of a Lutheran Church. His neighbors in the valley of the little river called the Pedernales ("shiny rocks") are named Petsch, Dietel, Kowert and Schwarz —a German minority which sentimentally sided with Negro emancipation in the 1860's. Johnson owns a nearby ranch of nearly 200 acres, which is mostly brown granite and bunchgrass, called Scharnhorst — like the German battle-cruiser. He tried to change the name to something more picturesque, but his neighbors didn't cooperate, so he accepted the veto. Brown grantite, like caliche, makes good building material, but it is regarded by geologists as the sign of no oil under ground. Blanco and Gillespie Counties, where the ranches lie, are the only two of Texas's 254 counties that scientifically have no chance of ever sporting an oil derrick.

Sunshine and sleep are what Johnson has to have for his personal detente after the tensions of legislating and campaigning. He even loafs, as he does everything else, strenuously.

A Pause For Prayer

HOW sad to note the little time . . . We have for Him, our God . . . The passing second that we take . . . To give Him just a nod . . . How busy we are all the time . . . How often out of breath . . . From scrounging, roaming all around . . . And running half to death . . . And then again we sit about . . . In circles large and small . . . And all we seem to do is just . . . To gossip and recall . . . From day to night and night to day . . . We never find a silent pause . . . In search for foolish things . . . For vanity, applause . . . And so I think that all of us . . . Upon this seventh day . . . Might take a moment, maybe two . . . To kneel and bow and pray.

DISLIKES UNMARKED CARS

Oak Grove, La.

To the Editor:

For many years my husband and I have been ardent admirers of your editorial policy and have nearly always heartily agreed with your views, but we find that we cannot agree with you on a part of your May 11 editorial concerning speeding.

Radar and other mechanical devices, if they are accurate, are a proper means of enforcing the speed limit. Unmarked police cars are another thing entirely. What can happen when cars are unmarked is illustrated by the following incident:

A lady was going home from work over a road which runs for several miles through a swamp, and traffic was extremely light. She has been driving for 19 years without having an accident or receiving a traffic ticket.

This area woman was chased down by an unmarked state police car and arrested for speeding. She was driving alone; she was unaware that the automobile was a police car until she actually saw the troopers alighting from the vehicle. State police emblems were emblazoned on the doors of the car. No siren or red light was visible; they're under the hood. The troopers wore no headgear.

In the woman's own words, it was frightening. It happened that in the daytime, but just a few months ago, two youths were apprehended for chasing and attempting to force off the highway automobiles driven by unaccompanied women, in daylight hours. One of the victims of this pair was a neighbor of the woman arrested by the troopers.

Quite naturally, this woman's husband was quite upset; she was upset. Both pointed out that she had no way of knowing whether police or hoodlums occupied the car.

It is the considered opinion of much wiser heads than mine, and perhaps yours, that reckless driving and driving while drinking alcoholic beverages, rather than simply exceeding the speed limit, are the major cause of accidents.

Since, in the past, you have endeavored to show all sides of any given situation, I am sure you will want to point out this side of this situation in any future editorial on speeding.

To the Editor:

Just wondering:

Why should Russia fuss about one little plane 10 miles up in the air, getting a little information, especially when they have about 1,000 spies in the United States, scattered in every type of industry, including arms manufacture, with no restriction, and when the U.S. approves a new weapon that goes into news circulation and to Russia next day?

Why be jealous?

Food For Peace

Agreement Just Made With India Really Stupendous Deal

That "food for peace" agreement just made with India is such a stupendous deal that various persons and agencies have made some comparisons to illustrate its magnitude.

The agreement involves 16,000,000 tons of wheat and 1,000,000 tons of rice to be delivered to India over the next four years and, including shipping cost, a total market value of $1,276,000,000 is involved.

Approximately half of the value, in effect will be a gift of the United States to the largest of the neutralist countries.

India will pay to the United States the total value of the two commodities, but in rupees. But immediately, this country will return to India $1,076,000,000 for economic development projects, half as a straight grant and the other half as a loan.

The remaining $200,000,000 will be used to pay United States expenses abroad and to finance other American programs, including development of foreign markets for agricultural products.

The $358,000,000 gift and the similar amount in loans will be used by India for such projects as electric power plants, education, health and credit needs for Indian businessmen.

To elucidate the magnitude of wheat and rice involved the State Department said a shipload of grain would go to India every day for four years.

Senator Andrew F. Schoeppel of Kansas, putting it in bushels instead of tons, said there was a total of 587,000,000 bushels of wheat involved, which would make a solid train stretching virtually all the way across the country from New York to Los Angeles. It is equal to approximately half of an annual American wheat crop.

The 22 million hundredweight of rice which will be shipped, Schoeppel said, is over half of an average United States rice crop. It is more rice than the American people consume as food in a year.

Senator Milton R. Young of North Dakota said that the amount of wheat represented in the Indian transaction is equal to nearly four years of wheat production in North Dakota, the second largest wheat producing state in the United States.

The immense loan and gift to India will not show on the record as foreign aid. It was made under the Extension of Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act, commonly referred to as Public Law 480. Originally passed in 1954, 480 has been extended until 1962.

At the time the law was passed the surpluses accumulated by the Government had become so unmanageable and the sheer cost of storing so staggering that the government was desperately hunting for ways to get rid of them. But our surpluses are vastly larger now than they were when the law was passed.

In our disposal program abroad when we can we barter and we give it away at home and abroad. The procedure generally had been that followed in India, when it is sent overseas. We get foreign currencies for it, and we spend the money in the country where we get it — for our own purposes, for grants and loans to the same country.

In our domestic disposal 14 million American school children get free lunches in this country, and 5,400,000 needy Americans get allotments of the surplus foods. Something like sixty million persons in 92 foreign countries have come to depend upon this free food.

Prior to the India transaction our biggest deals have been with Poland, a Russian satellite country to whom we are presently sending 200,000 tons of fodder to help her overcome her drastic meat shortage under an agreement made this year. We had three other large surplus disposal deals with Poland, one in 1957, one in 1958, and one in 1959. We gave her credit and took Polish currency.

The transaction with India is the first 480 law agreement made by this country to span a 4-year period, and the first to provide for such a large stockpiling of American food. It was made as a result of President Eisenhower's recent visit to India.

It was explained that the shipment will mean improved diet for India's 425,000,000 people. Senator Schoeppel called attention to the fact that India's population is increasing at the rate of about 2 per cent a year and by the time the agreement runs out will be about 460,000,000.

Going out at the rate of a shipload per day the Indian transaction will make only a small dent in our Government-held surplus. The government still owns more than $9,500,000,000 in surplus crops and the storage costs alone are running around $1,700,000 per day.

Youth Faces Murder Charge In Wisconsin

OSHKOSH, Wis. (AP)—An 18-year-old youth faced a first degree murder charge Saturday in the love triangle shooting of his sweethearts' 37-year-old husband.

Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber said that the youth, Francis Clayton, admitted in a signed statement that he took a .22 caliber rifle owned by the victim and shot Marlin Fritz, in the right temple as he slept Friday night.

Fritz's heavy set, blonde wife, Victoria, 30, mother of six children, the oldest about nine, is being held in connection with the slaying. The district attorney said he had not decided what charge he would place against her.

Clayton will be arraigned Monday in municipal court.

Police inspector Elmer Ludwig said Clayton, in a signed statement, admitted he told Mrs. Fritz that he was going to shoot her husband. She confirmed Clayton's story and was in another room when Fritz was killed, Ludwig said, but claimed she had warned her husband.

The inspector said Clayton told him that he and Mrs. Fritz had been having an illicit romance over a period of three months and that the affair continued for a week after he moved into the Fritz apartment as a roomer. Ludwig said Fritz had ordered Clayton to leave at the end of the week.

The six Fritz children are being cared for by the Winnebago County welfare department. Fritz was the father of five of the children. The sixth was Mrs. Fritz' by a previous marriage.

Down In Nashville

Those Hills Are Live With Music

Editor's Note—To you, it may sound like the wail of a carousing tom cat. But country music is a booming business with headquarters in Nashville, where Grand Ole Opry makes its home and hillbilly ballads sprout like lush corn. Here's a closeup of Tennessee's thriving tunesmiths.

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—These hills are alive with the sound of music.

Well, some folks call it music. The rest think the cataract of fiddle squeakings, guitar twangings, hillbilly bleatings and less identifiable noises thundering out of these environs is the saddest music this side of the River Styx.

But tastes aside, the fact remains that staid old Nashville, once the gateway to the West, has become the gateway to the nation's eardrums. Block for block and person for person, it probably produces more music than any metropolis its size anywhere in the world.

The statistics alone are dazzling to the eye and a threat to municipal mental health. Out of a population of 180,000, Nashville numbers:

95 BMI (Broadcast Music Inc.) publishing houses and 16 ASCAP (American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers) houses.

179 fulltime BMI songwriters, 100 more part time, and perhaps 30 fulltime and 20 part time ASCAP writers.

Untold thousands of amateur writers who glut the main post office with their feverish output and haunt the corridors of the publishers begging for a chance. One firm, Cedarwood, spends $250 a week in postage mailing back rejected manuscripts.

750 musicians holding cards in the American Federation of Musicians local, plus another 350 who hold forth professionally on the jug, the sweet potato, the washboard and similar instruments not requiring a union card.

Upwards of 1,600 "country artists," a catchall phrase for cowboy singers, yodelers, square dance callers, hoedown fiddlers, hymn chanters, folk singers, hayseed comics, choirs, quartets and highly specialized soloists who may do nothing more than wail the background "wah-wah" at a recording session.

15 recording studios, two of which operate on a 'round the clock basis, seven days a week. Last year more than half the country's records, both singles and albums, came out of Nashville. Decca does 85 per cent of its pops recording here; RCA Victor and Columbia about 50 per cent of their entire output.

A dozen artist bureaus or booking agents who send hillbilly talent into the hinterland, as far away as Canada and California, in air conditioned, dust streaked Cadillacs for personal appearances at theaters, clubs, barn dances and what not. Last year the Jim Denny Bureau filled 2,175 booking dates, at fees ranging from $300 to $5,000 a night, depending on whether the artist was a five-string banjo picker or a big name recording star.

Nashville is the only city in the country, if not the entire western world, where Elvis Presley can venture forth in broad daylight and not get his white silk shirt torn from his back by squealing admirers. A few teen-agers may lapse into a catatonic stupor, but the majority of onlookers manage a superb grip on their emotions.

They can recall when Elvis was just another sideman on Grand Ole Opry, belaboring a big bull fiddle without benefit of sideburns, and they treat him as they do the hundreds of other ballad mongers who go clumping through the hotel lobbies in their hand-tooled cowboy boots.

Any day of the week you can see Eddy Arnold, Marty Robbins, Jim Reeves, Carl Smith, Roy Acuff, Ernest Tubb, Don Gibson and lesser lights of the high income bracket strolling the streets or hurrying to a record session like mere mortals on the way to work. If it weren't for their $50 stetsons, their $500 rhinestone studded western duds and their $350 mother-of-pearl encrusted guitars, you could hardly tell them from the rest of the citizenry.

For in Nashville everyone—or so it seems—is either a singer or songwriter or both, a municipal psychosis that stuns a visitor as soon as he steps off the train.

Everywhere you go you hear about the secretary who just sold "Sentenced To Die;" about the housewife who co-authored "Slow-Poke;" about the truck driver who spent his last $100 recording "Pinball Machine" and took the copies around to the disc jockeys himself; about the lawyer who keeps popping into a publisher every Monday with his "weekend wonders."

You hear how Marty Robbins made it so big with "El Paso," he's sworn off working for the rest of the year so as not to overburden his tax lawyers; how Jummy Driftwood was a $2,700-a-year school teacher in Snowball, Ark., when "Battle of New Orleans' exploded across the charts; how the Travelers Aid Society is constantly coming to the rescue of the bumpkins who daily debark at the local bus station with nothing more than a battered guitar and the fond hope of becoming another Conway Twitty or Stonewall Jackson.

One answer is Grand Ole Opry, a Saturday night sawdust spectacular that draws 8,000 avid fans into the creaking old Ryman Auditorium for 4½ hours of the best in country music. Now in its record 21st consecutive year on network radio, the Opry is to the hillbilly artist what Hollywood is to the starlet—the culmination of all hopes and dreams, the chance to click where it counts.

The show's impromptu format and backstage confusion have changed little since the day 36 years ago when 82-year-old Uncle Jim Thompson walked into the studios of WSM with the boast that he could "fiddle the bugs off a sweet potato vine." His fiddling may not have materially benefitted the Yam crop, but it brought an avalanche of mail and a never ending influx of country musicians seeking a spot on what became the Grand Old Opry.

Although the Opry's audience now includes well dressed tourists from all over the world, country folks are still in the majority, punctuating the acts with rebel yells, answering "how-dee" to Cousin Minnie Pearl's customary greeting, putting the kids to sleep on the long wooden church pews that form the bleacher section up in "Confederate balcony."

For all its informal approach to entertainment, Nashville has a hard core of expert engineers and musicians who are largely responsible for the city's pre-eminence as a recording center. Used to dealing with singers who can't read a note and composers who can't write a lead sheet, Nashville's top background groups, like the Jordonaires and the Anita Kerr Singers, can improvise the arrangements as they go along. In the absence of sheet music, recordings are often done "by the numbers," with musicians simply reading a list of chords from a scrap of paper.

"You can get an arrangement here in 15 minutes that might take a week in New York," says Don Law, country music chief of Columbia records. "That's why so many pop artists now insist on recording in Nashville."

The result of all this on-the-job creativity is something called "the Nashville sound," a conscious, concerted effort to be different. In the quest for a new sound, Nashville's ingenious music makers have hammered tacks into the felt of a piano, lashed a cigar box to a cello, clicked false teeth, drummed on pop bottles and metal chairs, electrified everything from a harmonica to a glockenspeil, milked a cow in the studio, and nailed up a real scaffold (for "The Hanging Tree").

"Country songwriters are happiest when they're miserable," says Francis Williams of BMI. "If they don't ache, they don't write."

Marijohn Wilken, a music teacher before launching her fabulous career as a writer (100 songs published last year), started by helping country composers who didn't know muisc. Her own first efforts failed miserably, she admits, "because I was too perfect. I was writing like a school teacher. I wanted everything to rhyme and be grammatical." A backwoods Berlin knocked that out of her one day when she questioned the grammar of his lyric "Tear Drops Had Fell." The writer studied her complaint for a long time, then answered:

"Ah can't see what it ain't right."

Lion Tamed, And Untamed

BORN FREE: A Lioness of Two Worlds. By Joy Adamson. Pantheon. $4.95.

Adamson is senior game warden in the northern frontier province of Kenya, about 120,000 square miles from Mount Kenya on the Equator to the Abyssinian border, from Somaliland to Uganda. He keeps poachers away, and disposes of man-eaters, but does not like to kill. This day a lioness charged, and to save himself he fired. He dug three cubs out of a lair in the rocks, two very scrappy little balls of fur and the third a much more dignified fellow that seemed to take the back seat of the auto and the fond attentions of Mrs. Adamson quite for granted.

Two were sent off to a European zoo, and the third, named Elsa, was reared by the Adamsons. This is her story, from the time the three sisters could be held in Mrs. Adamson's arms all at once till Elsa alone reached a substantial 300 pounds.

House - breaking, says Mrs. Adamson, was no problem. Elsa learned what "no" meant, sometimes had a stick used on her, and could be a very sheepish loiness when she rubbed her nose against them to show she was sorry. She was as good as a watchdog, warned of snakes and chased away other animals.

Amidst War's Ruin, Fate

ON A LONESOME PORCH. By Ovid Williams Pierce. Doubleday. $3.95.

Their overseer Keg — so tall, severe and loyal, as they remembered him — was to welcome them back. They wrote him they were coming on the train from Raleigh. It was June, 1865, the war was over, the country was desolate, but they were returning to their grand old plantation. So begins this second novel by the author of that fine first "The Plantation."

Miss Ellen, aged and feeble, has lost her son, and her daughter-in-law Lucy, still young, is taking her and her own boy Garrett back to their place. But Keg, now far away, never received the letter; ill - tempered hostile Negroes badger them; they have trouble finding a horse and carriage to drive out the 10 miles to their destination. Negroes who have thrown off slavery have worked out their ancient hatreds in destroying furniture and breaking doors and windows, so that only the shell is left. Three orphan children run about wild, lonesome, Nannie isn't particular whom she welcomes to her cabin, Enoch alone can act the man in the first crises to develop.

This is Miss Ellen's story. She longs to return to the life of old, but it was so sheltered she is forced to wonder at the last whether it amounted to a life at all. As the old woman looks back nostalgically, the young one is confronted by the rousing challenge of the present and the promise of the future.

Pierce excels in the recall of the past, or in presenting the lonesome man and woman who themselves recall it. This is a gentle, dreamy, loving book. It's a picture softly veiled of people troubled but valiant struggling against the sternest fate. Without quite the extreme of poignancy of the first novel, this is still a worthy successor.

HI-FI and STEREO by Greg Hare

"SONGS AND SOUNDS OF A SOFT, WARM, MOOD." Roberto Rossani his orchestra and chorus. Somerset P-12300. Roberto Rossani has scored and conducted a collection of wonderful ballads that set a soft, warm mood for dining, dreaming or any special purpose that could spell romance or reminiscence. Selections include "If I Loved You," "All The Things You Are," "Always," "Some Enchanted Evening" and others.

This month Kapp Records will introduce a new label, Medallion, devoted essentially to high quality recording, with a special emphasis on stereo that has never before been heard in the field. The cost of these Medallion line will be slightly higher, according to Kapp. But I believe the resultant sound will more than justify the slightly higher prices. I hope to review the new series in next weeks column.

"MARAIS & MIRANDA GO NATIVE." More songs of the South African Veld. Kapp KL-1180 (LP), KS-3180 (stereo). International balladeers Mariais and Miranda bring you something excitingly new—songs which recreate the original music of the African people. For many years, they have collected folk songs and stories from many lands, translated them into modern terms and presented them in a form most understandable and enjoyable to modern audiences. By use of unusual instrumental and vocal effects, Marais and Miranda reproduce the sounds of primitive African instruments, and they have captured the flavor and essence of the music that is indigenous to that mysterious and colorful continent.

"AFTER SIX." Dick Hyman his piano and trio. MGM Records E3827. Dick Hyman is a versatile musician who plays piano and organ, arranges and conducts and is the musical director of the Arthur Godfrey show. With his trio, Dick has been heard in various New York clubs and many other high spots. So after six sit back and enjoy "After Six."

"BLUES & ROOTS-CHARLIE MINGUS." Atlantic 1305. Charles Mingus said. "We played down to earth and together, and I think this music has a tremendous amount of life and emotion." This group has a very clean and bright style. Selections include "Wednesday Night Prayer Meeting," "Crying Blues," "Tensions," "My Jelly Roll Soul" and others.

"If you want to get to hevven .... SHOUT." Gogi Grant with the Billy May orchestra and chorus. Liberty LRP 3144 (LP). In this Gogi approaches these songs with sincerity and warmth, making them her own. She manages to capture completely their compelling rhythms enthusiasm and emotion. They belong, for this moment, to her and to you, the listener. Gospel songs have a warmth, sincerity and simple beauty which are found in no other music. They are true folk songs, the spontaneous expressions of joy, sorrow, hope, fear and love. Although they belong to everyone, they become, for the moment, the very personal expression of the one who sings them. Gogi Grant.

The TOP TEN

1. STUCK ON YOU, Elvis Presley
2. GREENFIELDS, Brothers Four
3. THEME FROM A SUMMER PLACE, Percy Faith
4. NIGHT, Jackie Wilson
5. WHITE SILVER SANDS, Bill Black's Combo
6. SINK THE BISMARCK, Johnny Horten
7. SIXTEEN REASONS, Connie Stevens
8. THE OLD LAMPLIGHTER, Browns
9. FOOTSTEPS, Steve Lawrence

Personal Thinking About Broadway

NEW YORK (UPI) — With the 1950-60 Broadway theatrical season nearing its end, the time has come for the some personal reflections on its offerings.

The most completely satisfying drama was William Gibson's "The Miracle Worker," still a sell-out. It has been a long time since Broadway has had a play so emotionally charged as this story of the education of young Helen Keller. The performances by Anne Bancroft and Patty Duke would be difficult to better.

"Bye Bye Birdie," a late arrival, was the most enjoyable of the musicals from a standpoint of over-all excellence, and it catapulted dancer Gower Champion into the forefront of the ranks of top directors. Despite the trend of recent years, it proved that it is still possible to do a musical that is really funny.

While it is true that "Fiorello!" has a certain distinctiveness and stature, this musical leaves considerable to be desired in the song department.

Britain's Peter Shaffer showed evidence of a first-rate knack for tight dramatic writing in "Five Finger Exercise," generally regarded as the best of the foreign dramas, but I found this a rather trite and tired slice of family life that managed to attract attention because there was little competition in its category.

Possibly the season's biggest triumph was attained by Jackie Gleason in "Take Me Along," not merely because he was extremely good in this musical, but because he proved wrong all of the Broadway wise-acres who, thinking they knew the mercurial comedian, had predicted he would put up with such a routine for six weeks or a couple of months and then find some way of getting out.

I still think Lillian Hellman's "The Little Foxes" is one of the finest American plays ever written—and that her current hit, "Toys in The Attic," is a claptrap affair.

The biggest disappointment was the "Saratoga" musical. It seemed like a natural, but this was one case where too much faithfulness to the source material (Edna Ferber's novel) was disastrous. Nevertheless the score by Harold Arlen and Johnny Mercer was a good one.

The importance of good material to a fine player was never given more point than in the case of Rex Harrison and "The Fighting Cock." Unless it was in the case of Shirley Booth and "A Second String." May both have much better luck next time.

I'll never understand why Melvin Douglas won the Tony award as male dramatic star for his work in "The Best Man," in which he is, admittedly, quite good. But he was better in a much more challenging role in the earlier "The Gang's All Here." Could it be that the political slants of the two characters in these two political plays had something to do with it?

The most underrated play was Robert Anderson's "Silent Night, Lonely Night," beautifully projected by Henry Fonda and Barbara Bel Geddes. Static it may have been, but it had real quality.

A Sailor's Tale Is Sadly Told

MY LIFE. By Grand Adm. Erich Raeder. United States Naval Institute. $6.

Grand Adm. Raeder, chief of the German Navy for nearly 15 years, 10 of them under Hitler, has written a sad and curious personal memoir. It is sad because Raeder, a man of the highest personal and professional competence, found himself in with the wrong crowd. It is curious because so much is missing here that one might expect to find.

The high point of Raeder's life seems to have been the Battle of Jutland (or Skagerrak, as the Germans called it) when, as a rising young officer, he found himself in the thick of battle with the vaunted British Grand Fleet in 1916. On the bridge, as aide to Adm. Hipper, he experienced the fulfillment every sailor hopes for — engaging the enemy in decisive battle.

After that came defeat for Germany, revolution, and the arid years when he was a sailor without a navy. The second part of his story is the rebuilding of the German Navy, beginning in 1928, the brief successes early in World War II, the loss of major units in unsatisfactory, piecemeal engagements, the break with Hitler and Raeder's resignation early in 1943. It was a frustrating experience, capped with the personal tragedy of finding himself in the dock at the Nurnberg trials, sentenced to life imprisonment at the age of 70. Nine years later, in 1955, he came out of Spandau, still strong in spirit but broken in body, to return to a Germany he never knew.

It is a moving book, from which Raeder emerges as a man of strong and upright character. Yet it is disappointing, for one catches no strong glimpse of Hitler, Goering and the other Nazis, with whom Raeder was so long associated.

Even the events of the naval war, and particularly the submarine phase, are referred to only in the most general outline. One will not find here the full, inside story of the naval war, as seen from the German side. Rather the very personal story of a trusted and trusting officer, perhaps a bit naive, whose hopes for a glorious German navy were sold out by his own associates.

RUNNING THE SCALES

With JOHN CALE

The adult choir of the West Monroe First Baptist Church has set a concert performance for May 27 at 8:15 p.m. in the church's new recreational building located on Clayton Street between North 3rd and 4th streets.

According to Jack Day, director of the 75 - member, all-volunteer choir, the program will be divided into five sections: a popular group of selections, followed by folk, spirituals, sacred and patriotic music.

In the popular vien, all music is from the musical comedy, "South Pacific." Day pointed out the program was open to the public free of charge.

POPULAR BEAT

The climb to the popularity summit of musical comedy has been mentioned already in many places and publications. One angle of this makes interesting, food for musical thinkers — the rise of the ever - so - light operas comes at a time when pop tunes are as a rule pretty low in quality. Could it be that the only place you can be sure of hearing a decent new tune is on the musical stage?

This question required some first - hand research on the part of this scale runner and the data turned up was noteworthy. Live musicians performing locally are surviving on tunes from a "pre-rock" era. And the patrons are enjoying it.

Without naming sources or informants, it is understood some professional performers now playing in the area of the Ouachita River can hold the attention of dancers or listeners with popular tunes bearing dates of 1915 to 1940.

For example, one young lady was reported not to have batted a real eyelash when asked to play "Bye Bye Blackbird," which was sung by north Louisiana's Gene Austin when the musical comedy "Bye Bye Birdie" was not even a germ in its grandparents' minds. The old timer really sounded good, too, sources said.

Significant among the findings was the encouraging indication that today's pro's are playing and singing in the lyrical idiom of the post-roaring '20's and the pre - World War II jive and "boogie" period.

Calls for any Jerome Kern selection from "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" to "Long Ago and Far Away," brought no faltering at the keyboards or chord progressions.

CASTRO'S LOOKING

Someone said there was a latin American gentleman in town "looking for somebody." While listening to one performer behind a combination organ - piano combination, a reporter believed he had found the quarry. In order to produce intricate latin beats of the "cha-cha," rhumba, and like complexities, there was a machine which uttered such rhythms mounted in a box beside the organ. "So," concluded the reporter," it could be that agents from a nearby island were looking for the electronic Cubans in the little box."

A real, live drummer also took a dim view of the musical automation which was taking his place. But there's another side. If no automatic rhythm, many managements could not afford to hire one musician, all alive.

So, by reliable authority comes a report from the live popular music front. The data was a pleasure to compile!

A Fitting Salute To A 'Sea Queen'

The 43,000 - ton Ile de France was launched at St. Nazaire, modest port on the low-lying Loire riverbank, in March, 1926. It was a risky operation, and once launched, the great ship threatened disastrously to run away. But she was handsomely outfitted, stocked with an ocean of liquor from champagne to vin ordinaire and began her adventurous 32 years of ocean-going. A Japanese shipyard is cutting her up for scrap.

Passengers were of all categories: The famous actors, writers and singers, financiers, stowaways, a blond blackmailer and card sharps. In World War II she tied up in New York, sailed off bravely to southern France, and finally embarked on a historic career in any and all the seas you can name. Among the 400,000 soldiers she transported were countless Americans. Some German prisoners plotted to seize her and didn't miss by much. One of her finest hours was the Andrea Doria rescue.

After the war, reconditioned, she resumed her Atlantic crossings. Martinis can no longer be bought for 25 cents, nor Scotch for 15 cents a glass; and oddly, as prices went up, the elegance lost a little of its luster. But you won't forget her. Nobody remembers which plane took him to Paris, but ships have a personality and a character, and you could shed a tear for the good old Ile. You and your friends and my friends and I crossed in her. Now she does us one last service: She makes a good book.

Spectacle Between The Covers

THE KREMLIN. BY David Douglas Duncan. New York Graphis Society. $25.

After considerable difficulties in getting the pictures, and further difficulties in finding a publisher to take on this expensive project, Duncan gives us a thrilling collection of scenes:

Great snowy Moscow square, bursting fireworks, processions; vast halls, chambers, mural decorations; the delicate Faberge Easter egg, the priceless gowns, the massive thrones of czar and czarina, the jeweled crowns, the gold inlaid mace, sword and knife; the paneled coaches and plumed helmets.

Guide To Good Reading

By FRANCES FLANDERS
Ouachita Parish Librarian

Each week brings a number of new titles to help build up the book collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. A new western, which is better than most fiction of this type is "The Nameless Breed" written by Will C. Brown. Sidonie Collette is the author of "The Other One." It is an outstanding modern novel and will appeal to many readers. S. S. Van Dine is the author of "The Canary Murder Case." This is a Philo Vance mystery and will be widely read. "Tongue of Fire" by Ernest Frankel has its setting in Washington of the present time. It is the story of Kane O'Conner, a congressman who, driven by an insatiable craving for fame, set events in motion which rocked the nation and the world. It will be compared to Alan Drury's "Advise and Consent" and will call for a great deal of comment.

A very thoughtful novel is "A European Education" by Romain Gary. It has its setting in Europe of World War II and is concerned with the creation and defense of civilization. A gripping book of science fiction is "Night of the Big Heat" by John Lymington. It is the story of how a small group of ordinary people, armed only with courage, face the first attempt at invasion by an undetected planet. Another book of science fiction is "The Haunted Stars" by Edmond Hamilton.

The field of non-fiction is especially large and the new books added fill many of the gaps in our library collection. Donald A. Laird is the author of "Techniques for Efficient Remembering." This is a book which everyone with a faulty memory should read. "The Story of the Reformation" by William Stevenson adds new light to this important chapter of church history. A very unusual and interesting book is "The Thief in the White Collar" written by Norman Jaspan. This book tells about petty thievery in many business concerns and is a most illuminating study. A book which should appeal to all students who are planning to attend college is "How to Pass High on the American College Testing Program Exams" published by the Arco Publishing Co. William K. Selden has written a book which he calls "Accreditation a Struggle over Standards in Higher Education." It should be of great interest to school people.

"Atomic Age Physics" is the title of a new book by Henry Semat, which adds much to our scientific collection. A book for scholars of English literature is "English Vernacular Hands" written by C. E. Wright. Do you suffer from backache? If you do you will want to see "Your Aching Back" written by David O. Shuman, which gives information on causes and treatments for backache. "How to Bowl Better" is the title of a helpful book written by Ned Day. "Baseball Is a Funny Game" is the new book written by Joe Garagiola, which will appeal to all enthusiasts of the sport. Those who are interested in writing fiction should read "The Basic Formulas of Fiction" by William Harris. A new book of poetry is "Terraces of Light" by Marya Zaturenska.

Have you ever dreamed of retiring and travelling abroad? Samuel E. Lessere has written his account of doing just this in a book which he calls: "We Retired to Travel; How We Stretched Our Lives and Dollars Abroad." He gives much excellent advice to those who would like to travel, but think they cannot afford it. It is very interesting to note how many books about World War II have recently been published. This week there are two new ones "Tobruk; the Story of a Seige" by Anthony Heckstall - Smith and "Climax at Midway" by Thaddeus Tuleja. Adlai Stevenson has a new book of speeches which he calls "Putting First Things First." Three new biographies are also available "D'Annunzio" by Anthony Rhodes is a biography of the Italian poet. "Ring the Night Bell" by Paul Magnuson is an interesting book of the reminiscences of a physician while "My Husband, Arthur Murray" was written by Kathryn Murray and tells a great deal about their life together.

Down In Nashville

Those Hills Are Live With Music

Editor's Note—To you, it may sound like the wail of a carousing tom cat. But country music is a booming business with headquarters in Nashville, where Grand Ole Opry makes its home and hillbilly ballads sprout like lush corn. Here's a closeup of Tennessee's thriving tunesmiths.

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—These hills are alive with the sound of music.

Well, some folks call it music. The rest think the cataract of fiddle squeakings, guitar twangings, hillbilly bleatings and less identifiable noises thundering out of these environs is the saddest music this side of the River Styx.

But tastes aside, the fact remains that staid old Nashville, once the gateway to the West, has become the gateway to the nation's eardrums. Block for block and person for person, it probably produces more music than any metropolis its size anywhere in the world.

The statistics alone are dazzling to the eye and a threat to municipal mental health. Out of a population of 180,000, Nashville numbers:

95 BMI (Broadcast Music Inc.) publishing houses and 16 ASCAP (American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers) houses.

179 fulltime BMI songwriters, 100 more part time, and perhaps 30 fulltime and 20 part time ASCAP writers.

Untold thousands of amateur writers who glut the main post office with their feverish output and haunt the corridors of the publishers begging for a chance. One firm, Cedarwood, spends $250 a week in postage mailing back rejected manuscripts.

750 musicians holding cards in the American Federation of Musicians local, plus another 350 who hold forth professionally on the jug, the sweet potato, the washboard and similar instruments not requiring a union card.

Upwards of 1,600 "country artists," a catchall phrase for cowboy singers, yodelers, square dance callers, hoedown fiddlers, hymn chanters, folk singers, hayseed comics, choirs, quartets and highly specialized soloists who may do nothing more than wail the background "wah-wah" at a recording session.

15 recording studios, two of which operate on a 'round the clock basis, seven days a week. Last year more than half the country's records, both singles and albums, came out of Nashville. Decca does 85 per cent of its pops recording here; RCA Victor and Columbia about 50 per cent of their entire output.

A dozen artist bureaus or booking agents who send hillbilly talent into the hinterland, as far away as Canada and California, in air conditioned, dust streaked Cadillacs for personal appearances at theaters, clubs, barn dances and what not. Last year the Jim Denny Bureau filled 2,175 booking dates, at fees ranging from $300 to $5,000 a night, depending on whether the artist was a five-string banjo picker or a big name recording star.

Nashville is the only city in the country, if not the entire western world, where Elvis Presley can venture forth in broad daylight and not get his white silk shirt torn from his back by squealing admirers. A few teen-agers may lapse into a catatonic stupor, but the majority of onlookers manage a superb grip on their emotions.

They can recall when Elvis was just another sideman on Grand Ole Opry, belaboring a big bull fiddle without benefit of sideburns, and they treat him as they do the hundreds of other ballad mongers who go clumping through the hotel lobbies in their hand-tooled cowboy boots.

Any day of the week you can see Eddy Arnold, Marty Robbins, Jim Reeves, Carl Smith, Roy Acuff, Ernest Tubb, Don Gibson and lesser lights of the high income bracket strolling the streets or hurrying to a record session like mere mortals on the way to work. If it weren't for their $50 stetsons, their $500 rhinestone studded western duds and their $350 mother-of-pearl encrusted guitars, you could hardly tell them from the rest of the citizenry.

For in Nashville everyone—or so it seems—is either a singer or songwriter or both, a municipal psychosis that stuns a visitor as soon as he steps off the train.

Everywhere you go you hear about the secretary who just sold "Sentenced To Die;" about the housewife who co-authored "Slow-Poke;" about the truck driver who spent his last $100 recording "Pinball Machine" and took the copies around to the disc jockeys himself; about the lawyer who keeps popping into a publisher every Monday with his "weekend wonders."

You hear how Marty Robbins made it so big with "El Paso," he's sworn off working for the rest of the year so as not to overburden his tax lawyers; how Jummy Driftwood was a $2,700-a-year school teacher in Snowball, Ark., when "Battle of New Orleans' exploded across the charts; how the Travelers Aid Society is constantly coming to the rescue of the bumpkins who daily debark at the local bus station with nothing more than a battered guitar and the fond hope of becoming another Conway Twitty or Stonewall Jackson.

One answer is Grand Ole Opry, a Saturday night sawdust spectacular that draws 8,000 avid fans into the creaking old Ryman Auditorium for 4½ hours of the best in country music. Now in its record 21st consecutive year on network radio, the Opry is to the hillbilly artist what Hollywood is to the starlet—the culmination of all hopes and dreams, the chance to click where it counts.

The show's impromptu format and backstage confusion have changed little since the day 36 years ago when 82-year-old Uncle Jim Thompson walked into the studios of WSM with the boast that he could "fiddle the bugs off a sweet potato vine." His fiddling may not have materially benefitted the Yam crop, but it brought an avalanche of mail and a never ending influx of country musicians seeking a spot on what became the Grand Old Opry.

Although the Opry's audience now includes well dressed tourists from all over the world, country folks are still in the majority, punctuating the acts with rebel yells, answering "how-dee" to Cousin Minnie Pearl's customary greeting, putting the kids to sleep on the long wooden church pews that form the bleacher section up in "Confederate balcony."

For all its informal approach to entertainment, Nashville has a hard core of expert engineers and musicians who are largely responsible for the city's pre-eminence as a recording center. Used to dealing with singers who can't read a note and composers who can't write a lead sheet, Nashville's top background groups, like the Jordonaires and the Anita Kerr Singers, can improvise the arrangements as they go along. In the absence of sheet music, recordings are often done "by the numbers," with musicians simply reading a list of chords from a scrap of paper.

"You can get an arrangement here in 15 minutes that might take a week in New York," says Don Law, country music chief of Columbia records. "That's why so many pop artists now insist on recording in Nashville."

The result of all this on-the-job creativity is something called "the Nashville sound," a conscious, concerted effort to be different. In the quest for a new sound, Nashville's ingenious music makers have hammered tacks into the felt of a piano, lashed a cigar box to a cello, clicked false teeth, drummed on pop bottles and metal chairs, electrified everything from a harmonica to a glockenspeil, milked a cow in the studio, and nailed up a real scaffold (for "The Hanging Tree').

"Country songwriters are happiest when they're miserable," says Francis Williams of BMI. "If they don't ache, they don't write."

Marijohn Wilken, a music teacher before launching her fabulous career as a writer (100 songs published last year), started by helping country composers who didn't know muisc. Her own first efforts failed miserably, she admits, "because I was too perfect. I was writing like a school teacher. I wanted everything to rhyme and be grammatical." A backwoods Berlin knocked that out of her one day when she questioned the grammar of his lyric "Tear Drops Had Fell." The writer studied her complaint for a long time, then answered:

"Ah can't see what it ain't right."

Lion Tamed, And Untamed

BORN FREE: A Lioness of Two Worlds. By Joy Adamson. Pantheon. $4.95.

Adamson is senior game warden in the northern frontier province of Kenya, about 120,000 square miles from Mount Kenya on the Equator to the Abyssinian border, from Somaliland to Uganda. He keeps poachers away, and disposes of man-eaters, but does not like to kill. This day a lioness charged, and to save himself he fired. He dug three cubs out of a lair in the rocks, two very scrappy little balls of fur and the third a much more dignified fellow that seemed to take the back seat of the auto and the fond attentions of Mrs. Adamson quite for granted.

Two were sent off to a European zoo, and the third, named Elsa, was reared by the Adamsons. This is her story, from the time the three sisters could be held in Mrs. Adamson's arms all at once till Elsa alone reached a substantial 300 pounds.

House - breaking, says Mrs. Adamson, was no problem. Elsa learned what "no" meant, sometimes had a stick used on her, and could be a very sheepish loiness when she rubbed her nose against them to show she was sorry. She was as good as a watchdog, warned of snakes and chased away other animals.

Amidst War's Ruin, Fate

ON A LONESOME PORCH. By Ovid Williams Pierce. Doubleday. $3.95.

Their overseer Keg — so tall, severe and loyal, as they remembered him — was to welcome them back. They wrote him they were coming on the train from Raleigh. It was June, 1865, the war was over, the country was desolate, but they were returning to their grand old plantation. So begins this second novel by the author of that fine first "The Plantation."

Miss Ellen, aged and feeble, has lost her son, and her daughter-in-law Lucy, still young, is taking her and her own boy Garrett back to their place. But Keg, now far away, never received the letter; ill - tempered hostile Negroes badger them; they have trouble finding a horse and carriage to drive out the 10 miles to their destination. Negroes who have thrown off slavery have worked out their ancient hatreds in destroying furniture and breaking doors and windows, so that only the shell is left. Three orphan children run about wild, lonesome, Nannie isn't particular whom she welcomes to her cabin, Enoch alone can act the man in the first crises to develop.

This is Miss Ellen's story. She longs to return to the life of old, but it was so sheltered she is forced to wonder at the last whether it amounted to a life at all. As the old woman looks back nostalgically, the young one is confronted by the rousing challenge of the present and the promise of the future.

Pierce excels in the recall of the past, or in presenting the lonesome man and woman who themselves recall it. This is a gentle, dreamy, loving book. It's a picture softly veiled of people troubled but valiant struggling against the sternest fate. Without quite the extreme of poignancy of the first novel, this is still a worthy successor.

HI-FI and STEREO

by Greg Hare

"SONGS AND SOUNDS OF A SOFT, WARM, MOOD." Roberto Rossani his orchestra and chorus. Somerset P-12300. Roberto Rossani has scored and conducted a collection of wonderful ballads that set a soft, warm mood for dining, dreaming or any special purpose that could spell romance or reminiscence. Selections include "If I Loved You," "All The Things You Are," "Always," "Some Enchanted Evening" and others.

This month Kapp Records will introduce a new label, Medallion, devoted essentially to high quality recording, with a special emphasis on stereo that has never before been heard in the field. The cost of these Medallion line will be slightly higher, according to Kapp. But I believe the resultant sound will more than justify the slightly higher prices. I hope to review the new series in next weeks column.

"MARAIS & MIRANDA GO NATIVE." More songs of the South African Veld. Kapp KL-1180 (LP), KS-3180 (stereo). International balladeers Mariais and Miranda bring you something excitingly newsongs which recreate the original music of the African people. For many years, they have collected folk songs and stories from many lands, translated them into modern terms and presented them in a form most understandable and enjoyable to modern audiences. By use of unusual instrumental and vocal effects, Marais and Miranda reproduce the sounds of primitive African instruments, and they have captured the flavor and essence of the music that is indigenous to that mysterious and colorful continent.

"AFTER SIX." Dick Hyman his piano and trio. MGM Records E3827. Dick Hyman is a versatile musician who plays piano and organ, arranges and conducts and is the musical director of the Arthur Godfrey show. With his trio, Dick has been heard in various New York clubs and many other high spots. So after six sit back and enjoy "After Six."

"BLUES & ROOTS-CHARLIE MINGUS." Atlantic 1305. Charles Mingus said, "We played down to earth and together, and I think this music has a tremendous amount of life and emotion." This group has a very clean and bright style. Selections include "Wednesday Night Prayer Meeting," "Crying Blues," "Tensions," "My Jelly Roll Soul" and others.

"If you want to get to heven .... SHOUT." Gogi Grant with the Billy May orchestra and chorus. Liberty LRP 3144 (LP). In this Gogi approaches these songs with sincerity and warmth, making them her own. She manages to capture completely their compelling rhythms enthusiasm and emotion. They belong, for this moment, to her and to you, the listener. Gospel songs have a warmth, sincerity and simple beauty which are found in no other music. They are true folk songs, the spontaneous expressions of joy, sorrow, hope, fear and love. Although they belong to everyone, they become, for the moment, the very personal expression of the one who sings them, Gogi Grant.

The TOP TEN

1. STUCK ON YOU, Elvis Presley
2. GREENFIELDS, Brothers Four
3. THEME FROM A SUMMER PLACE, Percy Faith
4. NIGHT, Jackie Wilson
5. WHITE SILVER SANDS, Bill Black's Combo
6. SINK THE BISMARCK, Johnny Horton
7. SIXTEEN REASONS, Connie Stevens
8. THE OLD LAMPLIGHTER, Browns
9. FOOTSTEPS, Steve Lawrence

Personal Thinking About Broadway

NEW YORK (UPI) — With the 1950-60 Broadway theatrical season nearing its end, the time has come for the some personal reflections on its offerings.

The most completely satisfying drama was William Gibson's "The Miracle Worker," still a sell-out. It has been a long time since Broadway has had a play so emotionally charged as this story of the education of young Helen Keller. The performances by Anne Bancroft and Patty Duke would be difficult to better.

"Bye Bye Birdie," a late arrival, was the most enjoyable of the musicals from a standpoint of over-all excellence, and it catapulted dancer Gower Champion into the forefront of the ranks of top directors. Despite the trend of recent years, it proved that it is still possible to do a musical that is really funny.

While it is true that "Fiorello!" has a certain distinctiveness and stature, this musical leaves considerable to be desired in the song department.

Britain's Peter Shaffer showed evidence of a first-rate knack for tight dramatic writing in "Five Finger Exercise," generally regarded as the best of the foreign dramas, but I found this a rather trite and tired slice of family life that managed to attract attention because there was little competition in its category.

Possibly the season's biggest triumph was attained by Jackie Gleason in "Take Me Along," not merely because he was extremely good in this musical, but because he proved wrong all of the Broadway wise-acres who, thinking they knew the mercurial comedian, had predicted he would put up with such a routine for six weeks or a couple of months and then find some way of getting out.

I still think Lillian Hellman's "The Little Foxes" is one of the finest American plays ever written—and that her current hit, "Toys in The Attic," is a claptrap affair.

The biggest disappointment was the "Saratoga" musical. It seemed like a natural, but this was one case where too much faithfulness to the source material (Edna Ferber's novel) was disastrous. Nevertheless the score by Harold Arlen and Johnny Mercer was a good one.

The importance of good material to a fine player was never given more point than in the case of Rex Harrison and "The Fighting Cock." Unless it was in the case of Shirley Booth and "A second String." May both have much better luck next time.

I'll never understand why Melvin Douglas won the Tony award as male dramatic star for his work in "The Best Man," in which he is, admittedly, quite good. But he was better in a much more challenging role in the earlier "The Gang's All Here." Could it be that the political slants of the two characters in these two political plays had something to do with it?

The most underrated play was Robert Anderson's "Silent Night, Lonely Night," beautifully projected by Henry Fonda and Barbara Bel Geddes. Static it may have been, but it had real quality.

A Sailor's Tale Is Sadly Told

MY LIFE. By Grand Adm. Erich Raeder. United States Naval Institute. $6.

Grand Adm. Raeder, chief of the German Navy for nearly 15 years, 19 of them under Hitler, has written a sad and curious personal memoir. It is sad because Raeder, a man of the highest personal and professional competence, found himself in with the wrong crowd. It is curious because so much is missing here that one might expect to find.

The high point of Raeder's life seems to have been the Battle of Jutland (or Skagerrak, as the Germans called it) when, as a rising young officer, he found himself in the thick of battle with the vaunted British Grand Fleet in 1916. On the bridge, as aide to Adm. Hipper, he experienced the fulfillment every sailor hopes for — engaging the enemy in decisive battle.

After that came defeat for Germany, revolution, and the arid years when he was a sailor without a navy. The second part of his story is the rebuilding of the German Navy, beginning in 1928, the brief successes early in World War II, the loss of major units in unsatisfactory, piecemeal engagements, the break with Hitler and Raeder's resignation early in 1943. It was a frustrating experience, capped with the personal tragedy of finding himself in the dock at the Nurnberg trials, sentenced to life imprisonment at the age of 70. Nine years later, in 1955, he came out of Spandau, still strong in spirit but broken in body, to return to a Germany he never knew.

It is a moving book, from which Raeder emerges as a man of strong and upright character. Yet it is disappointing, for one catches no strong glimpse of Hitler, Goering and the other Nazis, with whom Raeder was so long associated.

Even the events of the naval war, and particularly the submarine phase, are referred to only in the most general outline. One will not find here the full, inside story of the naval war, as seen from the German side. Rather the very personal story of a trusted and trusting officer, perhaps a bit naive, whose hopes for a glorious German navy were sold out by his own associates.

RUNNING THE SCALES

With JOHN CALE

The adult choir of the West Monroe First Baptist Church has set a concert performance for May 27 at 8:15 p.m. in the church's new recreational building located on Clayton Street between North 3rd and 4th streets.

According to Jack Day, director of the 75 - member, all-volunteer choir, the program will be divided into five sections: a popular group of selections, followed by folk, spirituals, sacred and patriotic music.

In the popular vien, all music is from the musical comedy, "South Pacific." Day pointed out the program was open to the public free of charge.

POPULAR BEAT

The climb to the popularity summit of musical comedy has been mentioned already in many places and publications. One angle of this makes interesting food for musical thinkers — the rise of the ever - so - light operas comes at a time when pop tunes are as a rule pretty low in quality. Could it be that the only place you can be sure of hearing a decent new tune is on the musical stage?

This question required some first - hand research on the part of this scale runner and the data turned up was noteworthy. Live musicians performing locally are surviving on tunes from a "pre-rock" era. And the patrons are enjoying it.

Without naming sources or informants, it is understood some professional performers now playing in the area of the Ouachita River can hold the attention of dancers or listeners with popular tunes bearing dates of 1915 to 1940.

For example, one young lady was reported not to have batted a real eyelash when asked to play "Bye Bye Blackbird," which was sung by north Louisiana's Gene Austin when the musical comedy "Bye Bye Birdie" was not even a germ in its grandparents' minds. The old timer really sounded good, too, sources said.

Significant among the findings was the encouraging indication that today's pro's are playing and singing in the lyrical idiom of the post-roaring '20's and the pre - World War II jive and "boogie" period.

Calls for any Jerome Kern selection from "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" to "Long Ago and Far Away," brought no faltering at the keyboards or chord progressions.

CASTRO'S LOOKING

Someone said there was a latin American gentleman in town "looking for somebody." While listening to one performer behind a combination organ - piano combination, a reporter believed he had found the quarry. In order to produce intricate latin beats of the "cha-cha," rhumba, and like complexities, there was a machine which uttered such rhythms mounted in a box beside the organ. "So," concluded the reporter," it could be that agents from a nearby island were looking for the electronic Cubans in the little box."

A real, live drummer also took a dim view of the musical automation which was taking his place. But there's another side. If no automatic rhythm, many managements could not afford to hire one musician, all alive.

So, by reliable authority comes a report from the live popular music front. The data was a pleasure to compile!

A Fitting Salute To A 'Sea Queen'

The 43,000 - ton Ile de France was launched at St. Nazaire, modest port on the low-lying Loire riverbank, in March, 1926. It was a risky operation, and once launched, the great ship threatened disastrously to run away. But she was handsomely outfitted, stocked with an ocean of liquor from champagne to vin ordinaire and began her adventurous 32 years of ocean-going. A Japanese shipyard is cutting her up for scrap.

Passengers were of all categories: The famous actors, writers and singers, financiers, stowaways, a blond blackmailer and card sharps. In World War II she tied up in New York, sailed off bravely to southern France, and finally embarked on a historic career in any and all the seas you can name. Among the 400,000 soldiers she transported were countless Americans. Some German prisoners plotted to seize her and didn't miss by much. One of her finest hours was the Andrea Doria rescue.

After the war, reconditioned, she resumed her Atlantic crossings. Martinis can no longer be bought for 25 cents, nor Scotch for 15 cents a glass; and oddly, as prices went up, the elegance lost a little of its luster. But you won't forget her. Nobody remembers which plane took him to Paris, but ships have a personality and a character, and you could shed a tear for the good old Ile. You and your friends and my friends and I crossed in her. Now she does us one last service: She makes a good book.

Spectacle Between The Covers

THE KREMLIN. BY David Douglas Duncan. New York Graphis Society. $25.

After considerable difficulties in getting the pictures, and further difficulties in finding a publisher to take on this expensive project, Duncan gives us a thrilling collection of scenes:

Great snowy Moscow square, bursting fireworks, processions; vast halls, chambers, mural decorations; the delicate Faberge Easter egg, the priceless gowns, the massive thrones of czar and czarina, the jeweled crowns, the gold inlaid mace, sword and knife; the paneled coaches and plumed helmets.

Guide To Good Reading

By FRANCES FLANDERS
Ouachita Parish Librarian

Each week brings a number of new titles to help build up the book collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. A new western, which is better than most fiction of this type is "The Nameless Breed" written by Will C. Brown. Sidonie Collette is the author of "The Other One." It is an outstanding modern novel and will appeal to many readers. S. S. Van Dine is the author of "The Canary Murder Case." This is a Philo Vance mystery and will be widely read. "Tongue of Fire" by Ernest Frankel has its setting in Washington of the present time. It is the story of Kane O'Conner, a congressman who, driven by an insatiable craving for fame, set events in motion which rocked the nation and the world. It will be compared to Alan Drury's "Advise and Consent" and will call for a great deal of comment.

A very thoughtful novel is "A European Education" by Romain Gary. It has its setting in Europe of World War II and is concerned with the creation and defense of civilization. A gripping book of science fiction is "Night of the Big Heat" by John Lymington. It is the story of how a small group of ordinary people, armed only with courage, face the first attempt at invasion by an undetected planet. Another book of science fiction is "The Haunted Stars" by Edmond Hamilton.

The field of non-fiction is especially large and the new books added fill many of the gaps in our library collection. Donald A. Laird is the author of "Techniques for Efficient Remembering." This is a book which everyone with a faulty memory should read. "The Story of the Reformation" by William Stevenson adds new light to this important chapter of church history. A very unusual and interesting book is "The Thief in the White Collar" written by Norman Jaspan. This book tells about petty thievery in many business concerns and is a most illuminating study. A book which should appeal to all students who are planning to attend college is "How to Pass High on the American College Testing Program Exams" published by the Arco Publishing Co. William K. Selden has writtes a book which he calls "Accreditation a Struggle over Standards in Higher Education." It should be of great interest to school people.

"Atomic Age Physics" is the title of a new book by Henry Semat, which adds much to our scientific collection. A book for scholars of English literature is "English Vernacular Hands" written by C. E. Wright. Do you suffer from backache? If you do you will want to see "Your Aching Back" written by David O. Shuman, which gives information on causes and treatments for backache. "How to Bowl Better" is the title of a helpful book written by Ned Day. "Baseball Is a Funny Game" is the new book written by Joe Garagiola, which will appeal to all enthusiasts of the sport. Those who are interested in writing fiction should read "The Basic Formulas of Fiction" by William Harris. A new book of poetry is "Terraces of Light" by Marya Zaturenska.

Have you ever dreamed of retiring and travelling abroad? Samuel E. Lessere has written his account of doing just this in a book which he calls: "We Retired to Travel; How We Stretched Our Lives and Dollars Abroad." He gives much excellent advice to those who would like to travel, but think they cannot afford it. It is very interesting to note how many books about World War II have recently been published. This week there are two new ones "Tobruk; the Story of a Seige" by Anthony Heckstall - Smith and "Climax at Midway" by Thaddeus Tuleja. Adlai Stevenson has a new book of speeches which he calls "Putting First Things First." Three new biographies are also available "D'Annunzio" by Anthony Rhodes is a biography of the Italian poet. "Ring the Night Bell" by Paul Magnuson is an interesting book of the reminiscences of a physician while "My Husband, Arthur Murray" was written by Kathryn Murray and tells a great deal about their life together.

Ex-Russian Paratrooper Speaker Here

Nikolai Alexandrenko, former Russian paratroop officer, will address the men of the Monroe First Baptist Church, Monroe, at their regular Brotherhood Supper Meeting this Tuesday at 6:00 p.m.

He is presently professor of classical languages and religion at Louisiana Baptist College in Pineville. Born in Bryansk, Russia, Nikolai Alexandrenko served as an officer in the Russian paratroop corps during the Second World War. He was liberated by the Americans from a German prisoner of war camp. After reading a Gospel tract in Germany, Mr. Alexandrenko was converted to Christ and refused to return to Soviet Russia.

"Brother Nick" came to the U.S. to study for the ministry and graduated from Louisiana Baptist College, New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, and Tulane University. Now a naturalized U.S. citizen he is married to an American and has two sons, Paul and David.

Bill Husted, president of the men's group of the First Baptist Church, urges that each man bring a guest to hear this unusual speaker. Those desiring reservations should contact the church office before noon Monday, Husted said.

GUEST SPEAKER at morning and evening services today at the First Baptist Church, Monroe, will be H. C. Abbott, Shreveport, now serving as president of the Louisiana Baptist Convention.

Laymen Now Doing More Church Work

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

A Catholic leader calls it "the most arresting Christian phenomenon of our time."

A Protestant scholar says it is "the most significant change that has come in the religious life of our generation."

They are referring to a great arousal of laymen.

No one can say exactly when or where or why it started. But you can see it happening in every denomination.

Ordinary Christian men and women are waking up to the fact that they have a job to do. It is a job they have little understood and largely neglected in the past. It is more difficult and more important than the traditional kind of "layman's work" which consisted of helping the professional clergy attend to the institutional chores of the church.

What is this much-discussed "ministry of the laity?" Protestant and Catholic writers, who have turned out scores of books on the subject lately, agree that it has two dimensions.

First, they say, every layman is called upon to help communicate the good news of Christ to those who have not heard or understood it. The commandment to preach the Gospel to "every living creature" was not directed solely at ordained clergymen: It was laid upon the whole church. And laymen constitute more than 99 per cent of the manpower of the church. In their everyday business, professional and social contacts, they can reach out to people who will never hear the church's message in any other way.

Second, laymen have a unique opportunity to help Christianize the social order of which they are a part. They can do this by taking their faith to work with them—by acting like Christians in the decisions they make as businessmen union officials, politicians, diplomats, television broadcasters, newspaper reporters or so on.

The late Pope Pius XII called this task "the consecration of the world," and pointed out that only laymen can perform it. The World Council of Churches expressed the same thought in these words:

"The real battles of the faith today are being fought in factories, shops, offices and farms, in political parties and government agencies, in countless homes, in the press, radio and television, in the relationship of nations. Very often it is said that the church should 'go into these spheres'; but the fact is that the church is already in these spheres in the persons of its laity."

THE REV. CHARLES B. Thompson formerly pastor of the Highland Park Baptist Church, Monroe, received the degree of master of theology at New Orleans Baptist Seminary last week.

Graham Likes Golf But Not On Sabbath

By FRED A. PARKER

BLACK MOUNTAIN, N. C. (UPI) — "I guess I know him better than anybody outside the family," said golf pro Ross Taylor, "and you won't find a more down-to-earth fellow than Billy Graham."

Graham, recently returned from a months-long crusade to Africa, played the pretty little golf course nestled in the foothills of the Black Mountains with two friends while Taylor related many personal glimpses to support his description of Graham as a "regular fellow."

"He plays five or six times a week when he's home," Taylor said, "and it's a sight when he gets out with his regular threesome — Cliff Bower, and Grady Wilson, his associates.

"Everytime one of them goes in the woods, the other two follow to check the strokes," Taylor said. "Cliff won't trust either Billy or Grady to keep score. They'll come off the green with Billy claiming a five, and Cliff will count off a six and put it down."

Graham lives two miles up the road toward Montreat, N. C., and another rugged two miles up the side of a mountain.

"He comes down here to play a lot, and we slip off some to Spruce Pine, Blowing Rock, Linville and the like to get away from the constant line of people who want to see Billy," Taylor said.

"That man won't pass up a person. Everytime we go to Asheville to eat, he will be shaking hands and talking to people till the last possible minute before leaving for an important appointment.

"I usually have to grab him by the coat tails to get him out."

Graham's golf game at its best is in the low 80's, Taylor said, and his woods are the best part of his game.

"He can knock it a mile when he hits one good," Taylor said.

"I was having a terrible day at Beaver Lake course in Asheville one day," related Taylor, a pro who flirts with par most of the time. "I'd miss a shot and I'd say, 'I swear.' I noticed Billy looking at me every time I'd say it, but he didn't say anything.

"We were playing again a couple of days later and I noticed he had a small Testament in his shirt pocket with a slip of paper marking a place in it. Pretty soon, I flubbed one and just got an 'I . . .' out when I saw him reaching for the Testament.

"I . . . dang well missed it," I said, because I knew Billy was fixing to light into me. Since then I've never said 'I swear' around him."

Graham's keen sense of humor was displayed the time Taylor was elected an elder in the Presbyterian Church.

"We'll, you've been a deacon and now an elder in your church. "One of these days I'm going to bring my Bible down here and make a Christian out of you."

"Actually, Billy is more of a Presbyterian than he is a Baptist," Taylor remarked. "He was raised a Presbyterian and all his people are Presbyterians. He became a Baptist evangelist because he did not have enough theological education to qualify as a Presbyterian minister.

"He's as fine a man as you'll ever meet and as likable as any man alive," Taylor said.

Then the friend of presidents and kings, Graham, strolled into the plain little clubhouse, had a soft drink with the boys, replaying the golf match just like any Sunday duffer — except, of course, that Billy Graham doesn't golf on Sunday.

SALES ARE SEPEARATED

NEW YORK (UPI)—American Bosch Arma Corp. today announced it has separated its commercial and military sales into two separate activities. Commercial sales will be handled by the new American Bosch Sales Division. The company said it will also consolidate the operations of its Chicago division with Teledynamics Division of Philadelphia and the Arma Division of Garden City, N.Y.

New Building Program At College Place

Ground - Breaking Ceremonies for the new Educational Building of the College Place Baptist Church will be held today, on the building site at the corner of Harrison and Sherrouse Streets immediately following the Morning Worship Service according to the pastor, Reverend T. Earl Ogg.

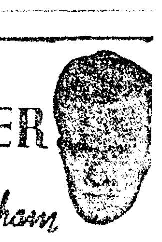
Mr. George Vaughan, Chairman of the Building and Plan Committee, will take the first spade of dirt from the ground.

Others of the Building Committe include L. L. Price, D. C. Black, C. O. Ringwald, and R. R. Bushnell. The plans for this building have been under study for more than two years. The new building fully equipped will cost approximately $210,000.00.

It will house four adult departments in the Sunday School on the first floor, six primary and two junior departments on the second floor. It will also include a large banquet room with kitchen.

A balcony will be added to the auditorium providing accomodations for 210 more in the Worship Service bringing the seating capacity of the auditorium to approximately 1200. The new building will tie on to the present Educational Building with a vestibule 30 feet wide. The architect is the firm of Johns and Neel Lamar Moore, contractor of Monroe, was the low bidder, and the contract for the building was signed early this week.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham



QUESTION: In First Corinthians, chapter eleven, it is taught that a woman should pray with her head covered. But it also tells us a woman's hair is given her for a covering. Would you explain this, please. R.E.G.

ANSWER: In this particular portion of First Corinthians, Pa[ul] is writing concerning proper con[duct] and decorum in public wor[ship]. It is a matter of doing wh[at] is appropriate and in good ta[ste]. For a woman in Paul's time [to] have her head uncovered and h[er] hair closely cut would indica[te] that she was without the prop[er] tokens or signs of submission a[nd] humility which were befitting [a] Christian. She would appear in [a] Christian assembly as a per[son] who belonged in the company [of] fallen women and those of [ill] repute.

To be sure, it was a matter [of] conforming to the standards [of] the time and avoiding any [ap]pearances that would be in [the] least misleading. A study of [the] Scriptures will always indic[ate] that a Christian's (both ma[n] and woman's) dress will alw[ays] incline in the direction of [that] which is in good taste. Mode[sty] marks the Christian in every [sit]uation. That is what Paul is [teach]ing the people of his time.

Head Of Home For Children Resigns Post

Rev. White was appointed [by] the Louisiana Methodist Con[fer]ence, November, 1937, and [has] seen the institution grow fro[m a] small out - dated home to [one] that is modern and adequate [for] present - day needs.

A farewell reception in h[onor] of the service of Rev. and [Mrs.] White will be given today [at] 5:00 p.m., by the board of [di]rectors, of which Dr. Marvi[n] Green, Ruston, is chairman. [The] reception will be held at [illegible] Hall on the home cam[pus]. Friends and alumni of the [Home] are cordially invited.

Start Minister Receives Awa[rd]

START (Special) — A [local] man has been named Rural [Mini]ster of the Year in a na[tional] publication, according to an an[nouncement] received here [this] week.

Rev. James S. Deal rec[eived] the honor from the Progr[essive] Farmer. Selection was ma[de on] the basis of a biography su[bmit]ted by News-Star—World [corre]spondnet, Mrs. Orea Benn[illegible].

The minister has been i[nvited] to join other outstanding pa[stors] from rural areas to att[end a] workshop at Emory Unive[rsity], Georgia, during June.

Rev. Earl B. Emmerich, pastor at the First Met[hodist] Church, West Monroe, als[o re]ceived the award while s[erving] in Richland Parish.

Ex-Russian Paratrooper Speaker Here

Nikolai Alexandrenko, former Russian paratroop officer, will address the men of the Monroe First Baptist Church, Monroe, at their regular Brotherhood Supper Meeting this Tuesday at 6:00 p.m.

He is presently professor of classical languages and religion at Louisiana Baptist College in Pineville. Born in Bryansk, Russia, Nikolai Alexandrenko served as an officer in the Russian paratroop corps during the Second World War. He was liberated by the Americans from a German prisoner of war camp. After reading a Gospel tract in Germany, Mr. Alexandrenko was converted to Christ and refused to return to Soviet Russia.

"Brother Nick" came to the U.S. to study for the ministry and graduated from Louisiana Baptist College, New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, and Tulane University. Now a naturalized U.S. citizen he is married to an American and has two sons, Paul and David.

Bill Husted, president of the men's group of the First Baptist Church, urges that each man bring a guest to hear this unusual speaker. Those desiring reservations should contact the church office before noon Monday, Husted said.

GUEST SPEAKER at morning and evening services today at the First Baptist Church, Monroe, will be H. C. Abbott, Shreveport, now serving as president of the Louisiana Baptist Convention.

Laymen Now Doing More Church Work

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

A Catholic leader calls it "the most arresting Christian phenomenon of our time."

A Protestant scholar says it is "the most significant change that has come in the religious life of our generation."

They are referring to a great arousal of laymen.

No one can say exactly when or where or why it started. But you can see it happening in every denomination.

Ordinary Christian men and women are waking up to the fact that they have a job to do. It is a job they have little understood and largely neglected in the past. It is more difficult and more important than the traditional kind of "layman's work" which consisted of helping the professional clergy attend to the institutional chores of the church.

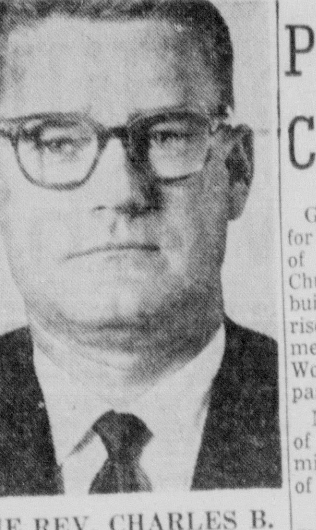
What is this much-discussed "ministry of the laity?" Protestant and Catholic writers, who have turned out scores of books on the subject lately, agree that it has two dimensions.

First, they say, every layman is called upon to help communicate the good news of Christ to those who have not heard or understood it. The commandment to preach the Gospel to "every living creature" was not directed solely at ordained clergymen: It was laid upon the whole church. And laymen constitute more than 99 per cent of the manpower of the church. In their everyday business, professional and social contacts, they can reach out to people who will never hear the church's message in any other way.

Second, laymen have a unique opportunity to help Christianize the social order of which they are a part. They can do this by taking their faith to work with them—by acting like Christians in the decisions they make as businessmen union officials, politicians, diplomats, television broadcasters, newspaper reporters or so on.

The late Pope Pius XII called this task "the consecration of the world," and pointed out that only laymen can perform it. The World Council of Churches expressed the same thought in these words:

"The real battles of the faith today are being fought in factories, shops, offices and farms, in political parties and government agencies, in countless homes, in the press, radio and television, in the relationship of nations. Very often it is said that the church should 'go into these spheres'; but the fact is that the church is already in these spheres in the persons of its laity."



THE REV. CHARLES B. Thompson formerly pastor of the Highland Park Baptist Church, Monroe, received the degree of master of theology at New Orleans Baptist Seminary last week.

Graham Likes Golf But Not On Sabbath

By FRED A. PARKER

BLACK MOUNTAIN, N. C. (UPI) — "I guess I know him better than anybody outside the family," said golf pro Ross Taylor, "and you won't find a more down-to-earth fellow than Billy Graham."

Graham, recently returned from a months-long crusade to Africa, played the pretty little golf course nestled in the foothills of the Black Mountains with two friends while Taylor related many personal glimpses to support his description of Graham as a "regular fellow."

"He plays five or six times a week when he's home," Taylor said, "and it's a sight when he gets out with his regular threesome — Cliff Bower, and Grady Wilson, his associates.

"Everytime one of them goes in the woods, the other two follow to check the strokes," Taylor said. "Cliff won't trust either Billy or Grady to keep score. They'll come off the green with Billy claiming a five, and Cliff will count off a six and put it down."

Graham lives two miles up the road toward Montreat, N. C., and another rugged two miles up the side of a mountain.

"He comes down here to play a lot, and we slip off some to Spruce Pine, Blowing Rock, Linville and the like to get away from the constant line of people who want to see Billy," Taylor said.

"That man won't pass up a person. Everytime we go to Asheville to eat, he will be shaking hands and talking to people till the last possible minute before leaving for an important appointment.

"I usually have to grab him by the coat tails to get him out."

Graham's golf game at its best is in the low 80's, Taylor said, and his woods are the best part of his game.

"He can knock it a mile when he hits one good," Taylor said.

"I was having a terrible day at Beaver Lake course in Asheville one day," related Taylor, a pro who flirts with par most of the time. "I'd miss a shot and I'd say, 'I swear.' I noticed Billy looking at me every time I'd say it, but he didn't say anything.

"We were playing again a couple of days later and I noticed he had a small Testament in his shirt pocket with a slip of paper marking a place in it. Pretty soon, I flubbed one and just got an 'I . . .' out when I saw him reaching for the Testament.

"I . . . dang well missed it," I said, because I knew Billy was fixing to light into me. Since then I've never said 'I swear' around him."

Graham's keen sense of humor was displayed the time Taylor was elected an elder in the Presbyterian Church.

"We'll, you've been a deacon and now an elder in your church. "One of these days I'm going to bring my Bible down here and make a Christian out of you."

"Actually, Billy is more of a Presbyterian than he is a Baptist," Taylor remarked. "He was raised a Presbyterian and all his people are Presbyterians. He became a Baptist evangelist because he did not have enough theological education to qualify as a Presbyterian minister.

"He's as fine a man as you'll ever meet and as likable as any man alive," Taylor said.

Then the friend of presidents and kings, Graham, strolled into the plain little clubhouse, had a soft drink with the boys, replaying the golf match just like any Sunday duffer — except, of course, that Billy Graham doesn't golf on Sunday.

The company said it will also consolidate the operations of its Chicago division with Teledynamics Division of Philadelphia and the Arma Division of Garden City, N.Y.

New Building Program At College Place

Ground - -Breaking Ceremonies for the new Educational Building of the College Place Baptist Church will be held today, on the building site at the corner of Harrison and Sherrouse Streets immediately following the Morning Worship Service according to the pastor, Reverend T. Earl Ogg.

Mr. George Vaughan, Chairman of the Building and Plan Committee, will take the first spade of dirt from the ground.

Others of the Building Committe include L. L. Price, D. C. Black, C. O. Ringwald, and R. R. Bushnell. The plans for this building have been under study for more than two years. The new building fully equipped will cost approximately $210,000.00.

It will house four adult departments in the Sunday School on the first floor, six primary and two junior departments on the second floor. It will also include a large banquet room with kitchen.

A balcony will be added to the auditorium providing accomodations for 210 more in the Worship Service bringing the seating capacity of the auditorium to approximately 1200. The new building will tie on to the present Educational Building with a vestibule 30 feet wide. The architect is the firm of Johns and Neel. Lamar Moore, contractor of Monroe, was the low bidder, and the contract for the building was signed early this week.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: In First Corinthians, chapter eleven, it is taught that a woman should pray with her head covered. But it also tells us a woman's hair is given her for a covering. Would you explain this, please. R.E.G.

ANSWER: In this particular portion of First Corinthians, Paul is writing concerning proper conduct and decorum in public worship. It is a matter of doing what is appropriate and in good taste. For a woman in Paul's time to have her head uncovered and her hair closely cut would indicate that she was without the proper tokens or signs of submission and humility which were befitting the Christian. She would appear in a Christian assembly as a person who belonged in the company of fallen women and those of low reputation.

To be sure, it was a matter of conforming to the standards of the time and avoiding any appearances that would be in the least misleading. A study of the Scriptures will always indicate that a Christian's (both man's and woman's) dress will always incline in the direction of that which is in good taste. Modesty marks the Christian in every situation. That is what Paul is telling the people of his time.

Rockefeller Turns Down Leader Bid

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller Saturday declined an invitation to serve as either temporary or permanent chairman of the Republican National Convention.

In a letter to Sen. Thurston B. Morton, chairman of the Republican National Committee, Rockefeller also ruled out the possibility of his delivering the keynote speech.

Rockefeller, in strong language, ruled out once and for all the possibility of his becoming the GOP vice presidential candidate and said that to avoid any misunderstanding of his intentions he would not attend the convention at all.

Several months ago, after a pulse-taking trip across the country, Rockefeller announced he would not seek the presidential nomination. Since then, Vice president Richard M. Nixon has urged him to accept the second place on the party ticket.

Morton followed up Nixon's suggestion with the invitation to Rockefeller to officiate at the opening of the convention.

In his letter to Morton, Rockefeller said he was honored by the invitation and had given the matter "sympathetic and conscientious examination."

Billy Hargiss Elected State Jaycee Prexy

Elected was Billy Hargiss, 915 S. 3rd St., who defeated Mel Shanks, of Jefferson Parish. Hargiss was local president of the Jaycees in 1958, and served as local director three terms. He was currently serving as regional vice president of the Jaycees.

The newly elected 32-year-old president is married to the former Angeline Rizzo of Monroe. He is the father of six children.

After Hargiss' election, his running partners for the state of officers were elected unanimously by delegates at the convention.

Those elected from West Monroe were Jimmy Danna, treasurer; and Layton Stephenson, parliamentarian.

Campaign manager Jimmy Terry, said that with the election of Hargiss and his staff, the State Jaycee headquarters will be brought to Monroe for the coming year.

The convention which began Friday ends today.

Bankers

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Two former bankers were arrested Saturday on charges of violating election laws and the banking law. Kim Yung-chan, former governor of the government-controlled Reconstruction Bank, and Pai Che-in, former vice governor of the Bank of Korea, had been questioned in connection with the March 15 election. Their detention increases to seven the number of those arrested on election-rigging charges. The two banking officials are accused of responsibility for financing part of the multimillion-dollar campaign fund of the majority liberals through sale of government bonds.

Nixon Camp Says Wagon On The Way

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's backers claimed Saturday that his heavy vote in recent state primaries shows great grass roots strength and that his "bandwagon is really rolling."

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, unveiled figures showing that in eight primaries to date, Nixon has outpolled Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), the front-running Democratic candidate, 2,669,000 to 1,477,000.

Klein said the Nixon forces felt that "the most significant thing is the vice president's great strength in the farm areas" where many observers have belittled Republican chances.

He told newsmen the primary votes show that Nixon is "far ahead of his party, especially in farm areas." Also, Klein said, "it refutes arguments that Nixon can't win independent Democratic votes and doesn't have the strong and enthusiastic backing of the Republican rank and file."

To back up the latter point, Klein produced figures purporting to show that in five primaries during the April 12-May 10 period, Nixon drew 2,264,553 votes compared with 2,188,121 for President Eisenhower in 1956 in the same areas.

"The fact that the voters have turned out with such enthusiasm points up that the Nixon bandwagon is rolling and rolling hard, particularly at the grass roots," Klein declared.

Klein would not comment on Republican Chairman Thruston B. Morton's statement that the spy-plane incident in Russia had actually strengthened the U.S. position. But there were other indications that Nixon is confident, as of now, that the incident will not hurt the GOP in November.

The Nixon forces said they were particularly cheered by the vice president's showing in the recent Nebraska primary, where he polled 71,463 write-in votes to 78,30 for Kennedy, whose name was on the ballot.

Nixon, who had privately predicted that Kennedy would win in West Virginia, is known to now regard the Massachusetts senator as more than an odds-on favorite to take the top Democratic spot.

Rockefeller Turns Down Leader Bid

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller Saturday declined an invitation to serve as either temporary or permanent chairman of the Republican National Convention.

In a letter to Sen. Thurston B. Morton, chairman of the Republican National Committee, Rockefeller also ruled out the possibility of his delivering the keynote speech.

Rockefeller, in strong language, ruled out once and for all the possibility of his becoming the GOP vice presidential candidate and said that to avoid any misunderstanding of his intentions he would not attend the convention at all.

Several months ago, after a pulse-taking trip across the country, Rockefeller announced he would not seek the presidential nomination. Since then, Vice president Richard M. Nixon has urged him to accept the second place on the party ticket.

Morton followed up Nixon's suggestion with the invitation to Rockefeller to officiate at the opening of the convention.

In his letter to Morton, Rockefeller said he was honored by the invitation and had given the matter "sympathetic and conscientious examination."

THE FOOTLOOSE LEAGUE

Are you of that parental group that dumps their kids at the ball game, departs elsewhere for the next two or three hours, and can't be certain what your child is doing or even if he's at the game?

Parents will forever be blamed for the conduct of their kids, regardless of conditions of the times and ever changing ways of life. We don't believe any parent intends to be negligent in ordering their child's conduct. Sometimes they only need to be made aware of problems and they'll correct any erratic ways fast enough.

Our intent today is to create some of this awareness.

We focus this coming report on the boys' baseball programs at this point, mainly because the Little Boys and Little Leagues are running into the most headaches at the time.

The same problems, or variations, might exist for other programs, but there are twenty northeast Louisiana leagues in over a dozen towns presenting Little League and Little Boys programs this year. Many of them offer games every night except Sunday. Often each program includes two games.

Lots of parents have the idea that if they, with other things they want to do, put the kids off at the game they'll be well looked after. We don't know of anybody or anything that's prepared to shepherd all the boys and girls who are turned loose on their own at some of these little parks. There are adult supervisors for the teams that are playing. The little athletes have their coaches looking after them, but these same men are not able to supervise the actions of all the fans. Sometimes even the mothers and fathers who come to the games with their boys and girls have their hands full looking after their own. You can imagine for yourself the mischief the footloose kids are getting into. Some are not at the parks to see the games which are only a means to them for escaping parental care. Some do not linger long at the park, but will be back in time for mom or dad to pick them up when the games are over.

At least one league discourages children attending night games as spectators without their parents or a responsible adult.

One Little League leader says the conduct of the boys and girls wasn't such a problem at the games, but he wished the parents would come for them when the night's play is over. He related instances of children lingering around the parks from an hour to nearly two hours after the last out, waiting for transportation home.

A Little Boys League is directing letters to the parents of all boys participating in its program.

This letter, in part, said:

"We are encountering difficulty . . . and ask your help and cooperation in bringing about a solution . . . exercise firm control over your children when they are attending games . . . the number of boys and girls guilty of bad conduct is in a minority but we have several instances of fights, yelling at the players during the games, and, in general, disturbing conduct that is unbecoming to our code of ethics . . . if the activity is allowed to continue only harm can result and we will be defeated in our practice of running a program that is based on clean, sportsmanlike conduct . . ."

Some complaints are aimed at former players, boys a year or two too old to play with the Little Leaguers and Little Boys. They come to the parks unescorted and without proper supervision. It might pay some parents to check on the doings of their boys and girls who are abusing their freedoms at these games.

Parents have long been a complaint in most kids' baseball programs. Some men who would like to manage teams decline to do so because, they say, parents spend too much time trying to run the manager. Even parental conduct at the games is not always too good. Fortunately bad examples are rare.

At least one complaint against a manager, a new one to us, is that a parent wanted him replaced "because he can't teach my son anything." The leagues usually are fortunate to get the needed adult supervision and are happy if the Casey Stengels come up only as incidentals. Right now there is a Minor League in Monroe that still needs four managers. Some of these posts would already be filled if the men didn't fear the headaches from some mothers and fathers trying to tell them how their sons ought to be played.

Baseball for the small fry has enjoyed rapid growth nationally in the past decade. It appears that it will continue to grow. But the abuses that are cropping up need restraints. Directors of leagues just about everywhere are relying on parental help. It's needed in your town, too.

THE COST COMES HIGH

Ruston has had the use of its Bobby James Memorial Gymnasium for a week. The town is proud of this addition to its recreation life and the Ruston Recreation Board certainly will use it to the best advantage of its youth.

It seems that some times these things come to us at excessive costs. Believe the figure was $75,000 for the cost of this gym, but it really cost more—it took the life of Bobby James to bring it about.

It's remindful of the cost of Monroe's own baseball stadium for boys at Forsythe park. In late 1957 men seeking a new plant for Little League baseball couldn't raise $400 on the project. When Dr. William L. Bendel Sr. died in February of 1958, the funds poured in to erect the proposed stadium as a memorial to Dr. Bendel. Kids are beginning their third season of play in Bendel Memorial Stadium, but it took the death of one of their greatest friends to make it possible.

Bobby James was probably the greatest basketball player Ruston High School ever had. He was well on his way to national collegiate prominence and had made the All-Southwest Conference team as a sophomore at Southern Methodist University when he died in the tragic fire at his Ruston home while visiting with his family for the Christmas holidays in 1958.

The SMU basketball team was in Ruston for the gym dedication. So was Bob Pettit, the ex-LSU great of St. Louis Hawks professional fame. Ruston friends jammed the gym to hear the Rev. Ron D. Morris, associate pastor of the First Methodist Church of Dallas, Tex., give the dedication address. The gym was constructed by the Louisiana Foundation, a corporation formed by Bobby James' family in order to make this donation. Floyd James made the formal presentation to the Ruston Recreation Board.

L. J. Fox, commenting on the ceremony in his "Diamond Dope," said "You couldn't ask for a more impressive dedication than that which took place . . . There are times when your emotions get out of control and you feel like you are floating in thin air . . ." He commended the "noble performance" of the parents of Bobby James at the ceremony.

UNKNOWN PULLS UPSET

Norton Defeated In Coast Relays

By JACK STEVENSON

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Bespectacled Doug Smith, a junior at Occidental College, pulled the major upset of the 34th annual West Coast Relays Saturday night by edging favored Ray Norton in the 100-yard dash in 9.4 seconds.

Smith pulled ahead at 80 yards and stood off the challenge of the world record co-holder.

Dave Davis of the Southern California Striders scored another upset when he beat Dallas Long of the University of Southern California in the shot put with a toss of 61 feet 7½ inches.

Long, the big Trojan sophomore, put the 16-pound ball 61-7. The event lost luster when Bill Nieder was forced to withdraw with a muscle injury.

A foursome from the Santa Clara Valley Youth Center smashed the American record for the distance medley with a time of 9 minutes 51.9 seconds. Laszlo Tabori, former Hungarian Olympian who defected to the United States after the 1956 Games, ran an unofficial 3:59.6 mile in the relay.

Al Gordon, formerly of Harvard, started with a 47.8 in the 440. Mike Peake, ex-Coloradan, had a 1:51.6 half mile and Jim Beatty, who ran for North Carolina, did the 1,320 in 2:53.9. Their combined efforts broke the record of 9:42 by the Southern California Striders in 1957. No official world record is recognized in the event.

Stanford was second with a collegiate record time of 9:40.6.

Still, Smith's triumph in the 100 was the big surprise.

Norton had won 29 consecutive sprint races and hadn't been beaten since losing a race in Europe last summer. Losing by inches, Norton was also timed in :09.4. San Jose's Bob Poynter took third in :09.5 with Willie White of California fourth in the same time.

Smith's best time prior to this race was :09.6 although he ran a 10.3 100 meters a week ago. Norton has equalled the world record of :09.3 three times to win accolades as the world's current fastest human.

The first five finishers in the 100 all equalled or bettered the Olympic qualifying standard of :09.5. Amos Marsh of Oregon placed fifth.

Oregon's Dave Edstrom won the 120-yard high hurdles in :13.9 with Chuck Cobb, former Stanford star now in the Navy, second in :14 and Jim Ball, ex-UCLA runner currently in the Air Force, third in :14.1.

Again all three place winners bettered the Olympic standard of :14.4.

In the special mile before the crowd in Fresno State College's Ratcliffe Stadium, Jim Grelle, former NCAA champion from Oregon, won in the comparatively slow time of 4 minutes 0.9 seconds. Jack Wilcox of the Central California Athletic Club, who set the pace for all but the final 220 yards, was second in 4:11.4.

In opening events, New Mexico's Dickie Howard won the 400-meter hurdles in :51.7 while veteran Rink Babka captured the discus with a throw of 178 feet 9 inches.

Both were better than the Olympic qualifying standards.

Neither Howard nor Babka threatened the world records. Glenn Davis, formerly of Ohio State, holds the hurdles mark of :49.2 and Fortune Gordien's 194-6 in the discus still stands.

Rex Cawley, University of Southern California freshman, took second in the hurdles with Walt Arlt of Washington State third. Both were timed in :52.5, the Olympic qualifying standard.

Jay Silvester of Ft. Ord and Bob Humphreys of the Southern California Striders were second and third in the discus with throws of 178-8 and 175-11, also better than the Olympic Trials standard of 173-10½.

Other winners in the afternoon program didn't reach the Olympic standards as Al Andrews of the Striders took the hop, step and jump with 49-11½ and his teammate Mal Robertson went 3,000 meters in 14:45.5.

Waterproof 2nd In State 'C' Carnival

LAKE CHARLES, La. (Special) — Moreauville won the state class 'C' track and field championship here yesterday, scoring 45 and thirteen-fourteenths points to beat Waterproof, second with 38 points.

Waterproof had led the meet after Friday's events with 13 points while Moreauville had seven. Grand Lake was third in the final totals with 29 and eleven-fourteenths points. Central of Delhi scored 16 points to tie for sixth place and Ogden had six-sevenths of a points.

Roy Neathery of Central won the mile run yesterday with a 4:56.8 clocking while Central's Thomas Darghdrill placed in three events, taking second in the 440 and 220 and third in the 100.

Bob Wallace of Waterproof was second in the century with Grand Lake's Billy Wynn winning in 11.0. Wynn also won the 220 with 24.6 with Wallace third. William Watts of Morrow won the 440 with a 52.2 time.

Tom Taylor of Waterproof was fourth in the shot put and Don Simon of Ogden was in a seven-way tie for third in the high jump.

Waterproof was second in the 440 relay behind Moreauville, which won with a 46.2 clocking. Moreauville won the mile relay in 3:38.2 with Waterproof third.

M. C. Reynolds Inks Cards Pact

ST. LOUIS (AP)—M. C. Reynolds, who spent most of his sophomore season on the bench with an ankle injury after a fine rookie campaign, signed his 1960 St. Louis Cardinal football contract Saturday.

The 6-foot, 190-pound former Louisiana State University quarterback set a Cardinal record for pass completions in 1958, when he connected on 105 of 195 throws, a .538 completion percentage.

His second season in the National Football League was limited to appearances in five games.

Tech Divides Doubleheader With Cowboys

LAKE CHARLES, La. (Special) — Louisiana Tech divided a hotly-contested Gulf States Conference doubleheader with McNeese here yesterday, the local Cowboys taking the first game, 5-4, and Tech the nightcap, 7-6.

Both games were decided in the final inning.

The split, coupled with Tech's loss to SLI Friday, dropped the Bulldogs' GSC record to 9-4. Tech has a makeup game with Northeast scheduled next week.

Charley Stevenson's single scored pinch runner Frank Calloura from second with the winning run to give McNeese its victory in the first game. Calloura, running for Clive Gustin, who had singled, stole second before Stevenson's game-winning single.

Tech scored three runs in the top of the seventh to win the final game but had a bad scare in the bottom of the frame when the Cowboys scored two runs and had the bases loaded when the final out was recorded.

VOLS HOST RUSTON HERE

La-Ark Teams Open Today At Bastrop, Monroe Parks

The La-Ark League presents the second two-thirds of its opening program this afternoon with defending champion Monroe playing at Bastrop and highly-regarded new member Ruston meeting last year's runnerup West Monroe at Monroe's Legion Stadium.

Game time for both of this afternoon's contests is 2:30. The league's other two teams, Dubach and Sterlington, opened their season last night at Dubach.

Billy Henderson's Ruston club, loaded with Louisiana Tech talent, is rated the top challenger for Monroe's championship with West Monroe, back with most of last year's players, also considered a threat.

Monroe, now managed by Red Sims, got off to a late start and has not had a workout so far. Like most of the league clubs, the Sports won't have all their players until school is out.

Bastrop, now the Barons instead of the Larks, is again planning the most elaborate opening day. The birthplace of the La-Ark had about 800 at the opening home game last year and hopes to lure a thousand to Baron Park today with a collection of prizes including a week's supply of bread, 10 pounds of fish, a drug prescription and a billy goat.

Bastrop Manager Blackie Black will name his starting pitcher from a staff that includes James Johnson, Jerry Moore, Delma Thompson and Joe Roan. Carroll George or Bob Betz, both with the Sports last season, will pitch for Monroe.

Jim Penton, on the Tech staff this year, or Ray Germany, better known for his basketball ability, will be the opening pitcher for Ruston today with Jackie Norman, George Fruge or Ronnie Haile the moundsman for West Monroe.

Following are team rosters or starting lineups:

MONROE — Manager Ralph "Red" Sims. Tentative starting lineup will have Dooley Haddad in center, Louis Kincaid in left, Buddy O'Connor catching, George Bryan at first, Bryan Blevins in right, Phil Petras at short, Eddie McGowen at second, Ronnie Sims at third and either Carroll George or Bob Betz pitching.

Yes You Will In Carter 'Cap Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Yes You Will, an invader from Maryland, outfought the favored Mail Order in the final sixteenth of a mile Saturday and won the $59,700 Carter Handicap by a half length before an excited crowd of 46,274 at Aqueduct.

This was the 60th running of the famed 7-furlong sprint of triple dead heat fame and Yes You Will equalled the track record of 1:22 2-5 set last April 14 by Derrick. Yes You Will, owned by Edith L. Price and ridden by Larry Adams, carried top weight of 122 pounds. Derrick had only 114 in setting the record.

The Claiborne Farm's Dunce closed with a rush to get third place, a length and a half behind Mail Order, who is owned by the Mamode Farm. Dunce nosed out the Foxcatcher Farms' Rose Net.

Yes You Will, second choice, paid $8.40, $4.10 and $3.20. Mail Order, ridden by Manuel Yeaza and carrying 113 pounds, went off as the 2 and 1 favorite and returned $3.30 and $3.00. Dunce, ridden by Eddie Arcaro and toting 110, was $4.30 to show.

MORE

Eleven started in the race after Ada L. Rice's Talent Show was scratched, leaving the other half of her entry, Rare Rice, to compete.

Yeaza sent Mail Order to the front at once and he held onto the lead rounding the top of the stretch with a quarter of a mile to go. Yes You Will was charging up into contention, and Sir Salonga had the third spot.

At the eighth pole Yes You Will drew alongside Mail Order and it was apparent the Chicago-owned horse couldn't hold the lead. With a sixteenth of a mile to travel, the Maryland colt edged into the front and took down first money of $38,805.

Nimmer finished fifth followed by Jimmer, Sir Salonga, Mystic 2nd, Day Court, Rare Rice and East Indian.

Yes You Will had won four handicaps at Bowie but was disqualified in one of them—the Bowie Handicap. His last big victory at Bowie was in the $100,000 J. B. Campbell Handicap. His purse Saturday gave him a 1960 bankroll of $140,651.

Dubach Tops Sterlington In La-Ark Opener

DUBACH, La. (Special) — Gil Colvin clouted a two-run homer in the first inning to lead Dubach to 12-3 victory over Sterlington in the La-Ark League opener last night.

Manager Bill Bagwell, an ex-pro pitcher, gave up only four hits in going the route to pick up the victory. Bagwell and Colvin each had two hits.

Virgil Manning, Gilmore and Bob Albritton took a turn on the hill for Sterlington, with Manning, the starter taking the loss.

Score by innings:

Sterlington	010 100 — 3	4	2
Dubach	200 055 x—12	6	3

Rebels Picked To Win SEC Football Title

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Mississippi is a unanimous springtime choice to win the 1960 Southeastern Conference football race, according to a poll of schools by The Birmingham News.

The News, in its Sunday editions, said athletic publicity directors of all 11 other schools selected Ole Miss as most likely to succeed next fall.

Schools don't vote for themselves in the rankings. Ole Miss rated Louisiana State in first place.

It was the first time in the 27-year history of The News' springtime football poll that one team got the first-place votes of all the other schools.

Auburn was picked to finish second and Georgia third in the poll.

Other schools, in the order in which they were picked to finish:

WHAT AN UPSET

NEW YORK (UPI) — The great Man O'War was only beaten once in 21 starts. Appropriately, the horse that beat him was named Upset.

Godwin Fans 16 As Indians Win 2nd, 5-2

LAFAYETTE, La. — (Special) — Lefthander Jerry Godwin struck out 16 batters in hurling a brilliant three-hit, 5-2 victory over Southwestern here yesterday as Northeast divided a Gulf States Conference doubleheader.

Northeast's Indians rapped out nine hits off three SLI hurlers in the second game with George Bryan going 2-2 and John O'Connor 2-3. Third sacker Ronnie Sims drove in two runs with a single.

George Laffey's Tribe scored a run in the first inning before SLI tied it up with a tally in their half of the frame. Northeast put the game on ice with a four-run uprising in the third.

Southwestern added another run in the third but couldn't reach Godwin for any more scoring after that.

Hixon got 3-4 with two runs batted in and Brackin went 2- with another pair batted in. Southwestern took the first game. Vincent was credited with the pitching victory.

Northeast starter Jerry Ron- was charged with the first loss. He was followed on the mound by Jerry Collins, J- Gross and Levy Redden.

The split left Northeast with 5-7 Gulf States record for the campaign. The Indians are 10- overall and have a make- game with league-leader Louisiana Tech next Wednesday.

Southwestern is 5-9 for the season in the GSC.

LSU Spring Game Ends In 7-7 Deadlock

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Quaterback Lynn Amedee sparked a third-period rally to sent the Louisiana State sophomore Gold team into a 7-7 tie with the varsity Purples in the annual intra-squad football game Saturday, marking the end of 20-day spring practice.

About 12,000 fans were on hand for the game.

Amedee, who played briefly earlier in the game, came off the bench in the third to lead his teammates drive to the Purple 21-yard line. There he threw a touchdown pass to end Blankenship, then kicked the extra point to tie the contest.

The Purple squad, which included 13 returning lettermen, went ahead in the second period when halfback Wendall H- swept seven yards around end for a tally, then kicked the PAT.

Pelican League Meeting Today

OAK GROVE, La. (Special) — The final pre-season meeting of the fifth district Pelican League will be held in the Delhi city hall at 2 o'clock this afternoon, league chairman Woody has announced.

The league season will open May 29.

All towns planning to enter teams in the league must be present at this meeting, he said.

Youngster Dies

MADISON, Wis. (AP)— -year-old boy died Saturday moments after he was struck in the face by a pitched ball during a sandlot baseball game.

He was Greg Edwin Householder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ha- Housholder.

Deputy Dane County Coroner John Stevenson, said Greg was on the sidelines when a pitch got away from a 16-year-old on the mound.

As Greg ran to get away from the ball, he dashed right in its path. He was struck on the side of the face.

THE FOOTLOOSE LEAGUE

Are you of that parental group that dumps their kids at the ball game, departs elsewhere for the next two or three hours, and can't be certain what your child is doing or even if he's at the game?

Parents will forever be blamed for the conduct of their kids, regardless of conditions of the times and ever changing ways of life. We don't believe any parent intends to be negligent in ordering their child's conduct. Sometimes they only need to be made aware of problems and they'll correct any erratic ways fast enough.

Our intent today is to create some of this awareness. We focus this conduct report on the boys' baseball programs at this point, mainly because the Little Boys and Little Leagues are running into the most headaches at the time.

The same problems, or variations, might exist for other programs, but there are twenty northeast Louisiana leagues in over a dozen towns presenting Little League and Little Boys programs this year. Many of them offer games every night except Sunday. Often each program includes two games.

Lots of parents have the idea that if they, with other things they want to do, put the kids off at the game they'll be well looked after. We don't know of anybody or anything that's prepared to shepherd all the boys and girls who are turned loose on their own at some of these little parks. There are adult supervisors for the teams that are playing. The little athletes have their coaches looking after them, but these same men are not able to supervise the actions of all the fans. Sometimes even the mothers and fathers who come to the games with their boys and girls have their hands full looking after their own. You can imagine for yourself the mischief the footloose kids are getting into. Some are not at the parks to see the games which are only a means to them for escaping parental care. Some do not linger long at the park, but will be back in time for mom or dad to pick them up when the games are over.

At least one league discourages children attending night games as spectators without their parents or a responsible adult.

One Little League leader says the conduct of the boys and girls wasn't such a problem at the games, but he wished the parents would come for them when the night's play is over. He related instances of children lingering around the parks from an hour to nearly two hours after the last out, waiting for their transportation home.

A Little Boys League is directing letters to the parents of all boys participating in its program.

This letter, in part, said:

"We are encountering difficulty . . . and ask your help and cooperation in bringing about a solution . . . exercise firm control over your children when they are attending games . . . the number of boys and girls guilty of bad conduct is in a minority but we have several instances of fights, yelling at the players during the games, and, in general, displaying conduct that is unbecoming to our code of ethics . . . if the activity is allowed to continue only harm can result and we will be defeated in our practice of having a program that is based on clean, sportsmanlike conduct . . ."

Some complaints are aimed at former players, boys a year or two too old to play with the Little Leaguers and Little Boys. They come to the parks unescorted and without proper supervision. It might pay some parents to check on the doings of their boys and girls who are abusing their freedoms at these games.

Parents have long been a complaint in most kids' baseball programs. Some men who would like to manage teams decline to do so because, they say, parents spend too much time trying to run the manager. Even parental conduct at the games is not always too good. Fortunately bad examples are rare.

At least one complaint against a manager, a new one to us, is that a parent wanted him replaced "because he can't teach my boy anything." The leagues usually are fortunate to get the needed adult supervision and are happy if the Casey Stengels come up only as incidentals. Right now there is a Minor League in Monroe that still needs four managers. Some of these posts would already be filled if the men didn't fear the headaches from some mothers and fathers trying to tell them how their sons ought to be played.

Baseball for the small fry has enjoyed rapid growth nationally in the past decade. It appears that it will continue to grow. But the abuses that are cropping up need restraints. Directors of leagues just about everywhere are relying on parental help. It's needed in your town, too.

THE COST COMES HIGH

Ruston has had the use of its Bobby James Memorial Gymnasium for a week. The town is proud of this addition to its recreation life and the Ruston Recreation Board certainly will use it to the best advantage of its youth.

It seems that some times these things come to us at excessive costs. Believe the figure was $75,000 for the cost of this gym, but it really cost more—it took the life of Bobby James to bring it about.

It's remindful of the cost of Monroe's own baseball stadium for boys at Forsythe park. In late 1957 men seeking a new plant for Little League baseball couldn't raise $400 on the project. When Dr. William L. Bendel Sr. died in February of 1958, the funds poured in to erect the proposed stadium as a memorial to Dr. Bendel. Kids are beginning their third season of play in Bendel Memorial Stadium, but it took the death of one of their greatest friends to make it possible.

Bobby James was probably the greatest basketball player Ruston High School ever had. He was well on his way to national collegiate prominence and had made the All-Southwest Conference team as a sophomore at Southern Methodist University when he died in the tragic fire at his Ruston home while visiting with his family for the Christmas holidays in 1958.

The SMU basketball team was in Ruston for the gym dedication. So was Bob Pettit, the ex-LSU great of St. Louis Hawks professional fame. Ruston friends jammed the gym to hear the Rev. Ron D. Morris, associate pastor of the First Methodist Church of Dallas, Tex., give the dedication address. The gym was constructed by the Louisiana Foundation, a corporation formed by Bobby James' family in order to make this donation. Floyd James made the formal presentation to the Ruston Recreation Board.

L. J. Fox, commenting on the ceremony in his "Diamond Dope," said "You couldn't ask for a more impressive dedication than that which took place . . . There are times when your emotions get out of control and you feel like you are floating in thin air . . ." He commended the "noble performance" of the parents of Bobby James at the ceremony.

Norton Defeated In Coast Relays

By JACK STEVENSON

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Bespectacled Doug Smith, a junior at Occidental College, pulled the major upset of the 34th annual West Coast Relays Saturday night by edging favored Ray Norton in the 100-yard dash in 9.4 seconds.

Smith pulled ahead at 80 yards and stood off the challenge of the world record co-holder.

Dave Davis of the Southern California Striders scored another upset when he beat Dallas Long of the University of Southern California in the shot put with a toss of 61 feet 7¾ inches.

Long, the big Trojan sophomore, put the 16-pound ball 61-7. The event lost luster when Bill Nieder was forced to withdraw with a muscle injury.

A foursome from the Santa Clara Valley Youth Center smashed the American record for the distance medley with a time of 9 minutes 34.9 seconds. Lazlo Tabori, former Hungarian Olympian who defected to the United States after the 1956 Games, ran an unofficial 3:59.6 mile in the relay.

Al Gordon, formerly of Harvard started with a 47.8 in the 440, Mike Peake, ex-Coloradan, had a 1:51.6 half mile and Jim Beatty, who ran for North Carolina, did the 1,320 in 2:55.9. Their combined efforts broke the record of 9:42 by the Southern California Striders in 1957. No official world record is recognized in the event.

Stanford was second with a collegiate record time of 9:40.6.

Still, Smith's triumph in the 100 was the big surprise.

Norton had won 29 consecutive sprint races and hadn't been beaten since losing a race in Europe last summer. Losing by inches, Norton was also timed in :09.4. San Jose's Bob Poynter took third in :09.5 with Willie White of California fourth in the same time.

Smith's best time prior to this race was :09.6 although he ran a :10.3 100 meters a week ago. Norton has equalled the world record of :09.3 three times to win accolades as the world's current fastest human.

The first five finishers in the 100 all equalled or bettered the Olympic qualifying standard of :09.5. Amos Marsh of Oregon placed fifth.

Oregon's Dave Edstrom won the 120-yard high hurdles in :13.9 with Chuck Cobb, former Stanford star now in the Navy, second in :14 and Jim Ball ex-UCLA runner currently in the Air Force, third in :14.1.

Again all five place winners bettered the Olympic standard of :14.4.

In the special mile before the 13,000 in Fresno State College's Ratcliff Stadium, Jim Grelle, former NCAA champion from Oregon, won in the comparatively slow time of 4 minutes 9.9 seconds. Jack Wilcox of the Central California Athletic Club, who set the pace for all but the final 220 yards, was second in 4:11.4.

In opening events, New Mexico's Dickie Howard won the 400-meter hurdles in :51.7 while veteran Rink Babka captured the discus with a throw of 178 feet 9 inches.

Both were better than the Olympic qualifying standards.

Neither Howard nor Babka threatened the world records. Glenn Davis, formerly of Ohio State, holds the hurdles mark of :49.2 and Fortune Gordien's 194-6 in the discus still stands.

Rex Cawley, University of Southern California freshman, took second in the hurdles with Walt Arlt of Washington State third. Both were timed in :52.5, the Olympic qualifying standard.

Jay Silvester of Ft. Ord and Bob Humphreys of the Southern California Striders were second and third in the discus with throws of 178-8 and 175-11, also better than the Olympic Trials standard of 173-10½.

Other winners in the afternoon program didn't reach the Olympic standards as Al Andrews of the Striders took the hop, step and jump with 49-11½ and his teammate Mal Robertson went 5,000 meters in 14:43.3.

Waterproof 2nd In State 'C' Carnival

LAKE CHARLES, La. (Special) — Moreauville won the state class "C" track and field championship here yesterday, scoring 45 and thirteen-fourteenths points to beat Waterproof, second with 36 points.

Waterproof had led the meet after Friday's events with 13 points while Moreauville had seven. Grand Lake was third in the final totals with 29 and eleven-fourteenths points. Central of Delhi scored 16 points to tie for eighth place and Ogden had six-seventh of a points.

Roy Neathery of Central won the mile run yesterday with a 4:56.8 clocking while Central's Thomas Darghdrill placed in three events, taking second in the 440 and 220 and third in the 100.

Bob Wallace of Waterproof was second in the century with Grand Lake's Billy Wynn winning in 11.0. Wynn also won the 220 with 24.6 with Wallace third. William Waits of Morrow won the 440 with a 52.2 time.

Tom Taylor of Waterproof was fourth in the shot put and Don Simon of Ogden was in a seven-way tie for third in the high jump.

Waterproof was second in the 440 relay behind Moreauville, which won with a 46.2 clocking. Moreauville won the mile relay in 3:38.2 with Waterproof third.

M. C. Reynolds Inks Cards Pact

ST. LOUIS (AP)—M. C. Reynolds, who spent most of his sophomore season on the bench with an ankle injury after a fine rookie campaign, signed his 1960 St. Louis Cardinal football contract Saturday.

The 6-foot, 190-pound former Louisiana State University quarterback set a Cardinal record for pass completions in 1958, when he connected on 105 of 195 throws, a .538 completion percentage.

His second season in the National Football League was limited to appearances in five games.

Tech Divides Doubleheader With Cowboys

LAKE CHARLES, La. (Special) — Louisiana Tech divided a hotly-contested Gulf States Conference doubleheader with McNeese here yesterday, the local Cowboys taking the first game, 5-4, and Tech the nightcap, 7-6.

Both games were decided in the final inning.

The split, coupled with Tech's loss to SLI Friday, dropped the Bulldogs' GSC record to 9-4. Tech has a makeup game with Northeast scheduled next week.

Charley Stevenson's single scored pinch runner Frank Calloura from second with the winning run to give McNeese its victory in the first game. Calloura, running for Clive Gustin, who had singled, stole second before Stevenson's game-winning single.

Tech scored three runs in the top of the seventh to win the final game but had a bad scare in the bottom of the frame when the Cowboys scored two runs and had the bases loaded when the final out was recorded.

VOLS HOST RUSTON HERE

La-Ark Teams Open Today At Bastrop, Monroe Parks

The La-Ark League presents the second two-thirds of its opening program this afternoon with defending champion Monroe playing at Bastrop and highly-regarded new member Ruston meeting last year's runnerup West Monroe at Monroe's Legion Stadium.

Game time for both of this afternoon's contests is 2:30. The league's other two teams, Dubach and Sterlington, opened their season last night at Dubach.

Billy Henderson's Ruston club, loaded with Louisiana Tech talent, is rated the top challenger for Monroe's championship with West Monroe, back with most of last year's players, also considered a threat.

Monroe, now managed by Red Sims, got off to a late start and has not had a workout so far. Like most of the league clubs, the Sports won't have all their players until school is out.

Bastrop, now the Barons instead of the Larks, is again planning the most elaborate opening day. The birthplace of the La - Ark had about 800 at the opening home game last year and hopes to lure a thousand to Baron Park today with a collection of prizes including a week's supply of bread, 10 pounds of fish, a drug prescription and a billy goat.

Bastrop Manager Blackie Black will name his starting pitcher from a staff that includes James Johnson, Jerry Moore, Delma Thompson and Joe Roan. Carroll George or Bob Betz, both with the Sports last season, will pitch for Monroe.

Jim Penton, on the Tech staff this year, or Ray Germany, better known for his basketball ability, will be the opening pitcher for Ruston today with Jackie Norman, George Fruge or Ronnie Haile the moundsman for West Monroe.

Following are team rosters or starting lineups:

MONROE — Manager Ralph "Red" Sims. Tentative starting lineup will have Dooley Haddad in center, Louis Kincaid in left, Buddy O'Connor catching, George Bryan at first, Bryan Blevins in right, Phil Petras at short, Eddie McGowen at second, Ronnie Sims at third and either Carroll George or Bob Betz pitching.

Eleven started in the race after Ada L. Rice's Talent Show was scatched, leaving the other half of her entry, Rare Rice, to compete.

Ycaza sent Mail Order to the front at once and he held onto the lead rounding the top of the stretch with a quarter of a mile to go. Yes You Will was charging up into contention, and Sir Salonga had the third spot.

At the eighth pole Yes You Will drew alongside Mail Order and it was apparent the Chicago-owned horse couldn't hold the lead. With a sixteenth of a mile to travel, the Maryland colt edged into the front and took down first money of $38,205.

Nimmer finished fifth followed by Jimmer, Sir Salonga, Mystic 2nd, Day Court, Rare Rice and East Indian.

Yes You Will had won four handicaps at Bowie but was disqualified in one of them—the Bowie Handicap. His last big victory at Bowie was in the $100,000 J. B. Campbell Handicap. His purse Saturday gave him a 1960 bankroll of $140,651.

Dubach Tops Sterlington In La-Ark Opener

DUBACH, La. (Special) — Gil Colvin clouted a two-run homer in the first inning to lead Dubach to 12-3 victory over Sterlington in the La-Ark League operer last night.

Manager Bill Bagwell, an ex-pro pitcher, gave up only four hits in going the route to pick up the victory. Bagwell and Colvin each had two hits.

Virgil Manning, Gilmore and Bob Albritton took a turn on the hill for Sterlington, with Manning, the starter taking the loss.

Score by innings:

Sterlington	010 100 — 3	4	2
Dubach	200 055 x—12	6	3

Rebels Picked To Win SEC Football Title

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Mississippi is a unanimous springtime choice to win the 1960 Southeastern Conference football race, according to a poll of schools by The Birmingham News.

The News, in its Sunday editions, said athletic publicity directors of all 11 other schools selected Ole Miss as most likely to succeed next fall.

Schools don't vote for themselves in the rankings. Ole Miss rated Louisiana State in first place.

It was the first time in the 27-year history of The News' springtime football poll that one team got the first-place votes of all the other schools.

Auburn was picked to finish second and Georgia third in the poll.

Other schools, in the order in which they were picked to finish:

LAFAYETTE, La. — (Special) — Lefthander Jerry Godwin struck out 16 batters in hurling a brilliant three-hit, 5-2 victory over Southwestern here yesterday as Northeast divided a Gulf States Conference doubleheader.

Southwestern shelled four Northeast pitchers to take a 10-2 victory in the first game.

Northeast's Indians rapped out nine hits off three SLI hurlers in the second game with George Bryan going 2-2 and John O'Connor 2-3. Third sacker Ronnie Sims drove in two runs with a single.

George Luffey's Tribe scored a run in the first inning before SLI tied it up with a tally in their half of the frame. Northeast put the game on ice with a four-run uprising in the third.

Southwestern added another run in the third but couldn't reach Godwin for any more scoring after that.

Hinton got 3-4 with two runs-batted-in and Brackin went 2-2 with another pair batted in as Southwestern took the first game. Vincent was credited with the pitching victory.

Northeast starter Jerry Rouse was charged with the first game loss. He was followed on the mound by Jerry Collins, Jay Gross and Levy Redden.

The split left Northeast with a 5-7 Gulf States record for the campaign. The Indians are 10-13 overall and have a makeup game with league-leader Louisiana Tech next Wednesday.

Southwestern is 5-9 for the season in the GSC.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Quaterback Lynn Amedee sparked a third-period rally that sent the Louisiana State sophomore Gold team into a 7-7 tie with the varsity Purples in the annual intro-squad football game Saturday, marking the end of a 20-day spring practice.

About 12,000 fans were on hand for the game.

Amedee, who played briefly earlier in the game, came off the bench in the third to help his teammates drive to the Purple 21-yard line. There he tossed a touchdown pass to end Fred Blankenship, then kicked the extra point to tie the contest.

The Purple squad, which included 13 returning lettermen, went ahead in the second period when halfback Wendall Harris swept seven yards around right end for a tally, then kicked the PAT.

Each side had 10 first downs.

Pelican League Meeting Today

OAK GROVE, La. (Special) — The final pre-season meeting of the fifth district Pelican League will be held in the Delhi city hall at 2 o'clock this afternoon, league chairman Woody Boyle has announced.

The league season will open May 29.

All towns planning to enter teams in the league must be present at this meeting, Boyle said.

Youngster Dies

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A 1[illegible]-year-old boy died Saturday moments after he was struck in the face by a pitched ball during a sandlot baseball game.

He was Greg Edwin Housholder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Housholder.

Deputy Dane County Coroner John Stevenson, said Greg was on the sidelines when a pitch got away from a 16-year-old boy on the mound.

As Greg ran to get away from the ball, he dashed right in to its path. He was struck on the left side of the face.

SCORE-LATMAN DUEL FLOPS

Piersall, Romano Power 10-9 Win Over White Sox

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two-run homers by Jim Piersall and John Romano, plus other effective slugging, gave Cleveland a 10-9 victory over the Chicago White Sox Saturday.

The touted Barry Latman-Herb Score feud fizzled as neither lasted two innings. Each pitcher faced his former teammates for the first time. They exchanged uniforms on the eve of the season's opener here, with Score going to the White Sox in exchange for Latman.

Reliever Johnny Klippstein limited the White Sox to one run in the last three innings—a homer by Minnie Minoso—after the winner Carl Thomas, was bombarded for five runs in the sixth.

The Indians scored all their runs in the first five innings against loser Score, Don Ferrarese, Ray Moore and Mike Garcia. Thomas followed Latman, the Indians' starter.

Piersall led the Indians' attack with a home run, double and single. He knocked in three runs as did Romano, who clouted a homer and single.

Dick Brown also homered for the White Sox.

FOUR-HITTER

Pascual Blanks New York, 4 To 0

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington's Camilo Pascual struck out 11, allowed only four hits and won his first shutout of the season Saturday, whipping New York 4-0. Pascual led the major league in shutouts last year with six.

Pascual (3-3) fanned Mickey Mantle three times and Tony Kubek twice as he hung the season's first shutout on the Yankees. He regained the league strikeout leadership from Cleveland's Gary Bell, with 53 to Bell's 44. It was the fourth game in which Pascual has struck out 10 or more batters.

Julio Becquer and Faye Throneberry, inserted in the starting lineup Friday night to bolster the Washington batting attack, delivered big hits in the third inning when the Senators scored all their runs against loser John Gabler.

After singles by Billy Consolo and Billy Gardner and a walk to Pascual had filled the bases, Throneberry cracked a two-run double. After a walk to Jim Lemon loaded the bases again, Becquer socked a two-run single.

Throneberry and Becquer collected five of Washington's seven hits, Becquer getting three.

Auto Racing Slated Again At Speedway

The Twin City Speedway will present its third auto racing program of the year this afternoon in West Monroe with time trials beginning at 1:30 and regular events beginning at 2:30.

Cars and drivers from Jackson, Leland and Natchez, Miss., are expected for the races along with machines from Shreveport and the Twin Cities.

Expected to be on hand are [illegible] Palasini of Leland and Iva Cooper of Jackson, who won the minor races at the half-mile track last week and Red Fetch, who won the feature event.

Drivers will be aiming at the track record of 25.0 seconds. Palasini and Cooper tied for the fastest time trial last week with [illegible] clockings.

Prepster Sets National High Hurdle Mark

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — St. Petersburg High School rallied in the last seven events Saturday to grab the class AA state track title in the wake of North Miami's John Turek's national record-shattering run in the high hurdles.

St. Pete piled up second and third finishes to bypass favorite North Miami. The winners tallied 31 points to North Miami's 29.

In one of the fastest high hurdle runs ever, Turek broke the tape in 13.7 seconds, two tenths of a second under the national record.

Turek also took the lows, breaking the state record in 19.4 seconds. He and West Palm Beach's Hugh MacMillan were the only double winners in the class AA division.

Following North Miami were Jacksonville Lee, 25; Ft. Lauderdale, 23, and Miami Edison, 17.

Bally Ache Sold For Over One Million

BALTIMORE (AP) — Bally Ache, purchased for $2,500 two years ago, was sold for $1,250,000 Saturday after having finished second in the Kentucky Derby.

Leonard Fruchtman, a Toledo, Ohio, steel executive, sold the bay colt to a syndicate headed by Joseph L. Arnold of Lexington, Ky., just before the 3-year-old son of Ballydam-Celestial Blue took the track for the Preakness Prep at Pimlico.

Arnold said that Bally Ache would continue running as long as he was sound in hopes of surpassing the world record earnings of Round Table. The latter picked up $1,749,869 before calling it a career a year ago.

Bally Ache already has won $540,277 and missed winning five $100,000 races as a 2-year-old last season by a total margin of a length and a half.

The new owner said Bally Ache would start in the $150,000-added Preakness here next Saturday but that plans after that were indefinite.

Fruchtman said that he sold his horse because "he was taking too much of my time, sometimes as much as four days a week." The 39-year-old steelman added: "I've got to get back to my job and I want to spend more time with my family."

The million and a quarter sale price is one of the highest ever paid for a thoroughbred. Nashua was sold for $1,251,200 by the estate of the late William Woodward in an auction featured by sealed bids.

Bally Ache was second in the Garden State, world's richest race, as a 2-year-old and this spring won both the Florida Derby and the Flamingo.

Gulf States Meet Tickets To Go On Sale

A limited number of advance tickets to the Gulf States Conference Track Meet in Lake Charles next Saturday night (May 21) will go on sale at Northeast State College Tuesday.

Northeast will rank as a heavy favorite to recapture the GSC track crown when it meets its fellow members of the loop.

Athletic Director Jack Rowan said the tickets would be on sale Tuesday through Thursday at the Athletic Office in Brown Hall on campus. The advance tickets will sell for $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

At the gate in Lake Charles prices will be $1.50 and 75 cents, Rowan said.

The Indian track team, featuring Dave and Don Styron, Don Eiland and Jerry Dyes, is undefeated through 13 meets this season. The GSC competition is the last event on the regular season's schedule.

Last Thursday is a tune-up for the GSC Northeast's trackmen defeated Louisiana Tech and Northwestern in a triangular meet at Natchitoches.

BEARCATS PLACE THIRD

Oakdale Dethrones Ruston As Double-A Track King

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Oakdale used its speed to best advantage here Saturday to dethrone Ruston and capture top honors in the state class double-A track and field meet. Ruston was shooting for its fifth straight AA title.

Coach Al Nicosia's Warriors, piling up 20 points in the relays and 16 in the sprints, rolled up 41 points to beat out Abbeville, which finished second with 39. Ruston was third with 36, and Natchitoches finished fourth with 19½ points.

Three records fell, one was tied, and two missed being toppled by one-tenth of a second.

Crowley's Garland "Buddy" Hamic, who broke a record in the javelin Friday, came back to erase a 19-year old record in the shot put. Hamic flipped the steel ball 53 feet, 9 inches to crack the previous mark of 53 feet, 3 inches set by Ed Tripp of Springhill in 1941. Hamic was one of three double winners in the meet.

Reserve's Douglas Laiche ran a 14.8 in the high hurdles to rub out the 15.1 mark established by Clark Smith of Hahnville in 1959.

Ed Davis of Ruston was pushed hard by Pineville's Robert Cavanaugh before winning the 440-yard run in the neat time of 49.5, missing the record by a tenth of a second.

Laiche skimmed over the 180-yard low hurdles in 19.9 to cop his second event of the day. He barely missed the mark of 19.8 set by Sam Simonton of Ruston in 1959.

Ruston's mile relay team of John Porter, Woody Chew, Jim Frazier and Edwin Davis equaled the 1959 mark of 3:29.0, also set by Ruston in 1959.

Oakdale's Jack Leggett claimed first in both sprints while teammate Charles McDonald placed second in the century and fourth in the 220-yard dash.

Vaulter Gary Johnson of Haynesville went over the bar at 12 feet, 3¾ inches to better the state record of 12 feet, set by Larry Goree of Haynesville in 1957.

Ace Miler Edwin Greer of Minden turned in a time of 4:36.5, to capture the mile run.

Other scoring in the meet had Pineville with 16½ points, Homer 16, Crowley 14, Minden 12, Behrman, Hahnville, Haynesville and Reserve 10, Springfield 8, North Caddo, Assumption and Jennings 7, Covington and Eunice 6, Marion and Opelousas 5, DeRidder and Franklin 4, Cathedral 2, Jonesboro-Hodge 1.

Erath Dominates Class 'B' Meet

LAFAYETTE, La. (Special) — Erath's high-flying Bobcats wrapped up their seventh state Class B track and field championship in the last eight years here Saturday.

Erath cracked only one record — that one when the Bobcat 880-yard relay team clocked a 1:33 flat — but scored points in almost every event Saturday to total 51 points.

Lake Arthur was second with 35 points, followed in order by St. Michael of Crowley, Carencro, St. Martin, Washington, Plain dealing and Teurlings of Lafayette.

No other team scored more than 10 points in the meet.

Five records were broken in the two-day meet which ended under sunny skies in McNaspy Stadium. Craig Henry of St. Micheal clocked a 10.1 century to tie one record, the Lake Arthur 440-yard relay team was timed in 44.8 for another mark and Clyde Emmons of St. Bernard high-jumped 6 feet 2 5-8 inches for still another new record.

The other two records were set Friday.

Henry was one of two double winners in the meet. Besides the 100, he placed first in the broad jump. He set a record Friday in the latter event. The other double victor was Charles Steen of St. Martin, who won both the high and low hurdles.

120-high hurdles: 1. Charles Steen, St. Martin; 2. Ken LeBlanc, Erath; 3. Marvin Buller, Washington; 4. Jim Domingue, Erath; 5. Robert Dalto, Denton. Time—:15.1.

Cookston and Curry had perfect nights at the plate with 2-2 and 3-3 to lead King Finance to a 5-3 victory over Monroe Police last night in the Northside League but Campbell of the Police blasted probably the longest homer ever hit in local Little League ball, a poke that traveled an estimated 250 feet. Moncrief and Murphy was the winning battery over Whitlow and Rushing.

Monroe Brick took a 4-3 nod over Gay Clothing in another Northside game. Crowley and Lea won over Wellbrink and Forman. White led Brick's hitting with 3-4 while Osborn and Correro got 2-3 each for Gay's.

In the Southside League, Twin City Printing shut out Friendly Finance, 9-0, behind the one-hit pitching of Howell and Youngblood. Takewell got 2-3 for the winners while Kilcoyne got the only safety for the losers. Sweet and Vann was the losing battery.

The Palace edged KLIC, 8-7, in seven innings. Cl·rk started and LaDart won it w..h one inning of relief. Gunn went 3-4 with a home run for The Palace while McGough and Posey got two hits each for KLIC. Bryant and Lenard was the losing battery.

FLOYD SHARPENS AI M

NEWTOWN, Conn. (UPI) — Floyd Patterson took target practice on the firing range and in the ring Thursday in a tune-up for his June 20 heavyweight championship bout against titleholder Ingemar Johansson. Patterson engaged in some pistol target shooting and then sharpened his aim in the ring during four rounds of sparring. He went two rounds of sparring. He went two rounds with his younger brother, Raymond, an aspiring fighter.

Piersall, Romano Power 10-9 Win Over White Sox

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two-run homers by Jim Piersall and John Romano, plus other effective slugging, gave Cleveland a 10-9 victory over the Chicago White Sox Saturday.

The touted Barry Latman-Herb Score feud fizzled as neither lasted two innings. Each pitcher faced his former teammates for the first time. They exchanged uniforms on the eve of the season's opener here, with Score going to the White Sox in exchange for Latman.

Reliever Johnny Klippstein limited the White Sox to one run in the last three innings—a homer by Minnie Minoso—after the winner, Carl Thomas, was bombarded for five runs in the sixth.

The Indians scored all their runs in the first five innings against loser Score, Don Ferrarese, Ray Moore and Mike Carcia. Thomas followed Latman, the Indians' starter.

Piersall led the Indians' attack with a home run, double and single. He knocked in three runs as did Romano, who clouted a homer and single.

Dick Brown also homered for the White Sox.

FOUR-HITTER

Pascual Blanks New York, 4 To 0

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington's Camilo Pascual struck out 11, allowed only four hits and won his first shutout of the season Saturday, whipping New York 4-0. Pascual led the major league in shutouts last year with six.

Pascual (3-3) fanned Mickey Mantle three times and Tony Kubek twice as he hung the season's first shutout on the Yankees. He regained the league strikeout leadership from Cleveland's Gary Bell, with 53 to Bell's 44. It was the fourth game in which Pascual has struck out 10 or more batters.

Julio Becquer and Faye Throneberry, inserted in the starting lineup Friday night to bolster the Washington batting attack, delivered big hits in the third inning when the Senators scored all their runs against loser John Gabler.

After singles by Billy Consolo and Billy Gardner and a walk to Pascual had filled the bases, Throneberry cracked a two-run double. After a walk to Jim Lemon loaded the bases again, Becquer socked a two-run single.

Throneberry and Becquer collected five of Washington's seven hits, Becquer getting three.

Bally Ache Sold For Over One Million

BALTIMORE (AP) — Bally Ache, purchased for $2,500 two years ago, was sold for $1,250,000 Saturday after having finished second in the Kentucky Derby.

Leonard Fruchtman, a Toledo, Ohio, steel executive, sold the bay colt to a syndicate headed by Joseph L. Arnold of Lexington, Ky., just before the 3-year-old son of Ballydam-Celestial Blue took the track for the Preakness Prep at Pimlico.

Arnold said that Bally Ache would continue running as long as he was sound in hopes of surpassing the world record earnings of Round Table. The latter picked up $1,749,869 before calling it a career a year ago.

Bally Ache already has won $540,277 and missed winning five $100,000 races as a 2-year-old last season by a total margin of a length and a half.

The new owner said Bally Ache would start in the $150,000-added Preakness here next Saturday but that plans after that were indefinite.

Fruchtman said that he sold his horse because "he was taking too much of my time, sometimes as much as four days a week." The 39-year-old steelman added: "I've got to get back to my job and I want to spend more time with my family."

The million and a quarter sale price is one of the highest ever paid for a thoroughbred. Nashua was sold for $1,251,200 by the estate of the late William Woodward in an auction featured by sealed bids.

Bally Ache was second in the Garden State, world's richest race, as a 2-year-old and this spring won both the Florida Derby and the Flamingo.

Auto Racing Slated Again At Speedway

The Twin City Speedway will present its third auto racing program of the year this afternoon in West Monroe with time trials beginning at 1:30 and regular events beginning at 2:30.

Cars and drivers from Jackson, Leland, and Natchez, Miss., are expected for the races along with machines from Shreveport and the Twin Cities.

Expected to be on hand are Ellis Palasini of Leland and Ivai Cooper of Jackson, who won the minor races at the half - mile track last week and Red Futch, who won the feature event.

Drivers will be aiming at the track record of 25.0 seconds. Palasini and Cooper tied for the fastest time trial last week with 26.0 clockings.

Prepster Sets National High Hurdle Mark

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — St. Petersburg High School rallied in the last seven events Saturday to grab the class AA state track title in the wake of North Miami's John Turek's national record-shattering run in the high hurdles.

St. Pete piled up second and third finishes to bypass favorite North Miami. The winners tallied 34 points to North Miami's 29.

In one of the fastest high hurdle runs ever, Turek broke the tape in 13.7 seconds, two tenths of a second under the national record.

Turek also took the lows, breaking the state record in 19.4 seconds. He and West Palm Beach's Hugh MacMillan were the only double winners in the class AA division.

Following North Miami were Jacksonville Lee, 25; Ft. Lauderdale, 23, and Miami Edison, 17.

Gulf States Meet Tickets To Go On Sale

A limited number of advance tickets to the Gulf States Conference Track Meet in Lake Charles next Saturday night (May 21) will go on sale at Northeast State College Tuesday.

Northeast will rank as a heavy favorite to recapture the GSC track crown when it meets its fellow members of the loop.

Athletic Director Jack Rowan said the tickets would be on sale Tuesday through Thursday at the Athletic Office in Brown Hall on campus. The advance tickets will sell for $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

At the gate in Lake Charles prices will be $1.50 and 75 cents, Rowan said.

The Indian track team, featuring Dave and Don Styron, Don Eiland and Jerry Dyes, is undefeated through 13 meets this season. The GSC competition is the last event on the regular season's schedule.

Last Thursday is a tune - up for the GSC Northeast's trackmen defeated Louisiana Tech and Northwestern in a triangular meet at Natchitoches.

BEARCATS PLACE THIRD

Oakdale Dethrones Ruston As Double-A Track King

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Oakdale used its speed to best advantage here Saturday to dethrone Ruston and capture top honors in the state class double-A track and field meet. Ruston was shooting for its fifth straight AA title.

Coach Al Nicosia's Warriors, piling up 20 points in the relays and 16 in the sprints, rolled up 41 points to beat out Abbeville, which finished second with 39. Ruston was third with 36, and Natchitoches finished fourth with 19½ points.

Three records fell, one was tied, and two missed being toppled by one-tenth of a second.

Crowley's Garland "Buddy" Hamic, who broke a record in the javelin Friday, came back to erase a 19-year old record in the shot put. Hamic flipped the steel ball 53 feet, 9 inches to crack the previous mark of 53 feet, 3 inches set by Ed Tripp of Springhill in 1941. Hamic was one of three double winners in the meet.

Reserve's Douglas Laiche ran a 14.8 in the high hurdles to rub out the 15.1 mark established by Clark Smith of Hahnville in 1959.

Ed Davis of Ruston was pushed hard by Pineville's Robert Cavanaugh before winning the 440-yard run in the neat time of 49.5, missing the record by a tenth of a second.

Laiche skimmed over the 180-yard low hurdles in 19.9 to cop his second event of the day. He barely missed the mark of 19.8 set by Sam Simonton of Ruston in 1959.

Ruston's mile relay team of John Porter, Woody Chew, Jim Frazier and Edwin Davis equaled the 1959 mark of 3:29.0, also set by Ruston in 1959.

Oakdale's Jack Leggett claimed first in both sprints while teammate Charles McDonald placed second in the century and fourth in the 220-yard dash.

Vaulter Gary Johnson of Haynesville went over the bar at 12 feet, 3¾ inches to better the state record of 12 feet, set by Larry Goree of Haynesville in 1957.

Ace Miler Edwin Greet of Minden turned in a time of 4:36.5. to capture the mile run.

Other scoring in the meet had Pineville with 16½ points, Homer 16, Crowley 14, Minden 12, Behrman, Hahnville, Haynesville and Reserve 10, Springfield 8, North Caddo, Assumption and Jennings 7, Covington and Eunice 6, Marion and Opelousas 5, DeRidder and Franklin 4, Cathedral 2, Jonesboro-Hodge 1.

Cookston and Curry had perfect nights at the plate with 2-2 and 3-3 to lead King Finance to a 5-3 victory over Monroe Police last night in the Northside League but Campbell of the Police blasted probably the longest homer ever hit in local Little League ball, a poke that traveled an estimated 250 feet. Moncrief and Murphy was the winning battery over Whitlow and Rushing.

Monroe Brick took a 4-3 nod over Gay Clothing in another Northside game. Crowley and Lea won over Wellbrink and Forman. White led Brick's hitting with 3-4 while Osborn and Correro got 2-3 each for Gay's.

In the Southside League, Twin City Printing shut out Friendly Finance, 9-0, behind the one-hit pitching of Howell and Youngblood. Takewell got 2-3 for the winners while Kilcoyne got the only safety for the losers. Sweet and Vann was the losing battery.

The Palace edged KLIC, 8-7, in seven innings. Clark started and LaDart won it with one inning of relief. Gunn went 3-4 with a home run for The Palace while McGough and Posey got two hits each for KLIC. Bryant and Lenard was the losing battery.

FLOYD SHARPENS AIM

NEWTOWN, Conn. (UPI) — Floyd Patterson took target practice on the firing range and in the ring Thursday in a tune-up for his June 20 heavyweight championship bout against titleholder Ingemar Johansson. Patterson engaged in some pistol target shooting and then sharpened his aim in the ring during four rounds of sparring. He went two rounds of sparring. He went two rounds with his younger brother, Raymond, an aspiring fighter.

4TH STRAIGHT WIN

5 Detroit Homers Topple A's 7-6

DETROIT (AP) —The Detroit Tigers banged out of a batting slump Saturday with five home runs that accounted for all of their runs in a 7-6 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

It was the fourth straight triumph for the Tigers, who started the season with two wins and then nose-dived into a 10-game losing streak. All four recent victories have been by a one-run margin.

Norm Cash, who took the first base job away from slumping Steve Bilko, provided the winning margin with a booming home run into the third deck in right field. It came with two out in the seventh inning against reliever Ken Johnson, who was charged with the defeat.

Neil Chrisley drove in four runs with a pair of home runs, and Al Kaline and Frank Bolling hit bases-empty home runs for Detroit.

The victory went to Dave Sisler, who hurled four innings of one-hit relief ball. It was Sisler's first of the season.

The Athletics, losing for the 11th time in their last 13 starts, routed starter Paul Foytack with an early attack. Whitey Herzog hit a three-run homer in the first inning and Russ Snyder got rid of Foytack with a double that scored a run in the second.

Kaline and Chrisley connected off starter Johnny Kucks in the first and third innings, but the Athletics increased their margin to 6-2 with a pair of runs off Ray Semproch in the fourth. Semproch gave up three walks, a single and threw a bunt wildly over third base.

The Tigers tied [illegible] and knocked out Kucks in the fourth. Bolling led off with his first home run of the season. A walk and an interference call on catcher Hank Foiles preceded Chrisley's second home run, a line smash that barely cleared the right field screen.

Weeds Being Cleaned Out Of Desiard

The Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission is cleaning water hyacinth and alligator weed out of Bayou DeSiard and Black Bayou.

Biologist Fred Myers of Baton Rouge is heading the project, assisted by two state crews.

Myers said yesterday that water hyacinth and primrose pose little problem in removing from the streams, but he explained that alligator weed was tough to remove.

"We can retard alligator weed, but we can't kill it," he said.

Myers explained that 2-4D, a poison, was used for the project, adding that it had no ill affect on the water.

State crews have been working on the two streams for the past two weeks and Myers said two more weeks are needed to complete the project.

He pointed out that Black Bayou generally was in good shape, but that alligator weed was getting bad in Bayou DeSiard.

So far, biologists are still searcihng for a soundproof solution to destroy alligator weed.

DISCUSSING area water week eradication program now in progress are Fred Myers (holding paper folder), the program coordinator, and Jim Franks and Olen Brewster. They are presently busy removing undesirable plant life from Black Bayou Lakes and Bayou DeSiard. (Louisiana Wild Life Commission photo by Joe Herring)

ON WILLIAMS' 2-HITTER

Dodgers Whip Giants, 2-1, Chop Lead To One Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Dodger Stan Williams' two-hitter cut down San Francisco 2-1 Saturday, snapping the Giants' seven-game winning streak and narrowing their National League lead to one game.

The Dodgers, who ended the Giants string of 35 consecutive scoreless innings in the seventh, got the winning run in the ninth on a single by Don Demeter.

Williams, a 6-4 right-hander, won his first game of the season, beating Billy O'Dell before 41,7[illegible] in Candlestick Park.

O'Dell gave up seven hits, the last one in the ninth when shortstop Maury Wills led off with a bloop single, was sacrificed to second by Gil Hodges and came home on Demeter's single.

Williams walked six and struck out only one. O'Dell, losing his third game, fanned seven and didn't walk a man.

The Dodgers posted the first run on Giant pitching in 36 innings in the seventh when Frank Howard led off with his second single. He was sacrificed to second.

Shortstop Ed Bressoud then chose to try for Howard at third on Don Demeter's grounder but his throw was too late. Howard scored on Tommy Davis' sacrifice fly to Mays.

Willie Kirkland quickly tied it hitting a home run on a seventh inning pitch over the right field fence. The 350-foot homer was Kirkland's fifth and only the second hit off Williams.

Big Stan gave up his first hit to O'Dell in the fifth. He was in trouble in the first when he walked the bases loaded with two out but Kirkland flied out to Howard.

Williams couldn't get O'Dell out. The Giant starting pitcher walked twice and stole second in the seventh.

REDS STRING BROKEN

Phillies Rookie Paces 5-2 Victory

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two home runs by rookie Tony Curry powered the Philadelphia Phils to a 5-2 victory over Cincinnati Saturday and snapped the Reds' winning streak at nine.

Curry's hitting nullified a spectacular relief pitching stint by Cincinnati's Joe Nuxhall in which he struck out 9 of 12 batters.

Curry's home runs accounted for three of the Phil runs. His first one in the opening inning ended a string of scoreless innings which had stretched through three consecutive 1-0 defeats.

Gus Bell's home run with Vada Pinson on base accounted for the Cincinnati runs.

Curry's first home run sent the Phils off in front in the opening inning.

Then in the third a walk to Joe Koppe started things again. Pitcher Jack Meyer was called out for interference and Tony Taylor forced Joe Koppe at second, but Curry unloaded his second homer. Consecutive doubles by John Callison and Pancho Herrera produced the final run.

Nuxhall took over for Jay Hook in the fourth and started his strikeout string. The first seven outs he recorded all were strikeouts.

He gave up a run in the seventh on a triple by Cal Neeman and a sacrifice fly by Koppe.

The Phils had been scoreless for 29 innings when Curry hit his home run over the center field wall in the first inning.

4TH STRAIGHT WIN

5 Detroit Homers Topple A's 7-6

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers banged out of a batting slump Saturday with five home runs that accounted for all of their runs in a 7-6 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

It was the fourth straight triumph for the Tigers, who started the season with five wins and then nose-dived into a 10-game losing streak. All four recent victories have been by a one-run margin.

Norm Cash, who took the first base job away from slumping Steve Bilko, provided the winning margin with a booming home run into the third deck in right field. It came with two out in the seventh inning against reliever Ken Johnson, who was charged with the defeat.

Niel Chrisley drove in four runs with a pair of home runs, and Al Kaline and Frank Bolling hit bases-empty home runs for Detroit.

The victory went to Dave Sisler, who hurled four innings of one-hit relief ball. It was Sisler's first of the season.

The Athletics, losing for the 11th time in their last 13 starts, routed starter Paul Foytack with an early attack. Whitey Herzog hit a three-run homer in the first inning and Russ Snyder got rid of Foytack with a double that scored a run in the second.

Kaline and Chrisley connected off starter Johnny Kucks in the first and third innings, but the Athletics increased their margin to 6-2 with a pair of runs off Ray Semproch in the fourth. Semproch gave up three walks, a single and threw a bunt wildly over third base.

The Tigers tied it and knocked out Kucks in the fourth. Bolling led off with his first home run of the season. A walk and an interference call on catcher Hank Foiles preceded Chrisley's second home run, a line smash that barely cleared the right field screen.

Tag Bout To Head Card At B&B Monday

Rod Rivera, deciding he needs some help against a sneaky framer like Tony Jiminez, will team with Adrian Baellangeon against Tony and Black Jack Dillon in Monday night's wrestling feature at B&B Arena.

The four boys, three of them involved in last week's taped knuckles incidents, will tangle over the hour limit with two falls to win.

An Arizona Indian makes his local debut in the night's semifinal when Billy Tonka squares off against veteran villain Firpo Zybysko. This one is slated for two - of - three falls and hour also.

Baellangeon and Dillon open the show with a 15-minute scramble.

Dillon introduced a set of taped-over brass knuckles in last week's bout against Ken Cooper and Jiminez came in the ring with them in the main event against Rivera. Tony and Rod took turns batting each other around with the knuckles before Jiminez planted them in Rivera's trunks.

The referee discovered the knucks on Rivera's person and awarded the match to Jiminez.

Tonka is a Chiracauhua Indian from Apache, Ariz., and is heralded as a top - flight wrestler. He'll have his hands full with Zybysko, a former state champion who knows all the tricks in the book.

ON WILLIAMS' 2-HITTER

Dodgers Whip Giants, 2-1, Chop Lead To One Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Dodger Stan Williams' two-hitter cut down San Francisco 2-1 Saturday, snapping the Giants' seven-game winning streak and narrowing their National League lead to one game.

The Dodgers, who ended the Giants string of 35 consecutive scoreless innings in the seventh, get the winning run in the ninth on a single by Don Demeter.

Williams, a 6-4 right-hander, won his first game of the season, beating Billy O'Dell before 41,733 in Candlestick Park.

O'Dell gave up seven hits, the last two in the ninth when shortstop Maury Wills led off with a bloop single, was sacrificed to second by Gil Hodges and came home on Demeter's single.

Williams walked six and struck out only one. O'Dell, losing his third game, fanned seven and didn't walk a man.

The Dodgers posted the first run on Giant pitching in 36 innings in the seventh when Frank Howard led off with his second single. He was sacrificed to second.

Shortstop Ed Bressoud then chose to try for Howard at third on Don Demeter's grounder but his light toss was too late. Howard scored on Tommy Davis' sacrifice fly to Mays.

Willie Kirkland quickly tied it, hitting a home run on a seventh inning pitch over the right field fence. The 350-foot homer was Kirkland's fifth and only the second hit off Williams.

Big Stan gave up his first hit to O'Dell in the fifth. He was in trouble in the first when he walked the bases loaded with two out but Kirkland flied out to Howard.

Pirates Again Top Braves, 6-4, On Clemente's Triple

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Roberto Clemente's two-out, two-run triple in the eleventh gave the Pittsburgh a 6-4 victory over Milwaukee Saturday and made it two straight for the Pirates in the current series at Milwaukee County Stadium.

The Baves had wiped out a 4-0 deficit with four home runs off Vernon Law, who was lifted for a pinch hitter in the 10th. Elroy Face, who pitched the last two innings, was credited with his second victory against three defeats.

A crowd of 16,865 saw the Pirates score their fifth victory over the Braves since the Milwaukeeans beat Pittsburgh here on opening day.

Lew Burdette gave up the first four Pirate runs in the eight innings he worked. Reliever Don McMahon held the 4-4 tie through the ninth and 1th innings. But in the 11th, Don Hoak doubled, Bob Skinner was purposely passed and both scored when Clemente tripled off the left field fence.

Pittsburgh unleashed a 3-run outburst in the second on a single by Smoky Burgess, a double by Gino Cimoli, a walk, singles by Law and Hoak and Dick Groat's double play ball. The first of three errors by Braves' shortstop Felix Mantilla gave the Pirates another run in the fifth. Skinner singled, stole second, took third on a wild pitch and scored when Mantilla fumbled Burgess' grounder.

Milwaukee surged back on the long ball. Del Crandall belted a season. Wes Covington and Mantilla clouted back-to-back homers in the seventh and Joe Adcock, sidelined since April 27 with back trouble, pounded a pinch homer over the left center field fence in the eighth to tie the count at 4-all.

Littler Ties Nagle For Colonial Lead

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Gene Littler shot a par 70 Saturday to pull into a tie for first place with slumping Kel Nagle in the $30,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

Nagle, the big Australian, started the third round leading by two strokes over Littler, the blond from Singing Hills, Calif., but took a 72 to wind up with 209 for 54 holes and a deadlock for the top with Littler.

One stroke back was the onrushing Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., who came out of a tie for fifth place with a 1-under-par 69 for 210.

Littler brought excitement when he rounded the first nine with a 2-under-par 33 and on the 10th hole had increased his lead over Nagle to three strokes. The Australian had a 36 on the first nine and bogeyed 10.

Littler had a bogey on 13 where he missed a 10-foot putt and on 16 took a double bogey when he three-putted. But he came on in with pars.

Boros also shot a 33 on the front nine as the results of one 15-foot putt and two 20-footers. But he bogeyed 17 when he pushed his drive into a ditch and then hit into a trap.

Littler and Nagle, tied for first with 209, an dBoros next with 210 were off by themselves. Next were three players—Ted Kroll of Sarasota, Fla., Don January of Dallas and Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, all at 213.

Ben Hogan of Fort Worth had his worst round—a 5-over-par 75 and fell virtually out of contention. Arnold Palmer, Masters champion from Ligonier, Pa., had a 73 and fell down to 214.

A 20 mile an hour wind swept the 7,041-yard Colonial Country Club course and again caused scores to soar.

Doug Sanders of Miami, Fla., had started the third round tied with Littler for second place at 139. But Sanders took a horrendous 76 and fell down to a tie for 10th place at 215.

Nagle executed the most talked-about shot of the day at No. 6 when he putted left-handed from the edge of a sand trap and sank a 20-footer to get a par he wasn't supposed to make.

The Australian Open and PGA champion, on the scent of his first tournament championship in America in 15 tries, said he hit some bad tee shots that hurt him but he was putting great, as evidence by a 25-footer on 11 and 12-footer on 15 for birdies. His recoveries were again sensational. He used a 6-iron to come from under a tree and run down a 30-foot shot for a par on No. 6.

Orioles Snap Sox Winning Streak, 5-2

BOSTON (AP) — Baltimore scored five times in the ninth inning against a suddenly inept Boston team Saturday for a 5-2 victory which snapped a four-game Red Sox winning streak.

Held to five singles for eight scoreless innings, the young Orioles jumped on starter Bill Monbouquette for doubles by pinch hitter Albie Pearson and Jackie Brandt, then poured it on against three relievers.

Brandt's two-bagger accounted for one run and Ron Hansen singled for two more. The other tallies resulted from an error and a wild pitch.

Before the Baltimore ninth was over 10 men went to the plate. There were 4 hits, 3 walks, 2 errors and the wild pitch.

Jack Fisher, who relieved Jerry Walker in the eighth inning, was the winning pitcher and Red Sox southpaw Ted Bowsfield the loser. Singles by Gene Stephens and Frank Malzone accounted for the Boston runs.

Boston's Pete Runnels was stopped after having hit safely in the six contests. Runnels' average dropped from .426 to .406.

The Red Sox were leading 2-0 and Monbouquette had run his streak of scoreless innings to 24 going into the fatal ninth.

Southpaw-swinging Pearson, a former Red Sox player, batted for Marv Breeding and doubled into the left field corner.

Brandt slammed a drive to center where Bobby Thomson mistimed his jump. The ball caromed off the barrier. Stephens racing over from left to recover it, fumbled while Brandt moved to third.

Manager Billy Jurges summoned Bowsfield who promptly uncorked a wild pitch which brought home Brandt with the tying run. After Gene Woodling walked and Jim Gentile's single, the call went to the bullpen for Tom Brewer who had only one day's rest.

Hansen lined a two-run single to left and that was all for Brewer.

Record Field To Play In Snead Classic

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI)—Sam Snead holds his annual backyard golf party this coming week end, but he isn't going to let anybody dig up any of those tomato cans if he can help it.

It's the 13th annual $10,000 Sam Snead Festival Golf Tournament—some still call it the Greenbrier Open—at the mountain spa here where Snead is home professional. And he has won five of the previous 12 tourneys.

A record field of professionals is scheduled to compete in the 72-hole tourney starting Thursday and running through next Sunday. More than 50 are signed up.

About 13 amateurs — mostly figures from the social, financial, entertainment and sports worlds—will play with the pros over the final two days of the tourney in a concurrent pro-amateur.

The pro who is a member of the winning pro-am will pocket another $1,200 in this competition. The winner of the pro sweepstakes gets $2,300.

Snead, who is showing no letup although he'll be 48 years old May 27, was a poor host last year. He won $4,500 of prize money-thanks to a sensational 11-under-par 59 on his third round followed up with a seven-under-63 on the last round.

This gave him a brilliant 259 for first place in the pro race and also enabled him to sweep the first three plases in the pro-am. Each pro plays with three amateurs and Snead was in the money with all three of his partners.

Among those trying to keep Snead from winning a third straight title on his home course, as he did in 1951 - 53, are last year's runnerup Mike Souchak and 1958 runnerup Gary Player, the young South African.

Bruins Deal Cardinals 8th Straight Loss

The Cardinals, who have yet to win on a foreign field this season, used four pitchers as the Cubs got 10 hits to balance new Manager Lou Boudreau's record at 2-2 via their second straight triumph.

Jerry Kindall, Ellsworth's teammate at Houston before the youthful pair were recalled by the Cubs recently, drove in three runs. Replacing traded Tony Taylor at second, Kindall hit a sacrifice fly for his first 1960 RBI, and then singled for two more.

Rookie Frank Barnes, making his first start, suffered his first loss when the Cubs pushed across an unearned run in the fourth. Shortstop Alex Grammas opened the gates by fumbling Frank Thomas' leadoff grounder.

Moose Moryn singled and Sammy Taylor walked to fill the bases. Then Kindall greeted reliever Ernie Broglio with his sacrifice fly.

The Cubs got to Broglio for three runs in the fifth. Bob Will opened with a double. Before Marshall Bridges could rescue Broglio, Moryn's second single drove in the first run and Kindall connected for the final pair.

Ellsworth developed a kink in his arm in the eighth, and Morehead replaced him with a one and one count on Stan Musial.

Morehead got Musial on a fly to Moryn, and Ken Boyer on an inning-ending double play.

Gino Marchetti Inks Colt Pact

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gino Marchetti, star defensive end and captain of the Baltimore Colts, has signed for his eighth season with the National Football League champions.

The 6-foot 4, 245-pound end played his first pro football year with the Dallas Texans, then shifted to Baltimore with the new franchise in 1953. He has been an all-pro selection the past four seasons and has seen action in five Pro Bowl games.

Last year Marchetti came back with another outstanding performance although a broken ankle late in the 1958 season had cast doubts about his future with the team.

LSU Draws Favored Role In SEC Meet

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Louisiana State is in the familiar role of favorite for the Southeastern Conference track meet next weekend.

On the basis of performances throughout the season, LSU is out front, followed closely by Florida.

But the championship battle shapes up as a two-team affair.

LSU is strong in the dashes with Ralph Fabian, in the hurdles with Dickie Durham, in the half mile with Carl Seefield and in field events with Lew Bandaries and Joe Harris.

Florida's best individuals are Henry Wadsworth in the pole vault and high jump, Art Foster in the broad jump, Ron Allen in the mile and half mile and Tommy Michels in the hurdles.

In the two relay events — which mean double points — Auburn and Florida rate the top teams.

At least one record is pretty certain to fall. Ed Nutting of Georgia Tech has been putting the 16-pound shot consistently farther than the conference record of 55 feet 1¼ inches and has done 58 feet 7 inches.

Bandaries of LSU and Richard Crane of Auburn, who set the record last year, also have exceeded it.

Wadsworth has cleared 15 feet in the pole vault and is rated a good bet to beat the conference mark of 14 feet 2⅞ inches.

Durham has bettered the 120-yard high hurdles record of 14.1 seconds with a time of 13.9 and Seefield has done the half mile in 1 minute 52.2 seconds against the record of 1:52.8.

All 12 conference schools are expected to compete in the varsity division and most of them in the freshman division as well.

Trials in both divisions and some of the freshmen finals are scheduled for Friday, with all varsity finals on Saturday.

PLAN SUMMER DRILLS

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The St. Louis Hawks will hold a summer basketball training camp session at a Monticello, N.Y., resort from June 12 to June 18. The camp will enable new coach Paul Seymour to size up a group of outstanding rookies and several Eastern League players for the 1960-61 National Basketball Assn., season.

SETS LAP RECORD

Sachs Wins Pole Position For 500

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Eddie Sachs, fastest talker in auto racing, announced he was going to drive the first official 147-mile-an-hour lap on the 5-year-old Indianapolis Motor Speedway Saturday —and then did it.

The Center Valley, Pa., tavern owner, won the pole position for the 44th 500-mile race May 30, and an incidental $1,200, by breaking two records set only 90 minutes earlier by Jim Rathmann of Miami.

Sachs wheeled his new Dean Special around the track for a 10-mile qualifying average of 146.592 miles an hour and a best lap of 147.251.

Sixteen cars qualified altogether at a record average of 144.683 for the first session, leaving 17 starting spots to be filled in additional trials Sunday and next weekend.

A crowd estimated at 75,000 watched Rathmann turn in the first record-cracking run at 146.371, with a best lap of 146.915. His brother Dick, another racing veteran from Rozelle, Ill., set the old 10-mile mark of 145.974 two years ago.

Johnny Thomson, Boyertown, Pa., made the one-lap record of 146.532 last year. Thomson's engine popped a valve Saturday and he didn't get started.

Jim Rathmann has been runner-up three times in the 500, including last year, but never has won. Sachs has failed to finish in three starts.

California race car builder A.J. Watson put three cars in the front row of the Memorial Day race. He built Jim Rathmann's car himself and also the car in which Rodger Ward of Indianapolis, last year's winner, had the third best qualifying speed at 145.560.

Sachs' car was built from Watson's plans.

Two other former 500-winners besides Ward made the lineup. Troy Ruttman, Dearborn, Mich., '52 winner averaged 145.766 and Jimmy Bryan, Phoenix, Ariz., '58 winner, 144.532.

There were only two first-time qualifiers—Lloyd Ruby, Houston, and Wayne Weiler, Phoenix.

GEHRIG RECORD STANDS

NEW YORK (UPI) — The late Lou Gehrig, who performed the feat June 3, 1932, is the only modern major league baseball player to have hit four consecutive home runs in a single game.

Pirates Again Top Braves, 6-4, On Clemente's Triple

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Roberto Clemente's two-out, two-run triple in the eleventh gave the Pittsburgh a 6-4 victory over Milwaukee Saturday and made it two straight for the Pirates in the current series at Milwaukee County Stadium.

The Baves had wiped out a 4-0 deficit with four home runs off Vernon Law, who was lifed for a pinch hitter in the 10th. Elroy Face, who pitched the last two innings, was credited with his second victory against three defeats.

A crowd of 16,865 saw the Pirates score their fifth victory over the Braves since the Milwaukeeans beat Pittsburgh here on opening day.

Lew Burdette gave up the first four Pirate runs in the eight innings he worked. Reliever Don McMahon held the 4-4 tie through the ninth and 1th innings. But in the 11th, Don Hoak doubled, Bob Skinner was purposely passed and both scored when Clemente tripled off the left field fence.

Pittsburgh unleashed a 3-run outburst in the second on a single by Smoky Burgess, a double by Gino Cimoli, a walk, singles by Law and Hoak and Dick Groat's double play ball. The first of three errors by Braves' shortstop Felix Mantilla gave the Pirates another run in the fifth. Skinner singled, stole second, took third on a wild pitch and scored when Mantilla fumbled Burgess' grounder.

Milwaukee surged back on the long ball. Del Crandall belted a season, Wes Covington and Mantilla clouted back-to-back homers in the seventh and Joe Adcock, sidelined since April 27 with back trouble, pounded a pinch homer over the left center field fence in the eighth to tie the count at 4-all.

Littler Ties Nagle For Colonial Lead

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Gene Littler shot a par 70 Saturday to pull into a tie for first place with slumping Kel Nagle in the $30,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

Nagle, the big Australian, started the third round leading by two strokes over Littler, the blond from Singing Hills, Calif., but took a 72 to wind up with 209 for 54 holes and a deadlock for the top with Litttler.

One stroke back was the onrushing Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., who came out of a tie for fifth place with a 1-under-par 69 for 210.

Littler brought exctiement when he rounded the first nine with a 2-under-par 33 and on the 10th hole had increased his lead over Nagle to three strokes. The Australian had a 36 on the first nine and bogeyed 10.

Littler had a bogey on 13 where he missed a 10-foot putt and on 16 took a double bogey when he three-putted. But he came on in with pars.

Boros also shot a 33 on the front nine as the results of one 15-foot putt and two 20-footers. But he bogeyed 17 when he pushed his drive into a ditch and then hit into a trap.

Littler and Nagle, tied for first with 209, an dBoros next with 210 were off by themselves. Next were three players—Ted Kroll of Sarasota, Fla., Don January of Dallas and Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, all at 213.

Ben Hogan of Fort Worth had his worst round—a 5-over-par 75 and fell virtually out of contention. Arnold Palmer, Masters champion from Ligonier, Pa., had a 73 and fell down to 214.

A 20 mile an hour wind swept the 7,041-yard Colonial Country Club course and again caused scores to soar.

Doug Sanders of Miami, Fla., had started the third round tied with Littler for second place at 139. But Sanders took a horrendous 76 and fell down to a tie for 10th place at 215.

Nagle executed the most talked-about shot of the day at No. 6 when he putted left-handed from the edge of a sand trap and sank a 20-footer to get a par he wasn't supposed to make.

The Australian Open and PGA champion, on the scent of his first tournament championship in America in 13 tries, said he hit some bad tee shots that hurt him but he was putting great, as evidence by a 25-footer on 11 and 12-footer on 15 for birdies. His recoveries were again sensational. He used a 6-iron to come from under a tree and run down a 30-foot shot for a par on No. 6.

Orioles Snap Sox Winning Streak, 5-2

BOSTON (AP) — Baltimore scored five times in the ninth inning against a suddenly inept Boston team Saturday for a 5-2 victory wihch snapped a four-game Red Sox winning streak.

Held to five singles for eight scoreless innings, the young Orioles jumped on starter Bill Monbouquette for doubles by pinch hitter Albie Pearson and Jackie Brandt, then poured it on against three relievers.

Brandt's two-bagger accounted for one run and Ron Hansen singled for two more. The other tallies resulted from an error and a wild pitch.

Before the Baltimore ninth was over, 10 men went to the plate. There were 4 hits, 3 walks, 2 errors and the wild pitch.

Jock Fisher, who relieved Jerry Talker in the eighth inning, was the winning pitcher and Red Sox southpaw Ted Bowsfield the loser. Singles by Gene Stephens and Frank Malzone accounted for the Boston runs.

Boston's Pete Runnels was stopped after having hit safely in the six contests. Runnels' average dropped from .426 to .406.

The Red Sox were leading 2-0 and Monbouquette had run his streak of scoreless innings to 24 going into the fatal ninth.

Southpaw-swinging Pearson, a former Red Sox player, batted for Marv Breeding and doubled into the left field corner.

Brandt slammed a drive to center where Bobby Thomson mistimed his jump. The ball caromed off the barrier. Stephens, racing over from left to recover it, fumbled while Brandt moved to third.

Manager Billy Jurges summoned Bowsfield who promptly uncorked a wild pitch which brought home Brandt with the tying run. After Gene Woodling walked and Jim Gentile's single, the call went to the bullpen for Tom Brewer who had only one day's rest.

Hansen lined a two-run single to left and that was all for Brewer.

Record Field To Play In Snead Classic

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI)—Sam Snead holds his annual backyard golf party this coming week end, but he isn't going to let anybody dig up any of those tomato cans if he can help it.

It's the 13th annual $10,000 Sam Snead Festival Golf Tournament-some still call it the Greenbrier Open-at the mountain spa here where Snead is home professional. And he has won five of the previous 12 tourneys.

A record field of professionals is scheduled to compete in the 72-hole tourney starting Thursday and running through next Sunday. More than 50 are signed up.

About 13 amateurs -- mostly figures from the social, financial, entertainment and sports worlds-will play with the pros over the final two days of the tourney in a concurrent pro-amateur.

The pro who is a member of the winning pro-am will pocket another $1,200 in this competition. The winner of the pro sweepstakes gets $2,300.

Snead, who is showing no letup although he'll be 48 years old May 27, was a poor host last year. He won $4,500 of prize money-thanks to a sensational 11-under-par 59 on his third round followed up with a seven-under-63 on the last round.

This gave him a brilliant 259 for first place in the pro race and also enabled him to sweep the first three places in the pro-am. Each pro plays with three amateurs and Snead was in the money with all three of his partners.

Among those trying to keep Snead from winning a third straight title on his home course, as he did in 1951 - 53, are last year's runnerup Mike Souchak and 1958 runnerup Gary Player the young South African.

Bruins Deal Cardinals 8th Straight Loss

The Cardinals, who have yet to win on a foreign field this season, used four pitchers as the Cubs got 10 hits to balance new Manager Lou Boudreau's record at 2-2 via their second straight triumph.

Jerry Kindall, Ellsworth's teammate at Houston before the youthful pair were recalled by the Cubs recently, drove in three runs. Replacing traded Tony Taylor at second, Kindall hit a sacrifice fly for his first 1960 RBI, and then singled for two more.

Rookie Frank Barnes, making his first start, suffered his first loss when the Cubs pushed across an unearned run in the fourth. Shortstop Alex Grammas opened the gates by fumbling Frank Thomas' leadoff grounder.

Moose Moryn singled and Sammy Taylor walked to fill the bases. Then Kindall greeted reliever Ernie Broglio with his sacrifice fly.

The Cubs got to Broglio for three runs in the fifth. Bob Will opened with a double. Before Marshall Bridges could rescue Broglio, Moryn's second single drove in the first run and Kindall connected for the final pair.

Ellsworth developed a kink in his arm in the eighth, and Morehead replaced him with a one and one count on Stan Musial.

Morehead got Musial on a fly to Moryn, and Ken Boyer on an inning-ending double play.

Gino Marchetti Inks Colt Pact

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gino Marchetti, star defensive end and captain of the Baltimore Colts, has signed for his eighth season with the National Football League champions.

The 6-foot 4, 245-pound end played his first pro football year with the Dallas Texans, then shifted to Baltimore with the new franchise in 1953. He has been an all-pro selection the past four seasons and has seen action in five Pro Bowl games.

Last year Marchetti came back with another outstanding performance although a broken ankle late in the 1958 season had cast doubts about his future with the team.

LSU Draws Favored Role In SEC Meet

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Louisiana State is in the familiar role of favorite for the Southeastern Conference track meet next weekend.

On the basis of performances throughout the season, LSU is out front, followed closely by Florida.

But the championship battle shapes up as a two-team affair.

LSU is strong in the dashes with Ralph Fabian, in the hurdles with Dickie Durham, in the half mile with Carl Seefield and in field events with Lew Bandaries and Joe Harris.

Florida's best individuals are Henry Wadsworth in the pole vault and high jump, Art Foster in the broad jump, Ron Allen in the mile and half mile and Tommy Michels in the hurdles.

In the two relay events — which mean double points — Auburn and Florida rate the top teams.

At least one record is pretty certain to fall. Ed Nutting of Georgia Tech has been putting the 16-pound shot consistently farther than the conference record of 55 feet 1¼ inches and has done 58 feet 7 inches.

Bandaries of LSU and Richard Crane of Auburn, who set the record last year, also have exceeded it.

Wadsworth has cleared 15 feet in the pole vault and is rated a good bet to beat the conference mark of 14 feet 2⅞ inches.

Durham has bettered the 120-yard high hurdles record of 14.1 seconds with a time of 13.9 and Seefield has done the half mile in 1 minute 52.2 seconds against the record of 1:52.8.

All 12 conference schools are expected to compete in the varsity division and most of them in the freshman division as well.

Trials in both divisions and some of the freshmen finals are scheduled for Friday, with all varsity finals on Saturday.

PLAN SUMMER DRILLS

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The St. Louis Hawks will hold a summer basketball training camp session at a Monticello, N.Y., resort from June 12 to June 18. The camp will enable new coach Paul Seymour to size up a group of outstanding rookies and several Eastern League players for the 1960-61 National Basketball Assn., season.

SETS LAP RECORD

Sachs Wins Pole Position For 500

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Eddie Sachs, fastest talker in auto racing, announced he was going to drive the first official 147-mile-an-hour lap on the 5-year-old Indianapolis Motor Speedway Saturday—and then did it.

The Center Valley, Pa., tavern owner, won the pole position for the 44th 500-mile race May 30, and an incidental $1,200, by breaking two records set only 90 minutes earlier by Jim Rathmann of Miami.

Sachs wheeled his new Dean Special around the track for a 10-mile qualifying average of 146.592 miles an hour and a best lap or 147.251.

Sixteen cars qualified altogether at a record average of 144.683 for the first session, leaving 17 starting spots to be filled in additional trials Sunday and next weekend.

A crowd estimated at 75,000 watched Rathmann turn in the first record-cracking run at 146.371, with a best lap of 146.915. His brother Dick, another racing veteran from Rozelle, Ill., set the old 10-mile mark of 145.974 two years ago.

Johnny Thomson, Boyertown, Pa., made the one-lap record of 146.532 last year. Thomson's engine popped a valve Saturday and he didn't get started.

Jim Rathmann has been runner-up three times in the 500, including last year, but never has won. Sachs has failed to finish in three starts.

California race car builder A.J. Watson put three cars in the front row of the Memorial Day race. He built Jim Rathmann's car himself and also the car in which Rodger Ward of Indianapolis, last year's winner, had the third best qualifying speed at 145.560.

Sachs' car was built from Watson's plans.

Two other former 500-winners besides Ward made the lineup. Troy Ruttman, Dearborn, Mich., '52 winner averaged 145.766 and Jimmy Bryan, Phoenix, Ariz., '58 winner, 144.532.

There were only two first-time qualifiers—Lloyd Ruby, Houston, and Wayne Weiler, Phoenix.

GEHRIG RECORD STANDS

NEW YORK (UPI) — The late Lou Gehrig, who performed the feat June 3, 1932, is the only modern major league baseball player to have hit four consecutive home runs in a single game.

REPORT FROM BATON ROUGE

Board Rebellion May Trigger Feud

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

If a Long bloc organizes to fight Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' board appointments, the current Legislature could produce more fireworks than expected.

Davis has asked all Long board members to resign, so that he can surround himself with men of his own choosing. Earl Long did this same thing four years ago.

In his requests to board members for their resignations this week, Davis asked that they quit by noon Monday, which indicates that he wants to start appointing his own people when the Legislature convenes Monday night.

Thus, Davis should learn tomorrow night the extent of his actual known strength in the Legislature.

Several key legislators have voiced disapproval — in private — of being forced to address board members out of office, but no doubt the majority will go along with the governor's wishes.

Everybody expected Davis to want to choose his own boards, but none ever suspected that he would ask E. H. McDonald Sr. of Newellton to step out as chairman of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission.

Since the governor and McDonald are friends, this seemed out of the question.

[illegible] legislators who have been around awhile are choosy about their assigned seats in the House and Senate. The seating arrangement changes up with each administration.

In the House, the Ouachita delegation has its old spot in the rear with Rep. Mike John Jr. sitting where Gilbert Faulk did. Rep. Robert Angelle, the Long Speaker, of Breaux Bridge got his old seat back, although Rep. Tom Jewell of New Roads is the new Speaker.

Rep. T. T. Fields will be a floor leader, but chose to keep his seat directly in front of the Ouachita delegation. Floor leaders generally sit in front, but Fields prefers the rear so he can watch the proceedings.

On the Senate side, Sen. Speedy O. Long of Jena was moved down to the front. Sen. Jamar Adcock of Monroe didn't get Jim Sparks' choice spot near the front, but Sen. J. C. "Sonny" Gilbert of Sicily Island was assigned Dr. Ralph F. King's former desk.

Dr. King sat behind Sparks, who sat behind Sen. B. B. "60" Rayburn of Bogalusa and Sen. Robert Ainsworth of New Orleans. Ainsworth is now the President Pro-Tem and Rayburn, Long's floor whip, is out of the spotlight.

When Rep. Jack [illegible] of Concordia Parish rode a horse to Baton Rouge two years ago, he was accused by some as making an unusual grandstand play.

But when thousands of Louisianans rode boats to Baton Rouge last week, everybody thought it was a great idea.

Rep. Passman Attacks U. S. Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Otto Passman (D-La.) bitterly attacked the U. S. foreign aid program Saturday and forecast cuts of up to 1½ billion dollars, the Washington Post reported Saturday night.

The newspaper said Passman, chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee studying the legislation, attacked the program while talking with three aid supporters in a Capitol corridor.

Congress has passed a foreign aid authorization bill, not yet signed by President Eisenhower, which sets up $4,105,000,000 for next year's program. But this measure does not make the actual appropriations with which to carry out the work. The House Appropriations Committee and its subcommittee will have the main voice in that.

Passman was quoted as saying the closed door hearings have "uncovered stuff that is fantastic, almost unpublishable" and the program is riddled "with corruption, scandal and blackmail."

He said "We haven't learned that nations can be corrupted by too much aid" and declared the United States is corrupting smaller nations so that "If war breaks out they'll all be on the other side within 72 hours," the newspaper reported.

Passman's listeners were identified by the Post as Kenneth Maxwell, executive director of the Department of Internal Affairs of the National Council of Churches of Christ; Gilbert E. Blackford of Church World Service and Catholic Relief Services, and E. Raymond Wilson of the Friends Committee on National Legislation.

He has had experience in real estate sales and appraisals and in the sale of insurance. Ledoux and his wife Carol will soon reside at their new home on Kathy Lane.

Die

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Four persons perished and 21 others were injured Saturday in the collision of two freight trains at Koodon, some 50 miles east of Seoul, the Transportation Ministry announced. The dead and injured were Korean soldiers on weekend leaves riding in a rear-end boxcar which was hit by a following locomotive, the ministry added.

IMPROMPTU MAILMAN

WILLISTON PARK, N.Y. (UPI) — It was a beautiful spring day and 17-year-old Jeffrey Kupke was unable to resist the desire to go for a ride.

Kupke made the mistake, however, of taking his ride in a red, white and blue mail truck.

When police found him wearing a bright sports jacket as he sat behind the wheel of the truck, they became suspicious. Kupke admitted he had "borrowed" the vehicle from Uncle Sam.

Long Declines Comment About House Race

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — Former Gov. Earl Kemp Long declined direct comment Saturday on a rumor he might run for the national House of Representatives.

Long would say only: "You can say that I already have had envelopes printed to mail to every white voter in the district."

Reports circulating in the Eighth Congressional District were that Long was awaiting a decision by his friend, former State Sen. Sammy Downs of Alexandria who was said to be considering making the race.

The post now is held by Rep. Harold McSween of Alexandria who defeated Long - supported Lloyd Teekell.

In 1912 Dr. Alexis Carrel was the first American to receive the Nobel Prize in medicine and physiology. His prize was for his contribution to surgery of blood vessels.

REPORT FROM BATON ROUGE

Board Rebellion May Trigger Feud

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

If a Long bloc organizes to fight Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' board appointments, the current Legislature could produce more fireworks than expected.

Davis has asked all Long board members to resign, so that he can surround himself with men of his own choosing. Earl Long did this same thing four years ago.

In his requests to board members for their resignations this week, Davis asked that they quit by noon Monday, which indicates that he wants to start appointing his own people when the Legislature convenes Monday night.

Thus, Davis should learn tomorrow night the extent of his already known strength in the Legislature.

Several key legislators have voiced disapproval — in private— of being forced to address board members out of office, but no doubt the majority will go along with the governor's wishes.

Everybody expected Davis to want to choose his own boards, but none ever suspected that he would ask E. R. McDonald Sr. of Newellton to step out as chairman of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission.

Since the governor and McDonald are friends, this seemed out of the question.

Whether Davis is making an example out of McDonald with actual plans of reappointing him is not certain. One thing is certain, though, and that's the unexplainable fact that even McDonald doesn't know what Davis intends to do.

To sum up the general feeling among legislators, officials and observers, Davis is keeping his plans to himself.

A Monroe native and former Mississippi legislator, Chris Faser, will play a big role in the governor's office for the next four years.

Faser was with Davis before and quit the Mississippi Legislature to join him again. He is the governor's eyes and ears.

An indication of how the governor's office will be operated was seen this week when Davis announced the appointment of Murphy Roden as State Police superintendent and the reappointment of James S. Reily as commissioner of administration.

A press conference was called in the governor's office for the announcement of the appointment. But, when newsmen arrived, Davis was not present.

Sitting in the governor's chair, Faser passed out the announcements.

Another indication was well emphasized in Baton Rouge this week too and that was the apparent popularity of State Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion.

At the inaugural ball Tuesday night, Gremillion got an ovation almost as big as the governor did. There are many who believe Gremillion will run for governor four years from now.

Some 10,000 persons turned out for the inaugural ball held at the John M. Parker Coliseum on the LSU campus. The crowd reminded us of when Bob Pettit enjoyed his great moments there.

The governor and Mrs. Davis got a standing ovation when they entered in the middle of a spotlight and, following the grand march, Davis had 10,000 voices in unison singing his hillbilly favorite, "You Are My Sunshine."

Those familiar with the LSU coliseum might wonder how a ball could be held on a dirt floor built for cowshows. An asphalt floor was laid at a cost of $2,000. The Davis people made it plain that this project didn't cost the taxpayers anything.

Some legislators who have been around awhile are choosy about their assigned seats in the House and Senate. The seating arrangement changes up with each administration.

In the House, the Ouachita delegation has its old spot in the rear when Rep. Mike John Jr. sitting where Gilbert Faulk did. Rep. Robert Angelle, the Long Speaker, of Breaux Bridge got his old seat back, although Rep. Tom Jewell of New Roads is the new Speaker.

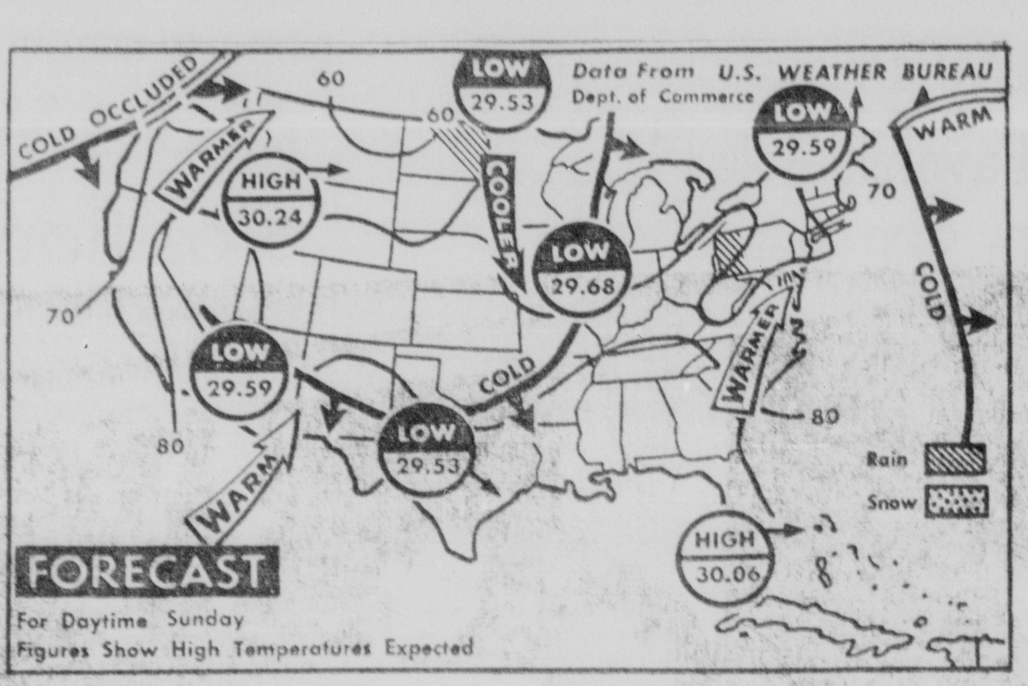
Rep. T. T. Fields will be a floor leader, but chose to keep his seat directly in front of the Ouachita delegation. Floor leaders generally sit in front, but Fields prefers the rear so he can watch the proceedings.

On the Senate side, sen. Speedy O. Long of Jena has moved down to the front. Sen. Jamar Adcock of Monroe didn't get Jim Sparks' choice spot near the front, but Sen. J. C. (Sonny) Gilbert of Sicily Island was assigned Dr. Ralph E. King's former desk.

Dr. King sat behind Sparks, who sat behind Sen. B. B. (60) Rayburn of Bogalusa and Sen. Robert Ainsworth of New Orleans. Ainsworth is now the President Pro-Tem and Rayburn, Long's floor whip, is out of the spotlight.

Publicity is interesting to watch. When Rep. Jack Crane of Concordia Parish rode a horse to Baton Rouge two years ago, he was accused by some as making an unusual grandstand play.

But when thousands of Louisianians rode boats to Baton Rouge last week, everybody thought it was a great idea.



CLEAR TO PARTLY CLOUDY weather is expected to continue over most of the U.S. with rain in northeastern North Dakota, extreme northern New England, western Pennsylvania and the area from Oklahoma to southwestern Ohio and Tennessee Valleys. Warming trends will continue in the East and Northwest while cooler air is due to move into the upper and mid-Mississippi Valley. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Rep. Passman Attacks U. S. Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Otto Passman (D-La) bitterly attacked the U. S. foreign aid program Saturday and forecast cuts of up to 1½ billion dollars, the Washington Post reported Saturday night.

The newspaper said Passman, chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee studying the legislation attacked the program while talking with three aid supporters in a Capitol corridor.

Congress has passed a foreign aid authorization bill, not yet signed by President Eisenhower, which sets up $4,105,000,000 for next year's program. But this measure does not make the actual appropriatons with which to carry out the work. The House Appropriations Committee and its subcommittee will have the main voice in that.

Passman was quoted as saying the closed door hearings have "uncovered stuff that is fantastic, almost unpublishable" and the program is riddled "with corruption, scandal and blackmail."

He said "We haven't learned that nations can be corrupted by too much aid" and declared the United States is corrupting smaller nations so that "If war breaks out they'll all be on the other side within 72 hours," the newspaper reported.

Passman's listeners were identified by the Post as Kenneth Maxwell, executive director of the Department of Internal Affairs of the National Council of Churches of Christ; Gilbert E. Blackford of Church World Service and Catholic Relief Services, and E. Raymond Wilson of the Friends Committee on National Legislation.

TRAINING

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—About 3,000 U.S. Army troops, including parachutists, will take part in a nine-day training exercise starting Monday around Hagueanu, France. The Army calls the operation Fleche d'Or, or Golden Arrow.

W. H. Ledoux Opens Real Estate Office

W. H. LEDOUX

William H. (Bill) Ledoux has recently opened a real estate and insurance office located at 607 N. 17th St. 1½ blocks from Louisville Ave.

Ledoux is a lifetime resident of Monroe. He is a graduate of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute in Ruston, and a graduate of a seven - week comprehensive course conducted by one of the large insurance companies in Boston, Mass.

He has had experience in real estate sales and appraisals and in the sale of insurance. Ledoux and his wife Carol will soon reside at their new home on Kathy Lane.

Die

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Four persons perished and 21 others were injured Saturday in the collision of two freight trains at Koodon, some 50 miles east of Seoul, the Transportation Ministry announced. The dead and injured were Korean soldiers on weekend leaves riding in a rear-end boxcar which was hit by a following locomotive, the ministry added.

IMPROMPTU MAILMAN

WILLISTON PARK, N.Y. (UPI) —It was a beautiful spring day and 17-year-old Jeffrey Kupke was unable to resist the desire to go for a ride.

Kupke made the mistake, however, of taking his ride in a red, white and blue mail truck.

When police found him wearing a bright sports jacket as he sat behind the wheel of the truck, they became suspicious. Kupke admitted he had "borrowed" the vehicle from Uncle Sam.

Long Declines Comment About House Race

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP)—Former Gov. Earl Kemp Long declined direct comment Saturday on a rumor he might run for the national House of Representatives.

Long would say only: "You can say that I already have had envelopes printed to mail to every white voter in the district."

Reports circulating in the Eighth Congressional District were that Long was awaiting a decision by his friend, former State Sen. Sammy Downs of Alexandria who was said to be considering making the race.

The post now is held by Rep. Harold McSween of Alexandria who defeated Long - supported Lloyd Teekell.

In 1912 Dr. Alexis Carrel was the first American to receive the Nobel Prize in medicine and physiology. His prize was for his contribution to surgery of blood vessels.

Cummins-Scott Betrothal Told At Tea Saturday

The engagement of Miss Betty Corinne Scott and Jay Hullum Cummins was announced yesterday at a tea in the Paragon ballroom. Hostesses for the party were Mrs. John G. Lewis, Mrs. Leon Sutton, Mrs. Guy Holloway of Laredo, Texas, Mrs. Jack M. Wyatt of New Orleans, and Mrs. Howell B. Payne of Shreveport.

Miss Scott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Scott of Monroe, and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Payne of Shreveport, and of Mrs. F. H. Scott of Jackson, Miss., and the late Mr. Scott. She is a graduate of Neville High school, of Stephens college, Columbia, Mo., and of Northeast State college.

The groom-elect is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Cummins, and the grandson of Dr. and Mrs. B. M. McKein, all of Monroe. He is a graduate of Neville High school and of Northeast State college, where his fraternity was Kappa Alpha.

The wedding is planned for five in the afternoon on June 18 in the Parkview Baptist church. The Rev. H. L. Sampson will officiate.

Guests arriving at yesterday's tea were greeted at the door to the ballroom by Mrs. John G. Lewis, wearing a blue and green print, and Mrs. Jack Wyatt in white silk linen. Decorating the entrance were two topiary trees of Japanese yew topped with pink love birds.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Leon Sutton, Mrs. T. H. Scott, the honoree, Miss Betty Scott, Mrs. J. W. Cummins, Mrs. Guy Holloway, and Mrs. Howell B. Payne. Mrs. Sutton was wearing a toast colored silk sheath, and Mrs. Scott, pink linen with organdy trim and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Holloway wore pink and white embroidered linen. Mrs. Cummins, a pink silk organza sheath with a corsage of pink carnations; and Mrs. Payne, pink silk organza appliqued with satin flowers.

The honoree chose a trousseau model of pink marquisette fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, wrist length sleeves, and a fitted bodice overlaid with Irish lace. Her billowing overskirt was of white silk organza, and she wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

The circular glass wall of the ballroom was centered with a tall bird bath, holding love birds and surrounded with three flowing fountains banked with greenery and flowers. Throughout the room were wrought iron stands holding cages of pink birds and butterflies.

Refreshments were served from three tables, which were covered with pink cloths overlaid with white tulle. Entwined pink satin hearts decorated the floor length flounces, and pink love birds held satin streamers carrying the words "Betty and Jay," June 18".

Centering the tables were alabaster compotes filled with pink stock, gladioli, roses and carnations. Mobiles of pink feathered birds hung over each table.

Those who poured were Mrs. Rupert Scott, Mrs. E. A. Kiper, Mrs. Van D. Odom, Mrs. C. A. Petrus, Mrs. Ivy Jordan, Mrs. Bruce Brooks, Mrs. T. B. Godfrey, Jr., Mrs. A. G. Olcott, Mrs. E. W. Cruse, Mrs. J. T. Conger, Mrs. James A. Noe, and Mrs. Meyer Glazer.

Mrs. C. B. Shackleford and Mrs. Lou Updegraff presided at the guest book.

Those who assisted with the serving were Mrs. E. W. Crowley, Mrs. George Phebus, Mrs. Earl Fisher, Mrs. A. Petrus, Mrs. Walter Knapp, and Mrs. Paul Oment. Tea girls were Mrs. Guy Ogden, Mrs. James H. Lewis, Miss Genny Williams, Miss Sue Ann Kiper, Miss Linda Lee Woods, and Miss Ann Mathieu.

MISS MAMIE LOU KOVAC

Thompson-Kovac Nuptial Plans Announced At Party

The engagement of Miss Mamie Lou Kovac of Oak Grove and Kelvin Lawrence Thompson was announced at a reception given Saturday night in Baton Rouge by Mr. and Mrs. James H. Balden in their home on Sevenoaks avenue.

Miss Kovac, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kovac of Oak Grove, and Mr. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Thompson of Baton Rouge, will be married on July 9 in Oak Grove at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

About 200 guests gathered for the announcement party between the hours of 6 and 9 o'clock.

Greeting guests at the door were Mr. and Mrs. Balden, sister of the groom to be. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. John Brooks, Mrs. Abner Landry Jr. and Mrs. O. J. Lasseigne Jr.

Presiding over the guest register were Mrs. Curtis C. Sharp and Mrs. Everett F. Ziegler. An imported pink linen cloth covered the table accented by a silver compote filled with ice cream pink asters mingled with other champagne flowers. Denoting members of the house party were corsages of pink asters.

Covering the serving table was a pink cloth overlaid with a full tiered white organdy skirt. Centering the table was a cupid compote in a pernam finish, which held an arrangement in the French manner of champagne pink roses and colored stock. Entwined around the base of the compote were garlands of English ivy.

A large fostoria punch bowl held pink champagne with roses embedded in ice.

For the occasion the honoree chose a black eyelet embroidery over persimmon with a three tiered skirt graduated from the waist to a pencilled effect. Miss Kovac attended LPI and Mr. Thompson LSU and Midwestern University. Her corsage, presented by the hostess, was of cymbidium orchids in muted tones of pink and persimmon.

Old South Ball Climaxes Annual Kappa Alpha Week

Festivities of Old South Week, observed annually by Kappa Alpha Order at Northeast State College, were climaxed by the Old South ball held on the Frances Hotel roof.

The gala event featured attractive belles in beautiful hoop-skirt gowns who danced with bearded gentlemen against a background of flowers, fountains, rose entwined trellises and a mammoth Confederate flag.

Max Williams, a KA officer, served as master of ceremonies in the introduction of fraternity members, their dates and special guests. As the couples approached the end of the ballroom, Miss Joy Kennedy of Farmerville presented each with a favor, a fleece-lined white hooded jacket, bearing the inscription "Old South 1960" and a Rebel firing a cannon, with KA shooting from it.

Suspense increased after this phase of the evening's feature as the guests waited eagerly for the announcement of the new Kappa Alpha Rose. With appropriate fanfare, Miss Linda Files of Oak Ridge was proclaimed the incoming Rose, and she was presented a bouquet of crimson roses. Miss Jean Stark of Bastrop, wearer of the title this past school year, pinned the sweetheart insignia on Miss Files, then the fraternity president, Henry Dawson of Monroe, and the new Rose led the couples in a special dance. Warren Storm's Orchestra played for dancing throughout the evening.

Enjoying the merriment of the occasion were Kappa Alpha members, alumni, their dates, other Northeast fraternity representatives and their dates, and several from KA chapters at Louisiana State University, Louisiana Tech and the University of Mississippi, Northeast administrators, instructors and their wives and dates.

Active Northeast chapter members and their dates included: Wyche Ashcraft and Peggy Tipton, Pete Bergeron and Joan Hamilton, Jimmy Brown and Linda Files, James Bruno and Diane McBride, Clayton Cole and Rena Conway, Joe Conger and Ann Del Toro, Henry Dawson and Sue Weir, Bennie Farrar and Julia LeBlanc, J. L. Furlow and Lena Armstrong, Sonny Harper and Frances Jones, Jim Harper and Connie Keller, Howard Hopson and Jean Stark, John James and Rosalind Walker, Bishop Johnston and Ruth Ann Boggs, Billy King and Sue Ann Kiper, Tom King and Gail Roberts.

Sam Henry and Sharon Rosenold, Sam Nolan and Malise Mapp, Bill Turnbough and Mary Allen Files, David Vail and Mary Damon, Dan Vanderhoeven and Jackie Tharpe, Max Williams and Joy Kennedy.

Pledges and their dates were: Bill Adams and Carolyn Oubre, Jerry Baugh and Betty Jenkins, Eugene Briley and Esta Ann Ford, Tom Claridge and Andree Kergosien, Marcel Clause and Nancy Lee Wickson, Frankie Donald and Marcia Files, Kirk Fisher and Susan Gilley, Jay Flynn and Sherman Ann Smith, Ronnie James and Ann Landry, John Lauve and Connie Green, Mike Lynch and Betty Carter, Maurice Levite and Dollie Bassett, John McCormick and Ann Krause.

Bill McDonough and Joyce Ann Brodie, John Parsons and Ann Hayes, Kenneth Renwick and Sandra Johnston, Jon Rivkin and Dottie Dawson, Lee Talton and Millie Wendorf, Glynn Tubbs and Karon Strozier, Joe Wheeler and Missy Ferguson, Clarence White and Beth McNeil, Johnny McDuffy and Carol Taliaferro, Leon Johnston and Joan Hugges.

Special guests included Northeast's president, Dr. George T. Walker, and Mrs. Walker, the faculty advisers to the fraternity, Dr. Harry M. Lemert, and Mrs. Lemert and Dr. Marvin McKneeley, and Miss Hazel Standford, Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Hammond, Dr. and Mrs. Fred J. Vogel, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Miss Kovac attended LPI and Mr. Thompson LSU and Midwestern University. Her corsage, presented by the hostess, was of cymbidium orchids in muted tones of pink and persimmon.

Old South Ball Climaxes Annual Kappa Alpha Week

Festivities of Old South Week, observed annually by Kappa Alpha Order at Northeast State College, were climaxed by the Old South ball held on the Frances Hotel roof.

The gala event featured attractive belles in beautiful hoop-skirt gowns who danced with bearded gentlemen against a background of flowers, fountains, rose entwined trellises and a mammoth Confederate flag.

Max Williams, a KA officer, served as master of ceremonies in the introduction of fraternity members, their dates and special guests. As the couples approached the end of the ballroom, Miss Joy Kennedy of Farmerville presented each with a favor, a fleece-lined white hooded jacket, bearing the inscription "Old South 1960" and a Rebel firing a cannon, with KA shooting from it.

Suspense increased after this phase of the evening's feature as the guests waited eagerly for the announcement of the new Kappa Alpha Rose. With appropriate fanfare, Miss Linda Files of Oak Ridge was proclaimed the incoming Rose, and she was presented a bouquet of crimson roses. Miss Jean Stark of Bastrop, wearer of the title this past school year, pinned the sweetheart insignia on Miss Files, then the fraternity president, Henry Dawson of Monroe, and the new Rose led the couples in a special dance. Warren Storm's Orchestra played for dancing throughout the evening.

Enjoying the merriment of the occasion were Kappa Alpha members, alumni, their dates, other Northeast fraternity representatives and their dates, and several from KA chapters at Louisiana State University, Louisiana Tech and the University of Mississippi, Northeast administrators, instructors and their wives and dates.

Active Northeast chapter members and their dates included: Wyche Ashcraft and Peggy Tipton, Pete Bergeron and Joan Hamilton, Jimmy Brown and Linda Files, James Bruno and Diane McBride, Clayton Cole and Rena Conway, Joe Conger and Ann Del Toro, Henry Dawson and Sue Weir, Bennie Farrar and Julia LeBlanc, J. L. Furlow and Lena Armstrong, Sonny Harper and Frances Jones, Jim Harper and Connie Keller, Howard Hopson and Jean Stark, John James and Rosalind Walker, Bishop Johnston and Ruth Ann Boggs, Billy King and Sue Ann Kiper, Tom King and Gail Roberts.

Sam Henry and Sharon Regenold, Sam Nolan and Malise Mapp, Bill Turnbough and Mary Allen Files, David Vail and Mary Damon, Dan Vanderhoeven and Jackie Tharpe, Max Williams and Joy Kennedy.

Pledges and their dates were: Bill Adams and Carolyn Oubre, Jerry Baugh and Betty Jenkins, Eugene Briley and Esta Ann Ford, Tom Claridge and Andree Kergosien, Marcel Clause and Nancy Lee Wickson, Frankie Donald and Marcia Files, Kirk Fisher and Susan Gilley, Jay Flynn and Sherman Ann Smith, Ronnie James and Ann Landry, John Lauve and Connie Green, Mike Lynch and Betty Carter, Maurice Levite and Dollie Bassett, John McCormick and Ann Krause.

Bill McDonough and Joyce Ann Brodie, John Parsons and Ann Hayes, Kenneth Renwick and Sandra Johnston, Jon Rivkin and Dottie Dawson, Lee Talton and Millie Wendorf, Glynn Tubbs and Karon Strozier, Joe Wheeler and Missy Ferguson, Clarence White and Beth McNeil, Johnny McDuffy and Carol Taliaferro, Leon Johnston and Joan Hugges.

Special guests included Northeast's president, Dr. George T. Walker, and Mrs. Walker, the faculty advisers to the fraternity, Dr. Harry M. Lemert, and Mrs. Lemert and Dr. Marvin McKneeley, and Miss Hazel Standford, Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Hammond, Dr. and Mrs. Fred J. Vogel, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Barnes, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Welder, Mr. Bobby L. Walker and Miss Fran Guthrie and Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl.

Dateline, Baton Rouge! . . . .Denise was privileged to be in the capital city this week for the inaguration of Governor Jimmie Davis. . . .And there were quite a few of us there. . . Visitors began arriving over the weekend, with the flotilla of boats on the river there in time for a big water parade Sunday afternoon.

Tuesday morning's parade was led by the LSU marching band, with the Jonesboro-Hodge band having the place of honor immediately behind the car carrying the governor. There were a number of governors and other dignitaries from neighboring states, and a group of representatives from the countries which maintain consulates in Louisiana's sea parts.

Favorites of parade-watchers were the floats carrying twenty-three of Louisiana's lovliest young ladies, each a queen of one of our festivals. Other groups in the marching line were the Pershing Rifles and Scabbard and Blade society and the Arnold Air Force from LSU, the Sheriff's Posse of Baton Rouge, and a number of bands from high schools in other parts of the state.

The inaugural Ball Tuesday evening was held in the LSU Coliseum, which is supposed to hold some ten thousand people . . . and we think it did. Guests were seated in the tiers of seats surrounding the arena, where an asphalt floor had been poured for dancing. Governor Davis and his lady entered at 9:30 and led a Grand March of the official family before general dancing began. Mrs. Davis was wearing a white chiffon dress with a tiered, floor-length skirt. Her rose-colored cummerbund echoed the rose colored, sequin-embroidered flowers on the bodice.

The asphalt floor offered a surprisingly slick surface . . . and the dance cost the taxpayers not a dime, as the master of ceremonies hastened to assure the guests. Two bands of Ted Weems and Al Balenio, on band stands at each end of the large room, alternated in providing continuous music . . . The Colonels' Ball, a smaller affair, was held at the Capitol House with Paul Neighbors' band playing.

Among the people from this end of the state we spied at one or another function at one time or another were the PAUL HEWITTS . . . the FRED BROWNLEES . . . the BUDDY NAPPERS of Ruston . . . The BILL CARPENTERS and the WOODROW WILSONS of Bastrop. Elsie was wearing a full-skirted white tulle ball gown, and Mary chose pink organza trimmed with flowers of the self-material . . . the WHARTON BROWNS were there . . . and the CAREY ELLISES of Rayville . . . the LAVELLE SALLEYS . . . and the FRED HUENEFELDS, JR. . . . and the JIM FRAZIERS . . . the JAMAR ADCOCKS and their daughter, JAN, escorted by CECIL HILL. Jan was in a pale blue taffeta overlaid with navy lace . . . Saw the JACK NEELS . . . and the FRED HIGHTOWERS . . . and the H. C. MENUETS. Helen looked positively regal in white chiffon . . . and the MIKE JOHNS. . . . and the MARVIN RAMSEYS of Sterlington.

As we de-planed in Monroe Wednesday morning, we met the KING STUBBS waiting to board the north-bound flight. They were en route to Parents' Day at Princeton, where they visited their son, King, before proceeding to New York for a few days. They are due home the middle of the week.

KATHERINE HILBURN spent the week in Baton Rouge with her daughter, Mary Helen (MRS. ROSS BANNISTER) and her family. She is due home today.

M-SGT. and MRS. JESSE V. HALL have been guests of the ROBERT IRBYS since last week. They came here from Remore, Ontario, Canada, and are en route to Panama City, Florida, where he will be stationed with the Air Force. They are leaving Tuesday.

Here from Houston is MRS. GEORGE RAPP, (the former Henrietta Flexmin), and her daughter, CYNTHIA. They will be with Henrietta's mother, CARRIE FLEXMIN, until Wednesday.

Never has a dance at the Paragon ballroom been so lavishly lovely as the Cotillion "Le Bal des Fleurs", last Saturday night. Hundreds of azalea blossoms all in pale pastels, were used to bank the curving wall of the ballroom.

Preceding the dance, members of the Cotillion and their guests gathered in groups of six to ten couples in small home parties. One such gathering was at the COY CASEY home, where Jane served sandwiches and other finger food to seven couples.

Fourteen couples stopped by the RUFFIN TIDWELLS. Margaret Ann, looking lovely in a yellow organdy dancing dress appliqued with chintz flowers, served shrimp dip, smoked oysters, and cheese dips to her guests . . . Other small parties were held in the DICK TOUCHSTONE and in the GEORGE SNELLINGS, JR., homes.

Outstanding among the dresses on the floor was DOT WINN's cafe au lait organza appliqued with black lace . . . and KATHLEEN EASON with a cummerbund matching the lace on her wide-wide white organza sleeves . . . YVONNE ANDERSON wore shirred white chiffon which flared into a full skirt . . . Blue flowers were printed on DOT HADDAD's white batiste . . . and CAROLINE MASUR's pale orange was polka-dotted in a deeper orange shade . . . We saw the WARREN WHITES and their guests, the GAYLE CARTERS, in from Mer Rouge.

Once in a saintly passion
I cried with desperate grief.
"Oh Lord, my heart is black with guile.
Of sinners I am chief."
Then stooped my guardian angel
And whispered from behind,
"Vanity, my little man,
You're nothing of the kind."

'Le Bal des Fleurs' Is Given by Cotillion Club

"Le Bal des Fleurs", given Saturday night by the Cotillion dance club, turned the Paragon ballroom into a bower of pastel blossoms.

Azaleas in shades of pink to deep rose, highlighted with white, were banked before the curving glass wall of the ballroom. Blue morning glories climbed over the arbor which centered the wall.

A white picket fence wreathed with ivy encircled the dance floor and the bandstand. Individual tables were centered with candles in hurricane glasses, entwined with ivy and pink blossoms.

Jerry Lane's orchestra played for dancing from nine until one. Breakfast was served to several hundred club members and guests after the dance.

Mrs. Billy Edmondson was chairman of the dance, assisted by Mrs. Henry Hammonds as co-chairman. Decorations Chairman was Mrs. Roy Kelly, with Mrs. Carl Tidwell, assistant.

Others who worked on the decorations were Mrs. Coy Casey, Mrs. W. E. Smith, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Henry, Mrs. Grant Boardman, Mrs. Ruffin Tidwell, Mrs. Sam Savaso, Mrs. Jack Fluke, Mrs. Buddy Bodron, Mrs. Clarence Roberts, Mrs. H. W. Chapman, Mrs. Paul Ransom, and Mrs. L. M. Ballard.

Mrs. Reneau Breard was in charge of table decorations, assisted by Mrs. Malcom Smith, Mrs. Bill Eason, and Mrs. Frank Eason.

Mrs. Faheam Cannon and Mrs. Naj Klam were the invitations committee.

F. A. Decker, Jr. To Be Married In Mississippi

Announcement has been made in Tupelo, Mississippi, of the engagement of Miss Barbara Ann Crump to Floyd Arthur Decker, Jr., of Memphis, formerly of Monroe. The wedding will take place on May 29.

Mr. Decker is the son of Mrs. Floyd Arthur Decker, Sr., and the late Mr. Decker, who was minister at the Church of Christ in Monroe. The prospective bridegroom was graduated from Tupelo High school and attended Itawamba Junior college.

Miss Crump is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor Crump of Tupelo and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Hampton of Saltillo. She attended Lindenwood college for women in St. Charles, Missouri.

Miss Richards Weds Mr. Fuller

The Gordon Avenue Methodist church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Margaret Ann Richards and William Fuller on April 30. The Rev. W. M. Allen officiated at the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Richards, and the groom is the son of Robert Fuller and Mrs. Louise Logan.

Two baskets of white gladioli and four candelabra decorated the altar. Miss Elaine Haskett gave a pre - nuptial concert as the candles were being lighted by Mrs. Richards and Mrs. Logan.

Miss Patsy Lentz was the maid of honor and Darrel Piltcher served the groom as best man.

A reception was held for forty friends in the home of the bride's parents following the wedding. A white linen cutwork cloth covered the bride's table, which was centered with an arrangement of white stock flanked with white candles.

Rouge Is Used Incorrectly

Of all the make-up requisites available to modern woman, the one that is probably more often incorrectly applied than any other is cheek rouge. The most common fault in using this popular beauty essential is that the wearer invariably leaves a telltale line of demarcation between the rouge color and the color of the foundation make-up. To avoid this, and to help you create a delicate, natural - looking blush tone, here are some suggestions:

When applying cheek rouge, as with any other make-up requisite, be sure your face is flooded with light. Begin by placing the rouge on the high part of your cheek. Then, with a damp-dry silk sponge (for creme or fluid rouge), carefully blend the rouge outwardly from this center point, in a pattern best suited for your face, allowing the color to fade into your foundation make-up. For dry rouge, an ideal way to blend the color over your cheek is with the use of a face powder brush.

MRS. LARRY CROSSLAND

MR. AND MRS. Gordon Quisenberry cut their wedding cake following their marriage in Los Angeles, California. Mrs. Quisenberry, the former Miss Diana Stockstill, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stockstill, who resided in West Monroe until recently. When Mr. Quisenberry completes his service with the U.S. Navy, the couple will make their home in Glendale.

Crossland-Burnett Vows Heard In Crossett, Ark.

The chapel of the First Baptist Church in Crossett was the setting Saturday, May 7th, at 7:30 p.m. for the wedding of Miss Marilyn Rose Burnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd H. Burnett, and Larry Crossland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kone Crossland, all of Crossett.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Bill G. Hickem before an arch entwined with ivy. Floor baskets of white gladioli were flanked by two seven-branched candelabra which held white tapers. Candlelighters were Don Allen Burnett and John Wesley Burnett, brothers of the bride. Mrs. Felton Taylor was organist and soloist was Miss Susan Etheridge.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's floor-length gown was of Chantilly lace and satin. Fashioned with a fitted bodice with square neckline edged in hand-cut scallops of the lace, the long fitted sleeves tapered to points over her wrists. The skirt of net ruffles cascading to the floor under tulle was accented with three wide panels of scallop-edged lace over satin, with a chapel train edged in the scallops. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley on a white Bible.

Flower girl, Lynn Noble, was dressed in white organdy with a matching headband with blue flowers. She carried a basket bouquet of sweetheart roses. Thomas Charles Nelson, nephew of the groom, was ringbearer.

Ushers were the bride's two brothers, Don Allen and John Wesley Burnett, and Bill Brumelow.

The mother of the bride wore a powder blue sheath of damask-woven linen with white accessories and a shoulder corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother's dress was of pale green silk with matching accessories, and a corsage of carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony there was a reception in the fellowship hall of the church. A three-tiered wedding cake was served by Miss Phyllis Courson. Punch was served from a milkglass bowl by Miss Martha Crook. Pink carnations arranged in a milkglass bowl centered the table, which was covered with a cloth of pink net over satin. Mrs. James McLaurin, of Marshall, Texas, was at the Bride's Book, and Miss Angela Hays played background music during the reception.

Following a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Little Rock.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Norris and son, Jerry Norris, Jr., of Ruston; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Trousdale, of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Drake, grandparents of the groom, of Hope; Mr. and Mrs. William Drake, of Memphis; Mrs. A. F. Drake and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Karcher, of Little Rock; Miss Sandra Rutherford, Miss Linda Lewallen of Hot Springs; Miss Branda Young of Magnolia; and Mr. and Mrs. James McLaurin, of Marshall, Texas.

Add strips of onion, green pepper and ham to a plain omelet and you have the filling for a western sandwich. Brown the vegetables and meat slightly before adding to the eggs. Serve the sandwich with chili sauce or catchup.

'Le Bal des Fleurs' Is Given by Cotillion Club

"Le Bal des Fleurs", given Saturday night by the Cotillion dance club, turned the Paragon ballroom into a bower of pastel blossoms.

Azaleas in shades of pink to deep rose, highlighted with white, were banked before the curving glass wall of the ballroom. Blue morning glories climbed over the arbor which centered the wall.

A white picket fence wreathed with ivy encircled the dance floor and the bandstand. Individual tables were centered with candles in hurricane glasses, entwined with ivy and pink blossoms.

Jerry Lane's orchestra played for dancing from nine until one. Breakfast was served to several hundred club members and guests after the dance.

Mrs. Billy Edmondson was chairman of the dance, assisted by Mrs. Henry Hammonds as co-chairman. Decorations Chairman was Mrs. Roy Kelly, with Mrs. Carl Tidwell, assistant.

Others who worked on the decorations were Mrs. Coy Casey, Mrs. W. E. Smith, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Henry, Mrs. Grant Boardman, Mrs. Ruffin Tidwell, Mrs. Sam Savaso, Mrs. Jack Fluke, Mrs. Buddy Bodron, Mrs. Clarence Roberts, Mrs. H. W. Chapman, Mrs. Paul Ransom, and Mrs. L. M. Ballard.

Mrs. Reneau Breard was in charge of table decorations, assisted by Mrs. Malcom Smith, Mrs. Bill Eason, and Mrs. Frank Eason.

Mrs. Faheam Cannon and Mrs. Naj Klam were the invitations committee.

F. A. Decker, Jr. To Be Married In Mississippi

Announcement has been made in Tupelo, Mississippi, of the engagement of Miss Barbara Ann Crump to Floyd Arthur Decker, Jr., of Memphis, formerly of Monroe. The wedding will take place on May 29.

Mr. Decker is the son of Mrs. Floyd Arthur Decker, Sr., and the late Mr. Decker, who was minister at the Church of Chirst in Monroe. The prospective bridegroom was graduated from Tupelo High school and attended Itawamba Junior college.

Miss Crump is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor Crump of Tupelo and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Hampton of Saltillo. She attended Lindenwood college for women in St. Charles, Missouri.

Miss Richards Weds Mr. Fuller

The Gordon Avenue Methodist church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Margaret Ann Richards and William Fuller on April 30. The Rev. W. M. Allen officiated at the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Richards, and the groom is the son of Robert Fuller and Mrs. Louise Logan.

Two baskets of white gladioli and four candelabra decorated the altar. Miss Elaine Haskett gave a pre - nuptial concert as the candles were being lighted by Mrs. Richards and Mrs. Logan.

Miss Patsy Lentz was the maid of honor and Darrel Piltcher served the groom as best man.

A reception was held for forty friends in the home of the bride's parents following the wedding. A white linen cutwork cloth covered the bride's table, which was centered with an arrangement of white stock flanked with white candles.

Rouge Is Used Incorrectly

Of all the make-up requisites available to modern woman, the one that is probably more often incorrectly applied than any other is cheek rouge. The most common fault in using this popular beauty essential is that the wearer invariably leaves a telltale line of demarcation between the rouge color and the color of the foundation make-up. To avoid this, and to help you create a delicate, natural - looking blush tone, here are some suggestions:

When applying cheek rouge, as with any other make-up requisite, be sure your face is flooded with light. Begin by placing the rouge on the high part of your cheek. Then, with a damp-dry silk sponge (for creme or fluid rouge), carefully blend the rouge outwardly from this center point, in a pattern best suited for your face, allowing the color to fade into your foundation make-up. For dry rouge, an ideal way to blend the color over your cheek is with the use of a face powder brush.

MRS. LARRY CROSSLAND

MR. AND MRS. Gordon Quisenberry cut their wedding cake following their marriage in Los Angeles, California. Mrs. Quisenberry, the former Miss Diana Stockstill, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stockstill, who resided in West Monroe until recently. When Mr. Quisenberry completes his service with the U.S. Navy, the couple will make their home in Glendale.

Crossland-Burnett Vows Heard In Crossett, Ark.

The chapel of the First Baptist Church in Crossett was the setting Saturday, May 7th, at 7:30 p.m. for the wedding of Miss Marilyn Rose Burnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd H. Burnett, and Larry Crossland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kone Crossland, all of Crossett.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Bill G. Hickem before an arch entwined with ivy. Floor baskets of white gladioli were flanked by two seven-branched candelabra which held white tapers. Candlelighters were Don Allen Burnett and John Wesley Burnett, brothers of the bride. Mrs. Felton Taylor was organist and soloist was Miss Susan Etheridge.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's floor-length gown was of Chantilly lace and satin. Fashioned with a fitted bodice with square neckline edged in hand-cut scallops of the lace, the long fitted sleeves tapered to points over her wrists. The skirt of net ruffles cascading to the floor under tulle was accented with three wide panels of scallop-edged lace over satin, with a chapel train edged in the scallops. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley on a white Bible.

Flower girl, Lynn Noble, was dressed in white organdy with a matching headband with blue flowers. She carried a basket bouquet of sweetheart roses. Thomas Charles Nelson, nephew of the groom, was ringbearer.

Ushers were the bride's two brothers, Don Allen and John Wesley Burnett, and Bill Brumelow.

The mother of the bride wore a powder blue sheath of damask-woven linen with white accessories and a shoulder corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother's dress was of pale green silk with matching accessories, and a corsage of carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony there was a reception in the fellowship hall of the church. A three-tiered wedding cake was served by Miss Phyllis Courson. Punch was served from, a milkglass bowl by Miss Martha Crook. Pink carnations arranged in a milkglass bowl centered the table, which was covered with a cloth of pink net over satin. Mrs. James McLaurin, of Marshall, Texas, was at the Bride's Book, and Miss Angela Hays played background music during the reception.

Following a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Little Rock.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Norris and son, Jerry Norris, Jr., of Ruston; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Trousdale, of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Drake, grandparents of the groom, of Hope; Mr. and Mrs. William Drake, of Memphis; Mrs. A. F. Drake and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Karcher, of Little Rock; Miss Sandra Rutherford, Miss Linda Lewallen of Hot Sprins; Miss Branda Young of Magnolia; and Mr. and Mrs. James McLaurin, of Marshall, Texas.

Add strips of onion, green pepper and ham to a plain omelet and you have the filling for a western sandwich. Brown the vegetables and meat slightly before adding to the eggs. Serve the sandwich with chili sauce or catchup.

Junior Charity League Has Homecoming Luncheon

The main ballroom of the Bayou DeSiard country club was the scene Saturday of the annual Homecoming Luncheon of the Junior Charity League.

Entertainment for the affair was furnished by the Monroe Youth orchestra, a group sponsored by the League and directed by Eloy Fominaya and Miss Johnnie Bankhead.

Carrying out the musical theme were the white violins strung with gold which were featured in the decorations. Several tiny violins were seen in the fan - shaped arrangements of white gladioli and yellow and white Dutch iris which filled the brass urn on the head table. Larger violins entwined with deutsia and English ivy were placed on the other tables.

Mrs. Thad Ryan, Jr., president, presided at the luncheon and recognized past presidents of the League, who were seated at a special table. She also thanked the luncheon committee: Mrs. Branton Kellogg, Mrs. L. M. Ballard, Mrs. John Cale, Mrs. R. L. Robertson, Mrs. George Holt, Mrs. Edgar Chapman, Mrs. Frances Whittelsey.

NE Louisiana Championship Game Planned

The annual one session club championship game of the Northeast Louisiana Duplicate bridge club will be played at the Paragon club tomorrow afternoon.

Club members only are eligible for the game, which is set for one o'clock. Registration closes at 1:15 p.m.

Trophies and points will be awarded to the winners.

Coterie Hears Monroe Youth Orchestra

National Music Week, in connection with Federation Day, was observed by members of The Musical Coterie, with the presentation of a program by the Monroe Youth Orchestra.

This group, one of four Juvenile and Junior Organizations sponsored by The Musical Coterie, is composed of students of stringed instruments within the City School System, instructed by Miss Jonnie Bankhead and directed by Eloy Fominaya, of the Northeast Louisiana State College music faculty.

The guest list for the afternoon's performance included members of the families of the youthful musicians, members of The Junior Charity League and of the City School Board. They were welcomed by Mrs. Eloise Calhoun Stanhope, president of The Musical Coterie.

The program numbers were: "Symphony for Young People", Williams; "Petite Etude", Touchon; "Desert Sunrise", Fominaya; "Theme and Variations", Corelli; and "Pavane", Byrde. Arranged by Miss Bankhead.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Edward F. Hayward, Jr. and Mrs. Elmer Marshall, hostesses for the afternoon, invited the assembled guests in to the Faculty Lounge for refreshments. Mrs. Stanhope and Mrs. Briscoe Truesdale, Jr. presided at the beautifully appointed tea table.

Other Musical Coterie members present for the occasion were Mesdames R. D. Allerton, F. V. Allison, James G. Caldwell, Grayson Guthrie, Jr., W. M. Harper, H. H. Land, Kedwick Martin, H. G. McDonald, Phanor Perot, Felix Willey, Everett Zeagler, Tex Kilpatrick and Joe Caskey.

Miss Charrier, Mr. Trisler Are Wed May 8

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Charrier of Larto announce the marriage of their daughter, Evelyn, to Elbert Trisler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Trisler of Mayna.

She is a graduate of Central high school, Larto, and he is a graduate of Black high school, Jonesville, and Spencer Business college of Baton Rouge.

The wedding was held on May 8 at 8 p.m. in the home of the groom. The couple will make their home in Baton Rouge.

Miss Sheppard, Mr. Britt Tell Attendants

Miss Sharon Sheppard and Hugh Archie Britt, Jr., are today announcing the names of their wedding attendants. The marriage is to be performed by the Rev. Dave Dabria at St. Matthews' Catholic Church at 2:30 in the afternoon of June 4.

Miss Patricia Sheppard is to be the maid of honor. Acting as bridesmaids will be Miss Norma Jean Magee and Miss Joan Bodenheimer.

Mr. Britt will have as his best man his brother - in - law Charles Hall. Joel Kirby and Gilbert Sims will be ushers.

ST. PHILLIPS' CATHOLIC church in Vacherie will be the scene of the June 4 wedding of Miss Elaine Ann Bodin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben J. Bodin of Vacherie, and Walter E. Bond, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Elder Bond of Jonesboro. Miss Bodin is a graduate of the Charity Hospital school of Nursing in New Orleans. Mr. Bond is attending Louisiana Polytechnic Institute in Ruston, where the couple will be at home following the wedding.

MR. AND MRS. JOHNNIE C. HOLLIS of Crossett announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Cynthia Xenia, to Donald Sullivan, of Crossett. Mr. Sullivan is the son of Mrs. A. R. Carter, of Monticello, and J. M. Sullivan, of Crossett. The wedding will be an event of June 4th, at 7:30 p.m., in the Temple Baptist Church.

BELT CLEANING

Don't forget your leather belts when freshening your spring and summer wardrobes. A little careful cleaning can restore them to almost-new appearance.

First, wipe off surface dirt with a damp paper towel. Then work up a good lather with an alkali-free soap and wash the belt thoroughly, and dry.

While the belt is still damp, apply neatsfoot oil evenly on both the inside and outside of the belt, and work in. Allow to dry for 24 hours, then wipe off excess oil with a paper towal. Let dry away from direct heat.

Valuables Are Left By Late Packers

Why do travelers leave so many personal possessions behind? Chiefly, because they wait until the last moment to check out of a hotel and have to pack too hastily.

Most of the forgotten items are neutral colored, white, tan or black, says the American Express Travel Service. The travel agency has prepared a list of pointers to help tourists going abroad this summer keep their belonging intact.

—Pack before you rush out to spend the last of your francs or lire.

—Carry a list of the contents of your bags. Recheck list before checking out of hotel.

—If you pack on an unmade bed, check the folds of the bedding for nightgowns, slips and shorts. Nightclothes head the list of forgotten belongings.

—If the bed is made up, look under the pillows where European maids are trained to put nightgowns and pajamas.

—Look under the bed—danger zone for comfortable walking shoes or forgotten evening slippers.

Patriotic Days Program Topic

The Junior Girls Unit of Rodney J. Hobbs Auxiliary 1809 held their regular meeting at the Post Home.

The new officers for the year 1960-61 were installed by the Auxiliary President, Mrs. Odie Lee Gossett. Mrs. Lena Perry, Youth Activity Chairman of Rodney J. Hobbs Auxiliary 1809 was chosen as the installing conductress.

The Junior Girls invited their mother to attend a program on patriotic holidays observed during May. Mary Claire Hanson gave a talk on "Loyalty Week". Retta Simmons discussed "Armed Forces Day". The "Story of Memorial Day" was given by Dotty Foster.

In Celebration of Mothers Day, each Junior Girl presented her mother with a Buddy Poppy Corsage.

After the program, the daughters and mothers were served cookies and punch during a social hour.

New Officers Named By PBX

Mrs. Christelle Futch was elected President of the PBX Club of Monroe and West Monroe Monday night.

Other officers named at the Club's monthly meeting include Mrs. Grace Lolley, First Vice President; Mrs. Vivian Foster, Second Vice President; Mrs. Edris Dickson, Third Vice President; Mrs. Esther Bolton, Secretary; Mrs. Louise Cornett, Treasurer; Mrs. Catherine Gunter, Chaplain.

The new officers will be installed at the June meeting of the Club.

Plans were discussed to select Miss Telephone Courtesy in a forthcoming contest.

JUNE 2 is the date selected for the wedding of Miss Andrea Oglesby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Oglesby of West Monroe, and Billy Wayne Hickford. Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hardison, also of West Monroe, are parents of the groom-elect. The Rev. W. O. Cory will officiate at the ceremony in the Cheniere Baptist Church.

First Grade Presents May Day Pageant

Members of the Kiroli School P.-T.A. met Thursday in the school auditorium, with Mrs. Henry Hoffman, president, presiding.

A May Day pageant was presented by the first grade, under the direction of Mrs. Sue Beasley, Mrs. Grethel Kay, and Mrs. Iwilla Hamilton. Jeff Hendricks served as narrator.

Mrs. Donald Raimey gave a report on the recent state P-T A convention, to which she was a delegate. A resume of the club year was given by the president.

Mrs. W. T. Silmon, secretary of the 5th District P.-T.A., installed the new officers for the coming year: Mrs. W. E. Beard, president; Mrs. D. C. Raimey, vice-president; Mrs. B. W. Skipper, secretary; Mrs. Wiston May, treasurer; and Mrs. Earl J. Hendricks, parliamentarian.

As the first official business, Mrs. Beard named her chairmen and co-chairmen for the new year, as follows: program, Mrs. W. T. Silmon, Mrs. Carl White; publicity, Mrs. James L. McGuire, Mrs. L. E. Wiggins; membership, Mrs. J. D. Milam; room mother, Mrs. Hollis Lonsberry; magazine, Mrs. John Richey, Mrs. Seth Blazier; scrapbook, Mrs. Jack Payne, Mrs. J. Rogers, Mrs. Alton Howard; carnival, Mrs. F. M. Waren; hospitality, Mrs. Dallas Wilbanks, Mrs. Billy Stinson; budget and finance Mrs. Henry Hoffman, Mrs. T. O. Moreau; round-up, Mrs. Joe Perdue, Mrs. Jesse Webb; character and spiritual, Mrs. Carey Kirkland.

It was announced that Mrs. M. L. DeFreese will direct a course in parliamentary procedure at the school on Wednesday, May 18 at 9:30 a.m. All interested in the course were urged to attend.

The room count was won by Mrs. Beasley's first grade, with Mrs. F. M. Waren in charge of registration.

ALMOND BUTTER SAUCE

NEW YORK (UPI) — Almond butter sauce is good on cooked cabbage wedges. Cook cabbage in a small amount of boiling, salted water until tender but still crisp. Drain and serve sprinkled with slivered blanched almonds sauteed in butter or margarine. Add a dash of fresh lemon juice, if desired.

Lighting Adds To Pleasure Of Outdoors

Garden lighting adds to the homeowner's pleasure in his home and yard, by achieving certain effects or for convenience in outdoor living.

Colored bulbs are very useful for outdoor lighting; blue green lights for a cool appearance on the patio, yellow lights to discourage insects.

Listed below are some of the rules for safety and effectiveness in outdoor lighting.

If you wish to landscape with light on a temporary basis, try outdoor - type extension cords which plug in on existing house circuits or in the garage. This calls for certain precautions:

1. Avoad overloading any one household circuit which, on the average, carries only about 1700 watts.

2. Protect extension cords, wherever they leave house or garage, against damage from closing doors and windows.

3. Tape all plug connections outdoors to keep moisture out, and, in addition, drape them over a wood spike to keep above puddle level.

A permanently - installed outdoor lighting system consists of underground cable buried in a trench and the use of waterproof convenience outlets above the ground level located to suit the homeowner.

Cable - laying must conform, of course, to local regulations and requirements, and in order to meet these specifications, homeowners should turn over all wiring and rewiring jobs to a dependable electrical contractor.

The permanent outdoor lighting system is a convenience the year 'round. Weatherproof outlets come in handy for the use of hedge clippers, lawn mowers and other electrical garden equipment, or for a radio or TV set. They can be utilized also for outdoor Christmas lighting and for permament yard - lighting

For temporary wiring to a distant location, there are duplex convenience outlets mounted on a short pole to keep the outlets above puddles and snow (unless it is very deep) and the pole inserts into the ground. The device is equipped with a long (up to 40 feet) outdoor - type cord which can be plugged into an outlet on the house or in the garage. These outlets are ideal for Christmas lighting too.

For safety's sake always turn off the electricity at the house whenever handling outdoor lighting equipment; when installing light bulbs in lily pools, always place the bulb in the water before lighting it; use only outdoor sockets, cords, plugs and connectors; be sure all holders for outdoor type flood and spotlight bulbs have a rubber gasket between the bulb and the socket for a watertight fit; be sure to use these gaskets to prevent moisture from leaking into the sockets.

In the interest of safety, remember, the following recommendations:

1. Weatherproof cords and moisture - proof connections are a must for both temporary and permanent installations.

2. Turn off the electricity before replacing a light bulb.

3. Work in a dry garden. Any king of moisture, even dew, must be guarded against.

Spring Colors Favorite For Tile Kitchens

Springtime yellows, pinks and greens seem to be Mrs. America's year - round preferences in colorful ceramic tile for her kitchen.

These three were rated number two, three and four in a recent survey of color preferences for real tile kitchens conducted by the Tile Council of America. The survey was made among one thousand of the leading tile contractors in the country.

Number one color in popularity (perhaps appropriately) turned out to be a biege - like hue often known as "oatmeal." Color analysts say this in no way signifies a new trend to match kitchen walls to breakfast cereals. It just happens that this popular color for ceramic tile picks up wood tones extremely well — and is ideal for countertops, walls and splashbacks.

Other colors that placed within the top ten were white, tan, gray, blue, brown and ivory —all in that order. These were choices for the important areas of the kitchen where real tile's qualities of permanent stainproof colors and easy maintenance are most often put to use — countertops, splashbacks, floors and walls.

The survey indicates that the more exotic shades like turquoise, red, aqua and peach — numbers 18, 22, 23, and 26 respectively — are probably preferred for use as accent colors, either as a border or worked into a sprightly pattern.

One revelation of the survey was that Mrs. America welcomes with open arms the move by domestic ceramic tile manufacturers to diversify their palettes. Hardly more than a decade ago the homemaker's choice was black or white tile. Today she has more than 200 colors in ceramic tile to select from — and possibilities for color combinations are virtually limitless.

National Week Observed By Sterlington HDC

The Sterlington Home Demonstration Club celebrated National Home Demonstration Club Week May 1-7 by placing flower arrangements in the First Methodist Church, Sterlington, and the Grace Presbyterian Church, Fairbanks-Sterlington.

Weaving of stools and trays, under the supervision of Mrs. J. D. Collier of the Lamkin Club, was done on May 4 at the home of Mrs. Don Wilkes. Those participating were Mrs. D. B. Wilkes, Mrs. W. G. Ledger, Mrs. A. D. Riley, Mrs. O. H. Manhart, Mrs. J. M. Pratt, Mrs. F. Mardis, Mrs. B. W. Wall, Mrs. R. W. Farmer and Mrs. D. B. Glenn.

A pot luck supper was held at the Commercial Solvents Club House on May 6. Present were Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Alexander and Don; Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Wilkes, Don David, Charlene and James; Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Riley, Carol and Donna; Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Sharp, Ronnie, Judy and Bobby; Mrs. O. H. Manhart; Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Glenn and Janet.

Climaxing the Parish week celebration was the dress revue on May 7 at the Agricultural Bldg. Bobby Sharp was awarded first prize in the boy's division. Other entries included Judy Sharp in the girls 1-6 age group and Mrs. B. W. Wall and Mrs. E. T. Long in the Adult Class.

A window display was also set up in a local store for the week.

Petite Maison Meets With Mrs. Easterling

The May meeting of the La Petite Maison Garden Club was held last Friday in the home of Mrs. Robert Easterling with Mrs. Beatie Eason assisting her in courtesies.

Mrs. Lester High, president, called the meeting to order, and reports were heard from various committees. Mrs. Herbert Breard announced we would have the installation luncheon at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club June 3.

Mrs. John Lewis discussed and criticized flower arrangements using figurines brought by two of the club members.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Herbert Breard, Louis Breard Jr., Renaau Breard, Sylvester Breard, Coy Casey, Curtis Cook, Walter Ernst, Doyle Hamilton, Lester High, Ed Heard, A. H. Spring Colors Favorite For Tile Kitchens

Springtime yellows, pinks and greens seem to be Mrs. America's year - round preferences in colorful ceramic tile for her kitchen.

These three were rated number two, three and four in a recent survey of color preferences for real tile kitchens conducted by the Tile Council of America. The survey was made among one thousand of the leading tile contractors in the country.

Number one color in popularity (perhaps appropriately) turned out to be a biege - like hue often known as "oatmeal." Color analysts say this in no way signifies a new trend to match kitchen walls to breakfast cereals. It just happens that this popular color for ceramic tile picks up wood tones extremely well — and is ideal for countertops, walls and splashbacks.

Other colors that placed within the top ten were white, tan, gray, blue, brown and ivory —all in that order. These were choices for the important areas of the kitchen where real tile's qualities of permanent stainproof colors and easy maintenance are most often put to use — countertops, splashbacks, floors and walls.

The survey indicates that the more exotic shades like turquoise, red, aqua and peach — numbers 18, 22, 23, and 26 respectively — are probably preferred for use as accent colors, either as a border or worked into a sprightly pattern.

One revelation of the survey was that Mrs. America welcomes with open arms the move by domestic ceramic tile manufacturers to diversify their palettes. Hardly more than a decade ago the homemaker's choice was black or white tile. Today she has more than 200 colors in ceramic tile to select from — and possibilities for color combinations are virtually limitless.

DEAR ABBY

Not All Tall Girls Share Your Feeling

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Why do short fellas ask tall girls for dates? Sometimes a girl just doesn't know how to say no.

I am a tall girl and it seems that every shrimp I know wants to date me. Not wishing to hurt his feelings, I accept. Then I feel foolish when we dance. Other people point at us, nudge each other and snicker.

Please print this, Abby, and tell short boys not to ask a girl who is taller than he is for a date. Thank you.

LONG TALL SALL

DEAR LONG TALL SALL: Not ALL tall girls share your point of view. Furthermore, a short fellow (please not a "shrimp") who asks a taller girl for a date is paying her a compliment. He assumes that she has the intelligence to measure a man for what he is—not how much of him there appears to be.

DEAR ABBY: Is there no justice for an innocent widow? I am 32 and have two children, 10 and 11. About six months ago I met a man who told me he was divorced. I fell for him hard. We started to make plans for marriage. Then one night he came over here with his suitcase. He said his wife had kicked him out of the house and he was moving in with me. I was stunned to learn that he was still married. I told him Oh, no, he wasn't, because although I loved him, I wouldn't live that way before my children. He left and his wife called me. She said she was divorcing him and naming me. I got in my car and went over there. Her story and his didn't jibe. She doesn't believe me, and if she names me, I will lose my job, and maybe my children. Can you help me, Abby? DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: If you can't afford a lawyer, get in touch with your local legal aid society. And the next man who tells you he is divorced, ask to see legal proof. If he's on the up and up, he'll respect you for your good sense. And if he isn't, the sooner you know it—the better.

DEAR ABBY: Our 24-year-old son has recently returned from the service. I realize that he is no longer a child but a grown man and what he does is none of my business. Yet while he is under my roof, isn't it my business where he goes, what he does, and what time he comes home?

I have other children (younger) and he is setting a very poor example by his conduct. He has gotten to be the talk of the town because of an affair he has been carrying on with a woman 15 years his senior.

Don't tell me to have his father talk to him. His father says he is a man and can do as he pleases. How can I keep him in line? Or can I?

HELPLESS

DEAR HELPLESS: While your son is under your roof (at any age) it IS your business how he conducts himself. If he is not willing to live more discreetly, you should ask him to headquarter elsewhere.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JEANNIE: Of course the "circumstances" are important, but I would say that a man who had been married and divorced four times was a very, very, very, very poor risk for marriage.

Progressive HDC Hears Mrs. Dawson

The Progressive Home Demonstrat[illegible] club heard Mrs. Audrey Dawson, agent, speak on Cleaning carpets and upholstery at their May meeting in the home of Mrs. E. Hargrove.

The members of the club attended Trinity Baptist Church Sunday night as a part of their participation in national Home Demonstration week.

The hostess served lunch to the following members: Mrs. James Fletcher, Mrs. Jewel Russell, Mrs. Grace Guillery, Mrs. C. D. Shirley, Mrs. Tim Ford, Mrs. Rowe Harrell and Mrs. Dawson.

Colony HDC Observes Week

Colony HDC National Home Demonstration week had three winners in the dress review, with nine entries.

Mrs. A. J. Hudson's granddaughter, Bethie Hudson, took first place and Mrs. E. W. Earl took third place and also a blue ribbon.

Mrs. Mattie Edney served refreshments to sixteen club members in her yard. Everyone enjoyed the beautiful flowers in bloom.

A group of sixteen attended College Baptist Church Sunday night, May 8th.

We had seven posters in different stores and we were announced on KLIC and KNOE Radio and TV.

Vines Chosen As Cover Crop

There are ever so many uses for vines in the landscape plan. Do you, Mrs. Gardener, need to hide an ugly wall, cover a tree stump, hold soil in place or do you have a place that's hard to mow? If so, then one of the many vines will be the answer to your problems. Functional as well as decorative vines are suited to all types of homes and landscapes. STORAGE

Our specialist in housing, Mrs. Bertha Bryson, reminds homemakers that many injuries occur in the home when they reach for stored items. The following are recommendations for storage space: Have well lighted storage space. Be careful not to place the bulb where it will come in contact with flammable material. Mrs. Bryson recommends lights that will turn on and off automatically when closet doors are opened and closed. For safety, no shelf should be higher than 72 inches from the floor. In cabinets where glass shelving is used it should be shatter proof. Plan a special rack for sharp kitchen knives and safe storage for scissors, needles, pins and other sharp objects.

True, False Methods For Watering Yard

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

There's a difference between giving your lawn a watering and giving it a beauty bath. We are told that 55 per cent of this country's families own their own homes these days so, for that majority, here are 10 of the most common lawn - watering myths, or false - true statements, offered in reverse so you'll have to read all the way to know which method is correct:

1. False: It doesn't matter how much water you use in sprinkling your lawn.

True: If you water too much, you may remove important grass nourishment, making heavier feeding necessary at the fertilizing period. You also waste money and time. If you water too lightly roots that should be growing downward for healthy lawn cover will turn upward, become shallow and unable to resist drought.

2. False: You should water your lawn only in the early morning.

True: You can water any time you choose if your lawn is healthy. Sufficient water is more important than the time of application. But it is best to water when there is no wind.

3. False: Lawns, flowers and shrubbery should be watered daily in hot weather.

True: In moderate climates where the soil has not been permitted to dry out, weekly watering generally is adequate.

4. False: If it rains in the summer, you don't have to water.

True: That depends on your lawn. A general guide is that one inch of water is needed to soak in four to six inches. If less than one inch of rain falls during any one summer week, then water.

5. False: You can tell by looking whether watering is needed.

True: You should test by digging three or four inches into the soil and checking the dryness or moisture.

6. False: The type of soil you have does not matter in watering.

True: Light or sandy soil needs about three-eighths of an inch of water to penetrate six inches; average soil needs three-quarters of an inch and heavy clayey soil needs 1½ inches to reach the same depth.

7. False: Thirty minutes is enough watering time for any area.

True: The time needed depends on the type of soil. To be sure, give it an inch. You can test this by putting out some cans and letting your sprinkler run. You can generally figure on about three hours for adequate watering.

8. False: Wilted grass cannot be saved.

True: An early symptom of wilt is grass turning smoky or bluish green in patches. Give the lawn a good soaking pronto.

9. False: During a water shortage, forget about your lawn.

True: If you plant drought-resistant grasses they likely will recover when cooler and moist weather arrives. If water rations are available, concentrate on wilting spots rather than an over-all light sprinkling, which can cause damage.

10. False: The type of watering equipment doesn't matter.

True: A sprinkler should be easy to work and move, cover a large area with even distribution, and the spray should be fine enough to prevent grass or soil injury.

You don't have to spend a lot of money for a sprinkler. There are good, rust-resistant models for $4.49. We know of one big manufacturer with a 14K gold sprinkler — valued at about $1,500 — that has been available for loan on special occasions, such as the dedication of a public park.

Camera Notes

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Well, Fans, it's now official! As had been expected for some time, the revision of film speed ratings has just been announced by the American Standards Assn. It applies only to black-and-white film since color film has been realistically rated all along.

The revised ASA film speeds will present a truer rating of the film's sensitivity by removing the generous safety factor with which it has been padded till now. In general, the new ASA ratings will double the old film speeds.

What does this mean to the average camera fan?

Very little. There is no change whatsoever in the films themselves and most snapshooters have been using the unofficial revised ratings for years.

However, the ASA announcement adds something else to film speed ratings which points the way to many changes in the photo industry and in the world of camera users for the future.

It may well replace our present system of f-stop lens markings, shutter speed fractions, big-number film speed ratings and light meter calibrations.

It must sound confusing to present day beginners to explain an exposure problem with something like this: with ASA 400 film, you shoot at 1/250th of a second at f/16.

Well, the ASA has started a long-range program to simplify matters. For a while, though it may seem like they are compounding confusion because they are going to add a new number to each new film speed.

These new numbers are going to be numbers between 1 and 10. To distinguish them however, they will be marked with a logarithmic sign like this: 1 degree, 2 degrees, 3 degrees, etc. Another thing about these numbers is that each one doubles in value as they ascend.

Now let's put some new ASA film speed ratings together with their new number values: ASA25 equals 3 degrees; ASA 50 equals 4 degrees; ASA 100 equals 5 degrees. They are written, however, like this: ASA100-5 degrees, ASA 200-6 degrees, ASA 400-7 degrees, etc. In between ratings, like ASA 150, would be designated by fractions like 5.5 degrees.

Eventually, it is hoped, the large numbers will be dropped and only the smaller numbers retained.

That is one part of the new system.

Another part is to calibrate or designate the scenes that we photograph according to their brightness and also in simple numbers. For instance, the average sunlit scene has a brightness value of 10. Half as much light would make its value 9 whereas a bright beach or snow scene, with twice as much light, would increase it to 11. Light meters would be used to measure brightness values accurately or diagrams would be used to serve as approximate guides.

Now if we add together the brightness value of the scene being photographed (sunny day, 10) and the value of the film being used (Tri-X Pan, 7 degrees) we get a total of 17.

For correct exposure of such a combination, the new system would balance it by another combination that adds up to 17. It would be a combination of lens aperture and shutter speed, each of which has its present f-stops and fractions replaced by simple numbers. Each number would represent half as much light or twice as much time as the number below it. There are many combinations that add up to 17, and each one will have the correct exposure value.

There, in short, is the additive system of photo exposure which lies ahead for camera fans. In about four to six months you will start getting new film instruction sheets with the new ratings and numbers. Later there'll be new meters and camera markings. Present equipment will not become obsolete for some years. Conversion tables, to fit over present equipment markings, will probably become available when the new system takes hold.

Lady Banksia Roses Noted

By MILDRED SWIFT

The spring blooming shrubs and trees have finished their year's work and are leafing out. From now on we'll have to depend on the summer blooming ones. Summer gardens are seldom as beautiful as spring, but the crepe myrtles and candle trees can do a lot.

LADY BANKSIA

The Lady Banksia rose caused so much comment this year. I guess it's because the plants have had time to grow very large and naturally a big blooming plant is more spectacular than a small one. Many have asked if there's another color, other than the creamy yellow. There was a white blooming in Miss Emmy Lou Beidenharn's garden on Riverfront. However, these are rare. At one time the white was lost completely. Finally, some nurseryman found one growing, cut a few pieces, rooted these and now we can buy the white also.

If you want to root a Lady Banksia, take a cutting in June (or next winter). Bury this on its side (layering) and let it stay until next spring. Then set it out. Be careful and don't let the soil dry out. This plant is not too easy to root. It loses lots of moisture through its leaves so put your layered cutting in the shade.

Remember the Lady Banksia is evergreen, thornless and has little odor.

GARDEN JOBS

Marigolds and zinnias are popular choices of summer blooming annuals. Both are equally good for cutting purposes. Zinnias are quick to germinate. I've seen the seed germinate in three or four days in warm, damp weather.

In answer to many questions about tulip bulbs - they'll rarely ever come up the second year and its not too successful digging and storing this bulb.

Remember, cut short stems on your roses planted this season.

Feed chrysanthemums every two weeks if you want specimen blooms.

When the foliage of early spring bulbs is almost gone, you can transplant them. If you wait later it's almost completely impossible to find them. Usually we want certain varieties together. After the foliage is gone we don't remember the colors.

As amaryllis finish blooming fertilize them. A complete fertilizer such as 8-8-8 is excellent. When cutting Easter Lilies, leave as much stem as possible. Through the leaves on the stem, the plant builds up the bulb for the following year's bloom.

Plumbago is another summer shrub that can be planted now. Get the plants. This plant produces masses of rather small white or blue flowers, depending on the type. They bloom a long time. The plant is hardy. They are virtually free from insect and disease problems. Their color is cool during their blooming season, which is summer. The bluish lavender plumbago bloom is one of the loveliest colors I've ever seen in a flower. Reminds me of the lavenderama azalea.

A number of people are alarmed at the fleshy leaf formation on camellias and sasanquas. I've talked to the entomologist about this. He says it is not serious. June prune off this fleshy part and burn.

Haven't the watsonias been beautiful this year? I don't know if nurseries carry these plants or if you'll have to ask your friends for a start. They can be planted in the fall or winter, or even divided now after they finish blooming. They're very beautiful as cut flowers.

JUST TALKIN'

Well Princess Margaret's wedding caused as much excitement as the sack dress. Women do love a wedding and especially one so glamorous as that one that had international spotlight.

It was the general opinion of fine designers that the Princess had used excellent taste in selecting simple clothes for her trousseau, because she's petite. For that reason, her selection of clothes is not going to affect American styles greatly. Princess Margaret's clothes were completely individual. If American girls do try to copy them, it will probably be just those girls who like the princess, are short and slim with small waistlines.

Glamour really goes to milady's feet, judging by the latest shoe collection. Important highlights include stacked heels, open - up silhouettes and three major color groups - bone, gray and green. Tailored styles take precedence. The smartest casuals are gay and colorful. They include a lacy textured straw pump in a rainbow of colors. Simply designed, the pump features a matching colored, mid - high heel.

Today's beauty hint is a reminder that you can wear styles which will help camoflage figure and beauty faults. For instance, if your neck looks short and heavy, you can get a more flattering effect by wearing the new collarless fashions which are so popular this spring. They'll help make our neck look tall and slender. Make it even look more slender by wearing your hair up.

If you're shopping for a new raincoat to protect your from summer showers, you might consider one of those pretty, spring like coats that feature gay field flowers printed on water-prooted nylon. This type of hand - washable coat is smart whether worn belted or plain. It comes with matching hat, all neatly folded in a matching carrying case.

STEAM IRON

The water used in the household steam iron may determine how long the iron will last and give good service. Specialists advise using distilled water which has been demineralized. Minerals in hard water will gradually clog the steam valves and vents of the iron. How fast such clogging occurs depends on the hardness of the water and how much the iron is used. Minerals in water that has been treated with packaged softeners can cause similar difficulty in irons.

If you find difficulty in purchasing distilled water, use rain water. To be sure of getting clean rain water that is not discolored, collect in a clean glass or enamel container, then strain. Avoid rain water which has run off roofs or trees. It is likely to be soiled. Rain water is likely to be cleaner after it has rained an hour or so, than at the start of the rainfall.

It pays you to read all instructions that come with steam irons. A new flash type, spray steam and dry iron that works with tap water will be on the market soon. The finger touch operation of the flash spray eliminates the need for pre - dampening garments, its makers claim.

DON'T FORGET

The white permanent finished materials cannot be bleached with chlorine bleaches. They turn a sick shade of yellow and there's nothing you can do to restore the color. Instead, on these materials, use sodium perborate (buy at drug store). Use a tablespoon per quart of water in last rinse water.

This particularly applies to white linen, white broadcloth and many of the other new materials on the market.

STAMP NEWS

Once a battle ground of World War II, but now a peaceful group of coral atolls in the South Pacific, the British colony of Gilbert and Ellice Islands have celebrated the Diamond Jubilee of the discovery of phosphate by issuing three special new stamps.

Lying 2,400 miles southwest of Pearl Harbor, the islands leaped into prominence in 1943 when the U. S. Marines drove out the Japanese in the Battle of Tarawa.

There are only 37 islands but they are spread out over an area covering 369 square miles.

The 2 pence green and purple show a waterfront scene. The 2½ pence green and grey black depicts a piece of phosphate. The 1 shilling blue and grey black illustrates a mining scene. Each adhesive bears a profile portrait of Queen Elizabeth II.

New World Refugee Year stamps are arriving on the philatelic scene daily. The stamp from Eire is based on the Flight of the Holy Family. The denominations are 3 pence and 1 shilling 3 pence. Collectors desiring first day covers of these issues may write to Irish Cachet Covers, ... East 52 St., Brooklyn ... The cost per cover with the complete set ... cent.

New Missile Sub Launching Slated

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (UPI) — USS Abraham Lincoln, the Navy's newest Polaris missile submarine will be launched Saturday at the Portsmouth Naval shipyard.

The 380-foot, nuclear-power undersea craft will slide down the ways into the Piscataqua River after christening by Lincoln's great granddaughter, Mary Lincoln Beckwith of Manchester, Vt.

AIRLINER DAMAGED

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—An American Airlines DC-6, preparing to leave Greater Pittsburgh Airport on a flight to Cincinnati, incurred damage to one of its four propellers today when it struck an electrical charging machine. There were no injuries and 45 passengers and a crew of four transferred to another plane to continue the flight only slightly behind schedule.

Spring Lawn Feeding Due

By MARY JARDINE

... you cut grass.

Crab grass can be choked out in May when it starts to germinate by cutting lawns high once a week. This gives the lawn grass a good growth and the high grass will shade the Crab grass seedlings and kill them.

Anyone living in the South can have a green winter lawn by sowing Winter Rye grass seed in September or October. Before planting the seed cut the permanent grass and remove the clippings. Be sure to keep the lawn watered until the seeds germinate. This winter grass will die out in the Spring.

MER ROUGE SHOW

The flower show was exhibited by the Mer Rouge Garden Club. Mrs. Bob Bacon Jr. used Candelabra roses in a round, brass footed container. The open red-orange roses were used at the base of the container, followed upward with smaller blossoms and buds used at the top of the vertical line of the line-mass design. Pittosporum was used as a filler and background at the base of the arrangement. Iris leaves were placed back of the roses. A good combination of color and materials, suitable for the den. Mrs. W. T. Blackwell used a small shell shaped pottery container for her informal arrangement of Silver Moon roses, white with new growth of holly foliage. A design suitable for the entrance hall.

In the horticultural division Mrs. Lola Jilly entered a stalk of Foxglove (Digitalis). The Garden Encyclopedia by Wise says "Foxglove, erect biennial or perennial herbs whose stately spires have been a favorite in gardens for many generations". This stalk had large lavender thimble like flowers, all drooping toward one side and beautifully spotted on the inner surface. This plant is used for naturalizing among shrubs. It likes the shade. Mrs. Jilly also entered the salmon-pink Peony poppy. Mr. Philip Boughton entered two of the hybrid amaryllis. One stalk of 4 blossoms of velvet red color, the other was an orange red with white markings.

AFRICAN VISITOR IMPRESSED

NEW YORK (UPI)—An African leader said today he was very much impressed by the progress American Negroes are making toward achieving equality in the South.

Kenneth Kaunda told a press conference that during a tour of Georgia, Tennessee, South Carolina and other Dixie areas, he thought American Negroes were making tremendous progress.

THE SOUTHERN GARDENER

Taller Plants In Cool Areas

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

Once in a while, we run into a gardener who has been up to the cool area in the New England States or to California and come home with a determination to grow those six foot delphiniums which they can grow in those sections. By locating them in the coolest spot on the place with just the right exposure and by fussing over them constantly, this gardener may succeed in growing delphiniums, monkshood, globe flower and even lupines and pentstemons for a season or so. The game is hardly worth the candle, however, because our summer nights are too hot and our ground temperature too high for these cool temperature lovers to stay with us.

HEAT LOVERS

No; we cannot keep cool night lovers in Southern gardens very long. We must pursue our quest for hot night lovers and plants that will at least put up with high temperatures both day and night. There are actually hundreds, but it takes the experimenters amongst us a little time to bring these things to the south and try them out and then disseminate the information about them. We still have no botanic garden to do this for us, so we have to do it for ourselves.

There are so many fine plants that have never been introduced to the southern states from the countries around the Mediterranean, from China and Japan, India, South Africa and temperate parts of South America that your columnist's head is teeming with them all the time. Fortunately, we do not have to go to the countries where these plants grow to get them. The botanical gardens of Europe and of many foreign countries can always supply us. Many fine kinds of flowers are now being introduced to this country, too, through our nurseries. As gardeners try out new kinds, we are adding more and more plants that like our climate here in the south.

LARGE CRINUMS

In the last ten or twenty years, we have "discovered" the magnificent large crinums from hot countries like ours. While the size of these bulbous plants makes most of them too big for very small gardens, they take the place of the true scale-bulb lilies, most of which will not stay with us here. The numerous tall blooming bulbs which have been promoted by your columnist for twenty five or more years brighten up the autumn months, and the "blue" agapanthuses which I have been trying to call to your attention for some time will, before long, begin to add tall wands of blue, violet and white to southern gardens everywhere.

BEDSIDE MANNERS

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Mt. Sinai Hospital's news letter carried this story of the woman painter from Illinois who recently checked in as a patient.

Before settling down to the routine, she lined the corridor wall with samples of her art. She also asked for someone to pin up a skirt hem for her. The hem went up, but the pictures came down. Mrs. Edith List, a volunteer, took care of the former. Nurses with an explanation of hospital regulations tended to the latter.

Your local nurseryman will have a variety of vines to show you.

White flies on our ornamentals have begun to become a problem. The infested shrub has a blackened appearance due to sooty mold which grows in the honeydew given off by the white-fly. These insects may be controlled by spraying with 4½ ounces of oil emulsion or 3 tablespoons 57 per cent Malathion emulsifiable concentrate in 3 gallons of water. Sooty mold cannot survive on the plants if white-flies are controlled.

REFRIGERATORS

In a study compiled by the market research department of electrical merchandising the electric refrigerator lasted about 17 years. This is too long, the dealers say, while some consumers say it isn't long enough. This is an average, of course, and there will be a wide range of life expectancy of individual refrigerators in each direction from the mean.

DRESS REVUE

Congratulations are in order for Mrs. Jerry Lovett, of Liberty Club for placing first in our Home Demonstration Parish Dress Revue. The runner up was Mrs. Truman Wright, of Woodlawn Club, and third place winner was Mrs. E. W. Earl, of Colony Club.

The following are recommendations for storage space: Have well lighted storage space; be careful not to place the bulb where it will come in contact with flammable material. Mrs. Bryson recommends lights that will turn on and off automatically when closet doors are opened and closed. For safety, no shelf should be higher than 72 inches from the floor. In cabinets where glass shelving is used it should be shatter proof. Plan a special rack for sharp kitchen knives and safe storage for scissors, needles, pins and other sharp objects.

ROASTING

If you want that next roast to be just right then follow a few hints. Use a rack. It keeps the meat up out of the juices and allows an even circulation of air around the roast to cook the meat uniformly. Do not use a cover over the roast. A cover causes steam to form. The roast as a result will have a steamed flavor and will not be richly browned. We do not recommend searing the roast because a roast cooked in a slow oven — of not over 325 degrees — will be golden browned by the time it is ready to take out of the oven. Therefore browning or "searing" the roast prior to cooking is unnecessary. Remember a low cooking temperature keeps the juice and prevents burnt fat drippings. If you want that man of the house to "ah" over that next roast just follow the above simple suggestions.

A THOUGHT — People will believe anything you tell them, if you whisper it.

Well, Fans, it's now official! As had been expected for some time, the revision of film speed ratings has just been announced by the American Standards Assn. It applies only to black-and-white film since color film has been realistically rated all along.

The revised ASA film speeds will present a truer rating of the film's sensitivity by removing the generous safety factor with which it has been padded till now. In general, the new ASA ratings will double the old film speeds.

What does this mean to the average camera fan?

Very little. There is no change whatsoever in the films themselves and most snapshooters have been using the unofficial revised ratings for years.

However, the ASA announcement adds something else to film speed ratings which points the way to many changes in the photo industry and in the world of camera users for the future.

It may well replace our present system of f-stop lens markings, shutter speed fractions, big-number film speed ratings and light meter calibrations.

It must sound confusing to present day beginners to explain an exposure problem with something like this: with ASA 400 film, you shoot at 1-250th of a second at f-5.6.

Well, the ASA has started a long-range program to simplify matters. For a while, though it may seem like they are compounding confusion because they are going to add a new number to each new film speed.

These new numbers are going to be numbers between 1 and 10. To distinguish them however, they will be marked with a logarithmic sign like this: 1 degree, 2 degrees, 3 degrees, etc. Another thing about these numbers is that each one doubles in value as they ascend.

Now let's put some new ASA film speed ratings together with their new number values: ASA25 equals 3 degrees; ASA 50 equals 4 degrees; ASA 100 equals 5 degrees. They are written, however, like this: ASA100-5 degrees, ASA 200-6 degrees, ASA 400-7 degrees, etc. In between ratings, like ASA 150, would be designated by fractions like 5.5 degrees.

Eventually, it is hoped, the large numbers will be dropped and only the smaller numbers retained.

That is one part of the new system.

Another part is to calibrate or designate the scenes that we photograph according to their brightness and also in simple numbers. For instance, the average sunlit scene has a brightness value of 10. Half as much light would make its value 9 whereas a bright beach or snow scene, with twice as much light, would increase it to 11. Light meters would be used to measure brightness values accurately or diagrams would be used to serve as approximate guides.

Now if we add together the brightness value of the scene being photographed (sunny day, 10) and the value of the film being used (Tri-X Pan, 7 degrees) we get a total of 17.

For correct exposure of such a combination, the new system would balance it by another combination that adds up to 17. It would be a combination of lens aperture and shutter speed, each of which has its present f stops and fractions replaced by simple numbers. Each number would represent half as much light or twice as much time as the number below it. There are many combinations that add up to 17, and each one will have the correct exposure value.

There, in short, is the additive system of photo exposure which lies ahead for camera fans. In about four to six months you will start getting new film instruction sheets with the new ratings and numbers. Later there'll be new meters and camera markings. Present equipment will not become obsolete for some years. Conversion tables, to fit over present equipment markings, will probably become available when the new system takes hold.

THE HOME SHIFT

Lady Banksia Roses Noted

By MILDRED SWIFT

The spring blooming shrubs and trees have finished their year's work and are leafing out. From now on we'll have to depend on the summer blooming ones. Summer gardens are seldom as beautiful as spring, but the crepe myrtles and candle trees can do a lot.

LADY BANKSIA

The Lady Banksia rose caused so much comment this year. I guess it's because the plants have had time to grow very large and naturally a big blooming plant is more spectacular than a small one. Many have asked if there's another color, other than the creamy yellow. There was a white blooming in Miss Emmy Lou Beidenharn's garden on Riverfront. However, these are rare. At one time the white was lost completely. Finally, some nurseryman found one growing, cut a few pieces, rooted these and now we can buy the white also.

If you want to root a Lady Banksia, take a cutting in June (or next winter). Bury this on its side (layering) and let it stay until next spring. Then set it out. Be careful and don't let the soil dry out. This plant is not too easy to root. It loses lots of moisture through its leaves so put your layered cutting in the shade.

Remember the Lady Banksia is evergreen, thornless and has little odor.

GARDEN JOBS

Marigolds and zinnias are popular choices of summer blooming annuals. Both are equally good for cutting purposes. Zinnias are quick to germinate. I've seen the seed germinate in three or four days in warm, damp weather.

In answer to many questions about tulip bulbs - they'll rarely ever come up the second year and its not too successful digging and storing this bulb.

Remember, cut short stems on your roses planted this season.

Feed chrysanthemums every two weeks if you want specimen blooms.

When the foliage of early spring bulbs is almost gone, you can transplant them. If you wait later it's almost completely impossible to find them. Usually we want certain varieties together. After the foliage is gone we don't remember the colors.

As amaryllis finish blooming fertilize them. A complete fertilizer such as 8-8-8 is excellent. When cutting Easter Lilies, leave as much stem as possible. Through the leaves on the stem, the plant builds up the bulb for the following year's bloom.

Plumbago is another summer shrub that can be planted now. Get the plants. This plant produces masses of rather small white or blue flowers, depending on the type. They bloom a long time. The plant is hardy. They are virtually free from insect and disease problems. Their color is cool during their blooming season, which is summer. The bluish lavender plumbago bloom is one of the loveliest colors I've ever seen in a flower. Reminds me of the lavenderana azalea.

A number of people are alarmed at the fleshy leaf formation on camellias and susanquas. I've talked to the entomogist about this. He says it is not serious. June prune off this fleshy part and burn.

Haven't the watsonias been beautiful this year? I don't know if nurseries carry these plants or if you'll have to ask your friends for a start. They can be planted in the fall or winter, or even divided now after they finish blooming. They're very beautiful as cut flowers.

JUST TALKIN'

Well Princess Margaret's wedding caused as much excitement as the sack dress. Women do love a wedding and especially one so glamorous as that one that had international spotlight.

It was the general opinion of fine designers that the Princess had used excellent taste in selecting simple clothes for her trousseau, because she's petite. For that reason, her selection of clothes is not going to affect American styles greatly. Princess Margaret's clothes were completely individual. If American girls do try to copy them, it will probably be just those girls who like the princess, are short and slim with small waistlines.

Glamour really goes to milady's feet, judging by the latest shoe collection. Important highlights include stacked heels, open - up silhouettes and three major color groups - bone, gray and green. Tailored styles take precedence. The smartest casuals are gay and colorful. They include a lacy textured straw pump in a rainbow of colors. Simply designed, the pump features a matching colored, mid - high heel.

Today's beauty hint is a reminder that you can wear styles which will help camoflage figure and beauty faults. For instance, if your neck looks short and heavy, you can get a more flattering effect by wearing the new collarless fashions which are so popular this spring. They'll help make our neck look tall and slender. Make it even look more slender by wearing your hair up.

If you're shopping for a new raincoat to protect your from summer showers, you might consider one of those pretty, spring like coats that feature gay field flowers printed on water-proofed nylon. This type of hand - washable coat is smart whether worn belted or plain. It comes with matching hat, all neatly folded in a matching carrying case.

STEAM IRON

The water used in the household steam iron may determine how long the iron will last and give good service. Specialists advise using distilled water which has been demineralized. Minerals in hard water will gradually clog the steam valves and vents of the iron. How fast such clogging occurs depends on the hardness of the water and how much the iron is used. Minerals in water that has been treated with packaged softeners can cause similar difficulty in irons.

If you find difficulty in purchasing distilled water, use rain water. To be sure of getting clean rain water that is not discolored, collect in a clean glass or enamel container, then strain. Avoid rain water which has run off roofs or trees. It is likely to be soiled. Rain water is likely to be cleaner after it has rained an hour or so, than at the start of the rainfall.

It pays you to read all instructions that come with steam irons. A new flash type, spray steam and dry iron that works with tap water will be on the market soon. The finger touch operation of the flash spray eliminates the need for pre - dampening garments, its makers claim.

DON'T FORGET

The white permanent finished materials cannot be bleached with chlorine bleaches. They turn a sick shade of yellow and there's nothing you can do to restore the color. Instead, on these materials, use sodium perborate (buy at drug store). Use a tablespoon per quart of water in last rinse water.

This particularly applies to white linen, white broadcloth and many of the other new materials on the market.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Your Open House programs for next week are: Monday, Ethel Fuller will show us the right hem to use in the right place; Tuesday, "How to build a fence" by Mr. Alton Raley, Assoc. County Agent in Madison Parish; Wednesday, Mrs. Stewart Hunt, from Ruston, will make flower arrangements; Thursday and Friday, marketing with Mildred.

See you next Week.

STAMP NEWS

Once a battle ground of World War II, but now a peaceful group of coral atolls in the South Pacific, the British colony of Gilbert and Ellice Islands have celebrated the Diamond Jubilee of the discovery of phosphate by issuing three special new stamps.

Lying 2,400 miles southwest of Pearl Harbor, the islands leaped into prominence in 1943 when the U. S. Marines drove out the Japanese in the Battle of Tarawa.

There are only 37 islands but they are spread out over an area covering 369 square miles.

The 2 pence green and pink show a waterfront scene. The 2½ pence green and grey black depicts a piece of phosphate. The 1 shilling blue and grey black illustrates a mining scene. Each adhesive bears a profile portrait of Queen Elizabeth II.

New World Refugee Year stamps are arriving on the philatelic scene daily. The stamp from Eire is based on the Flight of the Holy Family. The denominations are 3 pence and 1 shilling 3 pence. Collectors desiring first day covers of these issues may write to Irish Cachet Covers, 947 East 32 St., Brooklyn 10, N.Y. The cost per cover with the complete set is 80 cents.

Belgium's set shows a man refugee and a child refugee. The surtax on these stamps will be given to the Belgium National Committee for World Refugee Year.

Ceylon reports that the emblem over the uprooted tree on its issue of World Refugee Year stamps is the heraldic Sinhalese lion with a sword in its right paw.

France has issued two new stamps to honor the 100th anniversary of the return of Nice and Savoy. Also reported from that country is a five value set addition to the Heroes of the Resistance series.

Yugoslavia has issued an eight value set commemorating the Olympic Games in Rome. Designs feature general athletics, swimming, skiing, wrestling, cycling, horsemanship, yachting and fencing.

The Netherlands will issue its 1960 Summer Charity Stamps on May 23 in connection with the opening of the international agricultural exhibition "Floriade 1960" at Rotterdam. The 4 plus 4 c grey, green and red show the tulip "La Princesse." The 6 plus 4 c rose, grey and yellow depict the whin. The 8 plus 4 c blue, green and yellow green illustrate the poppy. The 30 plus 10 c yellow, green and blue show the thistle. The designs were by Piet Wetselaar.

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Spring Lawn Feeding Due

By MARY JARDINE

By GLADYS M. KULCKE

In caring for the lawn there are a number of things that we should keep in mind. The lawn should be fed twice a year in the spring and again in the fall. Use about four or five pounds of plant food to 100 square feet. Fall is considered the best time to seed the lawn. Sow the seed at the time the plant food is applied and keep the lawn well watered until the seeds germinate.

Water the lawn thoroughly or not at all. Little watering brings roots to the surface and eventually kills the grass.

Most gardeners cut lawns too close during the summer months. Two inches is the best length for the average lawn. This protects the roots and helps to hold moisture. Leave the grass clippings on the lawn to serve as a mulch and provide food for the roots. Produce a thicker and better growth by running the mower a different direction each time you cut grass.

Crab grass can be choked out in May when it starts to germinate by cutting lawns high once a week. This gives the lawn grass a good growth and the high grass will shade the Crab grass seedlings and kill them.

Anyone living in the South can have a green winter lawn by sowing Winter Rye grass seed in September or October. Before planting the seed cut the permanent grass and remove the clippings. Be sure to keep the lawn watered until the seeds germinate. This winter grass will die out in the Spring.

MER ROUGE SHOW

The flower show was exhibited by the Mer Rouge Garden Club. Mrs. Don Bacon Jr. used Caralcade roses in a round, brass footed container. The open red-orange roses were used at the base of the container, followed upward with smaller blossoms and buds used at the top of the vertical line of the line-mass design. Pittosporum was used as a filler and background at the base of the arrangement. Iris leaves were placed back of the roses. A good combination of color and materials, suitable for the den. Mrs. W. T. Blackwell used a small shell shaped pottery container for her informal arrangement of Silver Moon roses (white) with new growth of holly foliage. A design suitable for the entrance hall.

In the horticultural division Mrs. Lola Jilly entered a stalk of Foxglove (Digitalis). The Garden Encyclopedia by Wise says "Foxglove, erect biennial or prennial herbs whose stately spires have been a favorite in gardens for many generations". This stalk had large lavender thimble like flowers, all drooping toward one side and beautifully spotted on the inner surface. This plant is used for naturalizing among shrubs. It likes the shade. Mrs. Jilly also entered the salmon-pink Peony poppy. Mr. Philip Boughton entered two of the hybrid amaryllis. One stalk of 4 blossoms of velvet red color, the other was an orange red with white markings.

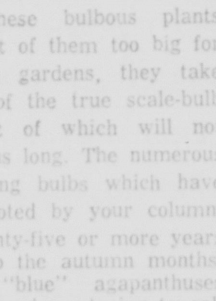
AFRICAN VISITOR IMPRESSED

NEW YORK (UPI)—An African leader said today he was very much impressed by the progress American Negroes are making toward achieving equality in the South.

Kenneth Kaunda told a press conference that during a tour of Georgia, Tennessee, South Carolina and other Dixie areas, he thought American Negroes were making tremendous progress.

THE SOUTHERN GARDENER

Taller Plants In Cool Areas



By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

Once in a while, we run into a gardener who has been up to the cool area in the New England States or to California and come home with a determination to grow those six foot delphiniums which they can grow in those sections. By locating them in the coolest spot on the place with just the right exposure and by fussing over them constantly, this gardener may succeed in growing delphiniums, monkshood, globe flower and even lupines and pentstemons for a season or so. The game is hardly worth the candle, however, because our summer nights are too hot and our ground temperature too high for these cool temperature lovers to stay with us.

HEAT LOVERS

No; we cannot keep cool night lovers in Southern gardens very long. We must pursue our quest for hot night lovers and plants that will at least put up with high temperatures both day and night. There are actually hundreds, but it takes the experimenters amongst us a little time to bring these things to the south and try them out and then disseminate the information about them. We still have no botanic garden to do this for us, so we have to do it for ourselves.

There are so many fine plants that have never been introduced to the southern states from the countries around the Mediterranean, from China and Japan, India, South Africa and temperate parts of South America that your columnist's head is teeming with them all the time. Fortunately, we do not have to go to the countries where these plants grow to get them. The botanical gardens of Europe and of many foreign countries can always supply us. Many fine kinds of flowers are now being introduced to this country, too, through our nurseries. As gardeners try out new kinds, we are adding more and more plants that like our climate here in the south.

LARGE CRINUMS

In the last ten or twenty years, we have "discovered" the magnificent large crinums from hot countries like ours. While the size of these bulbous plants makes most of them too big for very small gardens, they take the place of the true scale-bulb lilies, most of which will not stay with us long. The numerous fall blooming bulbs which have been promoted by your columnist for twenty-five or more years brighten up the autumn months, and the "blue" agapanthuses which I have been trying to call to your attention for some time will, before long, begin to add tall wands of blue, violet and white to southern gardens everywhere.

BEDSIDE MANNERS

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Mt. Sinai Hospital's news letter carried this story of the woman painter from Illinois who recently checked in as a patient.

Before settling down to the routine, she lined the corridor wall with samples of her art. She also asked for someone to pin up a skirt hem for her. The hem went up, but the pictures came down. Mrs. Edith List, a volunteer, took care of the former. Nurses with an explanation of hospital regulations tended to the latter.

New Missile Sub Launching Slated

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (UPI) — USS Abraham Lincoln, the Navy's newest Polaris missile submarine will be launched Saturday at the Portsmouth Naval shipyard.

The 380-foot, nuclear-power undersea craft will slide down the ways into the Piscataqua River after christening by Lincoln's great granddaughter, Mary Lincoln Beckwith of Manchester, Vt.

AIRLINER DAMAGED

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—An American Airlines DC-6, preparing to leave Greater Pittsburgh Airport on a flight to Cincinnati, incurred damage to one of its four propellers today when it struck an electrical charging machine. There were no injuries and 45 passengers and a crew of four transferred to another plane to continue the flight only slightly behind schedule.

'South Pacific' Returning Here

Rodgers and Hammerstein's Pulitzer prize-winning musical, "South Pacific," a CinemaScope-Color by DeLuxe production, opens today at the Paramount Thetre.

About 90 per cent of "South Pacific" was shot on one of the most picturesque spots in the Pacific — Kauai — known as the "Garden Island of the Hawaiians;" the remainder was completed on Twentieth Century-Fox lots in Hollywood.

The screen version was directed by Joshua Logan, who also directed the original stage production which opened on Broadway in 1949 and ran for almost five years.

The same creative team, responsible for "South Pacific's" theatre production, brought it to the screen under Buddy Adler's producing guidance ... Richard Rodgers, Oscar Hammerstein II and Joshua Logan. The now-famous music and lyrics, introduced ten years ago, sound as fresh as ever on the screen.

"South Pacific," adapted from James Michener's best - selling novel, "Tales of the South Pacific," is the love story of a U. S. Navy nurse, played by Mitzi Gaynor, during World War II, who falls in love with a French plantation owner, portrayed by Rossano Brazzi, on a Pacific island. A concurrent love story concerns a Marine officer (John Kerr) and a native girl, played by France Nuyen (who was specially picked for the role because of her Eurasian background and beauty).

Critics have acclaimed "South Pacific" as one of the great musicals of all time. Much of "South Pacific's" romantic flavor was suggested by mood and converstaion on the stage. Bali-Ha'i, the enchanted island, for example, and the boar's tooth tribal ceremony are shown on the screen with all the color and authenticity of actual location shots.

The film version of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific" had a shooting schedule of 73 days, 44 of them on the Island of Kauai; 40 of them on the Twentieth Century-Fox film lot. This schedule included three days of pre-principal photography shooting of landings and other Navy maneuvers. Aerial montage shots of scenic backgrounds of actual New Hebrides locations were filmed from planes by Academy Award-Winning Photographer, Leon Shamroy.

"South Pacific" was completed on four mammoth sound stages of Twentieth Century-Fox, and then turned over to Alfred Newman's 125 piece orchestra for final recording. The unusual handling of the music in this film is that for the first time in screen history the entire score — both numbers and orchestrated music — were recorded before filming of "South Pacific" started. This was Director Joshua Logan's idea so that his players could work to the pre-recorded playbacks, to cue them not only emotionally but to keep their movements in true rhythm to the music.

And how does the movie "South Pacific" compare with the stage version? Here's what Oscar Hammerstein says: "I don't believe I have ever seen the story of a musical picture acted with the sincerity and emotional honesty that I find in 'South Pacific.'

THE BERLIN TOUCH

NEW YORK (AP) — It was Irving Berlins idea to build The Music Box, one of the most famous theaters on Broadway. And Berlin chose the name.

For it he wrote several of the successful "Music Box Revues," the first one in 1921 including five stars.

For the four editions of "The Music Box Revue," Berlin composed such of his lyrical hits as "What'll I Do?" and "Climbing Up the Scale."

So popular was Berlin in Tin Pan Alley that he persuaded for the first time Metropolitan Opera stars John McCormack and Frances Alda to sing on the radio. That was in 1925. McCormack sang Berlin's "All Alone" and Mme. Alda sang his "What'll I Do?"

Little Theater

The final rush is on. Costumes are being finished, sets are next to complete and the cast is giving the final polish to the production of "Guys and Dolls".

There are two members of the costume committee in Bastrop that deserve a hugh vote of thanks. Mrs. Mary Day and Miss Mary Lou Porter have done an outstanding job, and I might add, a very time - consuming job.

Another big "Thank you" goes to the group of people responsible for the distribution o' the posters advertising "Guys and Dolls". Thanks to Faye Parker, Shady Wall, Scherk Bogen, Phyllis Smith and Judy Evans for a job well done.

Tickets are being sold at the present time for the production of "Guys and Dolls". In Monroe contact any of the Little Theatre Board members or workers. Adult tickets are $2.50 .. Student tickets $1.25. If you want advance tickets contact Mrs. Sidney Gill, Mrs. Harold Woods, Jr., Mrs. Bernard Biedenharn. Scherk Bogen, Miss Genevra Washburn, Mrs. Clark Boardman, Frank Breese, Julius Cahn, Bid Causey, Robert Evans, Miss Lallage Feazel, Mrs. Lawrence Shipman, Clifford Strauss, Mrs. J. Hunter Thatcher or Dick Troy. They will be more than glad to help you. In Bastrop contact Mrs. Warner Holland or Mrs. Sol Snyder. In Winnsboro see Mr. and Mrs. Si Willing. Also making advance reservations for "Guys and Dolls". Write the reservations clerk in care of The Little Theatre, Monroe, giving the number of seats the day and date. Buy your tickets and make your reservations now .. April 22nd will be here before you realize it.

Ivan is still in need of some men to work on the stage crew of "Guys and Dolls". Six men to help move the scenery for the show, is all we need. If you'd like to help, please be at the theatre tomorrow night at 7:00.

We seem to have a good many people from Monroe in the New York Theatre productions. Fred Wright Young, son of Mrs. Mathylde Young of Monroe is playing the role of Lord Byron in an off - Broadway production of "Death of Satan". Fred at one time did quite a bit of acting in our own Little Theatre.

Don't forget the advance sale of tickets and the opportunity of making advance reservations for "Guys and Dolls'. It's a show that you'll regret missing out on. Make your plans now. Also remember that there is still a dire need for scene changers .... come on men, give us a little help. See you at the theatre tomorrow night at 7:00.

BUSY SEASON AHEAD

NEW YORK (AP) — Producer David Merrick, who has had as many as five profitable shows playing on Broadway at the same time, is headed for another prolific season this fall.

Merrick has scheduled eight new productions, the first to open about September. Four of the new ones will be musicals, including "The Street of the Laughing Camel," which is being adapted from Ben Lucien Burman's novel about a Texas cowboy who opens a laundry in Algeria.

First on his schedule, due Sept. 29 is "Irma, La Douce," a French musical.

Glenn Norris Sales Manager For Company

C. Glenn Norris, former assistant general sales manager, has been appointed general sales manager for the 20th Century-Fox Film Corporation, Spyros P. Skouras, president, has announced. Norris succeeds Alex Harrison, who was relieved of that position at his own request.

Like his predecessor, Norris started with the company at the bottom in the field sales structure.

In announcing the appointment in New York, Mr. Skouras said: "In the more than 30 years of his association with this company, Mr. Norris had demonstrated mastery of salesmanship, showmanship and leadership, and his appointment is a fitting climax to his record of industry and public service on both the local and national levels."

Norris joined the company as a filing clerk at its Washington branch office in early 1929.

'South Pacific' Returning Here

Rodgers and Hammerstein's Pulitzer prize-winning musical, "South Pacific," a Cinema Scope-Color by DeLuxe production, opens today at the Paramount Thetre.

About 90 per cent of "South Pacific" was shot on one of the most picturesque spots in the Pacific — Kauai — known as the "Garden Island of the Hawaiians;" the remainder was completed on Twentieth Century-Fox lots in Hollywood.

The screen version was directed by Joshua Logan, who also directed the original stage production which opened on Broadway in 1949 and ran for almost five years.

The same creative team, responsible for "South Pacific's" theatre production, brought it to the screen under Buddy Adler's producing guidance ... Richard Rodgers, Oscar Hammerstein II and Joshua Logan. The now-famous music and lyrics, introduced ten years ago, sound as fresh as ever on the screen.

"South Pacific," adapted from James Michener's best - selling novel, "Tales of the South Pacific," is the love story of a U. S. Navy nurse, played by Mitzi Gaynor, during World War II, who falls in love with a French plantation owner, portrayed by Rossano Brazzi, on a Pacific island. A concurrent love story concerns a Marine officer (John Kerr) and a native girl, played by France Nuyen (who was specially picked for the role because of her Eurasian background and beauty).

Critics have acclaimed "South Pacific" as one of the great musicals of all time. Much of "South Pacific's" romantic flavor was suggested by mood and converstaion on the stage. Bali-Ha'i, the enchanted island, for example, and the boar's tooth tribal ceremony are shown on the screen with all the color and authenticity of actual location shots.

The film version of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific" had a shooting schedule of 73 days, 44 of them on the Island of Kauai; 40 of them on the Twentieth Century-Fox film lot. This schedule included three days of pre-principal photography shooting of landings and other Navy maneuvers. Aerial montage shots of scenic backgrounds of actual New Hebrides locations were filmed from planes by Academy Award-Winning Photographer, Leon Shamroy.

"South Pacific" was completed on four mammoth sound stages of Twentieth Century-Fox, and then turned over to Alfred Newman's 125 piece orchestra for final recording. The unusual handling of the music in this film is that for the first time in screen history the entire score — both numbers and orchestrated music — were recorded before filming of "South Pacific" started. This was Director Joshua Logan's idea so that his players could work to the pre-recorded playbacks, to cue them not only emotionally but to keep their movements in true rhythm to the music.

And how does the movie "South Pacific" compare with the stage version? Here's what Oscar Hammerstein says: "I don't believe I have ever seen the story of a musical picture acted with the sincerity and emotional honesty that I find in 'South Pacific.'

THE BERLIN TOUCH

NEW YORK (AP) — It was Irving Berlins idea to build The Music Box, one of the most famous theaters on Broadway. And Berlin chose the name.

For it he wrote several of the successful "Music Box Revues," the first one in 1921 including five stars.

For the four editions of "The Music Box Revue," Berlin composed such of his lyrical hits as "What'll I Do?" and "Climbing Up the Scale."

So popular was Berlin in Tin Pan Alley that he persuaded for the first time Metropolitan Opera stars John McCormack and Frances Alda to sing on the radio. That was in 1925. McCormack sang Berlin's "All Alone" and Mme. Alda sang his "What'll I Do?"

Little Theater

The final rush is on. Costumes are being finished, sets are next to complete and the cast is giving the final polish to the production of "Guys and Dolls".

There are two members of the costume committee in Bastrop that deserve a hugh vote of thanks. Mrs. Mary Day and Miss Mary Lou Porter have done an outstanding job, and I might add, a very time - consuming job.

Another big "Thank you" goes to the group of people responsible for the distribution of the posters advertising "Guys and Dolls". Thanks to Faye Parker, Shady Wall, Scherk Bogen, Phyllis Smith and Judy Evans for a job well done.

Tickets are being sold at the present time for the production of "Guys and Dolls". In Monroe contact any of the Little Theatre Board members or workers. Adult tickets are $2.50 .. Student tickets $1.25. If you want advance tickets contact Mrs. Sidney Gill, Mrs. Harold Woods, Jr., Mrs. Bernard Biedenharn, Scherk Bogen, Miss Genevra Washburn, Mrs. Clark Boardman, Frank Breese, Julius Cahn, Bid Causey, Robert Evans, Miss Lallage Feazel, Mrs. Lawrence Shipman, Clifford Strauss, Mrs. J. Hunter Thatcher or Dick Troy. They will be more than glad to help you. In Bastrop contact Mrs. Warner Holland or Mrs. Sol Snyder. In Winnsboro see Mr. and Mrs. Si Willing. Also making advance reservations for "Guys and Dolls". Write the reservations clerk in care of The Little Theatre, Monroe, giving the number of seats the day and date. Buy your tickets and make your reservations now .. April 22nd will be here before you realize it.

Ivan is still in need of some men to work on the stage crew of "Guys and Dolls". Six men to help move the scenery for the show, is all we need. If you'd like to help, please be at the theatre tomorrow night at 7:00.

We seem to have a good many people from Monroe in the New York Theatre productions. Fred Wright Young, son of Mrs. Mathylde Young of Monroe is playing the role of Lord Byron in an off - Broadway production of "Death of Satan". Fred at one time did quite a bit of acting in our own Little Theatre.

Don't forget the advance sale of tickets and the opportunity of making advance reservations for "Guys and Dolls'. It's a show that you'll regret missing out on. Make your plans now. Also remember that there is still a dire need for scene changers .... come on men, give us a little help. See you at the theatre tomorrow night at 7:00.

BUSY SEASON AHEAD

NEW YORK (AP) — Producer David Merrick, who has had as many as five profitable shows playing on Broadway at the same time, is headed for another prolific season this fall.

Merrick has scheduled eight new productions, the first to open about September. Four of the new ones will be musicals, including "The Street of the Laughing Camel," which is being adapted from Ben Lucien Burman's novel about a Texas cowboy who opens a laundry in Algeria.

First on his schedule, due Sept. 29 is "Irma, La Douce," a French musical.

Glenn Norris Sales Manager For Company

C. Glenn Norris, former assistant general sales manager, has been appointed general sales manager for the 20th Century-Fox Film Corporation, Spyros P. Skouras, president, has announced. Norris succeeds Alex Harrison, who was relieved of that position at his own request.

Like his predecessor, Norris started with the company at the bottom in the field sales structure.

In announcing the appointment in New York, Mr. Skouras said: "In the more than 30 years of his association with this company, Mr. Norris had demonstrated mastery of salesmanship, showmanship and leadership, and his appointment is a fitting climax to his record of industry and public service on both the local and national levels."

Norris joined the company as a filing clerk at its Washington branch office in early 1929.

Altrusa Club Meets With Mrs. Lois West

The regular business meeting of the Altrusa Club, classified service club for executive and professional women was held in the home of Mrs. Lois West, West Monroe, with Mrs. Ruth Touchstone and Miss Elizabeth Reitzammer as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Helen Luckett, president, presided and called the meeting to order. [illegible] Miss Bernice McCoy [illegible] the Collect. Business attended to was the sending of one child to the Salvation Army Summer Camp, and approving and paying for the repairs to a special chair for the Cerebral Palsy school. Mrs. Jewel Durham made a report of the Workshop which was held in Alexandria on Saturday, April 22nd.

A special Committee report was given by Mrs. Marguerite Meek, chairman of a projects committee, on the possibility of a long term project for the club which would bear the club name and be a living monument to Altrusa. It was unanimously voted by the membership that this project be adopted and that plans be started at once for the beginning of this project.

A special guest of the meeting was Mrs. Belding of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, who is visiting in Monroe. Mrs. Belding is an Altrusan in Milwaukee, holding the classification of Dean of Women at a vocational school there.

Members attending the meeting were Mrs. Helen Luckett, Miss Mary Benoit, Mrs. Jewel Durham, Mrs. Erlene Adams, Mrs. Addie Lou Juneman, Mrs. Faye Heard, Mrs. Adrienne Carr, Miss Bernice McCoy, Miss Lillie Glenn, Mrs. Elizabeth Reitzammer, Mrs. Marguerite Meek, Mrs. Ellis Gill[illegible], Mrs. Marie Frazier, Mrs. Marion Hanks, Mrs. Lois West, and Mrs. Ruth Touchstone.

MRS. DICKIE VERNON SCOTT announces the engagement of her daughter, Julia Faye Hamilton, to Thomas Gray Guice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fermon Guice of Downsville. The wedding will be an event of June 24. Miss Hamilton is the daughter of James Edward Hamilton of Downsville.

Girl Scout News

Troop camping, Fly-up ceremonies, courts-of-award, end-of-school fun events, investiture of several new troops, plans for day camping and summer activities, make plenty of news these days.

Somewhat unusual was the troop camp last week in that two troops, 40 and 35, joined together, making a big group. This meant hunting up extra cots and sleeping bags in order to use the little cabin. To their delight, the girls who had had day camping experience were the ones allowed the privilege of sleeping there.

When it rained hard Thursday, leaders might well have asked, "What do thirty girls do at camp when it rains?" Well, they were lucky; it didn't rain Friday or Saturday. The road is good at all times and the ground around the building is well drained.

Friday night is campfire time on an overnight and with a large group is even more fun for singing and games. Girls of Troop 35 presented an original ceremony on world friendship as part of their work on the World Trefoil badge. Troop 40 had prepared dramatizations also. Afterward, ten girls who were interested went out to look at the stars under the guidance of Mrs. Harold Fike.

Saturday the girls cooked two meals out of doors, laid and followed trails and had fun making blueprints, then cleaned up, made bedrolls and left for home. Adults in charge of the overnight were Mrs. J. S. Salisbury, leader of Troop 40, Mrs. Fike, leader of Troop 35, Mrs. Don Spargo and Mrs. Hudson.

First of the newly organized troops to complete registration requirements is Troop 94. Leaders are Mrs. H. F. Dossett and Mrs. Fred Liner; Mrs. W. K. Easley, Troop Committee member. The following girls, second graders at Lexington School, are now wearing Brownie pins, showing that they are full fledged Brownie Scouts: Kathy Bell, Shela Clark, Carylon Davis, Karen Easley, Debbie Grayson, Mary Catherine Dossett, Rebecca McNeer, Carol Ann Phillips, Lynna Nell Rivers, Cindy Liner, Linda Leibowitz, Rebecca Senn, Martha Maxwell, Terri Sugar, Karen Temple, Kris Perry, Savanah Stephans, Delira Warlick.

AT AIR FIELD

Khrush Sour Upon Arrival

PARIS (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev wore the expression of a man with badly ruffled feathers when he walked up the long red carpet on his arrival at Orly Airfield Saturday. He was dour, jut-jawed, unsmiling.

What he really felt may be something else again. For the Soviet leader is a master actor, a man of many faces, capable of swift-changing expressions.

But if his visage Saturday was any criterion of his mood, the outlook for the summit hardly seems bright.

It reflected angry words he has been voicing for the past week about the American spy-plane case and the repercussions to it in Washington. It may be the face he presents to President Eisenhower Monday in the first session of the conference.

Khrushchev's reception at Orly was something less than overwhelming.

Neither President Charles de Gaulle nor French Prime Minister Michel Debre was at the airport to greet him. A deputy prime minister, Roger Frey, officially represented the French government.

Applause came primarily from a group of Russians—men, women and children—who are residents of Paris.

As he came up the carpet toward a microphone, the Russians applauded more fiercely. Then he waved—three times.

Two little Russian girls and a boy handed him large bouquets of flowers. Khrushchev patted the boy on the head, hugged one of the girls, then handed the flowers to bulky, broad-shouldered Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, a formidable figure in full uniform.

At that point, and for the first time, he broke into a big grin. The crowd laughed.

But when he began reading his prepared arrival statement, Khrushchev's face went dour again. His words were more or less the stylized words of a statesman arriving for a conference, except when he said: "Nobody can deny that in certain countries. . . . influential circles are trying to go back to the wold war and prevent improvement of the international atmosphere."

Police Blotter

DWI

A number of DWI arrests head on the Monroe police blotter yesterday.

Elmo Johnson, 33-year-old Monroe Negro, was charged with DWI and hit-and-run driving after he hit and damaged a parked car at 320 North 19th St. Johnson was arrested at his home, [illegible] Cedar St.

Other DWI arrests were Frank N. Fain, 24, 601 Oak St., Norman [illegible] Valley, 29, 1022 South 7th St., and Robert Mattson, 19, Baskin [illegible].

Fain and Monson were also charged with reckless driving.

HOLDUP

City police yesterday reported the Friday night armed robbery of a Monroe man.

R. Vermechton, 2605 Jackson St., reported he had been robbed at gunpoint by a Negro man. He said the man was masked and had a snub-nosed pistol.

The robber got away with $[illegible] cash. Police said the incident took place at a Louisville Avenue motel.

During the week, the first marketing of new crop wheat was reported at San Antonio, Tex. While the amount was inconsequential, traders said it indicated the harvest had started well ahead of normal and could boost significantly during the next few weeks the supply in commercial channels.

Liberal offers to deliver corn and soybeans on May contracts in the pit were weakening factors from time to time. Long interests in the market appeared to have taken the initiative toward liquidation of their holdings. Monday, the old crop soybean months were at or near their lows for the season as a result of that pressure but they had recovered about a cent by week's end.

At the end of the week, wheat was ⅞-1 cent a bushel lower than a week ago, May $2.06⅞-½; corn ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, May [illegible]; oats ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, May [illegible]; rye 2⅛ higher to 1⅛ lower, May $1.25⅝-½; soybeans ¼-1½ lower, May $2.12⅞-½.

Stock Market Shows Heavy Advance Volume

[illegible]

Presidential economic adviser Raymond J. Saulnier and other experts saw 1960 as a good year. The conviction was spreading among Wall Streeter that this would be a "no boom-no recession" year and that there were plenty of reassuring aspects to business and industry.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.50 to 213.00. Of the 1,426 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 744 advanced and 528 declined. New highs for the year totaled 130 and new lows 288.

Most active issue this week on the New York Stock Exchange was NAFI Corp., up 5¼ at 44 on 258,100 shares.

The most active issue on the American Stock Exchange was Hydrometals, up 6¼ at 33 on 156,900 shares.

U.S. government bonds drifted lower while corporate securities marked time in slightly more active trading. Trading volume increased to $26,147,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange from $24,256,000 a week ago. A year ago turnover was $30,000,000.

FOR THE SECOND straight week The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced, closing at 213.0 from 211.5 a week ago. Led by livestock the commodity index rose for the second consecutive week, closing at 170.3 from 169.5 in the preceding period. (AP Wirephoto Chart)

In the stock market the "young men's stocks" flourished. These are stocks of companies few heard about in the pre-World War II days. The old-line market leaders lagged most of the week, although some were awakened from their somnolence by the antics of the younger crowd on the last trading day.

Briefly over the business scene: Continental Oil Co. will give employees time off without pay loss to work in political activities. . . . A survey made for General Foods Corp. disclosed only three per cent of 2,000 persons queried had credit cards for charging meals. Main objection: "You should not eat out when you can't afford to" . . . A survey by the National Industrial Conference Board disclosed women, those old killjoys, were more pessimistic about the business outlook than men. . . . Quote of the week, by Charles H. Kellstadt, incoming chairman of Sears, Roebuck & Co.: "We expect 1960 not to be a boom year, just a record breaker."

Two Musicians Arrested In Narcotics Raid

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Officers arrested two San Benito, Tex., musicians in a joint narcotics investigation Friday night.

Baldemar Huerta, 22, and Louis Rene Moody, 21, were seized at a night club here by state and local officers.

Huerta was an orchestra leader who played at several Baton Rouge night clubs under the name of Freddie Sender.

Officers took the pair to an apartment where they said several ounces of marijuana seed were found.

Traces of marijuana also were found in the man's clothing, officers said.

Officers said the two admitted they brought five cartons of marijuana here several weeks ago and used it.

Wildcat Well Finaled In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—An encouraging wildcat oil well is going into production in Rankin County.

The Allen No. 1 was brought in by Gulf Coast Drilling & Exploration Co. as a dual producer, but operators will produce only from the 8,615-foot level until authority for dual completion is given by the State Oil and Gas Board.

The well is in section 29, 3 north, 5 east and tested 177 barrels from the 8,615-22-foot perforations. Oil tested 39 gravity.

Perforations at 9,329-36 feet flowed a large amount of gas along with 32 gravity oil.

In Amite County, 7 miles northeast of Liberty, C. F. & H. Oil Co. is installing pumping equipment at its wildcat, the Crosby No. 1, sec. 29-3n-5e. The discovery has been under test for several weeks but would not maintain a flow rate due to low pressure. It has tested about 120 barrels of oil per day from perforations at 11,264-93 feet. Pumping is expected to increase the rate.

Also in Amite County, two important wildcats are nearing the interesting stage. Justiss-Mears & Doug Latimer are below 11,100 feet in the Mixon et al No. 1, sec. 26-2n-8e, located north of Gillsburg. Warrior Oil & Radzewicz are below 10,160 feet in their Prestridge unit No. 1, sec. 26-2n-8e, located southeast of the new Southdale oil field.

In Marion County, Texaco-Seaboard continued production tests on their wildcat, the Board of Supervisors No. 1, sec. 16-2n-12e, with no information being released. The total depth is 14,000 feet, with production casing set.

It is reported that operators are trying to complete it dually in two [illegible]

[illegible]

County, Placid finaled two wells as dual completions. The USA No. 1, sec. 14-7n-9w, pumped 167 barrels per day from a sand at 8,094-8,110 feet and 160 barrels from 10,150-62 feet. The Strickland No. 1, sec. 17-7n-9w, pumped 175 barrels per day from a sand at 8,350-56 feet and 135 per day from 8,558-62 feet.

In the Little Creek field on the Pike County side, Campbell & Moore finaled their Nunnery No. 1, sec. 23-4n-8e, flowing 199 barrels per day from 10,765-83 feet.

At Heidelberg in Jasper County, Gulf Oil Corp. completed its Thornton No. 1, sec. 36-4n-12e, flowing 254 barrels from 8,948-50 feet. A second sand at 10,735-53 feet will be opened after approval by the oil and gas board for dual completion.

Three wells were abandoned.

In Franklin County, Serio-Pruneces Oil Co. found their U.S.A. No. T-1, in section 18-6n-5e dry at 11,003 feet. In Hinds, Argo Oil Corp. abandoned its Deane et al No. 1, sec. 32-5n-2w, a wildcat, dry at 13,107 feet.

The other abandoned hole also was a wildcat. Union Producing Co. gave up on its School Land No. 1, in sec. 16-1n-12e in Walthall County at 11,620 feet.

Elvis' Dad Is Postponing His Marriage

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Vernon Presley, father of singer Elvis Presley, said Saturday his marriage to Mrs. Davada Stanley, 31-year-old divorcee and mother of three, has been postponed.

Presley said the marriage would take place "the latter part of the summer. Early last month Presley announced he and Mrs. Stanley would wed "soon." He indicated then the wedding would be late March or early May.

The 44-year-old mustached Presley, whose first wife died in 1958, said there was a "definite reason" for the postponement. However, he refused to expand on that statement.

Grain Mart Influences Are Scarce

CHICAGO (AP) — Commercial influences in the grain futures market this week were rather scarce but prices skipped around fairly briskly in spots on factors described as technical trade considerations.

Foremost among them was evening up of commitments in May contracts on which trading will end next Thursday. The government report early in the week which estimated the winter wheat yield at 992 million bushels was about as expected although some brokers said it was a little less. They had looked for a figure slightly above a billion.

At 992 million, though, the yield would be the fourth largest of record, 7 per cent above last year and 19 per cent above the 10-year average.

During the week, the first marketing of new crop wheat was reported at San Antonio, Tex. While the amount was inconsequential, traders said it indicated the harvest had started well ahead of normal and could boost significantly during the next few weeks the supply in commercial channels.

Liberal offers to deliver corn and soybeans on May contracts in the pit were weakening factors from time to time. Long interests in the market appeared to have taken the initiative toward liquidation of their holdings. Monday, the old crop soybean months were at or near their lows for the season as a result of that pressure but they had recovered about a cent by week's end.

At the end of the week, wheat was ⅞-1 cent a bushel lower than a week ago, May $2.06⅜-½; corn ⅜ lower to ⅞ higher, May $1.17⅜-½; oats ¾ lower to ¾ higher, May 75½; rye 2⅛ higher to 1⅛ lower, May $1.25⅜-½; soybeans ¼-1½ lower, May $2.12⅜-½.

Stock Market Shows Heavy Advance Volume

NEW YORK (AP)— The stock market advanced this week on the heaviest volume in two months.

The market wheelhorses, including many industrials far below their 1960 highs, joined with the flighty "romance" issues in a broad rally.

The rise was based both on encouraging technical factors and some good news about the economy. It was the second straight weekly rise.

Considerable investment and speculative money which had been lurking on the sidelines again became committed to common stocks, according to brokers. Turnover increased every trading session.

Volume swelled to 15,420,970 shares from 13,955,505 the week before and was the biggest since the week ended March 12 when 15,980,064 shares changed hands.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 8.41 to 616.03.

The market declined Monday and Tuesday and was sinking early Wednesday when the turn came. The Dow industrials were once more sinking toward the 600 level and some analysts believed this indicator would fall through the 1960 low of 599.10 reached March 8. This level was "tested" the previous week and the market rebounded. In chart language, this formed a "double bottom" and this week the bottom began to look sturdier than ever to market technicians. The Wednesday market recovered well before it touched the year's low. This brought in buying by many who are guided by chart formations.

In addition, there were encouraging words about the economy. President Eisenhower announced that national output of goods and services was now at a half trillion dollar rate and that employment was at a record for mid-April.

Presidential economic adviser Raymond J. Saulnier and other experts saw 1960 as a good year. The conviction was spreading among Wall Streeters that this would be a "no boom-no recession" year and that there were plenty of rewarding aspects to business and industry.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.50 to 213.00. Of the 1,426 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 744 advanced and 528 declined. New highs for the year totaled 130 and new lows 288.

Most active issue this week on the New York Stock Exchange was NAFI Corp., up 5⅛ at 44 on 258,100 shares.

The most active issue on the American Stock Exchange was Hydrometals, up 6¼ at 33 on 156,900 shares.

U.S. government bonds drifted lower while corporate securities marked time in slightly more active trading. Trading volume increased to $26,147,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange from $24,256,000 a week ago. A year ago turnover was $30,000,000.

Gas Buggy Yields Good News Lately

NEW YORK (AP) — The old gas buggy, both compact and elongated, provided the most cheerful business news the past week.

Auto makers stepped up production to the highest level since the last week in February. They are canny fellows, and this is the kind of adventure in which they would not indulge unless they were selling the cars.

The are selling them. In March, when the winds blew and the snow swirled in the most miserable weather of winter, lots of people didn't stay home. They went out and bought more new cars than in any month since December, 1955.

Figures on April auto registrations aren't in yet, but the past week the Commerce Department reported retail sales in April ran three per cent ahead of March and five per cent over a year ago. Auto sales undoubtedly advanced, too.

Another good April figure was in employment. It rose to a record for the month, the Labor Department reported. Unemployment dropped but still was about five per cent of the work force.

There was a disturbing figure in the obj report, however. For the third straight month the length of the work week declined. April's average was 39.4 hours. This is one of the leading indicators—it usually turns up or down before the general economy.

Another April statistic released late in the week indicated improvement in home building, a lagging sector of the economy. The annual rate of private housing starts edged up to 1,135,000 units compared with 1,125,000 in March and 1,115,000 in February.

Raymond J. Saulnier chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, saw signs around him which might not have been observable to all.

"I think," Saulnier said, "we've just really passed the point, at the end of March, where we could see signs of the future drift of the economy. The signs are good."

Not all the latest statistics were favorable, however.

Steel production ran at about 74 per cent of capacity. Incidentally, the amount of steel consumed in two elongated cars will build three compact ones.

Department store sales in the latest week slipped one per cent under a year ago, although that may have been a reaction after the late Easter this year.

Freight carloadings fell 5.4 per cent under the like week last year, but piggyback loadings continued to soar. Money was turning over at a rapid pace—check transactions ran 6.8 per cent above last year.

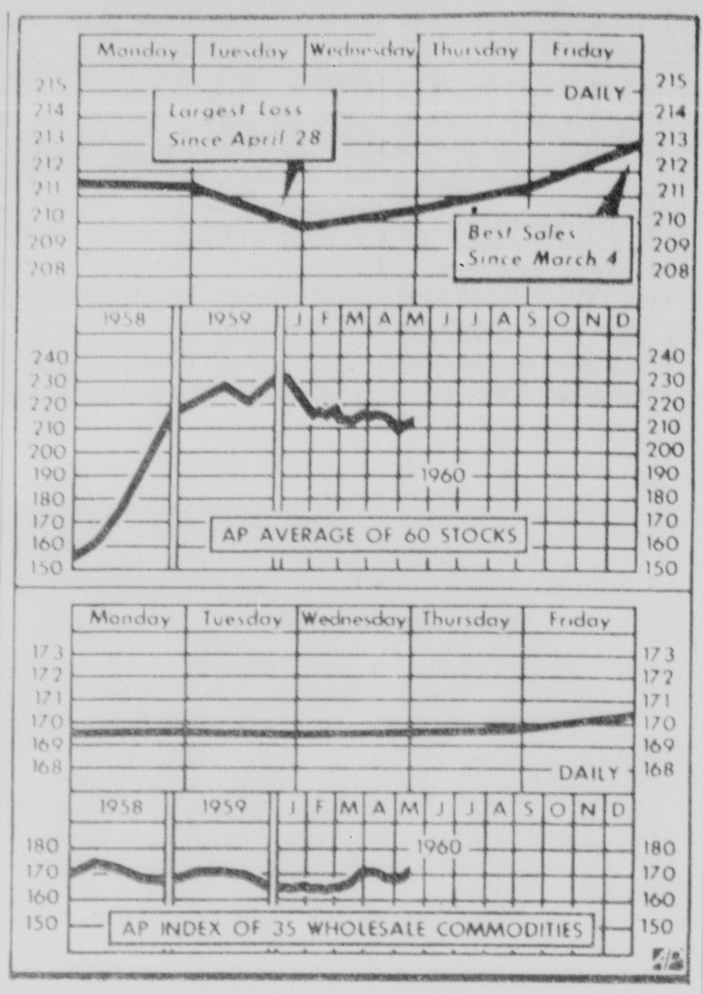
Further indication that the oil industry has not surmounted its inventory problems-was provided by Phillips Petroleum. It reduced crude oil runs at its refineries by nine per cent.

William McChesney Martin Jr., chairman of the Federal Reserve board, made another assault on the interest-rate ceiling imposed by Congress, but is was doubtful if Congress was listening.

"We must free ourselves of the mistaken notion that it is possible to set an arbitrary ceiling on interest rates," Martin said. "The evidence is crystal clear that artificial ceilings do not work."

In the stock market the "young men's stocks" flourished. These are stocks of companies few heard about in the pre-World War II days. The old-line market leaders lagged most of the week, although some were awakened from their somnolence by the antics of the younger crowd on the last trading day.

Briefly over the business scene: Continental Oil Co. will give employees time off without pay loss to work in political activities. . . . A survey made for General Foods Corp. disclosed only three per cent of 2,000 persons queried had credit cards for charging meals. Main objection: "You should not eat out when you can't afford to." . . . A survey by the National Industrial Conference Board disclosed women, those old killjoys, were more pessimistic about the business outlook than men. . . . Quote of the week, by Charles H. Kellstadt, incoming chairman of Sears, Roebuck & Co.: "We expect 1960 not to be a boom year, just a record breaker."



FOR THE SECOND straight week The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced, closing at 213.0 from 211.5 a week ago. Led by livestock the commodity index rose for the second consecutive week, closing at 170.3 from 169.5 in the preceding period. (AP Wirephoto Chart)

GAINS SHOWN

April Statistics Released By Ike

By ELMER C. WALZER
Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks met support during the past week when President Eisenhower told the economy had reached the half trillion dollar milestone.

The President also released unexpectedly high gains in employment which set a new April record high, and a sharp decline in unemployment to clinch the good news.

Other April statistics were equally favorable—record retail sales, an improvement in building of new homes, and record shipments of copper metal.

The automobile industry reported a rise in production over the previous week and a year ago and retail sales held high for the week. These plus the April figures more than offset a poor showing for steel, electricity, coal, car loadings, and construction.

Steel shares had a good rally in the face of a decline in operations below 74 per cent of capacity further cuts anticipated, and some softening in prices. These were offset somewhat by Republic Steel's chairman who anticipated a bottoming out in the steel rate soon.

Early in the week when the general list was unsettled there was a fairly good demand for all types of defense stocks, reflecting the spy incident.

Aircrafts, missile issues, makers of rocket fuel, and many electronics issues joined this upturn while the leading stocks met selling.

Individual stocks responded to special news such as Johns-Manville being helped when Standard — Poor's selected it as the stock of the month, Chock Full O'Nuts planning to operate a chain of diners, California Packing planning a rise in its cash dividend, Nickel Plate on reported progress in its plan to merge with Norfolk and Western, Nafi and Minnesota Mining on higher earnings, and Crowell-Collier on reports it will merge with Macmillan.

The industrial average registered its third best weekly gain of the year—8.41 points—to close the week at 616.03. Rails closed at 139.47 off 1.38 points on the week but up 3.15 points from the Tuesday low. Utilities finished at 89.19 up 0.21 and the 65 stocks in the three averages, 203.27 up 1.35 points.

Trading increased in each session until the total reached 3,750,000 shares on Friday. It was the largest week's business done on the exchange since the week of March 11.

Best gains included Minneapolis Honeywell up 17¼ points on the week, Minnesota Mining up 15½; Texas Instruments up 11¾ and American Home Products up 11⅝. American Shipbuilding rose nine and IBM eight.

Gains of six or seven points appeared in Addressograph, Blaw-Knox, Corning Glass, Universal Match, American Photocopy Warner Lambert and Bendix Aviation. Johns-Manville and Du Pont each rose three. Texaco fell three in the oils.

Two Musicians Arrested In Narcotics Raid

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Officers arrested two San Benito, Tex., musicians in a joint narcotics investigation Friday night.

Baldemar Huerta, 22, and Louis Rene Moody, 24, were seized at a night club here by state and local officers.

Huerta was an orchestra leader who played at several Baton Rouge night clubs under the name of Freddie Sender.

Officers took the pair to an apartment where they said several ounces of marijuana seed were found.

Traces of marijuana also were found in the man's clothing, officers said.

Officers said the two admitted they brought five cartons of marijuana here several weeks ago and used it.

Wildcat Well Finaled In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) —An encouraging wildcat oil well is going into production in Rankin County.

The Allen No. 1 was brought in by Gulf Coast Drilling & Exploration Co. as a dual producer, but operators will produce only from the 8,615-foot level until authority for dual completion is given by the State Oil and Gas Board.

The well is in section 29, 3 north, 5 east and tested 177 barrels from the 8,615-22-foot perforations. Oil tested 39 gravity.

Perforations at 9,329-36 feet flowed a large amount of gas along with 32 gravity oil.

In Amite County, 7 miles northeast of Liberty, C. F. & H. Oil Co. is installing pumping equipment at its wildcat, the Crosby No. 1, sec. 29-3n-5e. The discovery has been under test for several weeks but would not maintain a flow rate due to low pressure. It has tested about 120 barrels of oil per day from perforations at 11,264-93 feet. Pumping is expected to increase the rate.

Also in Amite County, two important wildcats are nearing the interesting stage. Justiss-Mears & Doug Latimer are below 11,100 feet in the Mixon et al No. 1, sec. 26-2n-8e, located north of Gillsburg. Warrior Oil & Radzewicz are below 10,160 feet in their Prestridge unit No. 1, sec. 26-2n-8e, located southeast of the new Smithdale oil field.

Placid Oil Co. is below 5,000 feet in its Hinds County wildcat, the Caldwell Unit No. 1, sec. 35-6n-1w, located near the western edge of Jackson. The contract depth is 6,200 feet. It is reported that the well logged slight oil shows of undetermined commercial worth.

In Marion County, Texaco-Seaboard continued production tests on their wildcat, the Board of supervisors No. 1, sec. 16-2n-12e, with no information being released. The total depth is 14,000 feet, with production casing set.

It is reported that operators are trying to complete it dually in two different gas sands below 10,000 feet. In the same county about two miles east of the well under test, Texaco is below 10,900 feet in its Padgett No. 1, sec. 14-2n-12e, with reports that the venture has logged shows. Operators have permitted a second well on the board of supervisors lease.

Three wildcat tests are drilling in Smith County. America Petrofina is below 11,730 feet in its USA No. 1, sec. 7-4n-7e, a 12,000 foot try. Placid Oil Co. is below 11,000 feet in its Board of Supervisors No. 1, sec. 16-10n-16w, a 13,500-foot test, and Jett Drilling Co. is below 11,600 feet in its Federal Land Blank No. 1, sec. 7-in 9e, a 12,800-foot try.

Drilling operations in proven fields recorded eight new oilers.

In the Baxterville field of Lamar County, Humble Oil completed its Board of Supervisors No. 11, sec. 16-1n-16w, pumping 186 barrels of oil per day from 8,860-62 feet.

At Thompson's Creek in Wayne County, Placid finaled two wells as dual completions. The USA No. 1, sec. 14-7n-9w, pumped 167 barrels per day from a sand at 8,094-8,11? feet and 160 barrels from 10,150-62 feet. The Strickland No. 1, sec. 15-7n-9w, pumped 175 barrels per day from a sand at 8,-30-56 feet and 135 per day from 8,538-48 feet.

In the Little Creek field on the Pike County side, Campbell & Moore finaled their Nunnery No. 1, sec. 23-4n-8e, flowing 199 barrels per day from 10,763-83 feet.

At Heidelberg in Jasper County, Gulf Oil Corp. completed its Thornton No. 1 sec. 36-1n-12e, flowing 254 barrels from 8,918-40 feet. A second sand at 10,835-53 feet will be opened after approval by the oil and gas board for dual completion.

Three wells were abandoned.

In Franklin County, Serio-Punches Oil Co. found their U.S.A. No. T-1, in section 18-6n-5e dry at 11,008 feet. In Hinds, Argo Oil Corp. abandoned its Deane et al No. 1, sec. 32-5n-2w, a wildcat, dry at 13,107 feet.

The other abandoned hole also was a wildcat. Union Producing Co. gave up on its School Land No. 1, in sec. 16-1n-123 in Walthall County at 11,680 feet.

Elvis' Dad Is Postponing His Marriage

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Vernon Presley, father of singer Elvis Presley, said Saturday his marriage to Mrs. Davada Stanley, 31-year-old divorcee and mother of three, has been postponed.

Presley said the marriage would take place "the latter part of the summer. Early last month Presley announced he and Mrs. Stanley would wed "soon." He indicated then the wedding would be late March or early May.

The 44-year-old mustached Presley, whose first wife died in 1958, said there was a "definite reason" for the postponement. However, he refused to expand on that statement.

Legislative Digest

Bills introduced:

MONDAY

H1 (Steen) — propose constitutional amendment to establish Louisiana Department of Old Age Pensions, transferring all functions connected with old age assistance from public welfare board and department to the new agency.

H2 (Steen) — increase old age assistance payments from $75 to $85 per month.

H3 (Steen) — propose constitutional amendment to provide that judges contribute to their retirement fund.

H4 (Steen) — provide for membership of judges of courts of record in the Louisiana State Employees Retirement System and provide for their retirement under provisions of the system.

H5 (Steen) — require tagging of all deer, bear and wild turkey before removing the carcass in any manner from the place where it was killed.

H6 (Steen) — require all state owned and operated colleges and universities to furnish free textbooks and supplies to all students who are bona fide residents of Louisiana.

H7 (Steen) — set minimum wage of highway maintenance workers at $1.25 per hour.

H8 (Steen) — provide for increase from 50 cents to $1 per diem for keeping and feeding prisoners in parish jails, Orleans excepted, on approval of police jury.

H9 (Arceneaux and Ashley) — amend teachers retirement act to set mandatory retirement age at 65 instead of 68.

H10 (J. K. Smith, A. D. Brown and Fulco) — propose constitutional amendment to authorize legislature to create and provide for higher education assistance corporation for student aid.

H11 (J. K. Smith, A. D. Brown and Fulco) — create higher education assistance corporation, appropriating $25,000 for 1960-61 for expense of program.

H12 (Lewis) — Propose constitutional amendment to provide for election of parish superintendent of education in Beauregard in congressional elections.

H13 (Matassa) — appropriate $150,000 to Louisiana Department of Public Works to dredge Bayou St. John in Orleans parish.

H14 (J. M. Brown and Knowles) — appropriate $45,925.32 to reimburse Calcasieu parish for voting machines purchased prior to statewide voting machine law.

H15 (Dupont) — redefine inside and outside waters for purpose of taking shrimp.

H17 (Dupont) — repeal existing definition of inside and outside coastal waters for purposes of shrimping laws.

H18 (Buras) — Regulate issue, sale, gift or use of trading stamps, requiring annual fee of $600 for each issuer and requiring $25,000 bond be posted by stamp issuer.

H19 (Sullivan) — propose constitutional amendment to provide that no tax exemption for new industry shall exempt establishment from paying tax for school purposes.

H20 (Bickford and H. Allen) — repeal all laws permitting absentee voting except for voting by members of the armed forces.

H21 (Bickford and H. Allen) — permit voters who are ill or physically incapacitated to supersede all other voters waiting at the polls.

H22 (Bickford and H. Allen) — propose constitutional amendment to prohibit any person succeeding himself as governor, making terms more definite.

H23 (Jewell) — amend tobacco tax allocation law to include municipalities recently incorporated.

H24 (Ammons) — repeal requirement that school boards, agencies or school lunch personnel get three quotations before purchasing food for lunch room use.

H25 (Lebreton) — provide minimum pension of $100 per month for all firemen on retired list under pension and relief fund for firemen in New Orleans.

H26 (Lancaster) — amend revised statutes to provide for distribution of copies of the current acts and journals of the legislature to the Louisiana Legislative Council.

H27 (Delony and Cashio) — amend Louisiana State Employees Retirement Act to provide for prior service credit for certain members of the system.

H28 (Wilson) — require photograph of driver to be placed on driver's license.

H29 (Wilson) — set date for gubernatorial primary on the third Tuesday of January, and primary for election of U. S. senators and representatives on fourth Tuesday of August.

H30 (Wilson) — appropriate $25,000 to Louisiana Cotton Festival and Fair, Inc. for capital outlay.

H31 (Wilson) — appropriate $250,000 to establish North Louisiana Vocational-Technical school in Bastrop.

H32 (Wilson) — propose constitutional amendment to reduce the parish residence requirement for voting from one year to six months.

H33 (Wilson) — amend revised statutes to reduce state residence requirement for voting from two years to one year.

H34 (Matassa) — require newspapers to provide equal space to any public official or candidate to reply to prejudicial, critical, denunciatory, defamatory or otherwise derogatory statements or articles.

H35 (Dupont) — increase salary of district attorney of 17th judicial district paid by the parishes of LaFourche and Terrebonne to $4,750 annually.

H36 (Adams) — appropriate $98,250 to create Red Bank Creek Game and Fish Preserve in Vernon parish.

H37 (Adams) — amend state teachers' retirement system law relative to benefits allowances and requirements.

H38 (Munson) — set gubernatorial primary date on third Tuesday in January, primary for election of U. S. senators and representatives on last Tuesday of July.

H39 (Munson) — exclude private, non-profit institutions from definition of "child caring institution" under public welfare laws, and exclude such institutions from laws relating to licensing of child welfare agencies by State Department.

H40 (Strother) — require each parish and Municipal school board to purchase and maintain insurance covering students participating in athletics and sports.

H41 (Strother) — amend revised statutes relative to small loans and interest rates.

H42 (Strother) — appropriate $5,000 to Allen parish sportsman's club in Oakdale for operating expenses.

BRAND NEW
ON THE MARKET

IS THIS lovely Holiday Hillstone home, which was a real eye-catcher during the 1959 PARADE O HOMES, on Florence St. in W. M. It's on a beautiful lot with trees, and it's loaded with luxury features . . . central air conditioning and heating . . . built-in Tappan kitchen . . . intercom system . . . low voltage control wiring . . . and the bathroom scales are built-in! Let us show you this terrific house today . . .

AMERICAN BEAUTY

HERE'S A home designed for gracious and relaxed living. It's a dark red American Beauty brick set among trees in Oak Park. There are 3 nice size bedrooms and 2 ceramic tile baths. It's centrally air conditioned and has oak block floors in the living room and sliding glass doors opening onto a patio. Kitchen is spacious with many cabinets, and the whole house has plenty of storage. Won't you see it today! Price $17,900.

4½ ASSUMPTION

THIS BRICK and frame home built on a spacious landscaped lot (75x200) is only a couple of blocks from Claiborne School in West Monroe. It was built for its present owners and has many special features, such as sliding doors and oak block floors. There are 3 bedrooms and plenty of closet space and storage. $1700 down moves you in on an assumption of a 4½ per cent loan . . . and such loans are valuable . . . they mean money in your pocket!

RECIPE FOR HAPPINESS

YOU'LL ENJOY life to its fullest with this charming, AIR CONDITIONED home of used brick. Only a few months old, it's located very near Lexington School and is a perfectly appointed home, planned with "tenderly loving care" by its transferred owner. There are 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, spacious living room, family room with glass sliding door to patio, kitchen full of lovely mahogany cabinets . . . and there's more closets than your husband will let you fill! Centrally heated and air conditioned . . . drapes included in the sales price. It's vacant and you can take it on an assumption of 5¼ loan with $1950 down. We invite you inside.

HAPPY HINT
OF INFORMALITY

WHO wouldn't love the friendly, gracious atmosphere of this new home! It's unusual, and we want you to see it. Built on a large lot with trees, it's used brick in colonial style, and there are 3 bedrooms, one paneled. The birch-paneled kitchen has built-in Tappan oven and range and cabinets galore . . . plus glass sliding doors onto patio. The bath is terrific . . . extra-large and the coolest blue and white ceramic tile you ever saw! This home is a real buy, and you can move in on an assumption with $1490 down. Walters St., W. M.

ORLEANS ST.

HERE'S A lovely 9-month-old brick . . . air conditioned and heated. There are 3 nice bedrooms and a "workless" kitchen . . . disposal, dishwasher, cabinets galore, spacious dining area. The whole house is tastefully decorated in luscious colors with drapes to match. Payments are $92 including insurance and taxes. We'd be glad to show you this anytime!

BARGAIN

HERE'S A spacious and attractive 2 bedroom white frame home on Trenton St. in W. M. that can be bought for $1950 down on an assumption of its 4½ G. I. loan. Monthly payments are only $50 including insurance and taxes, with only 9 more years to pay. This is a marvelous assumption deal or we can sell it on a new FHA loan with $300 down.

TAKE ADVANTAGE

OF THE assumption we have on this home on Eason Place near Lexington School. Monthly payments are $58.59 including insurance and taxes. It's centrally heated and has 1-ton of air conditioning. You'll really appreciate in the days not far ahead.

BRAND NEW
ON THE MARKET

IS THIS lovely Holiday Hillstone home, which was a real eye-catcher during the 1959 PARADE O HOMES, on Florence St. in W. M. It's on a beautiful lot with trees, and it's loaded with luxury features . . . central air conditioning and heating . . . built-in Tappan kitchen . . intercom system . . . low voltage control wiring . . . and the bathroom scales are built-in! Let us show you this terrific house today . .

AMERICAN BEAUTY

HERE'S A home designed for gracious and relaxed living. It's a dark red American Beauty brick set among trees in Oak Park. There are 3 nice size bedrooms and 2 ceramic tile baths. It's centrally air conditioned and has oak block floors in the living room and sliding glass doors opening onto a patio. Kitchen is spacious with many cabinets, and the whole house has plenty of storage. Won't you see it today! Price $17,900.

4½ ASSUMPTION

THIS BRICK and frame home built on a spacious landscaped lot (75x200) is only a couple of blocks from Claiborne School in West Monroe. It was built for its present owners and has many special features, such as sliding doors and oak block floors. There are 3 bedrooms and plenty of closet space and storage. $1700 down moves you in on an assumption of a 4½ per cent loan . . . and such loans are valuable . . they mean money in your pocket!

RECIPE FOR HAPPINESS

YOU'LL ENJOY life to its fullest with this charming, AIR CONDITIONED home of used brick. Only a few months old, it's located very near Lexington School and is a perfectly appointed home, planned with "tenderly loving care" by its transferred owner. There are 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, spacious living room, family room with glass sliding door to patio, kitchen full of lovely mahogany cabinets . . . and there's more closets than your husband will let you fill! Centrally heated and air conditioned . . . drapes included in the sales price. It's vacant and you can take it on an assumption of 5¼ loan with $1950 down. We invite you inside.

HAPPY HINT
OF INFORMALITY

WHO wouldn't love the friendly, gracious atmosphere of this new home! It's unusual, and we want you to see it. Built on a large lot with trees, it's used brick in colonial style, and there are 3 bedrooms, one paneled. The birch-paneled kitchen has built-in Tappan oven and range and cabinets galore . . . plus glass sliding doors onto patio. The bath is terrific . . . extra-large and the coolest blue and white ceramic tile you ever saw! This home is a real buy, and you can move in on an assumption with $1400 down. Walters St., W. M.

ORLEANS ST.

HERE'S A lovely 9-month-old brick . . . air conditioned and heated. There are 3 nice bedrooms and a "workless" kitchen . . . disposal, dishwasher, cabinets galore, spacious dining area. The whole house is tastefully decorated in luscious colors with drapes to match. Payments are $92 including insurance and taxes. We'd be glad to show you this anytime!

BARGAIN

HERE'S A spacious and attractive 2 bedroom white frame home on Trenton St. in W. M. that can be bought for $1950 down on an assumption of its 4¼ G. I. loan. Monthly payments are only $50 including insurance and taxes, with only 9 more years to pay. This is a marvelous assumption deal or we can sell it on a new FHA loan with $300 down.

TAKE ADVANTAGE

OF THE assumption we have on this home on Eason Place near Lexington School. Monthly payments are $58.50 including insurance and taxes. It's centrally heated and has 1-ton of air conditioning. You'll really appreciate in the days not far ahead.

NEVER BEFORE

Has this attractive 3 bedroom brick home on Arlington Place been offered and at such an attractive price. $14,900 with easy terms. It's near the W. M. Country Club, set on a large well kept lawn, shrubbery, and growing young trees. Then step inside its roomy "T" shaped living room. The draped windows, fireplace and gas logs add to the warm friendly atmosphere. Then to the kitchen with natural pine finish and plastic covered cabinets so conveniently arranged and easy to clean. Note the sliding glass doors leading to the covered patio, ceramic tile around the bath tub, central heat, attic fan, large closets, and store room. Call today for appointment to inspect it.

INVITING

This charming brick home invites you in and graciously bids you stay awhile. You'll want to stay forever when you see the well arranged floor plan that includes 3 bedrooms with generous closet space and easy-to-care-for tile bath. Cooled with attic fan—warmed by central heating, this home is most comfortable, and kept in A-1 condition. To complete the picture, the setting is a large 100x150 ft. lot. Already financed and $1500 assumes the present loan with payments of $74.50 including taxes and insurance.

JUST A SHORT WALK

To Lexington School on Northside is this 2 bedroom home. It's newly decorated inside and out and includes large screened porch, hardwood floors, aluminum screens, and carport. You'll thoroughly enjoy the well shaded 150x150 ft. lot. The location is 314 Foster St., and the price is $10,500 with FHA financing available.

ALL THAT'S NEEDED

Here is your happy family, for we have the home for you—newly completed and under construction—or we will custom build to your plans or furnish plans free. These individually designed brick homes are modern-to-the-minute—one and two bath models—some centrally air conditioned. The location is without comparison—expertly planned with private recreation facilities—just outside city limits, a 5 minute drive from town. FHA financing available and will trade! Before you buy any home, we suggest you see these!

YOU'LL LOOK A LONG TIME

To find a better value than this 3 bedroom home on the corner of Woodlawn and Ray Drive in North Monroe Subdivision. You'll enoy the never crowded-feeling of the large rooms—with its central air conditioning and and you'll be comfortable year 'round with its central air conditioning and heating. A unive kitchen plan, large cool screened in back porch, and oak block floors are just a few of the many features to be found here. All this and more on a 100x150 ft. lot with shade trees—and priced at only $13,000, FHA financing available.

SEEING IS BELIEVING

And you should let us show you this picturesque 3 acre homesite. Large trees furnish a perfect backdrop for your future home. It's well located on blacktop street (approximately 900 ft. frontage), just outside city limits, W.M., on Good Hope Rd. The price is a small $3600—so you had better hurry!

WHITES FERRY RD., W.M.

Flawless and friendly is this value packed 3 bedroom brick home. You'll appreciate the 2 baths, separate dining room, one bedroom with outside door (could be used as a den). Kitchen features pine cabinets, built-in oven and range, and inside door to utility room. The 1400 sq. feet of this home contains other features too numerous to mention, so let's see this home (priced below $17,000).

MADISON ST., W.M.

Wears a budget price tag ($4,100) but what a lot of good value is to be found in the compact 2 bedroom home. It features: 8x14 porch, Venetian blinds, and washer connection. We're awaiting your calls on this unbelievably low priced home.

SWISS ST., W.M.

Ready to step up to home ownership? For less than $1,000 down payment (total price $9,600) you can assume present monthly notes of $50.50 on this 2 bedroom home just 2 blocks from Highland School. The well cared for interior boasts of: pine floors, floor furnaces, and attic fan. Cyclone fenced back yard. Will show at your convenience.

HARREL ROAD, W.M.

Interested in just 7 acres? Then you'll admire this acreage and the well kept older home consisting of 3 bedrooms, living room, kitchen and bath. There's a garden spot, pear, pecan and pine trees outside. May we show you this moderately priced listing (below $15,000) today?

COTTON ST., W.M.

Excellent investment for the future. Yes, this 2 bedroom home is located near the West Monroe business district. If you prefer, could be used as rental property now and commercial later. It includes living room and separate dining room and 2 large bedrooms. Priced less than $9,600.

LAZARRE ST., W.M.

Oops! We almost forgot to tell you about this unusually neat 2 bedroom home near Mitchell School. Hurry to see its separate dining room, 8x13 glass porch and oak floors. For just $250.00 down plus closing costs you can own this newly painted home.

INGLEWOOD DRIVE

If the streets were paved with gold, you still couldn't get a better buy in a nicer location than this 3 bedroom brick home near Northeast College. There's a ceramic tile bath with shower over tub, kitchen boasts built-in Tappan oven and range and vent-a-hood. The family will appreciate the step-saving intercom system. Cyclone fenced 95x155 lot. $3,000 assumption of $72.50 payments on a 4½ per cent VA loan.

SOUTH FOURTH STREET

Nothing ventured, nothing gained is an old adage. $8,000 ventured and you'll gain this neat and compact 2 bedroom home near Southside Shopping Center. Extra special features include: floor furnaces, hardwood floors, and Venetian blinds. Back yard is fenced and has many pines and shrubs. May we show you this one now?

SOUTH FIFTH STREET

Only you can decide that this 2 bedroom home near Plum Street School is for you. To help you decide, there is: oak floors, floor furnaces, Venetian blinds, Ranger vent-a-hood, and fenced yard. For only $250 and closing costs you can move into this excellent value.

GEORGIA STREET

Spring into action on this neat 2 bedroom home near Plum Street School, churches, and shopping centers. Extra nice features are: 19x13 den, large living room, insulated walls and ceilings, hardwood floors, attic fan, floor furnaces, and drapes in living room. Back yard of 100x150 lot is fenced. For just $400 and closing costs you can be a proud home-owner.

ALABAMA STREET

Your last look will be at this 2 bedroom home with its oak floors, floor furnaces, and washer connection. You can own this "starter" home near Plum Street Shopping Center for just $250 down plus closing costs.

BERNSTEIN PARK RD.

Cheapee tee pee! For just $7,000 buys this 2 bedroom home with 1008 square feet of living area, complete with 2.3 acre lot. There's a separate dining room, 6x13 porch and pine floors throughout. Neat investment.

BEASLEY & CAMELLIA

Is your car a taxi? It need not be with this 3 bedroom brick Medallion home just 3 blocks from Lakeshore School. There's much to admire in this home, including: spacious living room, birch paneled family room with sliding glass doors to patio, and 2 tile baths with showers and dressing tables. The built-in kitchen features birch cabinets and stainless steel G. E. oven and range. There's central heating and ducts for air conditioning. All of this and it's priced below $18,000.

SHOLARS, W.M.

Expansive but not expensive is this 3 bedroom and den (split level and pine paneled) home with over 1200 sq. ft. of living area. There are 1½ baths with shower over tub. Some of its extra features include: 11x30 living room with false fireplace, kitchen with ventahood, eating bar, and built-in ironing board. There's also automatic closet lights. The 105x150 is beautiful and features barbecue and outside lights. Much value will be yours with this home.

COLUMBIA AVE.

Sparkling clean is this six year old home located on its 100x170 fenced lot. There's a large living room (12x18) and two bedrooms. Other extras include: shower over tub, tile floors, wall heaters, 2 air conditioners, and drapes. May we show this unusually neat home today?

SPENCER BLVD.

Lady in a shoe — you'll know what to do in this convenient 3 bedroom home planned for a big happy family. The 1800 sq. feet of living area contains: 15x23 living room, 14x15 dining room, 2 baths (one with shower over tub), large kitchen with built-in dishwasher. Also, there's: beech floors, central heating, 3 air conditioners, and washer and dryer connections. Ready to investigate this value-packed home for less than $17,000?

Wall Williams Road, W.M.

If "wide open spaces" appeal to you, you are sure to admire the 105x420 foot lot which is the setting for this 3 bedroom frame home. It's centrally heated, has small strip oak floors, ventahood, drapes in living room, and dishwasher. Priced so very low — just $12,500.

ARLINGTON ST.

Luxury and low taxes go hand in hand with this "almost new" 2 bedroom home just outside city limits. There's a lovely 12x20 birch paneled den with a 2-ton air conditioner, the 1½ ceramic tile baths have shower over tub. Extras include drapes throughout, central heating, and double carport. Assume $89.63 notes for only $3250.

NORTH 6TH ST.

Increase your income without leaving your home. Live in one side of this completely furnished duplex and rent the other (also furnished). In addition to this house, there is a 2-story furnished garage apartment ready to put your money to work in this property so reasonably priced below $17,000?

AUSTIN, W.M.

GOT A PEEVE ON? Mad at your landlord? Then you see this 2 bedroom older home near Mitchell School. There's a separate dining room for family get-togethers. Kitchen has been recently remodeled. Very good buy for only $5500 with $250 down plus closing costs.

DICK TAYLOR ST.

Can't be true, but it is — you can buy a 2 bedroom home for just $6,500. Both bedrooms are large (14x15 and 10x15). Thers pine floors, floor furnaces, Venetian blinds, and garage. Selling for a low down payment of $250 plus closing costs.

Interested in just 7 acres? Then you'll admire this acreage and the well kept older home consisting of 3 bedrooms, living room, kitchen and bath. There's a garden spot, pear, pecan and pine trees outside. May we show you this moderately priced listing (below $15,000) today?

COTTON ST., W.M.

Excellent investment for the future. Yes, this 2 bedroom home is located near the West Monroe business district. If you prefer, could be used as rental property now and commercial later. It includes living room and separate dining room and 2 large bedrooms. Priced less than $9,000.

LAZARRE ST., W.M.

Oops! We almost forgot to tell you about this unusually neat 2 bedroom home near Mitchell School. Hurry to see its: separate dining room, 6x19 glass porch and oak floors. For just $250.00 down plus closing costs you can own this newly painted home.

INGLEWOOD DRIVE

If the streets were paved with gold, you still couldn't get a better buy in a nicer location than this 3 bedroom brick home near Northeast College. There's a ceramic tile bath with shower over tub, kitchen boasts built-in Tappan oven and range and vent-a-hood. The family will appreciate the step-saving intercom system. Cyclone fenced 95x155 lot. $3,000 assumption of $72.80 payments on a 4½ per cent VA loan.

SOUTH FOURTH STREET

Nothing ventured, nothing gained is an old adage. $8,000 ventured and you'll gain this neat and compact 2 bedroom home near Southside Shopping Center. Extra special features include: floor furnaces, hardwood floors, and Venetian blinds. Back yard is fenced and has many pines and shrubs. May we show you this one now?

SOUTH FIFTH STREET

Only you can decide that this 2 bedroom home near Plum Street School is for you. To help you decide, there is: oak floors, floor furnaces, Venetian blinds, Ranger vent-a-hood, and fenced yard. For only $250 and closing costs you can move into this excellent value.

GEORGIA STREET

Spring into action on this neat 2 bedroom home near Plum Street School, churches, and shopping centers. Extra nice features are: 19x13 den, large living room, insulated walls and ceilings, hardwood floors, attic fan, floor furnaces, and drapes in living room. Back yard of 100x150 lot is fenced. For just $400 and closing costs you can be a proud homeowner.

ALABAMA STREET

Your last look will be at this 2 bedroom home with its oak floors, floor furnaces, and washer connection. You can own this "starter" home near Plum Street Shopping Center for just $250 down plus closing costs.

BERNSTEIN PARK RD.

Cheapee tee pee! For just $7,000 buys this 2 bedroom home with 1008 square feet of living area, complete with 2.3 acre lot. There's a separate dining room, 6x13 porch and pine floors throughout. Neat investment.

BEASLEY & CAMELLIA

Is your car a taxi? It need not be with this 3 bedroom brick Medallion home just 3 blocks from Lakeshore School. There's much to admire in this home, including: spacious living room, birch paneled family room with sliding glass doors to patio, and 2 tile baths with showers and dressing tables. The built-in kitchen features birch cabinets and stainless steel G. E. oven and range. There's central heating and ducts for air conditioning. All of this and it's priced below $18,000.

SHOLARS, W.M.

Expansive but not expensive is this 3 bedroom and den (split level and pine paneled) home with over 1200 sq. ft. of living area. There are 1½ baths with shower over tub. Some of its extra features include: 11x30 living room with false fireplace, kitchen with ventahood, eating bar, and built-in ironing board. There's also automatic closet lights. The 105x150 is beautiful and features barbecue and outside lights. Much value will be yours with this home.

COLUMBIA AVE.

Sparkling clean is this six year old home located on its 100x170 fenced lot. There's a large living room (12x18) and two bedrooms. Other extras include: shower over tub, tile floors, wall heaters, 2 air conditioners, and drapes. May we show this unusually neat home today?

SPENCER BLVD.

Lady in a shoe — you'll know what to do in this convenient 3 bedroom home planned for a big happy family. The 1800 sq. feet of living area contains: 15x24 living room, 14x15 dining room, 2 baths (one with shower over tub), large kitchen with built-in dishwasher. Also, there's: beech floors, central heating, 3 air conditioners, and washer and dryer connections. Ready to investigate this value-packed home for less than $17,000?

Wall Williams Road, W.M.

If "wide open spaces" appeal to you, you are sure to admire the 105x420 foot lot which is the setting for this 3 bedroom frame home. It's centrally heated, has small strip oak floors, ventahood, drapes in living room, and dishwasher. Priced so very low — just $12,500.

ARLINGTON ST.

Luxury and low taxes go hand in hand with this "almost new" 2 bedroom home just outside city limits. There's a lovely 12x20 birch paneled den with a 2-ton air conditioner, the 1½ ceramic tile baths have shower over tub. Extras include drapes throughout, central heating, and double carport. Assume $89.63 notes for only $3250.

NORTH 6TH ST.

Increase your income without leaving your home. Live in one side of this completely furnished duplex and rent the other (also furnished). In addition to this house, there is a 2-story furnished garage apartment ready to put your money to work in this property so reasonably priced below $17,000?

AUSTIN, W.M.

GOT A PEEVE ON? Mad at your landlord? Then you see this 2 bedroom older home near Mitchell School. There's a separate dining room for family get-togethers. Kitchen has been recently remodeled. Very good buy for only $8000 with $250 down plus closing costs.

DICK TAYLOR ST.

Can't be true, but it is — you can buy a 2 bedroom home for just $6,500. Both bedrooms are large (14x15 and 10x15). Thers pine floors, floor furnaces, Venetian blinds, and garage. Selling for a low down payment of $250 plus closing costs.

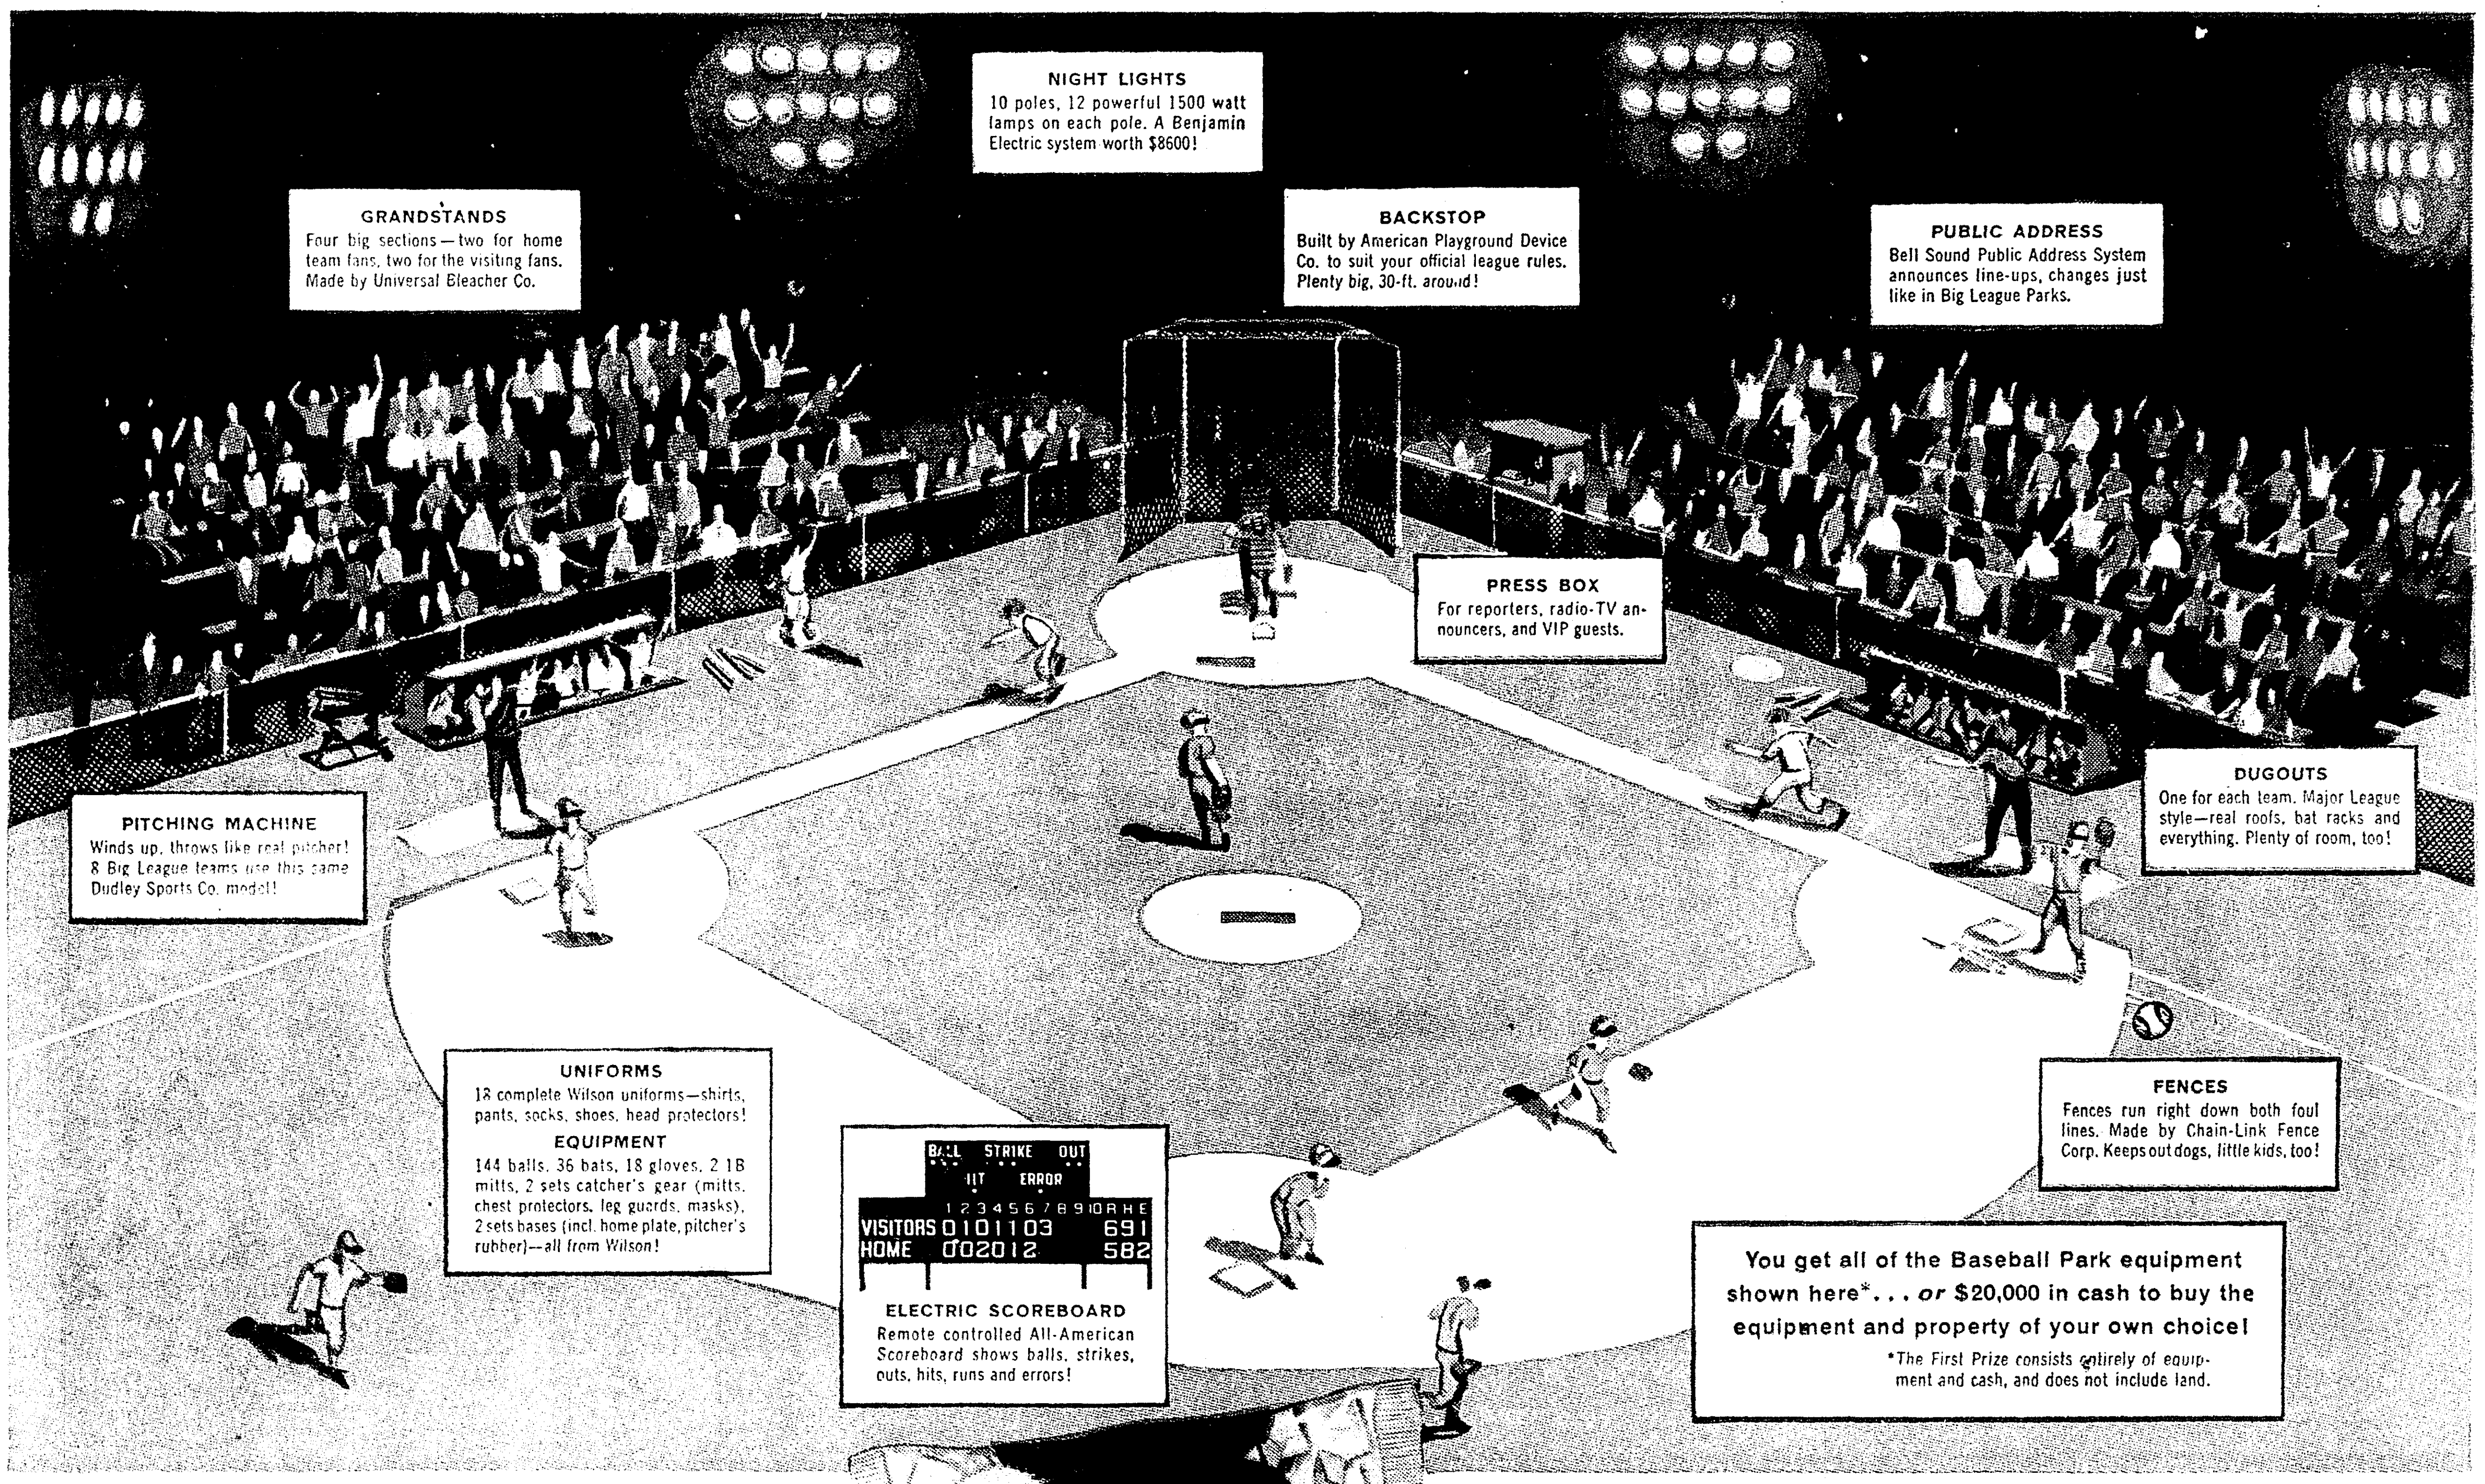
HEY! Baseball teams and fans Boys and Girls!

LITTLE LEAGUERS · COLT AND PONY LEAGUERS · YMCA's AND CYO's · VFW AND AMERICAN LEGION TEAMS · SOFTBALL TEAMS · JAYCEE AND KHOURY LEAGUE TEAMS · BABE RUTH AND CONNIE MACK LEAGUES · PREP AND LITTLE BOY'S LEAGUE TEAMS · HOT STOVE LEAGUERS · NEIGHBORHOOD TEAMS

WIN A $20,000 BASEBALL PARK

FOR YOUR TEAM OR LEAGUE FREE! Just for collecting KRAFT Caramels and KRAFT Fudgies bags!



You get all of the Baseball Park equipment shown here*... or $20,000 in cash to buy the equipment and property of your own choice!

Here's the $20,000 Ball Park Kraft is giving away FREE!

You get the whole works: more than $16,000 worth of baseball park equipment—electric lights, electric scoreboard, fences, backstop, PA system, grandstands and big league pitching machine—along with $4,000 in cash to put it all up and build dugouts and press box—plus 18 complete uniforms, 2 sets of catcher's gear, bases, home plate and pitching rubber, 3 dozen bats and 12 dozen baseballs!

So if you'd like to play all of your games (and even practice) "under the lights" in a brand new ball park, get your team organized and get going—your dreams can all come true!

Here's how your team or league can get a new BASEBALL PARK FREE!

Any amateur team or league can win—and you don't even have to collect the most bags to do it. Everyone has the same chance because this is how it works!

You enter as a team or league and all of the players on your team or in your league collect empty bags of Kraft Caramels and Kraft Fudgies. (You can even get friends, relatives and neighbors to save bags for you!) Then, the team or league that sends in not the most bags, but the most bags per player, gets the $20,000 Baseball Park.

So whether you come from a big city or small town, whether you enter as a team or league, whether you have 20 players on your team or only nine, you can win because what really counts in this contest is initiative, desire, and good, old-fashioned teamwork.

Just remember, you can't win by yourself, and it's a valuable prize. So don't let anyone get a head start on your team—get your boys together and get started today!

AND THAT'S NOT ALL

85 MORE FREE BASEBALL EQUIPMENT PRIZES

5 SECOND PRIZES
Electric Scoreboards—Remote controlled All-American scoreboard. Shows balls, strikes, outs, hits, runs, errors, score by innings, total hits, runs, errors. 18-ft. long, 7-ft. high.

5 FOURTH PRIZES
Public Address System—Announce line-ups just like big leaguers. Bell Sound System includes mike, 30 watt amplifier, two big speakers to boom messages all over field.

5 THIRD PRIZES
Pitching Machines—The same Dudley Sports Model 8 big league teams use. Throws just like real pitcher, strike after strike after strike. You get more practice faster.

30 FIFTH PRIZES
Set of Wilson Bats—36 bats to a set. Modeled after the bats the big league home run kings and batting champs use—a size, style for every player on your team.

40 SIXTH PRIZES
Sets of Catcher's Gear—2 complete outfits in each set, 2 mitts, 2 chest protectors, 2 masks, 2 pairs of leg guards. Everything a catcher needs to cover home plate like a real pro. And it's the finest gear available—Wilson.

Follow these EASY RULES to get a BASEBALL PARK for your team!

1. To enter, just collect empty bags from Kraft Caramels or Kraft Fudgies (or both) purchased through ordinary retail outlets for normal household use.
2. Send your bags plus an official entry blank signed by the manager or representative of your team or league to Kraft Ball Park Contest, 250 W. 87th St., Chicago 20, Ill. The manager or representative who signs the entry blank must be an adult. Entries must be postmarked before midnight, August 31, 1960, and received by September 10, 1960.
3. If you need more than one package to send your bags, mark each package with the name and address of your team or league as shown on the entry blank. All of the bags which you submit must be sent at the same time and must be accompanied by a single official entry blank also sent at the same time.
4. The team or league which sends in the most bags per player will be named the First Prize Winner. All additional prize winners will be selected in the same manner. In case of ties, only those teams or leagues which are tied will be asked to submit an essay of 100 words or less on the subject, Why We Need A New Baseball Park. Essays will be judged on the basis of originality and sincerity.
5. The First Prize consists of more than $16,000 worth of baseball park equipment plus $4,000 in cash to be used to pay for installation of this equipment and construction of press box and dugouts. First Prize does not include land, but this equipment will be erected on any land designated by the winning team or league. Or, the winning team or league may elect to receive $20,000 in cash to spend on the purchase of land or baseball equipment for a baseball park.
6. The decision to accept as First Prize either the baseball park equipment (plus construction allowance), or the $20,000 in cash, must be made in writing and delivered to Kraft Foods no later than Oct. 15, 1960. The decision to accept equipment or cash as First Prize, as well as all other questions with regard to this or any other prize, shall be determined by the manager or representative named on the winning entry blank, and his decision will be final. All prizes will be delivered on or about Dec. 1, 1960.
7. A player shall be defined as any individual who is defined as a player by the official rules or regulations of the league in which his or her team plays, or, in the case of players on teams which do not play in leagues having official rules or regulations defining players, as any individual who has participated in one or more practice sessions or games.
8. Any officially organized amateur baseball team or league, or any amateur team or league officially sponsored by a recognized civic or commercial organization, comprised entirely of players 18 years old or younger in the continental United States may enter unless located in Wisconsin or in any state or municipality where such promotions are prohibited taxed, or otherwise restricted.
9. All entries become the property of Kraft Foods, and the decision of the judges shall be final. Winners will be notified by mail.

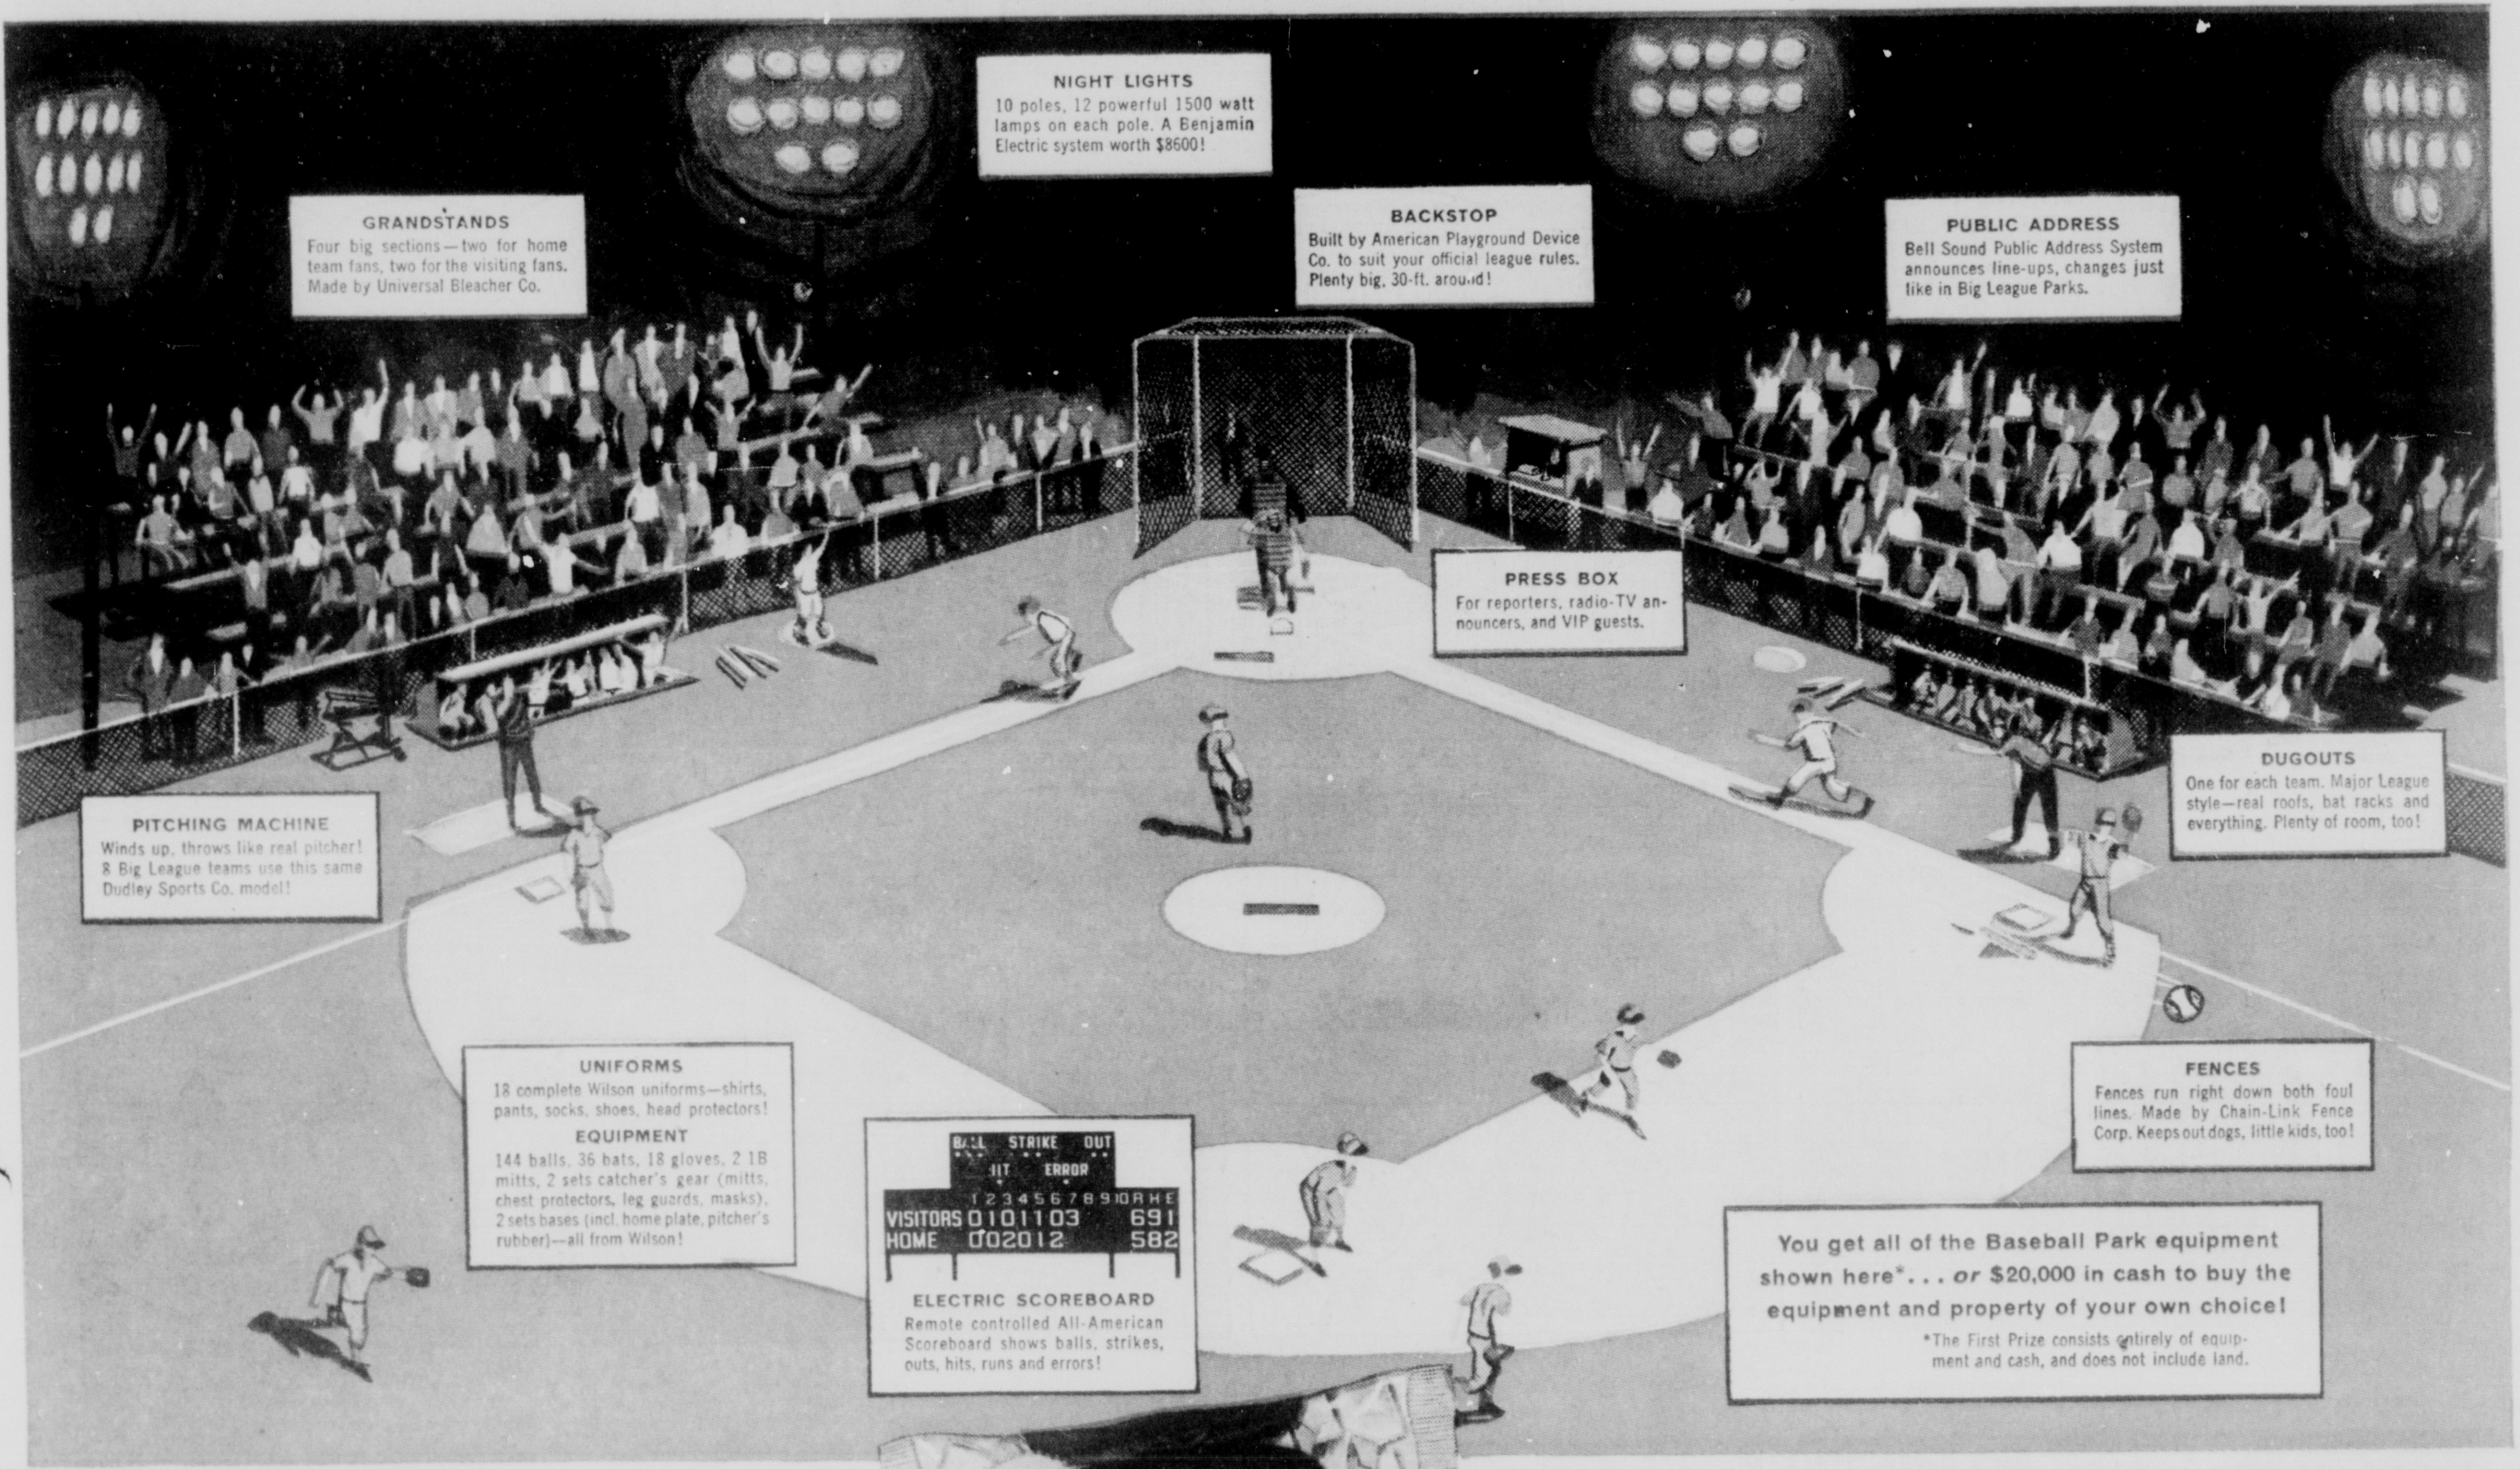
WIN A $20,000 BASEBALL PARK FREE!

FOR YOUR TEAM OR LEAGUE

Just for collecting KRAFT Caramels and KRAFT Fudgies bags!



Here's the $20,000 Ball Park Kraft is giving away FREE!

You get the whole works: more than $16,000 worth of baseball park equipment—electric lights, electric scoreboard, fences, backstop, PA system, grandstands and big league pitching machine—along with $4,000 in cash to put it all up and build dugouts and press box—plus 18 complete uniforms, 2 sets of catcher's gear, bases, home plate and pitching rubber, 3 dozen bats and 12 dozen baseballs!

So if you'd like to play all of your games (and even practice) "under the lights" in a brand new ball park, get your team organized and get going—your dreams can all come true!

Here's how your team or league can get a new BASEBALL PARK FREE!

Any amateur team or league can win—and you don't even have to collect the most bags to do it. Everyone has the same chance because this is how it works!

You enter as a team or league and all of the players on your team or in your league collect empty bags of Kraft Caramels and Kraft Fudgies. (You can even get friends, relatives and neighbors to save bags for you!) Then, the team or league that sends in not the most bags, but the most bags per player, gets the $20,000 Baseball Park.

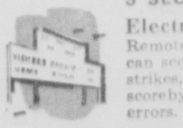
So whether you come from a big city or small town, whether you enter as a team or league, whether you have 20 players on your team or only nine, you can win because what really counts in this contest is initiative, desire, and good, old-fashioned teamwork.

Just remember, you can't win by yourself, and it's a valuable prize. So don't let anyone get a head start on your team—get your boys together and get started today!

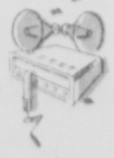
AND THAT'S NOT ALL

85 MORE FREE BASEBALL EQUIPMENT PRIZES



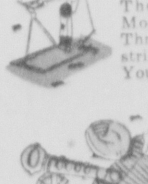
5 SECOND PRIZES

Electric Scoreboards—Remote controlled All-American scoreboard. Shows balls, strikes, outs, hits, runs, errors, score by innings, total hits, runs, errors. 18-ft. long, 7-ft. high.



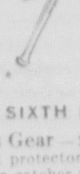
5 FOURTH PRIZES

Public Address System—Announce line-ups just like big leaguers. Bell Sound System includes mike, 30 watt amplifier, two big speakers to boom messages all over field.



5 THIRD PRIZES

Pitching Machines—The same Dudley Sports Model 8 big league teams use. Throws just like real pitcher, strike after strike after strike. You get more practice faster.



30 FIFTH PRIZES

Set of Wilson Bats—36 bats to a set. Modeled after the bats the big league home run kings and batting champs use—a size, style for every player on your team.

40 SIXTH PRIZES

Sets of Catcher's Gear—2 complete outfits in each set. 2 mitts, 2 chest protectors, 2 masks, 2 pairs of leg guards. Everything a catcher needs to cover home plate like a real pro. And it's the finest gear available—Wilson.

Follow these EASY RULES to get a BASEBALL PARK for your team!

1. To enter, just collect empty bags from Kraft Caramels or Kraft Fudgies (or both) purchased through ordinary retail outlets for normal household use.
2. Send your bags plus an official entry blank signed by the manager or representative of your team or league to Kraft Ball Park Contest, 250 W. 87th St., Chicago 20, Ill. The manager or representative who signs the entry blank must be an adult. Entries must be postmarked before midnight, August 31, 1960, and received by September 10, 1960.
3. If you need more than one package to send your bags, mark each package with the name and address of your team or league as shown on the entry blank. All of the bags which you submit must be sent at the same time and must be accompanied by a single official entry blank also sent at the same time.
4. The team or league which sends in the most bags per player will be named the First Prize Winner. All additional prize winners will be selected in the same manner. In case of ties, only those teams or leagues which are tied will be asked to submit an essay of 100 words or less on the subject, Why We Need A New Baseball Park. Essays will be judged on the basis of originality and sincerity.
5. The First Prize consists of more than $16,000 worth of baseball park equipment plus $4,000 in cash to be used to pay for installation of this equipment and construction of press box and dugouts. First Prize does not include land, but this equipment will be erected on any land designated by the winning team or league. Or, the winning team or league may elect to receive $20,000 in cash to spend on the purchase of land or baseball equipment for a baseball park.
6. The decision to accept as First Prize either the baseball park equipment (plus construction allowance), or the $20,000 in cash, must be made in writing and delivered to Kraft Foods no later than Oct. 15, 1960. The decision to accept equipment or cash as First Prize, as well as all other questions with regard to this or any other prize, shall be determined by the manager or representative named on the winning entry blank, and his decision will be final. All prizes will be delivered on or about Dec. 1, 1960.
7. A player shall be defined as any individual who is defined as a player by the official rules or regulations of the league in which his or her team plays, or, in the case of players on teams which do not play in leagues having official rules or regulations defining players, as any individual who has participated in one or more practice sessions or games.
8. Any officially organized amateur baseball team or league, or any amateur team or league officially sponsored by a recognized civic or commercial organization, comprised entirely of players 18 years old or younger in the continental United States may enter unless located in Wisconsin or in any state or municipality where such promotions are prohibited taxed, or otherwise restricted.
9. All entries become the property of Kraft Foods, and the decision of the judges shall be final. Winners will be notified by mail.
